USE OF THIS MANUAL

The Adult Sentencing Guidelines Manual provides comprehensive information for criminal justice practitioners, public officials and citizens on adult felony sentencing in the state of Washington. This manual offers specific guidance on how to determine the appropriate standard sentence range for an offense by identifying the seriousness level of the offense and by “scoring” the offender’s criminal history. This manual lists and describes all of the sentencing options currently provided for by statute. And the manual addresses; reviews, modifications, discharges of sentences, as well as vacating conviction records. As an aid to judges, prosecutors, defense attorneys and other criminal justice professionals, this manual also includes forms for use in “scoring” an offender’s criminal history.

Adult felony sentencing in Washington is governed by the Sentencing Reform Act (SRA) of 1981, RCW Chapter 9.94A, as amended. This manual includes the text of the SRA, commentaries to amendments to the SRA and a digest of recent appellate and Supreme Court decisions interpreting and affecting the meaning of the SRA prepared by the Office of Attorney General of Washington. Persons interested in a comprehensive legal analysis of the SRA are advised to read Sentencing in Washington, by David Boerner (Butterworth Legal Publishers) and the 1996 supplement to Washington Practice Volume 13A: Criminal Law, by Seth Aaron Fine (West Publishing Co.).

This edition of the Manual has been updated to reflect amendments to the SRA enacted during the 2008 legislative session. Earlier editions of this manual should be retained for reference on offenses committed prior to the effective dates of the recently enacted legislation.

The Commission staff acknowledges those who assisted in the publication of this latest edition of the Manual. Contributors include the members of the Commission, chaired by David Boerner, who provided support and leadership; the staff of the Office of the Code Reviser, who assisted in identifying statutory changes; and the staff of the Office of the Attorney General who updated the applicable appellate case law. The Commission also appreciates the suggestions for improvements and additions to the Manual received throughout the year from attorneys, judges and criminal justice professionals. We always welcome suggestions for making the Manual easier to use.

Copies of the FY1987 through FY2007 Adult Sentencing Guidelines Manuals are available electronically on the Commission’s website at:

INTRODUCTION

Adult offenders who committed felonies on or after July 1, 1984 are subject to the provisions of the Sentencing Reform Act of 1981, as amended (SRA). The goal of Washington's sentencing system, which is based on a determinate sentencing model and eliminates parole and probation, is to ensure that offenders who commit similar crimes and have similar criminal histories receive equivalent sentences. The enabling legislation, RCW Section 9.94A et seq., contains guidelines and procedures used by courts to impose sentences that apply equally to offenders in all parts of the state, without discrimination as to any element that does not relate to the crime or to a defendant's previous criminal record. The SRA guides judicial discretion by providing presumptive sentencing ranges for the courts to follow. The ranges are structured so that offenses involving greater harm to a victim and to society result in greater punishment. Sentences that depart from the standard presumptive ranges must be based upon substantial and compelling reasons and may be appealed by either the prosecutor or the defendant.

The Sentencing Guidelines Commission developed the initial guidelines and continues to advise the Legislature on necessary adjustments. The Commission is composed of twenty voting members; sixteen appointed by the Governor. Those sixteen appointed members include: four Superior Court judges; two defense attorneys; two elected county prosecutors; four citizens (one of whom is a victim of crime or a crime victims' advocate); one juvenile court administrator; one elected city official; one elected county official; and the chief of a local law enforcement agency. Four voting members serve in an ex-officio capacity to their state positions: the Secretary of the Department of Corrections; the Director of the Office of Financial Management; the Assistant Secretary of the Department of Social and Health Services' Juvenile Rehabilitation Administration; and the Chair of the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board. The Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President of the Senate each appoint two nonvoting members from their respective chamber, one from each of the two largest caucuses in each body.

In order to carry out its mandate, the Commission relies upon the cooperation and assistance of the superior court clerks of all thirty-nine counties in the state. The clerks transmit copies of Judgment and Sentence forms issued in all adult felony convictions to the Sentencing Guidelines Commission. The Commission staff extracts data from the forms relating to the crime, the offender, the sentencing judge, the sentence, and alternatives to incarceration, where applicable, and enters the information into a computerized database. Using this database the Commission produces and distributes descriptive reports on actual sentences and analyzes the effects of changes in the law on prison and jail populations.

The Commission database is also the source of information used in preparation of annual statistical summaries of sentencing practices and other reports and studies related to felony sentencing in the state. Please direct questions about the guidelines, requests for notice of public meetings or copies of the minutes of Commission meetings or any other Commission publication, to the Commission office.

SECTION I - SENTENCING GUIDELINES

This section explains the rules for applying the sentencing guidelines to felony crimes committed after June 30, 1984, including changes enacted by the 2008 regular session of the Legislature. The instructions cover the following:

- Offense Seriousness Level
- Offender Score
- Standard Sentence Range
- Sentencing Options
- Review of Sentences
- Penalty and Modification Hearing
- Discharge and Vacation of Conviction Record

DETERMINING THE OFFENSE SERIOUSNESS LEVEL

The offense of conviction determines the offense seriousness level.

General Felony Crimes

The seriousness level is measured on the vertical axis of the sentencing guidelines grid (Table 1, page I-2). Offenses are divided into 16 seriousness levels ranging from low (Level I) to high (Level XVI). RCW 9.94A.515 lists the crimes within each seriousness level (Table 2, page I-3).

This edition of the Manual includes the grids applicable to offenses committed after July 24, 1999 as well as the 2007-08 changes to the list of offense ranked on the adult felony sentencing grid. Previous versions of the grid can be found in Appendix C.

On the grid, numbers in the first horizontal row of each seriousness category represent sentencing midpoints in years(y) and months (m). Numbers in the second and third rows represent standard sentencing ranges in months, or in days if so designated. 12+ equals one year and one day.

Drug Crimes

Drug offenses committed on or after July 1, 2003 are divided into three seriousness levels and sentenced according to the drug grid (Table 3, page I-9). RCW 9.94A.518 lists the crimes within each seriousness level (Table 4, page I-10).

Unranked Felony Crimes

Some felonies, those rarely charged or recently created by the Legislature, are not included in the Seriousness Level table and are referred to as “unranked.” Sentences for unranked felonies are entered without reference to the grid’s standard sentence ranges and do not require sentence calculations. The sentencing options for unranked felonies are described on page I-25.

DETERMINING THE OFFENDER SCORE

The offender score, one factor affecting a felony sentence, is measured on the horizontal axis of the sentencing guidelines grid. An offender may receive from 0 to 9+ points on that axis. In general, the number of points an offender receives depends on five factors: (1) the number of prior criminal convictions or juvenile dispositions; (2) the relationship between any prior offense(s) and the current offense of conviction; (3) the presence of other current convictions; (4) the offender's community placement status at the time the crime was committed; and (5) the length of the offender's crime-free behavior between offenses.

CRIMINAL HISTORY COLLECTION

Pursuant to RCW 9.94A.030(14),¹ criminal history includes the defendant's prior adult convictions and juvenile court dispositions in any state or in federal court. Although an offender's criminal history consists almost exclusively of felony convictions, in some instances, it also includes specific misdemeanors. The effect of criminal history also often relates to the felony class of the crime (Class A, Class B or Class C), and the type of offense ("serious violent", "violent", "nonviolent", or "sex"). Appendix A contains a list of felony offenses, along with their class, and an explanation of how the class is determined. Appendix B contains, among other things, lists of each type of offense.

Adult Criminal History

The Criminal Justice Information Act (RCW 10.98) established the Washington State Patrol Identification and Criminal History Section (the Section) as the primary source of information on state felony conviction histories. The Act directs judges to ensure that felony defendants are fingerprinted and that arrest and fingerprint forms are transmitted to the Washington State Patrol (RCW 10.98.050(2)). After filing charges, prosecutors contact the Section for an offender's Washington criminal history. Prosecutors also obtain out-of-state or federal criminal history information from the Federal Bureau of Investigation or other appropriate sources.

A conviction is defined as a verdict of guilty, a finding of guilty or an acceptance of a plea of guilty. RCW 9.94A.525(1) defines a prior conviction as one existing before the date of the sentencing for the offense for which the offender score is being computed. Convictions entered or sentenced on the same date as the conviction for which the offender score is being computed are deemed "other current offenses" within the meaning of RCW 9.94A.589.

Prior adult convictions should be counted as criminal history unless:

- "Wash out" provisions apply; or
- A Court has previously determined that they constituted "same criminal conduct" as defined by RCW 9.94A.589; or
- They were not previously deemed "same criminal conduct" but their sentences were served concurrently and a Court now determines that they were committed at the same time, in the same place, and involved the same victim; or
- The sentences were served concurrently and they were committed before July 1, 1986.

¹ Effective until August 1, 2009, when RCW 9.94A.030(14) will be recodified as RCW 9.94A.030(12).

RCW 9.94A.030(14)² provides that when the information is available, criminal history should include the length and terms of any probation and/or incarceration. This information is often collected as part of the Pre-sentence Investigation Report.

Juvenile Criminal History

All felony dispositions in juvenile court must be counted as criminal history for purposes of adult sentencing, except under the general “wash-out” provisions that apply to adult offenses. Juvenile offenses sentenced on the same day must be counted separately unless they constitute the “same criminal conduct” as defined in RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a) or unless the date of the offenses were prior to July 1, 1986.

Although juvenile records generally are sealed, RCW 13.50.050(10) provides that after a charge has been filed, juvenile offense records of an adult criminal defendant or witness in an adult criminal proceeding shall be released upon request to the prosecution and defense counsel, subject to the rules of discovery. An adult felony charge nullifies the sealing of a juvenile record. (RCW 13.50.050(16)).

"Wash Out" of Certain Prior Felonies

The rules governing which prior convictions are included in the offender score can be found in RCW 9.94A.525 and are summarized as follows:

- Prior Class A and felony sex convictions are always included in the offender score.
- Prior Class B (juvenile or adult) felony convictions other than sex offenses are not included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or since the entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent ten consecutive years in the community without having been convicted of any crime.
- Prior Class C (juvenile or adult) felony convictions other than sex offenses are not included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or since the entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent five consecutive years in the community without having been convicted of any crime.
- Prior (juvenile or adult) serious traffic convictions are not included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or since the entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent five years in the community without having been convicted of any crime.
- If the present conviction is felony Driving Under the Influence or felony Physical Control of a Vehicle While Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or Drug, prior convictions of these offenses and serious traffic offenses will be included in the offender score if they were committed within five years since the last date of release from confinement (including fulltime residential treatment) or entry of judgment and sentence; or if the prior offenses would be considered “prior offenses within ten years” as defined in RCW 46.61.5055. If the present conviction is for Vehicular Homicide/Assault or Homicide/Assault by Watercraft, then convictions for serious traffic offenses, Driving Under the Influence, Operating a Vessel Under the Influence, or Actual Physical Control of a Motor Vehicle While Under the Influence will also be counted.

The Sentencing Reform Act permits vacating records of conviction under certain conditions and provides that vacated convictions "shall not be included in the offender's criminal history for purposes of determining a sentence in any subsequent conviction." RCW 9.94A.640. Vacation of the conviction record does not affect or prevent the use of an offender's prior conviction in a later criminal prosecution.

The eligibility rules for vacation of conviction record are similar to the “wash-out” rules. Because the washout rules are automatic and do not require court action, an offense will “wash out” before formal record vacation occurs. (The main distinction between vacation of record of conviction and “wash-out” is that, after vacation, an offender may indicate on employment forms that he or she was not convicted of that crime.)

Federal, Out-of-state or Foreign Convictions

In order for a prior federal, out-of-state or foreign conviction to be included in an offender’s history and thereby affect the offender score, the elements of the offense in other jurisdictions must be compared with Washington State laws. (RCW 9.94A.525(3)). In instances where the foreign conviction is not clearly comparable to an offense under Washington State law, or where the offense is usually considered a felony subject to exclusive federal jurisdiction, the offense is scored as a Class C felony equivalent.

SCORING CRIMINAL HISTORY

Once relevant prior convictions are identified, the criminal history portion of the offender score may be calculated. The rules for scoring prior convictions are contained in RCW 9.94A.525. It should be noted that the scoring rules for some offenses are calculated differently, depending upon the category of the offense. To make application of these rules easier, the offense reference sheets and scoring forms found in Section III of this Manual specify the correct number of points for prior convictions depending on the current offense. The forms are intended to provide assistance in most cases but do not cover all permutations of the scoring rules. A thorough understanding of the criminal history rules is important in order to use these forms correctly and to perform calculations not covered by the forms.

General consideration should also be given to often-applicable exceptions to general scoring rules. For instance, misdemeanors generally are not included in offender score calculations. An exception exists where the current conviction is for a felony traffic offense. In such cases, serious traffic offenses are included in the offender score.³ Additionally, with present convictions of anticipatory offenses (criminal attempt, solicitation or conspiracy) prior convictions of felony anticipatory offenses count the same and are scored as if they were convictions for completed offenses.⁴ Exceptions to the general scoring rules also exist for Burglary 1°, Burglary 2° and Residential Burglary,⁵ for Manufacturing Methamphetamine and other drug offenses,⁶ for Escape offenses,⁷ for Failure to Register as a Sex Offender,⁸ or for crimes involving the taking, theft or possession of a stolen motor vehicle.⁹

Finally, an exception should also be noted for convictions with a finding of sexual motivation. A finding of sexual motivation changes the underlying offense to a sex offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030(46),¹⁰ changing the scoring rules and influencing the sentence options. This scoring rule only applies to crimes committed on or after July 1, 1990. See RCW 9.94A.525 (17).

SCORING MULTIPLE CURRENT CONVICTIONS

Multiple convictions may also influence the offender score. For multiple current offenses, separate sentence calculations are necessary for each offense because the law requires that each receive a separate sentence unless the offenses are ruled the same criminal conduct See RCW 9.94A.589.

