PREFACE

This report summarizes data on adult felony sentences in Washington State for the period of July 1, 1999 through June 30, 2000 (FY2000). There were 25,034 felony sentences imposed in FY2000, representing a three-percent increase from the number of sentences imposed in FY1999.

The sentences summarized in this report were imposed for crimes committed on or after July 1, 1984. Adult felony crimes committed after that date were sentenced under the Sentencing Reform Act (SRA) of 1981, as amended, Chapter 9.94A RCW.

Under the SRA, every felony offense falls within a standard (presumptive) sentence range which is determined by reference to the seriousness of the current offense, coupled with the number and type of the offender's prior and other current offenses. In most cases, an offender will receive a sentence within the standard range for that offense. In five percent of felony cases, offenders are given "exceptional" sentences that fall outside the standard sentence range.

A sentencing judge may order an exceptional sentence outside the standard range if there are substantial and compelling reasons (either aggravating or mitigating factors) to do so. These reasons must be documented in writing. An exceptional sentence may be appealed by the defense or by the prosecution; standard range sentences may not be appealed. Occasionally, an exceptional sentence is imposed that does not result in confinement outside the standard range. Such a sentence may be used, for example, to require community supervision exceeding the standard range sentence, or to require treatment in situations where the standard sentence does not provide for it.

The length of confinement may be reduced up to one-third for good behavior, but may not be extended. Beginning with offenses committed on or after July 1, 1990, offenders convicted of serious violent offenses or Class A sex offenses may only receive an earned early release of up to 15 percent of the sentence. New offenses require new convictions before additional penalties may be imposed, although up to 60 days of jail may be ordered for violations of sentence conditions.

Alternatives to the standard range sentence are available for some eligible offenders. Nonviolent offenders who have no prior felony convictions and who are not being sentenced for a sex offense or certain drug offenses may have the standard sentence waived. This alternative, called the First-time Offender Waiver (FTOW), allows the sentencing judge to impose up to 90 days in jail, two years of community supervision and several conditions, such as maintaining employment or receiving treatment. Sex offenders who have no prior felony sex convictions may receive a sentence under the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (SSOSA) if they are not convicted of a serious violent offense with a sexual motivation finding or of Rape 1, Attempted Rape 1 or Rape 2, and have a current offense and criminal history that permits the court to impose a sentence within the standard range of less than eleven years confinement. A person sentenced under SSOSA receives a suspended sentence within the standard range, a jail term of up to six months, and several conditions of sentence that may include inpatient and/or outpatient treatment. For offenses committed after June 30, 1990, SSOSA offenders receive three years of community custody or up to the length of the suspended sentence, if that is over three years.

The Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative (DOSA) allows for a reduction in confinement time for eligible offenders, combined with intensive treatment while in confinement and also during supervision in the community. Offenders sentenced on or after April 19, 1995, are eligible for DOSA. Effective July 25, 1999, the eligibility for DOSA expanded. The new eligibility rules include: the offense of conviction must be a non-violent, non-sex offense, the offense must not have a weapon enhancement, and the offender may not have any other current or prior convictions for a violent or sex offense. In addition, if the current offense was a violation under the Uniform Controlled Substance Act, the judge must determine the offense involved a small quantity of the controlled substance. See RCW 9.94A.120(6). A court electing the DOSA option imposes a sentence of one-half of the midpoint of the presumptive standard range for the offense, to be served in a prison facility. The remainder of the midpoint of the standard range is served as a term of community custody, which must include substance abuse treatment, crime-related prohibitions and testing and monitoring for drug use.

The tables in this report were generated from the Commission's database, which includes data on SRA offenders sentenced on or after January 1, 1985. The Commission invites any comments or questions the reader may have:

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- In FY00, the total number of felony sentences imposed in Washington increased 2.5%, rising from 24,391 sentences in FY99 to 25,034 sentences in FY00.
- Significant changes in all crimes are summarized as follows:
 - 6.1 % Robbery (from 671 to 630)
 - 23.4 % Murder (from 141 to 108)
 - 4.3 % Manslaughter (from 94 to 90)
 - 0.8 % Assault (from 3,514 to 3,486)
 - + 0.8 % Property (from 8,487 to 8,557)
 - + 7.2 % Drugs (from 8,105 to 8,689)
 - 7.0 % Sex (from 1,124 to 1,045)
 - + 7.7 % Other (from 2,255 to 2,429)
- In FY00, 35 offenders were sentenced to life in prison as persistent offenders under the “three strikes” provision of Initiative 593. Eight sex offenders were sentenced to life in prison in FY00 under the “two-strike” provision of Initiative 593. The 43 new persistent offender sentences imposed in FY00 resulted in an increase of 59.3% over the 27 sentences in FY99.
- In FY00, 29.0% of all sentences resulted in a prison sentence, a slight decrease from 29.1% in FY99.
- The average sentence length decreased from 14.7 months in FY99 to 13.6 months in FY00. This change was due to a decrease in the average length of prison sentences. The average prison sentence was 44.2 months in FY99 and decreased to 40.4 months in FY00, while average jail sentence length remained stable at an average of 2.8 months.
- In FY00, the number of sentences imposed for Violations of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (VUCSA) increased by 7.2% over VUCSA sentences in the previous year. The number of sentences for both “dealing” and “non-dealing” VUCSA offenses increased by 9.2% and 6.1%, respectively.
- The number of First-time Offender Waivers (FTOW) granted decreased from 2,898 in FY99 to 2,445 in FY00, an 15.6% decrease. Approximately 29% of the FTOW sentences were below the standard range minimum, while the remainder included sentences within or above the standard range.
- The number of offenders receiving a Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (SSOSA) increased slightly, from 222 in FY99 to 231 in FY00, a 4.1% increase.