Multiple Offense Scoring Steps:

- (A) If the current offenses do not include two or more serious violent offenses¹¹ arising from separate and distinct criminal conduct, apply RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a):
- Calculate the score for each offense.
 - For each offense, score the prior adult and juvenile convictions.
 - For each offense, score the other current offenses on the scoring form line entitled "Other Current Offenses."
 - The court may find that some or all of the current offenses encompass the same criminal conduct¹² and are to be counted as one crime.
 - In cases of Vehicular Homicide or Vehicular Assault with multiple victims, offenses against each victim may be charged as separate offenses, even if the victims occupied the same vehicle. The resulting multiple convictions need not be scored as constituting the same criminal conduct.

⁴ See RCW 9.94A.525(4)-(6).

⁵ See RCW 9.94A.525 (16).

⁶ See RCW 9.94A.525(13).

⁷ See RCW 9.94A.525 (14) and (15).

⁸ See RCW 9.94A.525(18).

⁹ See RCW 9.94A.525 (20).

¹⁰ Effective August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.030(46) will be recodified as RCW 9.94A.030(39).

⁹ RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a) provides: "... 'Same criminal conduct'... means...two or more crimes that require the same criminal intent, are committed at the same time and place, and involve the same victim." Cases involving vehicular homicide or vehicular assault need not be considered same criminal conduct..

- Convictions entered or sentenced on the same date as the conviction for which the offender score is being computed are scored as "other current offenses"
- (B) If the current offenses include two or more serious violent offenses arising from separate and distinct conduct, apply RCW 9.94A.589(1)(b):
- Calculate the score for each offense.
 - Identify the serious violent offense with the highest seriousness level. Calculate the sentence for that crime using the offender's prior adult and juvenile convictions. Do not include any other current serious violent offenses as part of the offender score, but do include other current offenses that are not serious violent offenses.
 - Score all remaining serious violent current offenses, calculating the sentence for the crime using an offender score of zero.
 - For any current offenses that are not serious violent offenses, score according to the rules in (A) above.
- (C) If the current offenses include Unlawful Possession of a Firearm in the First or Second Degree and one, or both, of the felony crimes of Theft of a Firearm or Possession of a Stolen Firearm, score according to the rules in RCW 9.94A.589(1)(c).

Example: Assume that an offender is convicted of one count of First Degree Theft and one count of Forgery with both offenses arising from separate and distinct criminal conduct and that the offender's criminal history consisted of one conviction for Second Degree Burglary. In this case, the rules in RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a) apply, and the theft and forgery must be separately scored. The prior burglary and the current forgery are included in the offender score for the theft, resulting in an offender score of two and a sentence range of three to nine months. The prior burglary and the current theft are included in the offender score for the forgery, resulting in an offender score of two and a sentence range of two to five months. The sentence for each offense should run concurrently.

Example: Assume that an offender is convicted of one count of Second Degree Theft and one count of Second Degree Possession of Stolen Property in a circumstance where both counts encompassed the same criminal conduct, and that the offender had no criminal history. In this case, the other current offense is not counted in the offender score because under RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a) where current offenses are found to encompass the same criminal conduct, those current offenses shall be counted as one crime. Therefore, the theft and possession would both be scored with offender scores of zero, with a sentence range for each crime of 0 to 60 days. The sentence for each offense will run concurrently.

Example: Assume that an offender is convicted of two counts of First Degree Kidnapping and one count of First Degree Assault. These offenses constitute serious violent offenses. Assume further that these offenses arose from separate and distinct criminal conduct and that the offender's criminal history consists of one Third Degree Assault conviction. The scoring for this offender follows the rules in RCW 9.94A.589(1)(b). First, the crime with the highest seriousness level must be identified and scored. Since First Degree Assault is more serious (Level XII) than First Degree Kidnapping (Level X), that offense is scored by counting the prior Third Degree Assault as part of the adult criminal history. This calculation results in an offender score of one and a sentence range of 102 to 136 months. Next, the First Degree Kidnapping convictions are scored using a criminal history of zero. These calculations result in two sentence ranges of 51 to 68 months. The three sentences run consecutively.

Example: Assume an offender is convicted on one count of Third Degree Assault, with a criminal history consisting of adult convictions for Second Degree Theft and Forgery and a single adjudication of Second Degree Assault as a juvenile. Pursuant to RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a), the prior Second Degree Theft and Forgery are included in the offender score as one point each, and the juvenile Second Degree Assault also scores as one point, resulting in an offender score of three points. The sentence range is 9 to 12 months.

Scoring Offender Status While on Community Placement

The offender score also reflects whether the offense was committed while the offender was under community placement. An additional point is added to the offender score for crimes committed on or after July 1, 1988 while the offender was on community placement. RCW 9.94A.525(19).

DETERMINING THE STANDARD SENTENCE RANGE

USING THE SENTENCING GRID

Once the offense seriousness level has been determined and the offender score has been calculated, the presumptive standard sentence range may be identified on the appropriate sentencing grid.

The standard sentence range for any offense not covered under RCW 69.50 (drug crimes) is established by referring to the sentencing grid (RCW 9.94A.510, Table 1, pages I-2). For each current offense, the intersection of the column defined by the offender score and the row defined by the offense seriousness level determines the standard sentence range. Alternatively, the same range is identified for individual offenses on the offense reference sheets in Section III of this Manual. In those cases where the presumptive sentence exceeds the statutory maximum sentence for the crime, the statutory maximum sentence is the presumptive sentence (RCW 9.94A.599), as shown on the offense reference sheets in Section III of this Manual.

Sentences for drug crimes committed on or after July 1, 2003 should be calculated and entered in accordance with the grid set forth in Table 3 (RCW 9.94A.517) of this Manual.

Sentences for crimes committed on or after July 25, 1999, and not affected by the 2002 amendments to the SRA, should be determined by reference to Tables 1 and 2 in this Manual.

Sentences for crimes committed on or after July 27, 1997 and before July 25, 1999, should be determined by reference to Sentencing Grid C in Appendix C.

Sentences for crimes committed on or after July 1, 1990 and before July 27, 1997, should be determined by reference to Sentencing Grid B in Appendix C.

Sentences for crimes committed prior to July 1, 1990, should be determined by reference to Sentencing Grid A in Appendix C.

ANTICIPATORY OFFENSES (Non-VUCSA Attempts, Conspiracies and Solicitations)

The standard sentence range for persons convicted of an anticipatory offense (criminal attempt, solicitation or conspiracy) is 75 percent of the standard sentence range of the completed offense, determined by using the offender score and offense seriousness level. RCW 9.94A.595. For aid in calculating the range, refer to the anticipatory offense grids reproduced in the following Table- 5.

ATTEMPTS, CONSPIRACIES AND SOLICITATIONS TO VIOLATE THE UNIFORMED CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES ACT (“VUCSA” OFFENSES)

The calculation of sentences stemming from anticipatory VUCSA offenses (RCW 69.50) presents different challenges than calculating sentences for anticipatory offenses arising under the criminal code.

An attempt or conspiracy to commit a drug offense is specifically addressed in RCW 69.50.407, which provides that such offenses are punishable by "...imprisonment or fine or both which may not exceed the maximum punishment prescribed for the offense..." The appellate courts have consistently held that for VUCSA offenses, RCW 69.50.407 takes precedence over RCW 9A.28. Although current statute and case law should be reviewed for definitive guidance in this area, the following summarizes current sentencing practices:

An attempt or conspiracy to commit a drug offense is typically sentenced as an “unranked” offense (0-12 months). In State v. Mendoza, the Court of Appeals held that since “ a conspiracy conviction under RCW 69.50.407 has no sentencing directions from the Legislature, it is punished under the unspecified crimes provisions of RCW 9.94A.505(2)(b).” 63 Wn. App. 373 (1991).

A solicitation to commit a drug offense is not specifically addressed in RCW 69.50. It is usually charged under RCW 9A.28 and sentenced under RCW 9.94A.510(2) at 75 percent of the standard range. Solicitations to commit VUCSA offenses are not considered “drug offenses”, but do score as such and are subject to the multiple “scoring” requirement. See RCW 9.94A.525(4), (6) and State v. Howell, 102 Wn. App. 288, 6 P. 3d 1201 (2000).

Score prior convictions for felony anticipatory offenses (attempts, criminal solicitations, and criminal conspiracies) the same as if they were convictions for completed offenses.

A solicitation to commit a Class C felony is a gross misdemeanor under RCW 9A.28.

FELONY TRAFFIC ENHANCEMENTS

Two enhancements to the presumptive range apply to certain felony traffic offenses. The 1998 Legislature added a two-year enhancement to the presumptive sentence for Vehicular Homicide while Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or any Drug, under RCW 46.61.520(2). A two-year enhancement is added for each prior offense as defined in RCW 46.61.505¹³. But prior ¹³ RCW 46.61.505(13)(a): A “prior offense” means any of the following:

- (ii) A conviction for a violation of RCW 46.61.504 or an equivalent local ordinance; offenses which are used to enhance do not count towards the offender score. RCW 9.94A.525(11). The enhancement portion is subject to earned release time. See RCW 9.94A.728.

Effective June 12, 2008, is a twelve month and one day enhancement to the presumptive sentence for Attempting to Elude a Police Vehicle under RCW 46.61.021. RCW 9.94A.834. In order to obtain the enhancement, the State must file a special allegation and prove beyond a reasonable doubt that one or more persons other than the defendant or the pursuing law enforcement officer were threatened with physical injury or harm by the actions of the eluder.

FIREARM AND DEADLY WEAPON ENHANCEMENTS

Initiative 159, "Hard Time for Armed Crime," was passed during the 1995 legislative session and became effective for offenses committed after July 23, 1995. This initiative increased penalties and expanded the range of crimes eligible for weapon enhancements. For specified crimes, when a court makes a finding of fact or when a jury returns a special verdict finding that the accused or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon¹⁴ at the time of the commission of the crime, the sentence must be enhanced. The same is true if the offender or an accomplice was armed with a firearm¹⁵ at the time of the crime.

Enhancements apply to all felonies except where the use of a firearm is an element of the offense (Possession of a Machine Gun, Possession of a Stolen Firearm, Drive-by Shooting, Theft of a Firearm, Unlawful Possession of a Firearm in the First and Second Degrees and Use of a Machine Gun in a Felony). These sentence enhancements also apply to anticipatory offenses, which include attempts, conspiracies and solicitations to commit a crime. (RCW 9.94A.533(3), (4)). Additional time under either enhancement is added to the sentence after it has been calculated based on the particular seriousness level and the offender score (RCW 9.94A.530), and after the range adjustment for any anticipatory offense (if appropriate). If the presumptive standard range sentence exceeds the statutory maximum for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence becomes the presumptive sentence, unless the offender is a persistent offender, as defined in RCW 9.94A.030(37).¹⁶ The 1998 Legislature required that if the firearm enhancement or the deadly weapon enhancement increases a sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced. As a result, in such a case the underlying sentence must be reduced so that the total confinement time does not exceed the statutory maximum. This takes effect for crimes committed on or after June 11, 1998.

equivalent local ordinance, if the charge under which the deferred prosecution was granted was originally filed as a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, or an equivalent local ordinance, or of RCW 46.61.520 or 46.61.522.

¹⁴ RCW 9.94A.602 provides: Deadly Weapon means "...an implement or instrument which has the capacity to inflict death and from the manner in which it is used, is likely to produce or may easily and readily produce death. The following instruments are included in the term deadly weapon: Blackjack, sling shot, billy, sand club, sandbag, metal knuckles, any dirk, dagger, pistol, revolver, or any other firearm, any knife having a blade longer than three inches, any razor with an unguarded blade, any metal pipe or bar used or intended to be used as a club, any explosive, and any weapon containing poisonous or injurious gas."

¹⁶ Effective until August 1, 2009, then recodified as RCW 9.94A.030(31).

If an offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the firearm enhancement and other enhancements must be added to the total period of confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to a firearm enhancement.

Weapon enhancements for firearms differ from enhancements for deadly weapons other than firearms. Compare RCW 9.94A.533 (3) and (4). For scoring, see page III-7 and III-8 for the weapon enhancement scoring forms, including for offenses committed prior to July 24, 1995. Figure 1 also outlines the weapon enhancements for each type of offense and offender:

A	60 Months	120 Months
B	36 Months	72 Months
C	18 Months	36 Months

OTHER DEADLY WEAPON
Class	First Offense	Repeat Offender
A	24 Months	48 Months
B	12 Months	24 Months
C	6 Months	12 Months

*All firearm and other deadly weapon enhancements are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other additional firearm or other deadly weapon enhancements, for all offenses sentenced under RCW 9.94A.510.

 To be sentenced as a repeat offender, the offense with a weapon finding must have occurred after July 23, 1995.

DRUG-RELATED ENHANCEMENTS

Enhancements to the presumptive range are required for certain drug offenses that occur in a protected zone, in the presence of a child, or in correctional facilities.

Protected Zone

If an offender is sentenced for committing certain drug offenses in a protected zone, then RCW 9.94A.533(6) adds 24 months to the presumptive sentence and the maximum imprisonment and fine are doubled (RCW 69.50.435).¹⁷ Protected zones include the following:

- Schools or school buses;
- 1,000 feet of a school bus route stop or a school ground perimeter;

¹⁷ Drug offenses include violations of RCW 69.50.401(1): manufacturing, selling, delivering, or possessing with intent to manufacture, sell or deliver a controlled substance; and RCW 69.50.410: Selling for profit any controlled substance or counterfeit substance classified in schedule I, RCW 69.50.204, except leaves and flowering tops of marijuana.

- Public parks;
- Public transit vehicles or public transit stops;
- Civic centers or public housing projects designated as a drug-free zone by the local governing authority; or
- 1,000 feet of the perimeter of a facility designated as a civic center, if the local governing authority specifically designates the 1,000-foot perimeter.

When a convicted drug offender is subject to both RCW 69.50.435 (which doubles the maximum sentence that may be imposed for a drug offense committed in or near a public place or facility as specified by the statute) and RCW 9.94A.533(3) (which mandates enhanced sentences for offenses committed while armed with a firearm), the maximum sentence for the firearm enhancement should equal the statutory maximum for the offenses as doubled by RCW 69.50.435. State v. Barajas, 88 Wn. App. 387 (1997).

Presence of a Child

When an offender is convicted under RCW 69.50.401, of the manufacture of methamphetamine or of the possession of ephedrine or pseudo-ephedrine with intent to manufacture methamphetamine, and there was a special allegation proven that the offender committed the crime when a person under the age of eighteen was present in or upon the premises of the manufacture, then RCW 9.94A.605 adds 24 months to the presumptive sentence.

Correctional Facility

If an offender or an accomplice committed certain violations of the Uniform Controlled Substance Act (VUCSA) while in a county jail or state correctional facility, the following additional time is added to the presumptive sentence range:

Crime	Enhancement
Manufacture, Deliver, Possess with Intent to Deliver Heroin or Cocaine	18 Months
Manufacture, Deliver, Possess with Intent to Deliver Schedule I or II Narcotics (Except Heroin or Cocaine) or Flunitrazepam from Schedule IV	18 Months

SEX OFFENSE ENHANCEMENTS

Enhancements apply to certain child-sex offenses in which a fee is offered or given to the victim and to felony offenses committed with “sexual motivation”.

A one-year enhancement is mandatory for offenders convicted of Rape of a Child or Child Molestation (or an anticipatory offense) if the offender engaged, agreed, or offered to engage the victim in sexual intercourse or sexual contact in return for a fee. RCW 9.94A.533(9). If the offender is being sentenced for multiple offenses, the enhancement is added to the period of total confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to the enhancement.

The “sexual motivation” enhancement is applicable to any felony offense committed after July 1, 2006. RCW 9.94A.533(8). The length of this mandatory enhancement depends on the nature of the underlying crime. A two-year enhancement applies to Class A felonies or those with a statutory maximum sentence of at least 20 years. An eighteen-month enhancement applies to Class B felonies or those with a statutory maximum of ten years. A one-year enhancement applies to Class C felonies or those with a statutory maximum of five years. If the offender has a prior sexual motivation enhancement (for which sentencing was on or after July 1, 2006) then any subsequent enhancement period is doubled. RCW 9.94A.533(8)((a)(iv).

Anticipatory offenses receive the same enhancement as if the crime had been completed. RCW 9.94A.533(8)(a). If the application of the enhancement causes the sentence to exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the presumptive sentence shall be the statutory maximum. However, the enhancement portion of the sentence may not be reduced.

“Sexual motivation” enhancements are served in total confinement and run consecutive to all other sentencing provisions, including other sexual motivation enhancements. Earned early release time is to be credited after the term of total confinement is calculated. RCW 9.94A.533(e). However, offenders serving time for this enhancement may still be granted an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.728(4). RCW 9.9A.533(8)(b).

CRIMINAL STREET GANG-RELATED ENHANCEMENT

In 2007, the Legislature gave the State two alternative methods to increase the sentence of a gang-related offender who compensates, threatens or solicits a minor to involve the minor in the commission of a felony: an enhancement and an aggravator.¹⁸ The enhancement is an alternative to the aggravator because, where the State gives notice that it will seek an exceptional sentence based on the aggravating factor, the enhancement is unavailable. RCW 9.94A.533(10)(c).

This enhancement is unique in that it increases the standard range sentence for the underlying crime. RCW 9.94A.533(10). When the State files a special allegation and proves that a felony offense involved the compensation, threatening, or solicitation of a minor in order to involve that minor in the commission of the felony offense, the standard range for that felony is determined by multiplying the grid range by 125%. RCW 9.94A.533(10)(a). The enhancement does not apply to any criminal street gang-related felony for which involving a minor in the commission of the felony is already an element of the offense. RCW 9.94A.533.10(b).

DETERMINING THE SENTENCING OPTIONS

The sentencing options available to a court vary depending on the offender's criminal history and the crime(s) of conviction.

The following sections examine the standard sentence range, alternative sentencing options and supervision in the community. Sentencing options include the First-time Offender Waiver (FTOW), the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative (DOSA), the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (SSOSA), Work Ethic Camp (WEC), Work Crew, home detention and other alternatives.

TERMS OF CONFINEMENT

STANDARD SENTENCE RANGE

The sentencing grid prescribes the standard sentence range for most of the commonly charged felonies. RCW 9.94A.599 provides that if the presumptive sentence duration given in the sentencing grid exceeds the statutory maximum sentence for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence.

The ranges in the sentencing grid are expressed in terms of total confinement. A term of confinement of one year and one day (12+), or a sentence under the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative, is to be served in a state facility or institution. In addition, any sex offense sentenced under RCW 9.94A.712¹⁹ of one year or less will be served in a state facility or institution. A term of one year or less (other than those described above) is to be served in a county facility unless, when combined with other felony terms, the total time to be served exceeds one year (RCW 9.94A.190). A court may convert total confinement sentences to partial confinement or community service (see the discussion of alternative conversions, page I-50) for some offenders. Offenders who have received a sentence greater than one year, and who also ¹⁸ The Legislature reports that this was the creation of a new crime: Involving a Juvenile in a Felony Offense. However, the amendments function as a new sentence enhancement. A special allegation must be filed and proven by the State, and then the standard sentence range for the underlying felony is increased.

¹⁹ Effective until August 1, 2009, then recodified as RCW 9.94A.507.

have received another sentence less than one year are required to serve the entire period of time in a state institution.

“UNRANKED” CRIMES

Offenders convicted of “unranked crimes,” crimes without an established seriousness level, are not subject to standard sentence ranges. In such cases, courts are required to impose a determinate sentence which may include zero to 365 days of confinement and may also include community service, legal financial obligations, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year and/or a fine. Orders of confinement longer than one year constitute exceptional sentences, which must be justified in writing. (RCW 9.94A.505(2)(b); RCW 9.94A.535).

PERSISTENT OFFENDERS

Voters approved Initiative 593 ("Three Strikes and You're Out") in 1993. The law, which became effective on December 2, 1993, established the penalty of life in prison without the possibility of release for “persistent offenders.” The life sentence applies to both “Three Strikes” and “Two Strikes” offenders.

“Three Strikes”

The original “Three Strikes” legislation defined a “persistent offender” as an offender who is convicted of a “most serious offense” and who has at least two prior convictions for most serious offenses that would be included in the offender score under 9.94A.525. In order to be applicable to the three strikes statute, the first prior conviction must have occurred before the second prior conviction offense was committed. The following are "most serious offenses" as defined by RCW 9.94A.030(32):²⁰

- Any Class A felony or solicitation or conspiracy to commit a Class A felony;
- Any Class B felony committed with sexual motivation;
- Any out-of-state conviction for a felony offense with a finding of sexual motivation if: the minimum sentence imposed was ten years or more, the out-of-state felony is comparable to a felony offense under RCW 9 or 9A. and the out-of-state definition of sexual-motivation is comparable with Washington’s definition;
- Any felony committed with a deadly weapon;
- Any out-of-state or federal felony in effect at any time prior to December 2, 1993, that is comparable to a “most serious offense” under Washington law;
- Assault in the Second Degree;
- Assault of a Child in the Second Degree;
- Child Molestation in the Second Degree;
- Controlled Substance Homicide;
- Extortion in the First Degree;
- Incest (when committed against a child under age fourteen);
- Indecent Liberties;²¹

²⁰ Effective until August 1, 2009, then recodified as RCW 9.94A.030(27).

²¹ Indecent Liberties includes:

- Kidnapping in the Second Degree;
- Leading Organized Crime;
- Manslaughter in the First Degree;
- Manslaughter in the Second Degree;
- Promoting Prostitution in the First Degree;
- Robbery in the Second Degree;
- Sexual Exploitation;
- Vehicular Assault (when caused by the operation or driving of a vehicle by a person while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug or by the operation or driving a vehicle in a reckless manner); and
- Vehicular Homicide (when proximately caused by the driving of any vehicle by any person while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.502, or by the operation of any vehicle in a reckless manner).

“Two Strikes”

The definition of persistent offender also includes “Two Strike” sex offenders. To qualify as a persistent sex offender, an offender must have two separate convictions of specified sex offenses. The 1997 Legislature broadened the list of offenses that qualify as strikes under the “Two Strike” law. The specific offenses qualifying as “Two Strikes” are enumerated in RCW 9.94A.030(37)(b)’s “persistent offender” definition and include:

- Rape First Degree, Rape Second Degree, Indecent Liberties by Forcible Compulsion, Rape of a Child First Degree (where the offender was age 16 or older at the time of the offense) Rape of a Child Second Degree (where the offender was 18 or older at the time the offense), Child Molestation in the First Degree; or
- any of the following offenses with a finding of sexual motivation: Murder First Degree, Murder Second Degree, Kidnapping First Degree, Kidnapping Second Degree, Assault First Degree, Assault Second Degree, Burglary First Degree, Homicide by Abuse or Assault of a Child in the First Degree and Assault of a Child in the Second Degree; or
- attempt to commit any of the crimes listed above.

An offender convicted of one of these offenses, who has at least one previous conviction for one of these offenses, must be sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of release.

NON-PERSISTENT SEX OFFENDERS

During the 2001 Second Special Session, the Legislature enacted 3ESSB 6151 – The Management of Sex Offenders in the Civil Commitment and Criminal Justice Systems. The resulting “non-persistent offender” system is also called “determinate-plus”, but it is an

- Convictions for violating of RCW 9A.44.100 as it currently exists; and
 - Convictions for violating RCW 9A.88.100(1)(a), (b), and (c) as it existed from 1975 until July 1, 1979; and
 - Convictions for violating RCW 9A.44.100(1)(a), (b), and (c) as it existed from July 1, 1979 until June 11, 1986; and
 - Convictions for violating RCW 9A.44.100(1)(a), (b), and (d) as it existed from June 11, 196, until July 1, 1988; and
 - Convictions for violating RCW 9A.44.100(1) (c) as it existed from June 11, 1986, until July 1, 1988 if: (a) the crime was committed against a child under the age of fourteen; or the relationship between the victim and the perpetrator is included in the definition of indecent liberties under RCW 9A.44.100(1)(c) as it existed from July 1, 1988, through July 27, 1997, or RCW 44.100(1) (d) or (e) as it existed from July 25, 1993, through July 27, 1997.

indeterminate sentence. An offender must be sentenced to an indeterminate term if he is not a persistent offender but ,

- is sentenced for any of the “two strike” offenses listed in the above section; or
- of any sex offense, except failure to register, and has a prior conviction for a “two-strike” offenses listed above,

This sentencing rule does not apply to offenders seventeen years old or younger at the time of the offense and who have been convicted of rape of a child in the first degree, rape of a child in the second degree or child molestation in the first degree.

A “determinate-plus” sentence must contain a minimum term of confinement that falls within the standard range, according to the seriousness level of the offense and the offender score, and a maximum term equaling the statutory maximum sentence for the offense. The minimum term may also constitute an exceptional sentence as provided by RCW 9.94A.535. A “determinate-plus” offender is eligible for earned release pursuant to RCW 9.94A.728 and is given the opportunity of receiving sex offender treatment while incarcerated. Some “determinate-plus” offenders are eligible for the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative as provided in RCW 9.94A.670, unless they have committed Rape in the First Degree, Rape in the Second Degree or any of the following offenses with sexual motivation: Murder in the First Degree, Murder in the Second Degree, Homicide by Abuse, Kidnapping in the First Degree, or Assault of a Child in the First Degree. Additionally, all sentences under this provision must be served in prison, regardless of the sentence length.

Offenders given “determinate plus” sentences fall under the purview of the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board through the maximum term of the sentence. Those released from prison will be supervised by the Department of Corrections and will remain on community custody through the maximum term of the sentence.

EXCEPTIONAL SENTENCES

The standard sentence range is presumed to be appropriate for the typical felony case. The SRA, at RCW 9.94A.535, however, provides that the court “may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.”

An exceptional sentence must be for a determinate term and cannot exceed the statutory maximum for the crime. An exceptional sentence cannot include a term less than a mandatory minimum term of confinement if one exists. RCW 9.94A.540 sets a mandatory minimum term of confinement for the following crimes: First Degree Murder, First Degree Assault or First Degree Assault of a Child where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim, First Degree Rape, and Sexually Violent Predator Escape. RCW 10.95.030 sets a lifetime imprisonment term for Aggravated First Degree Murder. Per RCW 9.94A.570’s terms, persistent offenders sentenced to life in prison are not eligible for exceptional sentences.

Pursuant to the United States Supreme Court, before a court is permitted to impose sentences above the standard range, “[o]ther than the fact of a prior conviction, any fact that increases the penalty for a crime beyond the prescribed statutory maximum must be submitted to a jury, and proved beyond a reasonable doubt.” Blakely v. Washington, 542 U.S. 296, 124 S.Ct. 2531, 159 L.Ed.2d 403 (2004).²²

In 2005, the state Legislature passed SB5477. That Bill amended RCW 9.94A.530, RCW 9.94A.535, and created RCW 9.94A.537, in an attempt to bring Washington statutes into compliance with the procedures required in Blakely.²³ These changes were to take effect April 15, 2005. But in 2007, the Washington State Supreme Court ruled that these changes did not apply to cases where trials began prior to April 15, 2005, or to cases in which guilty pleas were entered before that date. State v. Pillatos, 159 Wn.2d 459 (2007). Pillatos also held that Courts do not have inherent power to impanel sentencing juries and seek exceptional sentences above the standard range in this fashion. However, “where an exceptional sentence above the standard range was imposed and where a new sentencing hearing is required, the superior court may impanel a jury to consider any alleged aggravating circumstances listed in RCW 9.94A.535, that were relied upon by the superior court in imposing the previous sentence, at the new sentencing hearing.” RCW 9.94A.537(2).