NOTE 1: Calculations of average sentence length exclude life/death sentences.

NOTE 2: The above categories are those used by the Department of Corrections and the Caseload Forecast Council for forecasting purposes and are not identical to classifications under the Sentencing Reform Act. For example, the sex categories include pornography and prostitution offenses, which are not classified as sex offenses per se under the Sentencing Reform Act.

 Includes anticipatory offenses, including solicitations to commit such an offense.

Table 7.
Sentences with Deadly Weapon Findings

The table below lists deadly weapon enhancements by offense and type of weapon for those sentences receiving a deadly weapon enhancement. Deadly weapon enhancements for offenses committed prior to July 24, 1995 do not distinguish firearms from other deadly weapons. Initiative I-159 ("Hard Time for Armed Crime") provides deadly weapon enhancements for any felony offense committed after July 23, 1995. I-159 enhancements are greater for firearms than for other deadly weapons (see RCW 9.94A.310).

*Exceptional sentences include departures above or below the standard range, as well as sentences in which the court orders a term of confinement within the standard range, but under terms of an exceptional sentence adds conditions not allowed as part of the standard range (e.g., treatment).

Sex offenders who have no prior felony sex convictions may receive a sentence under the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (SSOSA) if they are not convicted of a serious violent offense with a sexual motivation finding or of Rape 1, Attempted Rape 1, or Rape 2 and have a current offense and criminal history that permits the court to impose a sentence within the standard range of less than eleven years confinement. Under current law, offenders sentenced under this alternative receive a suspended sentence and may receive up to six months in jail, community supervision for three years or the length of the suspended sentence (whichever is greater), inpatient or outpatient sex offender treatment, crime-related prohibitions and requirements for affirmative conduct. If the offender violates the conditions of supervision, the original suspended sentence may be imposed.

Offenders are eligible for the First-time Offender Waiver if the current offense is not a violent offense, sex offense or certain drug offenses, and if the offender has no prior felony convictions. If the First-time Offender Waiver is used, the standard range is waived and the offender may receive up to 90 days in jail, two years of community supervision, crime-related prohibitions and requirements for affirmative conduct. An aggravated departure occurs when an offender with a 0 to 60-day standard range (a Seriousness Level I offense with an offender score of 0) receives a sentence over 60 days (up to 90 days).

*The Standard Range category includes some sentence departures not resulting from the use of the First-time Offender Waiver, SSOSA or an exceptional sentence. These departures often occur as the result of clerical errors.

¹ This data is not comparable to reports prior to the FY97 report. Prior to FY97, criminal history that had "washed out" was not taken into consideration in determining eligibility.

1 The "WHERE IN THE RANGE?" (WIR) column in this table displays a statistic based on the sentences of those offenders sentenced within the standard range. The statistic presents the average sentence for these offenders as a number from 0 to 100, where 0 corresponds to a sentence at the bottom of the range and 100 a sentence at the top of the range. Thus an average at the midpoint of the range corresponds to a WIR score of 50 (i.e., 50% of the range).

2 All life/death sentences for Aggravated Murder are "within the range." Offenders may also be sentenced to life as "Persistent Offenders" or as part of an exceptional sentence. Life sentences for Persistent Offenders are considered to be within the standard range. Life sentences ordered as part of an exceptional sentence are above the standard range.

EXCEPTIONAL SENTENCES

Under provisions of the Sentencing Reform Act (SRA), every adult felony offense has a presumed range of punishment determined by the seriousness of the offense, by the number and type of other current offenses and by the number and type of prior adult and juvenile offenses. The presumptive range for certain offenses may be increased for weapon usage, for dealing drugs in a school or other protected zone or for certain drug offenses committed in a correctional facility. The presumptive range is decreased by 25 percent if the current offense is an attempt, conspiracy or solicitation to commit a felony. Some alternative sentences are possible under the First-time Offender Waiver (FTOW) for first time offenders, excluding violent, sex or certain drug offenders. In addition, the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (SSOSA) allows suspended sentences for certain offenders, and the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative (DOSA) allows for reduced confinement time for eligible offenders.

The SRA presumes that, in most cases, a sentencing judge will impose a sentence within the standard range for the offense. An exceptional sentence is a sentence outside the standard range. (Alternative sentences under FTOW, SSOSA or DOSA are not considered exceptional sentences.) An exceptional sentence is allowed if there are substantial and compelling reasons supported by the record. The judge is required to record these reasons in writing. Some exceptional sentences do not result in incarceration outside the standard range, but are used to provide sentence conditions not otherwise permitted (e.g., lengthy community supervision). Exceptional sentences may be appealed by the prosecution or the defense.

The following tables summarize the reasons recorded by sentencing judges when imposing exceptional sentences. Reasons are summarized separately for mitigated sentences, aggravated sentences and sentences within the standard range.