If an exceptional sentence is given, the sentencing court is required to set forth the reasons for the departure from the standard range (RCW 9.94A.535) or from the consecutive/concurrent policy (RCW 9.94A.589(1) and (2)) in written Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law. Exceptional sentences may be appealed by the offender or by the State.

RCW 9.94A.535 provides a list of factors that the court may consider in deciding whether to impose an exceptional sentence.

Mitigating Circumstances for Exceptional Sentences

Mitigating circumstances justifying a sentence below the standard range can found in RCW 9.94A.535(1). But the circumstances on this list are provided as examples only. It is not intended to be an exclusive list of reasons for a departure below the standard range. These are the factors on the list:

- To a significant degree, the victim was an initiator, willing participant, aggressor, or provoker of the incident.
- Before detection, the defendant compensated, or made a good faith effort to compensate, the victim of the criminal conduct for any damage or injury sustained.
- The defendant committed the crime under duress, coercion, threat, or compulsion insufficient to constitute a complete defense, but which significantly affected his or her conduct.
- The defendant, with no apparent predisposition to do so, was induced by others to participate in the crime.

²² See discussion regarding Blakely v. Washington, Section II – 135.

²³ As of 2008, challenges to RCW .94A.537 were not yet final.

- The defendant's capacity to appreciate the wrongfulness of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of the law was significantly impaired. (Voluntary use of drugs or alcohol is excluded).
- The offense was principally accomplished by another person and the defendant manifested extreme caution or sincere concern for the safety or well being of the victim.
- The operation of the multiple offense policy of RCW 9.94A.589 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly excessive in light of the purpose of the Sentencing Reform Act, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.
- The defendant or the defendant's children suffered a continuing pattern of physical or sexual abuse by the victim of the offense, and the offense is a response to that abuse.

Aggravating Circumstances for Exceptional Sentences

Unlike Mitigating circumstances, an exceptional sentence that is aggravated must be based on one or more of the circumstances listed in the statute. The list is not illustrative.

The court may impose an aggravated exceptional sentence without a finding of fact by a jury if the defendant and state both stipulate that justice is best served by an exceptional sentence and the court agrees that the stipulation is in the interest of justice and consistent with the Sentencing Reform Act under RCW 9.94A.535(2). A court may also impose an aggravated exceptional sentence without a jury finding if the Court finds any of these factors:

- The offender's prior unscored misdemeanor or foreign criminal history results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient in light of the purposes expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.
- The defendant has committed multiple concurrent offenses and the defendant's high offender score results in some of the current offenses going unpunished.
- The failure to consider the defendant's prior criminal history which was omitted from the offender score calculation pursuant to the wash-out provisions of RCW 9.94A.525 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient.

The court may also impose an exceptional sentence above the standard range if the procedures specified in RCW 9.94A.537 are followed and a jury makes findings of fact supporting any of the following additional Aggravating circumstances:

- The defendant's conduct during the commission of the current offense manifested deliberate cruelty to the victim.
- The defendant knew or should have known that the victim of the current offense was particularly vulnerable or incapable of resistance.
- The current offense was a violent offense, and the defendant knew that the victim of the current offense was pregnant.

- The current offense was a major economic offense or series of offenses, so identified by a consideration of any of the following factors:
 - (a) The current offense involved multiple victims or multiple incidents per victim;
 - (b) The current offense involved attempted or actual monetary loss substantially greater than typical for the offense;
 - (c) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning, or occurred over a lengthy period of time; or
 - (d) The defendant used his or her position of trust, confidence or fiduciary responsibility to facilitate the commission of the current offense.
- The current offense was a major violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (VUCSA, RCW Chapter 69.50), related to trafficking in controlled substances, which was more onerous than the typical offense of its statutory definition. The presence of any of the following may identify an offense as a major VUCSA offense:
 - (a) The current offense involved at least three separate transactions in which controlled substances were sold, transferred, or possessed with intent to do so;
 - (b) The current offense involved an attempted or actual sale or transfer of controlled substances in quantities substantially larger than for personal use;
 - (c) The current offense involved the manufacture of controlled substances for use by other parties;
 - (d) The circumstances of the current offense reveal the offender to have occupied a high position in the drug distribution hierarchy;
 - (e) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning, or occurred over a lengthy period of time, or involved a broad geographic area of disbursement; or
 - (f) The offender used his or her position or status to facilitate the commission of the current offense, including positions of trust, confidence or fiduciary responsibility (e.g., pharmacist, physician or other medical professional).
- The current offense included a finding of sexual motivation pursuant to RCW 9.94A.835.
- The offense was part of an ongoing pattern of sexual abuse of the same victim under the age of 18 years, manifested by multiple incidents over a prolonged period of time.
- The current offense involved domestic violence, as defined in RCW 10.99.020 and one or more of the following was present:
 - (a) The offense was part of an ongoing pattern of psychological, physical, or sexual abuse of the victim manifested by multiple incidents over a prolonged period of time;
 - (b) The offense occurred within sight or sound of the victim's or offender's minor children under the age of eighteen years; or
 - (c) The offender's conduct during the commission of the current offense manifested deliberate cruelty or intimidation of the victim.
- The offense resulted in the pregnancy of a child victim of rape.

- The defendant knew that the victim of the current offense was a youth who was not residing with a legal custodian and the defendant established or promoted the relationship for the primary purpose of victimization.
- The offense was committed with the intent to obstruct or impair human or animal health care or agricultural or forestry research or commercial production.
- The current offense is trafficking in the first degree or trafficking in the second degree and any victim was a minor at the time of the offense.
- The offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning.
- The defendant used his or her position of trust, confidence or fiduciary responsibility to facilitate the commission of the current offense.
- The defendant committed a current sex offense, has a history of sex offenses, and is not amenable to treatment.
- The offense involved an invasion of the victim's privacy.
- The defendant demonstrated or displayed an egregious lack of remorse.
- The offense involved a destructive and foreseeable impact on persons other than the victim.
- The defendant committed the offense to obtain or maintain his or her membership or to advance his or her position in the hierarchy of an organization, association, or identifiable group.
- The defendant committed the current offense shortly after being released from incarceration.
- The current offense is a burglary and the victim of the burglary was present in the building or residence when the crime was committed.
- The offense was committed against a law enforcement officer who was performing his or her official duties at the time of the offense, the offender knew that the victim was a law enforcement officer, and the victim's status as a law enforcement officer is not an element of the offense.
- The defendant committed the offense against a victim who was acting as a good Samaritan.
- The defendant committed the offense against a public official or officer of the court in retaliation of the public official's performance of his or her duty to the criminal justice system.

- The victim’s injuries substantially exceeded the level of bodily harm necessary to satisfy the elements of the offense. This aggravator is not an exception to RCW 9.94A.530(2).
- (a) The current offense is theft in the first degree, theft in the second degree, possession of stolen property in the first degree, or possession of stolen property in the second degree; (b) the stolen property involved is metal property (as defined in 19.290.010); and (c) the property damage to the victim caused in the course of the theft of metal property is more than three times the value of the stolen metal property, or the theft of the metal property creates a public hazard.
- The defendant committed the offense with the intent to directly or indirectly cause any benefit, aggrandizement, gain, profit, or other advantage to or for a criminal street gang, its reputation, influence, or membership. If this aggravator is alleged, the State may not seek an enhanced sentence pursuant to RCW 9.94A.533(10).

CONSECUTIVE AND CONCURRENT SENTENCES

RCW 9.94A.589 sets forth the rules regarding consecutive and concurrent sentences. Generally, sentences for multiple offenses set at one sentencing hearing are served concurrently unless there are two or more separate serious violent offenses or weapon offenses. In those cases, the sentences are served consecutively, unless an exceptional sentence is entered. RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a). The exceptions to this general rule are as follows:

Offenses that Constitute Same Criminal Conduct

If the Court enters a finding that some or all of the current offenses required the same criminal intent, were committed at the same time and place, and involved the same victim, the offenses are treated as one offense. RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a). A departure from this rule requires an exceptional sentence (RCW 9.94A.535).

Multiple Serious Violent Offenses

In the case of two or more serious violent offenses arising from separate and distinct criminal conduct, the sentences for these serious violent offenses are served consecutively to each other and concurrently with any other sentences imposed for current offenses (RCW 9.94A.589(1)(b)). A departure from this rule requires an exceptional sentence (RCW 9.94A.535).

Certain Firearm-related Offenses

In the case of an offender convicted of Unlawful Possession of a Firearm in the First or Second Degree and for one or both of the crimes of Theft of a Firearm or Possession of a Stolen Firearm, the sentences for these crimes are served consecutively for each conviction of the felony crimes listed and for each firearm unlawfully possessed²⁴. (RCW 9.94A.589(1)(c)). A departure from this rule requires an exceptional sentence (RCW 9.94A.535).

²⁴ Effective for offenses committed after July 23, 1995 (RCW 9.94A.589(1)(c)).

Weapon Enhancements

In the case of an offender receiving a deadly weapon enhancement for offenses committed after July 23, 1995, the deadly weapon enhancement portion of the standard range is served consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other firearm or deadly weapon enhancements (RCW 9.94A.533). A departure from this rule requires an exceptional sentence (RCW 9.94A.535).

Felony Committed While Offender was Under Sentence for Another Felony

Whenever a current offense is committed while the offender is under sentence for a previous felony and the offender was also sentenced for another term of imprisonment, the latter term may not begin until expiration of all prior terms (RCW 9.94A.589(2)). A departure from this rule requires an exceptional sentence (RCW 9.94A.535).

Felonies Committed While Offender was not Under Sentence for Another Felony

This rule applies when offenders face multiple charges or have multiple convictions from different jurisdictions. Subject to the above policies, whenever a person is sentenced under a felony that was committed while the person was not under sentence for a felony, the sentence runs concurrently with felony sentences previously imposed by any court in this or another state or by a federal court, unless the court pronouncing the subsequent sentence expressly orders that they be served consecutively (RCW 9.94A.589(3)).

Probation Revocation

Whenever any person granted probation under RCW 9.95.210 or RCW 9.92.060, or both, has a probationary sentence revoked and a prison sentence imposed, this sentence runs consecutively to any sentence imposed, unless the court pronouncing the subsequent sentence expressly orders that they be served concurrently (RCW 9.94A.589(4)). This rule applies when an offender's pre-Sentencing Reform Act case probation is revoked and he or she is also sentenced on a conviction for a crime committed after June 30, 1984, the inception date of the SRA.

Serving Total Confinement with Consecutive Sentences

In the case of consecutive sentences, all periods of total confinement must be served before any periods of partial confinement, community service, community supervision or any other requirement or condition of a sentence (RCW 9.94A.589(5)). This rule applies to offenders who have not completed their sentence requirements from a previous conviction and are sentenced to total confinement on a new offense. A departure from this rule requires an exceptional sentence (RCW 9.94A.535).

LIMITS ON EARNED RELEASE

RCW 9.94A.728 provides that an offender's sentence may be reduced by "earned release time." This time is earned through good behavior and good performance, as determined by the correctional agency that has jurisdiction over the inmate. An inmate can accumulate "earned release time" while serving a sentence and during pre-sentence incarceration.

During 2003 session the legislature passed ESSB 5990. That legislation amended RCW 9.94A.728, in part, to increase earned release time for good behavior up to fifty (50) percent of a sentence. The increase became effective July 1, 2003. The right to earn early release time at the rate of 50 percent will not apply to offenders convicted after July 1, 2010.

Offenders have the right to earn up to fifty percent of aggregate release time if they:

- (a) Are not confined pursuant to a sentence for a sex offense, violent offense, crime against persons, felony domestic violence, residential burglary, drug offense involving methamphetamine or delivery of any controlled substance to a child; and
- (b) Have not previously been convicted of any of these offenses; and
- (c) Are classified by the controlling correctional agency in one of the two lowest risk categories; and
- (d) Participate in available programming or activities as directed by the offender's individual reentry plan;²⁵ and
- (e) Have not committed a new felony while under community supervision community placement, or community custody.²⁶

Offenders convicted of a serious violent offense or a sex offense that is a Class A felony committed between July 1, 1990 and July 1, 2003 are prohibited from earning release time in excess of fifteen (15) percent. Offenders committing these offenses on or after July 1, 2003 will not earn release time credit in excess of ten (10) percent.

Offenders sentenced under the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative are not eligible to accrue any earned release time while serving a suspended sentence.

An offender may not receive any earned release time for that portion of a sentence that results from any deadly weapon enhancements.

Finally, no matter how much release time has been earned under RCW 9.95A.728, an offender sentenced for a crime that has a mandatory minimum sentence shall not be released from total confinement before the completion of the mandatory minimum for that crime unless allowable under RCW 9.94A.540.

SENTENCING ALTERNATIVES

For some types of offenses and offenders, sentencing courts have discretion to order alternative sentences. These alternative sentences include the First-time Offender Waiver (FTOW), the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative (DOSA), local options for some chemically dependent offenders, the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (SSOSA), other treatment options for sex offenders while in prison, and Work Ethic Camp (WEC).

²⁵ This factor went into effect July 22, 2007.

FIRST-TIME OFFENDER WAIVER (FTOW)

RCW 9.94A.650 provides a statutory alternative to the standard range for certain offenders who have not been previously convicted of a felony offense in this state, in federal court, or in another state, and who have never participated in a program of deferred prosecution for any felony. Such offenders are eligible for the First-time Offender Waiver when they are facing sentencing for an offense that:

- is not a violent offense;
- is not Manufacture, Delivery, or Possession with Intent to Manufacture or Deliver
 - (a) a Schedule I or II Narcotic Drug,
 - (b) Flunitrazepam classified in Schedule IV,
 - (c) Methamphetamine, or
 - (d) any of Methamphetamine's salts, isomers and salts of its isomers as defined in RCW 69.50.206(d)(2);
- is not Selling for Profit any Controlled or Counterfeit Substance;
- is not sex offense; and
- is not Felony Driving While Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or any Drug or felony Physical Control of a Vehicle While Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or any Drug.

For these offenders, the court is given broad discretion in setting the sentence. Choices available to the court include:

- Imposing as little as zero or up to 90 days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county
- Requiring that the offender refrain from committing new offenses; and
- Requiring a term of community supervision.²⁷

A court's decision to impose or not to impose the First-time Offender Waiver cannot be appealed by the prosecutor or defendant (RCW 9.94A.585(1)).

DRUG OFFENDER SENTENCING ALTERNATIVE (DOSA)

Prior to sentencing a defendant for a Violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (“VUCSA”) offense, for a criminal solicitation offense, or for any other felony where the Court finds the offender has a chemical dependency that contributed to the crime, the court is required to order a chemical dependency screening report, to be completed by the Department of Corrections. RCW 9.94A.500. The court may explicitly waive that requirement.

²⁷ Until August 1, 2009, the conditions of community service for individuals who receive a First-time Offender Waiver are controlled by RCW 9.94A.650(2). After August 1, 2009, the conditions are primarily governed by RCW 9.94A.702 and .703. However, RCW 9.94A.650(4) also provides that the Court may order the offender to pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations and/or perform community restitution work.

Effective July 25, 1999, the Legislature created the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative (DOSA) for certain VUCSA offenders. RCW 9.94A.660. For eligible offenders, the following conditions must be met:

- Standard sentence for the offense is more than one year;²⁸
- The offender has not received a drug offender sentencing alternative more than once in the prior ten years before the current offense;
- No current or prior sex offense;
- No current violent offense or prior violent offense within ten years before conviction of the current offense;
- No current offense of felony driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug or felony physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug.
- No current deadly weapon or firearm enhancement (prior weapon and firearm enhancements are allowed);
- Not subject to a federal INS deportation detainer or deportation order; and
- The offense involved a small amount of drugs, as determined by the court.

If the Court determines that the offender meets these eligibility requirements, the defendant may bring a motion for a DOSA sentence. Upon such a motion, the Court is required to consider four factors:

- (1) Whether the offender suffers from a drug addiction;
- (2) Whether that addiction makes it probable that criminal behavior will occur in the future;
- (3) Whether effective treatment for that addiction are available from an appropriate treatment provider (RCW 9.94A.660(3) describes the minimum treatment and treatment provider requirements); and
- (4) Whether the offender and community will benefit from this sentence alternative.

If, after considering those factors, the court determines that a sentence under this section is appropriate, the court shall impose a DOSA sentence consisting of a prison-based alternative or a residential chemical dependency treatment-base alternative, instead of a standard range sentence.

The Prison-Based Alternative

The prison-based alternative to the standard range is provided by RCW 9.94A.660(5) and contains the following requirements:

²⁸ Offenders convicted of inchoate VUCSA offenses such as attempt and/or conspiracy, already receive sentences of less than one year and are therefore not eligible for a DOSA sentence.

- (a) a period of total confinement in a state-facility for one-half of the midpoint of the standard range or twelve months, whichever is greater, during which the offender is evaluated and given any available treatment;
- (b) the remainder of the midpoint of the standard range as community custody during which the offender must participate in substance abuse treatment;
- (c) imposition of crime-related prohibitions and conditions including abstinence from controlled substances; and
- (d) urinalysis.

If, after receiving the prison-based DOSA sentence, it is determined that the offender is subject to a valid deportation order, the Department of Corrections may require the offender to serve the remaining balance of the original sentence. RCW 9.94A.660(9).²⁹

The Residential Treatment-Based Alternative

This alternative to the standard range is provided for by RCW 9.94A.660(6) and contains the following requirements:

- (a) a term of community custody equal to one-half the midpoint of the standard range or two years, whichever is greater, during which the offender must enter and remain in treatment for three to six months;
- (b) imposition of crime-related prohibitions and conditions; and
- (c) a progress hearing.

Prohibitions and conditions that may be imposed.

In conjunction with a DOSA sentence, both RCW 9.94A.607 and .660 permit the courts to impose crime-related prohibitions on offenders sentenced to DOSA, but courts may now also impose affirmative conditions reasonably related to the circumstances of the crime. A list of potential prohibitions and conditions can be found in RCW 9.94A.660(7).

Violations.

Offenders who violate the conditions of either DOSA program (including those offenders who successfully complete the confinement portion of the program and have been placed on community custody for the remainder of their sentence) are subject to sanctions, including termination and reclassification to serve the un-expired term of total confinement in prison.

Local Option for Chemically Dependent Offenders

Offenders whose standard range sentence amounts to one year or less are not eligible for DOSA and serve their confinement time in a local jail. However, courts are also permitted to authorize county jails to convert confinement time to a county-supervised community option for those offenders deemed to have a chemical dependency that contributed to the crime. In addition, courts may impose affirmative conditions on such chemically dependent offenders. See RCW 9.94A.680(3).

²⁹ Effective August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.660(9) will be recodified as RCW 9.94A.660(11).

SPECIAL SEX OFFENDER SENTENCING ALTERNATIVE (SSOSA)

The Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (SSOSA) is a special sentencing option which allows community treatment of sex offenders and a reduced period of confinement. RCW 9.94A.670.

To be eligible for the SSOSA option, offenders must:

- Have had no prior convictions for sex offenses in this or any other state; and
- Be convicted of a sex offense that is not a serious violent offense or Rape in the Second Degree; and
- Have no prior adult conviction for a violent offense committed within five years of the date the current offense was convicted; and
- Be convicted of an offense that did not result in substantial bodily harm to the victim; and
- Have an established relationship or connection to the victim other than the connection resulting from the commission of the crime; and
- As part of his or her plea of guilty, voluntarily and affirmatively admit to committing all of the elements of the crime of which the offender is pleading guilty (Alford pleas are not eligible for this sentencing alternative); and
- Have a current offense and criminal history that permits the court to impose a sentence within the standard range of less than 11 years of confinement.

If those criteria are met, the court, on its own motion or on the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine if the defendant is amenable to treatment. Examinations may only be conducted by sex offender treatment providers certified by the Department of Health, unless the offender leaves the state for reasons other than for certification, or if there are no certified providers available near the offender's home. The examination report must include the following:

- The defendant's version of the facts and the official version of the facts;
- The defendant's offense history;
- An assessment of problems in addition to the alleged deviant behavior;
- The defendant's social and employment situation;
- Other evaluation measures used; and

- The sources of the examiner's information

The examiner must assess the defendant's amenability to treatment and relative risk to the community. A proposed treatment plan must be provided and must include, at a minimum:

- Frequency and type of contact between offender and therapist;

- Specific issues to be addressed in the treatment and description of planned treatment modalities;
- Monitoring plans, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements and monitoring by family members and others;
- Anticipated length of treatment; and
- Recommended crime-related prohibitions and affirmative conditions. At a minimum, these must include an identification of the specific activities (such as viewing or listening to pornography or use of alcohol or controlled substances) or behaviors that are precursors to the offender's offense cycle.

Upon the motion of the state or the court, a second examination regarding the offender's amenability to treatment may be ordered. The defendant is to pay the cost of any second examination ordered unless the court finds that the defendant is indigent, in which case the state pays the cost.

Once the examination report is received, the court must consider 6 factors before imposing a SSOSA sentence:

- (1) Whether the defendant and community will benefit from use of this special sentencing alternative;
- (2) Whether the alternative is too lenient in light of the extent and circumstances of the offense;
- (3) Whether the offender has victims in addition to the victim of the offense;
- (4) The risk the offender would present to the community;
- (5) Whether the offender is amenable to treatment; and
- (6) The victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a SSOSA (great weight is given to this opinion.)

If the Court then determines that a SSOSA is appropriate, the Court must:

- Impose a standard-range sentence or, if the defendant is otherwise eligible for "determinate-plus" sentencing under RCW 9.94A.712,³⁰ a "minimum term of sentence within the standard range." RCW 9.94A.670(4). The Court may then suspend that sentence and impose a reduced sentence that is at least 12 months or the maximum term within the standard range (whichever is less) or greater than 12 months and up to the maximum term within the standard range if an aggravating circumstance (See RCW 9.94A.535(3) is present. The term of confinement shall not exceed the statutory maximum sentence for the offense. An offender is serving this reduced sentence may serve all or part of it in partial confinement and is not eligible for earned release during this confinement.
- Place the offender on community custody for the balance of the suspended sentence, the length of the maximum term for any "determinate-plus" offender, or three years, whichever is greater. During the period of community custody, the offender must follow any conditions imposed by the Department under RCW 9.94A.720.³¹ If the Department finds the offender in violation of any of the conditions imposed by the Court or the Department, the Department may impose a sanction of 60 days confinement (for each violation) and submit a report to the court (see RCW 9.94A.737(3)(a)) or refer the violation to the court and recommend revocation of the suspended sentence. If the Department determines that a second violation has occurred, the Department is required to refer the matter to the court and recommend revocation of the suspended sentence.

- Order treatment for any period up to five years in duration. Treatment may be in or outpatient. Treatment under may only be conducted by sex offender treatment providers certified by the Department of Health, unless the offender leaves the state for reasons other than for certification, or if there are no certified providers available near the offender's home. Treatment cannot be with a community mental health center unless that facility has an appropriate program. Treatment providers may not be changed without the Court's approval.
- Impose specific prohibitions and affirmative conditions relating to the precursor activities or behaviors identified in the evaluation or during any subsequent annual review. RCW 9.94A.670(5) has a list of other crime-related prohibitions that may be ordered.
- Set a termination hearing for three months prior to the anticipated treatment-completion date. The Court must give the victim 14-days notice of this hearing and an opportunity to address the Court at the hearing. The court must also require the treatment provider and community corrections officer to submit written reports to the court and the parties regarding compliance and recommendations for termination from treatment, The Court may order an evaluation regarding the advisability of termination from treatment from a provider. The Court shall require the offender to pay for the costs of this re-evaluation. At this hearing the Court may modify the conditions of community custody, terminate treatment, or extend treatment in two-year increments for up to the remaining period of community custody.
- Require that quarterly reports on the offender's progress in treatment be sent to the Court and the parties.
- Conduct an annual hearing on the offender's progress in treatment. The victim shall be given 14-days notice of this hearing and an opportunity to address the Court. At the hearing, the Court may modify the conditions of community custody or revoke the suspended sentence.

In addition to the above, the Court may revoke the suspended sentence at any time during the period of community custody and order execution of the sentence if the offender violates the conditions of the suspended sentence, or fails to make satisfactory progress in treatment. If revocation occurs, the offender is then given credit for all confinement served during the period of community custody.

³¹ Effective until August 1, 2009, and then repealed.

OTHER SEX OFFENDER TREATMENT WHILE IN PRISON

Inpatient sex offender treatment programs are available for some other sex offenders. This program is not a sentencing option; offenders are admitted at the discretion of the Department of Corrections rather than by court order. The statutory authorization and procedures vary depending on the date the offender committed the crime.

RCW 9.94A.800(1) applies to those offenders who committed a felony sex offense between July 1, 1987 and July 1, 1990, and who received a sentence of more than one year but less than six years of confinement.³² A court may request the DOC to evaluate such an offender's amenability to treatment, and the DOC may place the offender in a treatment program within a correctional facility. If the offender (other than those convicted of Rape in the First or Second Degree or the anticipatory offense of Rape in the First Degree) completes a program before the expiration of the sentence, the DOC may request that the balance of confinement be converted to community supervision with affirmative conditions. If the offender violates a condition of this community supervision, the court may impose a 60-day penalty or order the balance of community supervision to be served in prison.

Sex offenders who committed crimes prior to July 1, 1987 may request an evaluation by DOC regarding their amenability to treatment. RCW 9.94A.800(2).³³ If such amenability is determined, an offender may request placement in a treatment program within the prison, subject to available funding. There is no statutory authority permitting conversion of confinement to community supervision once these offenders complete treatment.

WORK ETHIC CAMP (WEC)

Effective July 25, 1999, offenders are eligible for the Work Ethic Camp if they:

- Are sentenced to between 12.03 months and 36 months confinement;
- Have no current drug offense (violation of the Uniform Controlled Substance Act, or "VUCSA"), including solicitation to commit a VUCSA offense;
- Have no current violation of a felony Driving While Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or any Drug (RCW 46.61.502(6)), a violation of Physical Control of a Vehicle While Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or any Drug (RCW 46.61.504(6)); and
- Have no current or prior violent or sex offense convictions.

If these requirements are met, the sentencing court shall impose a sentence within the standard range and may recommend that the sentence be served at WEC. The Department of Corrections is then required to place referred offenders in the program, subject to capacity and to the offender's agreement to participate, unless:

³² As of August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.800 is repealed.

³³ As of August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.800 is repealed. _____

- Physical or mental impairments are judged to preclude participation, or
- The Department determines that the offender’s custody level prevents placement, or
- The offender refuses to agree to the conditions of the program, or
- The offender has been found to be subject to a deportation detainer, or
- The offender has participated in WEC in the past.

The length of the program is between 120 and 180 days, including a two-week period of transition training. Upon completion of the program, offenders are released to complete the remaining sentence on community custody. Participants who fail to complete the program are required to serve the un-expired term of their sentence. See RCW 9.94A.690.

SUPERVISION IN THE COMMUNITY

Historically, felony offenders in Washington have been subject to supervision in the community under a variety of circumstances. The methods and terminology associated with this supervision has changed over time.

Prior to 2000, a felony offender could be sentenced to a term of “community placement” which consisted of both “community custody” and “post-release supervision.” If the offender violated the terms of community placement, he or she would be subject to sanctioning by the Department of Corrections. If the offender violated the terms of post-release supervision, the sentencing court determined whether sanctions would be imposed. Two pre-2000 time-periods are noteworthy for sex offenders. Sex offenders who committed their offense on or after July 1, 1990, but before June 6, 1996, faced community placement for two years or up to the period of earned release, whichever was longer. RCW 9.94A.700(2).³⁴ Sex offenders who committed their offense on or after June 6, 1996 and before July 1, 2000 faced community custody for three years or the period of earned release, whichever is longer. RCW 9.94A.710.³⁵

The Offender Accountability Act (“OAA”) became effective July 1, 2000. All individuals convicted of offenses committed prior to July 1, 2000, still faced community placement under the old regime. The OAA changed all supervision of offenders committing offenses after that date.

From 2000 to 2007, the Legislature made a number of changes to the OAA, causing confusion that often resulted in inaccurate sentences. In response, the 2007-08 Legislature passed SHB 2719. The bill takes effect August 1, 2009 and:

- Reorganizes the statutes relating to supervision of offenders in the community;
- Renames all supervision in the community to “community custody”;
- Consolidates all provisions relating to the conditions of an offender’s supervision into one section;

³⁴ Effective August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.700 is recodified as RCW 9.94B.050.

³⁵ Effective August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.710 is recodified as RCW 9.94B.070.

- Moves provisions relating to older forms of supervision to a new chapter in Title 9 RCW;³⁶ and
- Applies the OAA retroactively to offenders committing their offenses prior to July 1, 2000, to the extent that is constitutionally permissible.

SHB 2719's primary substantive change is for offenders who committed their crimes prior to July 1, 2000, when the Offender Accountability Act went into effect. Chapter 231, Laws of 2008. Starting August 1, 2009, offenders sentenced (or re-sentenced) for crimes committed before July 1, 2000, will be ordered to a term of community custody, rather than community placement or community supervision. To the extent constitutionally permissible, the terms of the offender's community custody will be as provided in the new law.

The 2007-08 legislature required the Sentence Guidelines Commission to prepare a summary of circumstances under which the new community custody regime, or parts thereof, cannot be applied retroactively without violating the constitution. This summary, when prepared, will be incorporated into this Manual. Individuals who cannot be sentenced to community custody will be sentenced to community placement. Effective August 1, 2009, those provisions are found in RCW 9.94B.

Offenders sentenced under the OAA must be given a term of "community custody" by the Court. Community custody must be imposed on the date of sentencing. RCW 9.94A.505(2)(a)(iii). This period of custody is tolled while the offender is in total or partial confinement. RCW 9.94A.545(1). But the offender begins serving the term of community custody upon release from confinement, upon transfer in lieu or earned release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.728 (1) or (2), or at the time of sentencing if the Court does not impose a term of confinement.³⁷

The length of the term depends on the crime of conviction and type of sentence. For some offenses, the term of community custody is set by statute. Other offenses are subject to a community custody range established by the Sentencing Guidelines Commission. RCW 9.94A.850(5); Chapter 437-20 WAC. These ranges do not affect or limit the authority to impose exceptional community custody ranges, either above or below the standard community custody range as authorized by RCW 9.94A.535.

The community custody range for offenders with multiple convictions must be based on the offense that dictates the longest term of community custody. The community custody range for offenders convicted of an offense that falls into more than one category is that which dictates the longest term of community custody. If offenders are sentenced for two or more offenses that run consecutively, the aggregate period of community supervision shall not exceed 24 months. RCW 9.94A.589(5).

³⁷ This provision can be found in RCW 9.94A.545(1) until August 1, 2009, and in RCW 9.94A.707(1) thereafter.

COMMUNITY CUSTODY RANGES

Community Custody for Sex Offenders

- Non-persistent sex offenders receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.712³⁸ before August 1, 2009 and under RCW 9.94A.507 after August 1, 2009. The court is required to impose a sentence to a maximum term of confinement, the statutory maximum for the offense, and a minimum term within the standard range for the offense or exceptional outside the standard range as allowed under RCW 9.94A.535. In addition to other terms of the sentence, the court must also sentence the offender to community supervision under the supervision of the Department of Corrections and the authority of the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board for any period of time remaining between the date of release from total confinement and before the expiration of the statutory maximum sentence. In addition to the conditions faced by other offenders on community custody, offenders sentenced under this provision may be prohibited from residing in a community protection zone.
- Sex offenders not sentenced under RCW 9.94A.712, and who receive a term of confinement of more than one year receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.715 before August 1, 2009, and under RCW 9.94A.701 after August 1, 2009. These statutes require community custody for 36 to 48 months (the range specified in RCW 9.94A.850 and WAC 437-50) or up to the period of earned release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.728 (1) and (2), whichever is longer. In addition to the conditions faced by other offenders on community custody, offenders sentenced under this provision may be subject to electronic monitoring.³⁹ Finally, at any time prior to the completion of termination of this period of community custody, if “it finds that public safety would be enhanced”, the court can extend the conditions imposed on sex offenders (not the community custody, but the conditions) for the maximum allowable sentence for the crime.⁴⁰ But, the Department would no longer monitor compliance and any violation is only punishable by contempt of court under RCW 7.21.040.
- Sex offenders not sentenced under RCW 9.94A.712 and who receive a term of confinement of one year or less (except those convicted of Failure to Register) receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.545(1) before August 1, 2009 and under RCW 9.94A.702 after August 1, 2009. These statutes permit the Court to impose up to one year of community custody.
- Offenders convicted of Failing to Register committed on or after June 6, 2006 and sentenced to a term of confinement of one year or less receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.545(2) and .715 before August 1, 2009, and RCW 9.94A.701(2) after August 1, 2009. These statutes permit the Court to impose up to one year of community custody.

³⁸ RCW 9.94A.712 applies to specified offenses committed after September 1, 2001.

³⁹ This provision is found in RCW 9.94A.715(2)(b) until August 1, 2009, and in .704 thereafter.

⁴⁰ This provision is found in RCW 9.94A.715(5) until August 1, 2009, and in .709 thereafter.

- Offenders sentenced under the Sex Offender Sentence Alternative (“SSOSA”) receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.670 and, after August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.701(4).

Community Custody for Serious Violent Offenders

- Serious violent offenders receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.715 before August 1, 2009, and under RCW 9.94A.701 after August 1, 2009. These statutes require community custody for 24 to 48 months (the range specified in RCW 9.94A.850 and WAC 437-50) or up to the period of earned release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.728 (1) and (2), whichever is longer.

Community Custody for Violent Offenders

- Offenders convicted of violent offenses and sentenced to more than one year of confinement receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.715 before August 1, 2009, and under RCW 9.94A.701 after August 1, 2009. These statutes require community custody for 18 to 36 months (the range specified in RCW 9.94A.850 and WAC 437-50) or up to the period of earned release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.728 (1) and (2), whichever is longer.
- Offenders convicted of violent offenses and sentenced to a term of confinement of one year or less receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.545(1) before August 1, 2009, and under RCW 9.94A.702 after August 1, 2009. These statutes permit the Court to impose up to one year of community custody.

Community Custody for Crimes Against Persons (as defined in RCW 9.94A.411)

- Offenders convicted of crimes against persons and sentenced to more than one year of confinement receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.715 before August 1, 2009, and under RCW 9.94A.701 after August 1, 2009. These statutes require community custody for 9 to 18 months (the range specified in RCW 9.94A.850 and WAC 437-50) or up to the period of earned release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.728 (1) and (2), whichever is longer.
- Offenders convicted of crimes against persons and sentenced to a term of confinement of one year or less receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.545(1) before August 1, 2009, and under RCW 9.94A.702 after August 1, 2009. These statutes permit the Court to impose up to one year of community custody.

Community Custody for Felony Drug Offenders.

- Felony drug offenders sentenced to more than one year confinement receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.715 before August 1, 2009, and under RCW 9.94A.701 after August 1, 2009. These statutes require community custody for 9 to 12 months (the range specified in RCW 9.94A.850 and WAC 437-50) or up to the period of earned release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.728 (1) and (2), whichever is longer.

- Felony drug offenders sentenced to a term of confinement of one year or less receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.545(1) before August 1, 2009, and under RCW 9.94A.702 after August 1, 2009. These statutes permit the Court to impose up to one year of community custody.
- Felony drug offenders sentenced under the Drug Offender Sentence Alternative (“DOSA”) receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.660.

Community Custody for Street-Gang Related Unlawful Possession of a Firearm

In 2008, the Legislature enacted a series of laws aimed at offenders involved in unlawful street gangs. This legislation, in part, changed the community custody rules applicable to street-gang offenders or associates who are also convicted of the Unlawful Possession of a Firearm. In order to be subject to these rules, the State must have filed a special allegation and proven, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the accused is a criminal street-gang member or associate as defined in RCW 9.94A.030.

The applicable community custody rules are found in RCW 9.94A.545 and RCW 9.94A.715. They indicate that community custody is for a range specified in RCW 9.94A.850 and WAC 437-50. At the time of this writing, SGC is processing a community custody range in accordance with this legislation.

These amendments to RCW 9.94A.545 and RCW 9.94A.715 were made without cognizance of their repeal effective August 1, 2009. RCW 1.12.025 contains the rule of construction for statutes that are amended and repealed in the same legislative session.

Community Custody for Offenders Sentenced to Work-Ethic Camp

Community custody for offenders sentenced to Work-Ethic Camp is governed by RCW 9.94A.690. Upon completion of Work-Ethic Camp, the offender is released to community custody for the remainder (if any) of the standard range term of confinement.

Community Custody for Offenders Who Receive a First-Time Offender Waiver

Offenders who receive a First-Time Offender Waiver receive community custody under RCW 9.94A.650 and, after August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.702(2). Community Custody will last one year, unless an ongoing treatment program continues beyond the first year, after which supervision ends when treatment ends. Such supervision cannot exceed two years.

COMMUNITY CUSTODY CONDITIONS

The Department of Corrections supervises offenders on community custody, based on their risk to the community. DOC also has exclusive authority to sanction all violations.

Conditions of community custody and levels of supervision are generally based on risk. The statutes governing conditions also change effective August 1, 2009.

Conditions Prior to August 1, 2009:

Per RCW 9.94A.715(2), the sentencing Court must either specifically waive or impose the following conditions (found in RCW 9.94A.700(4))⁴¹:

- The offender shall report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officers as directed;
- The offender shall work at Department-approved education, employment, or community restitution, or any combination thereof;
- The offender shall not possess or consume controlled substances except pursuant to lawfully issued prescriptions;
- The offender shall pay supervision fees as determined by the Department; and
- The residence location and living arrangements shall be subject to the prior approval of the Department.

The sentencing court may also choose to impose these additional conditions (found in RCW 9.94A.700(5))⁴²:

- The offender shall remain within, or outside of, a specified geographical boundary;
- The offender shall not have direct or indirect contact with the victim of the crime or a specified class of individuals;
- The offender shall participate in crime-related treatment or counseling services (i.e., chemical dependency, mental health or domestic violence);
- The offender shall not consume alcohol; and
- The offender shall comply with any crime-related prohibitions.⁴³

The sentencing court may also impose additional affirmative conditions such as rehabilitative treatment, which are reasonably related to the circumstances of the offense, to the risk of recidivism and to community safety. And the court must require the offender to comply with any conditions imposed by the Department under RCW 9.94A.720. As one of these conditions, the Department may prohibit offenders (on community custody for crimes committed after June 6, 1996) from having contact with other specified individuals or classes of individuals. RCW 9.94A.720(1)(c). However, the Department “may not impose conditions that are contrary to those ordered by the court and may not contravene or decrease court ordered conditions.” RCW 9.94A.715(c).

All community custody for crimes committed on or after July 28, 1999, include a requirement that offenders cannot own, use or possess firearms or ammunition. RCW 9.94A.720(2).

⁴¹ Effective August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.700 is recodified as RCW 9.94B.050.

⁴² Effective August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.700 is recodified as RCW 9.94B.070.

²⁰ RCW 9.94A.030(13) provides: “‘Crime-related prohibition’ means an order of a court prohibiting conduct that directly relates to the circumstance of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, and shall not be construed to mean orders directing an offender affirmatively to participate in rehabilitative programs or to otherwise perform affirmative conduct.”

Conditions after August 1, 2009:

Under RCW 9.94A.703, certain conditions are “mandatory,” while others are “waivable” or “discretionary.” Finally, others are “special conditions”.

An offender on community custody shall:

- Inform the Department of Corrections of court-ordered treatment upon request of the Department;
- Comply with conditions imposed by the Department; and
- Be prohibited from residing in a community protection zone if sentenced under RCW 9.94A.507⁴⁴ for an offense listed in RCW 9.94A.507(1)(a)⁴⁵ and the victim of the offense was under eighteen years of age at the time of the offense.

Unless waived, the offender shall:

- Report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officer as directed;
- Work at department-approved education, employment, or community restitution, or any combination thereof;
- Refrain from possessing or consuming controlled substances except pursuant to lawfully issued prescriptions;
- Pay supervision fees as determined by the department; and
- Obtain prior approval of the department for the offender’s residence location and living arrangements.

The Court also has the discretion to order an offender to:

- Remain within, or outside of, a specified geographical boundary;
- Participate in crime-related treatment or counseling services;
- Participate in rehabilitative programs or otherwise perform affirmative conduct reasonable related to the circumstances of the offense, the offender’s risk of reoffending, or the safety of the community;
- Refrain from consuming alcohol; or
- Comply with any crime-related prohibitions.

Finally, the following special conditions exist:

- An offender must participate in a domestic violence perpetrator program approved under RCW 26.50.150 if convicted of a crime of domestic violence, as defined in RCW 10.99.020, if the offender has a minor child, or if the victim of the offense for which the offender was convicted has a minor child,
- If the offender is convicted of Driving While Under the Influence as defined by RCW 46.61.502; Actual Physical Control While Under the Influence as defined by RCW

⁴⁴ RCW 9.94A.712 is recodified as RCW 9.94A.507 effective August 1, 2009.

⁴⁵ RCW 9.94A.712 is recodified as RCW 9.94A.507 effective August 1, 2009.

46.61.504; Vehicular Assault as defined by RCW 46.61.522(1)(b); Homicide by Watercraft as defined by RCW 79A.60.050, or Assault by Watercraft as defined by RCW 79A.60.060, then the offender must complete a diagnostic evaluation by an approved alcohol or drug dependency agency or probation department, complete recommended treatment, and pay for the costs of the evaluation and treatment unless the offender is eligible for an existing program offered or approved by the department of social and health services

Offenders on community custody may not own, use or possess firearms or ammunition. RCW 9.94A.706.

The Department is required to impose additional conditions on community custody, and has the discretion to impose even more.

DOC shall require the offender to:

- Report as directed;
- Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries;
- Notify the Department of any change in the offender's address or employment;
- Pay the supervision fee assessment; and
- Disclose the fact of supervision to any mental health or chemical dependency treatment provider, as required in RCW 9.94A.722.

DOC may also require the offender to :

- Participate in rehabilitative programs;
- Perform affirmative conduct;
- Obey all laws; and
- If the offender was convicted a sex offense, the Department may require electronic monitoring.

If the offender is receiving mental health treatment, the Department may obtain information from an treatment provider without the offender's consent. RCW 9.94A.708(1).

Finally, offenders convicted of a sex offense and sentenced pursuant to RCW 9.94A.507⁴⁶ will be subject to assessment by the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board. RCW 9.94A.704(9)(a). The Department of Corrections will still assess the offender's risk of recidivism and report to the Board. RCW 9.94A.704(9)(b). The Board will then determine whether additional conditions will be ordered. RCW 9.94A.704(9)(b). If any emergency exists requiring the immediate imposition of additional conditions, the Department may do so and conditions will be in effect for up to seven working days. RCW 9.94A.704(9)(c). But, the Department may not impose conditions contrary to those set by the Board and the Court and may not contravene or decrease court-imposed or board-imposed conditions. RCW 9.94A.709(c).

ALTERNATIVE CONVERSIONS

The sentencing grid ranges are expressed in terms of total confinement (RCW 9.94A.530). For certain offenders, a court may convert terms of total confinement to partial confinement or to community service. This provision allows courts to take advantage of available alternatives to confinement in cases where it is deemed appropriate. If the court does not use an alternative conversion for a nonviolent offense with a sentence range of one year or less, the reason why must be stated on the Judgment and Sentence form (RCW 9.94A.680).

The 1999 Legislature modified the requirements for offenders convicted of non-violent or non-sex offenses and received a sentence of one year or less. Where a court finds that a chemical dependency contributed to the crime, the court may authorize the county jail to convert jail confinement to an available county-supervised community option. The court may require the offender to perform affirmative conditions, such as rehabilitative treatment, which are reasonably related to the circumstances of the crime and are reasonably necessary or beneficial to the offender and to the community.

For all offenders with sentences of one year or less, one day of total confinement may be converted to one day of partial confinement. Non-violent offenders with sentences of one year or less are also eligible for conversion of total confinement to community service (one day of confinement equals eight hours of service). This community service conversion, however, is limited to 30 days or 240 hours. If a community service conversion is ordered, and the determinate sentence is greater than 30 days, the balance of the term is to be served in total or partial confinement.

Partial confinement sentences may allow the offender to serve the sentence in work release, home detention, work crew or a combination of work crew and home detention. If the offender violates the rules of the work release facility, work crew or home detention program, or fails to remain employed or enrolled in school, the facility director may transfer the offender to the county detention facility. The offender may then request an administrative hearing. Pending the hearing, or in the absence of a request for such a hearing, the offender shall serve the remainder of the term of confinement in total confinement (RCW 9.94A.731).

WORK CREW

Work crew is a partial confinement option created by the 1991 Legislature. Offenders who qualify must have committed the offense on or after July 28, 1991. The offense may not be a sex offense.⁴⁷ For offenses committed before July 25, 1993, the offender must be sentenced to a facility operated or utilized under contract by a county (i.e., the sentence must be one year or less in length); this restriction does not apply to offenses committed after that date. If the sentence is 9 months or more, at least 30 days of total confinement must be served before the offender becomes eligible for work crew. Work crew may be simultaneously imposed with electronic home detention. Work crew hours served may include work on civic improvement tasks, substance abuse counseling, job skills training or a maximum of 24 hours per week at approved, verified work.

To be eligible to receive credit for approved, verified work, offenders must first successfully complete 4 weeks of work crew, each week comprised of 35 hours of service. Work crew projects specified by the work crew supervisor must be completed in coordination with approved, verified work. Unless exempted by the court, offenders using approved, verified employment as part of their work crew hours must pay a monthly supervision assessment.

HOME DETENTION

Home detention is a partial confinement option in which an offender is confined to a private residence and subject to electronic surveillance. The option was created by the 1988 Legislature and is available for offenders convicted of (non violent or non sex offenses) ~~crimes~~ committed on or after June 9, 1988. Because partial confinement programs are limited to sentences of one year or less, home detention is not an option for offenders with prison sentences.

Eligibility for home detention is generally conditioned upon (a) employment or school attendance, (b) program rules adherence, and (c) compliance with court-ordered legal financial obligations (RCW 9.94A.731(3)).

Convictions for any of the following offenses make the offender ineligible for home detention: a violent offense, a sex offense, a drug offense, First or Second Degree Reckless Burning, Third Degree Assault, Third Degree Assault of a Child, Unlawful Imprisonment or Harassment.

Home detention may be imposed for offenders convicted of Possession of a Controlled Substance (RCW 69.50.401) or of Forged Prescription for a Controlled Substance (RCW 69.50.403), providing the offender is monitored for drug use.

Offenders convicted of Second Degree Burglary or Residential Burglary must meet the following eligibility conditions for home detention: (a) successful completion of a twenty-one day work release program; (b) no convictions for Second Degree Burglary or Residential Burglary during the preceding two years and not more than two prior convictions for burglary; (c) no convictions for a violent felony offense during the preceding two years and not more than two prior convictions for a violent felony offense; (d) no prior charges of escape; and (e) fulfillment of the other conditions of the home detention program.

Offenders convicted of Second Degree Theft of a Motor Vehicle Without Permission, Theft of a Motor Vehicle, or Possession of a Stolen Motor Vehicle must meet the following eligibility conditions for home detention: (a) no convictions for any of these crimes during the preceding five years and not more than two prior convictions for any of these offenses; (b) no prior convictions of a violent felony offense during the preceding two years and not more than two prior convictions for a violent felony offense; (c) no prior charges of escape; and (d) fulfillment of the other conditions of the home detention program.

Home detention may also be ordered for offenders who's medical or health-related conditions, concerns or treatment would be better addressed under the home detention program, or where the health and welfare of the offender, other inmates or staff would be jeopardized by the offender's incarceration. Participation in the home detention program for medical or health-related reasons is conditioned on the offender abiding by the rules of the home detention program and complying with court-ordered legal financial obligations.

RESTITUTION

Restitution is generally governed by RCW 9.94A.750 and .753. But it is RCW 9.94A.505(7) that requires a court to order restitution whenever a felony results in injury to a person or damage or property loss. If restitution is not ordered, the court must indicate the extraordinary reasons on the record.

Restitution may also be ordered to pay for an injury, loss or damage if the offender pleads guilty to a lesser offense or fewer offenses and agrees with the prosecutor's recommendation that he or she pay restitution for any offenses not prosecuted pursuant to a plea agreement.

Restitution is based on three factors:

- Easily ascertainable damages for injury to or loss of property;
- Actual expenses incurred in treatment for injury to persons; and
- Lost wages resulting from injury.

Restitution for the crimes of Rape of a Child in the First, Second or Third Degree, in which the victim becomes pregnant, must include:

- Victim's medical expenses associated with the rape; and
- Support for any child born as a result of the rape, if child support is ordered.

Restitution may not include reimbursement for damages for mental anguish, pain and suffering and other intangible losses, but may include reimbursement for counseling reasonably related to the offense. The amount of restitution may not exceed double the amount of the offender's gain or the victim's loss from the commission of the crime. (See RCW 9.94A.753(3)).

Restitution is to be determined at the sentencing hearing or within 180 days. As part of the sentence, the court must set the terms and conditions under which the defendant makes restitution. It is required that the court be specific about the payment schedule for restitution, so that these sentence conditions may be appropriately monitored by the community corrections officer. The court may not reduce the total amount of restitution ordered because of the offender's lack of ability to pay the total amount.

For offenses committed prior to July 1, 2000, an offender's compliance with the restitution requirement may be supervised for ten years after the date of sentence or release from confinement. The restitution portion of a sentence may be modified as to amount, terms and conditions during this period regardless of the community supervision term and the statutory maximum of the crime. A court may extend the restitution requirement for a second ten-year period.

For offenses committed on or after July 1, 2000, RCW 9.94A.760(4) reads: “For an offense committed on or after July 1, 2000, the court shall retain jurisdiction over the offender, for purposes of the offender's compliance with payment of the legal financial obligations, until the obligation is completely satisfied, regardless of the statutory maximum for the crime. The department may only supervise the offender's compliance with payment of the legal financial obligations during any period in which the department is authorized to supervise the offender in the community under RCW 9.4A.728, 9.94A.501, or in which the offender is confined in a state correctional institution or a correctional facility pursuant to a transfer agreement with the department, and the department shall supervise the offender's compliance during any such period. The department is not responsible for supervision of the offender during any subsequent period of time the offender remains under the court's jurisdiction. The county clerk is authorized to collect unpaid legal financial obligations at any time the offender remains under the jurisdiction of the court for purposes of his or her legal financial obligations.”

Restitution for victims is the first priority for payment by an offender.

Restitution in Cases Involving Fraud or Deceptive Practice

If an offender or organization is found guilty of an offense involving fraud or other deceptive practice, a court may require that notice be given to the class of persons or sector of the public affected by the conviction or financially interested in the subject matter of the offense. The notice may be accomplished by mail, by advertising through designated media, or by other appropriate means (RCW 9.94A.753(8), RCW 9.94A.750(7)).

FINES

The court may impose fines as part of all sentences for felony offenses according to the following ranges (RCW 9.94A.550):

Class A felonies	$0 - $50,000
Class B felonies	$0 - $20,000
Class C felonies	$0 - $10,000

Unless the court finds the offender to be indigent, every person convicted of certain VUCSA violations (RCW 69.50.401, 69.50.402, 69.50.403, 69.50.406, 69.50.407, 69.50.410, 69.50.415) shall be fined $1,000 in addition to any other fine or penalty imposed. The fine increases to $2,000 if the violation is a second or subsequent violation of one of the laws specified.

When a fine is imposed for Manufacture, Delivery or Possession with Intent to Manufacture or Deliver Methamphetamine, or for Possession of Ephedrine or Pseudo Ephedrine with Intent to Manufacture Methamphetamine, the first $3,000 may not be suspended and must be provided to the law enforcement entity responsible for cleaning up the methamphetamine lab site.

OTHER LEGAL FINANCIAL OBLIGATIONS

The Sentencing Reform Act allows a court to impose several additional monetary obligations. These include:

- Court costs, including reimbursement for extradition costs (RCW 9.94A.030(31)⁴⁸ and (RCW 7.68.035));
- Defense attorney's fees and defense costs (RCW 9.94A.030(31));⁴⁹
- Contributions to a county or local drug fund (RCW 9.94A.030(31));⁵⁰
- Crime victims' compensation assessment (RCW 9.94A.030(31)⁵¹ and (RCW 7.68.035));
- Recoupments to the victim for the cost of counseling as a result of the offender's crime, in cases where the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative is exercised (RCW 9.94A.670(5)g);⁵²
- Payment for the cost of incarceration, at the rate of $50 per day; and/or
- Payment of up to $1,000 in costs incurred by public agencies in an emergency response to the incident that resulted in conviction for Vehicular Assault or Vehicular Homicide by being under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or Any Drug.

All such monetary obligations, except probationer assessments, are monitored by the Department of Corrections (DOC) for up to ten years after the last date of release from confinement or the date the sentence was entered (RCW 9.94A.505(4)). The court may extend its jurisdiction an additional ten years.

A court must designate the total amount of a legal financial obligation, distinguishing a separate assessment for restitution, costs, fines and other assessments. This designation must appear on the Judgment and Sentence form or on a subsequent order to pay, and must include the required schedule for monthly payment. If the court fails to set the monthly payment amount, the DOC sets the amount.

In order to assist the court in setting the monthly payment sum, the offender must truthfully report to the DOC regarding earnings, property and assets, and must supply requested documentation.

The DOC may recommend to the court modifications in the payment schedule if the offender's financial circumstances change during the period of supervision. In cases where the DOC sets the monthly assessment amount, the DOC may modify the monthly assessment without consulting the court.

Civil action for collection of unpaid legal financial obligations may be initiated by the DOC or by any obligee. Such collection is effected through a wage assignment process. (See RCW 9.94A.760(3) and 9.94A.7701.)

⁵² Effective until August 1, 2009, then recodified as RCW 9.94A.670(6)(g).

CONTACT WITH INDIVIDUALS

A court may prohibit an offender from contacting with specified individuals or a specific class of individuals for a period not to exceed the maximum allowable sentence for the crime, regardless of the expiration of the community supervision or community placement term. The order prohibiting contact must relate directly to the circumstances of the crime of conviction

REVIEW OF SENTENCES

Sentences within the standard range cannot be appealed (RCW 9.94A.585). These include sentences imposed pursuant to the First Time Offender provisions found in RCW 9.94A.650. Sentences outside the standard range may be appealed by the defendant or by the prosecutor. Review is limited to the record made before the sentencing court. Pending review, the sentence court or the court of appeals may order the defendant confined or placed on condition release, including bond.

Before reversing a sentence that is outside the sentence range, the Court of Appeals must find that:

- The reasons supplied by the sentencing judge were not supported by the record, or they do not justify a sentence outside the range; or
- The sentence imposed was clearly excessive or clearly too lenient.

The Department of Corrections may request a review of a sentence committing an offender to the custody or jurisdiction of the Department. This review must be limited to errors of law and must be filed with the Court of Appeals no later than 90 days after the Department has actual knowledge of the term of the sentence. The Department must certify that all reasonable efforts to resolve the dispute at the Superior Court level have been exhausted.

PENALTY AND MODIFICATION HEARING

If an offender violates any sentence condition or requirement, the court may modify its judgment and sentence according to the rules in RCW 9.94A.634.⁵³

These rules initially provide the opportunity for the Department of Corrections and the offender to enter into stipulated agreement about what sanctions will be imposed. These sanctions could include work release, home detention with electronic monitoring, work crew, community restitution, inpatient treatment, daily reporting, curfew, educational or counseling sessions, supervision enhanced through electronic monitoring, jail time, or other sanctions available in the community. Any stipulated agreement must be submitted to the Court. If the Court is not satisfied with the sanctions, the court may schedule a hearing and modify the Department's sanctions. If this happens, the offender may withdraw from the stipulated agreement. The Court may also take action if the offender fails to comply with sanctions stipulated to in the agreement.

⁵³ As of August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.634 is recodified as RCW .94B.040.

If no stipulated agreement is reached, the court, upon motion of the state or upon its own motion, must first require the offender to show cause why he or she shall not be punished for the non-compliance. A summons or an arrest warrant may be issued by the court for the offender's appearance. The state then has the burden of proving noncompliance by a preponderance of the evidence.

If a court finds that a violation of sentence conditions or requirements has occurred, it may order the offender confined for a period not to exceed 60 days for each violation. The court may: (1) convert a partial confinement term to total confinement; (2) convert community service to total or partial confinement; (3) convert monetary obligations (except restitution and the crime victim penalty assessment) to community service hours by calculating the obligation into hours using the state minimum wage as a calculation basis; or (4) order that the offender be subject to home detention with electronic monitoring, work crew, community restitution, inpatient treatment, daily reporting, curfew, educational or counseling sessions, supervision enhanced through electronic monitoring, jail time, or other sanctions available in the community.

In the violation involves the failure to undergo a mental status evaluation and/or outpatient mental health treatment, the Department must consult with the treatment provider or proposed treatment provider. Enforcement of orders concerning outpatient mental health treatment must reflect the availability of treatment and must pursue the least restrictive means of promoting participation in treatment. But if the offender's failure to receive care essential for health and safety presents a risk of serious physical harm or probable harmful consequences, the civil detention and commitment procedures of RCW 71.05 shall be considered in preference to incarceration.

Any time served in confinement awaiting the hearing must be credited against any confinement order. If a court finds that a violation was not willful, the court may modify its previous order regarding payment of legal financial obligations and community service obligations. In all cases, escape charges may also be filed if appropriate.

DISCHARGE AND VACATION OF CONVICTION RECORD

DISCHARGE

When an offender reaches the end of supervision with the Department of Corrections, and has completed all of the requirements of sentence except payment of legal financial obligations, the Department shall notify the county clerk who will then supervise payment of legal financial obligations.

When an offender completes all of his or her sentence requirements, the Department (or the county clerk, if the clerk has been supervising payment of legal financial obligations) must notify the sentencing court in accordance with RCW 9.94A.637.

If an offender is not subject to supervision by the Department or does not complete all of his sentence requirements while under Department supervision, it is the offender's responsibility to provide the court with verification of the completion of sentence conditions other than the payment of legal financial obligations.

When the court has adequate notice from the Department, the court clerk, and/or the offender, the court then discharges the offender and provides him or her with a certificate of discharge. This certificate restores all civil rights lost upon conviction. It is not, however, based on a finding of rehabilitation.

Every signed certificate and order of discharge shall be filed with the county clerk of the sentencing county. The court shall also send a copy of the certificate and order to the Department. The county clerk shall also enter the offender's name, date of discharge and date of conviction and offense, into the database maintained by the administrator for the courts.

Following discharge, the offender's prior record may be used to determine the sentence for any later convictions and may also be used in later criminal prosecution as an element of an offense or for impeachment purposes. Unless specifically ordered by the sentencing court, the certificate of discharge will not terminate the offender's obligation to comply with an order issued under RCW 10.99 that excludes or prohibits the offender from having contact with a specified person or coming within a set distance of any specified location that was contained in the judgment and sentence. Offenders may still be prosecuted for violating any such provisions.

An offender who is not convicted of a violent offense or a sex offense and is sentenced to a term of community supervision may be considered for a discharge of sentence by the sentencing court prior to the completion of community supervision, provided that the offender has completed at least one-half of the term of community supervision and has met all other sentence requirements.

Upon release from custody, the offender may apply to the Department for counseling and help in adjusting to the community. The voluntary help may be provided for up to one year following the release from custody.

VACATION OF CONVICTION RECORD

Every offender discharged under the above provision may apply to the sentencing court for a vacation of the conviction record as provided in RCW 9.94A.640. The offender's record cannot be cleared if:

- Any criminal charges are pending against the offender in any court in this state, another state or federal court;
- The offense was a violent offense (as defined in RCW 9.94A.030(54));⁵⁴
- The offense was a crime against persons (as defined in RCW 43.43.830);
- The offender has been convicted of a new crime in this state, another state or federal court since the date of the offender's discharge;
- The offense was a Class B felony, and less than ten years have passed since the date the applicant was discharged; or
- The offense was a Class C felony, other than felony Driving Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or Drugs or felony Physical Control While Under the Influence of ⁵⁴ Effective until August 1, 2009, then recodified as RCW 9.94A.030(47).

Intoxicating Liquor or Drugs and less than five years have passed since the date the applicant was discharged; or

- The offense was felony Driving Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or Drugs or felony Physical Control While Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or Drugs and less than ten years have passed since the applicant was discharged.

If the offender meets these tests, the court may clear the record of conviction by:

- Permitting the offender to withdraw his/her guilty plea and to enter a plea of not guilty; or
- Setting aside the guilty verdict, if the offender was convicted after a plea of not guilty; and
- Dismissing the information or indictment against the offender.

Once the court vacates a record of conviction, the offender's conviction may not be included in the offender's criminal history for purposes of determining a sentence in any subsequent conviction, and the offender must be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offenses. For all purposes, including responding to questions on employment applications, an offender whose record of conviction has been vacated may state that he or she has never been convicted of that crime. However, a vacated conviction record may be used as an element of a crime in a later criminal prosecution..

The sentencing guidelines allow automatic "wash-out" of prior convictions that meet the requirements of vacation of conviction. This policy allows offenders who do not formally apply to the court to have eligible offenses excluded from their criminal history in subsequent convictions. (See page I-12 for further discussion of this policy.)

Purpose.

The purpose of this chapter is to make the criminal justice system accountable to the public by developing a system for the sentencing of felony offenders which structures, but does not eliminate, discretionary decisions affecting sentences, and to:

- (1) Ensure that the punishment for a criminal offense is proportionate to the seriousness of the offense and the offender's criminal history;
- (2) Promote respect for the law by providing punishment which is just;
- (3) Be commensurate with the punishment imposed on others committing similar offenses;
- (4) Protect the public;
- (5) Offer the offender an opportunity to improve him or herself;
- (6) Make frugal use of the state's and local governments' resources; and
- (7) Reduce the risk of re-offending by offenders in the community.

[1999 c 196 § 1; 1981 c 137 § 1.]

Notes:

Severability -- 1999 c 196: "If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected." [1999 c 196 § 20.]

Construction -- Short title -- 1999 c 196: See RCW 72.09.904 and 72.09.905.

Report on Sentencing Reform Act of 1981: "The legislative budget committee shall prepare a report to be filed at the beginning of the 1987 session of the legislature. The report shall include a complete assessment of the impact of the Sentencing Reform Act of 1981. Such report shall include the effectiveness of the guidelines and impact on prison and jail populations and community correction programs." [1983 c 163 § 6.]

Comments

In 1983, the Legislature considered enumerating specific factors which could not be considered in sentencing the offender, including race, creed and gender. However, the Legislature decided that to list such factors could narrow the scope of their intent, which was to prohibit discrimination as to any element that does not relate to the crime or the previous record of the defendant. For this reason, the statute requires that the sentencing guidelines and prosecuting standards be applied equally "without discrimination."

The 1999 Legislature, enacting the Offender Accountability Act, established another purpose of the Sentencing Reform Act: to "reduce the risk of reoffending by offenders in the community." The Legislature also expanded upon the goal of making frugal use of state resources to promote frugal use of local governments' resources, as well.

RCW 9.94A.015

Finding — Intent — 2000 c 28.

The sentencing reform act has been amended many times since its enactment in 1981. While each amendment promoted a valid public purpose, some sections of the act have become unduly lengthy and repetitive. The legislature finds that it is appropriate to adopt clarifying amendments to make the act easier to use and understand.

The legislature does not intend chapter 28, Laws of 2000 to make, and no provision of chapter 28, Laws of 2000 shall be construed as making, a substantive change in the sentencing reform act.

The legislature does intend to clarify that persistent offenders are not eligible for extraordinary medical placement.

Notes:

Technical correction bill -- 2000 c 28: "If any amendments to RCW 9.94A.120, or any sections enacted or affected by chapter 28, Laws of 2000, are enacted in a 2000 legislative session that do not take cognizance of chapter 28, Laws of 2000, the code reviser shall prepare a bill for introduction in the 2001 legislative session that incorporates any such amendments into the reorganization adopted by chapter 28, Laws of 2000 and corrects any incorrect cross-references." [2000 c 28 § 45.]

RCW 9.94A.030

Definitions.

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Board" means the indeterminate sentence review board created under chapter 9.95 RCW.

(2) "Collect," or any derivative thereof, "collect and remit," or "collect and deliver," when used with reference to the department, means that the department, either directly or through a collection agreement authorized by RCW 9.94A.760, is responsible for monitoring and enforcing the offender's sentence with regard to the legal financial obligation, receiving payment thereof from the offender, and, consistent with current law, delivering daily the entire payment to the superior court clerk without depositing it in a departmental account.

(3) "Commission" means the sentencing guidelines commission.

(4) "Community corrections officer" means an employee of the department who is responsible for carrying out specific duties in supervision of sentenced offenders and monitoring of sentence conditions.

(5) "Community custody" means that portion of an offender's sentence of confinement in lieu of earned release time or imposed pursuant to RCW 9.94A.505(2)(b), 9.94A.650 through 9.94A.670, 9.94A.690, 9.94A.700 through 9.94A.715, or 9.94A.545, served in the community subject to controls placed on the offender's movement and activities by the department. For offenders placed on community custody for crimes committed on or after July 1, 2000, the department shall assess the offender's risk of reoffense and may establish and modify conditions of community custody, in addition to those imposed by the court, based upon the risk to community safety.

(6) "Community custody range" means the minimum and maximum period of community custody included as part of a sentence under RCW 9.94A.715, as established by the commission or the legislature under RCW 9.94A.850, for crimes committed on or after July 1, 2000.

(7) "Community placement" means that period during which the offender is subject to the conditions of community custody and/or postrelease supervision, which begins either upon completion of the term of confinement (postrelease supervision) or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned release. Community placement may consist of entirely community custody, entirely postrelease supervision, or a combination of the two.

(8) "Community protection zone" means the area within eight hundred eighty feet of the facilities and grounds of a public or private school.

(9) "Community restitution" means compulsory service, without compensation, performed for the benefit of the community by the offender.

(10) "Community supervision" means a period of time during which a convicted offender is subject to crime-related prohibitions and other sentence conditions imposed by a court pursuant to this chapter or RCW 16.52.200(6) or 46.61.524. Where the court finds that any offender has a chemical dependency that has contributed to his or her offense, the conditions of supervision may, subject to available resources, include treatment. For purposes of the interstate compact for out-of-state supervision of parolees and probationers, RCW 9.95.270, community supervision is the functional equivalent of probation and should be considered the same as probation by other states.

(11) "Confinement" means total or partial confinement.

(12) "Conviction" means an adjudication of guilt pursuant to Titles 10 or 13 RCW and includes a verdict of guilty, a finding of guilty, and acceptance of a plea of guilty.

(13) "Crime-related prohibition" means an order of a court prohibiting conduct that directly relates to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, and shall not be construed to mean orders directing an offender affirmatively to participate in rehabilitative programs or to otherwise perform affirmative conduct. However, affirmative acts necessary to monitor compliance with the order of a court may be required by the department.

(14) "Criminal history" means the list of a defendant's prior convictions and juvenile adjudications, whether in this state, in federal court, or elsewhere.

(a) The history shall include, where known, for each conviction (i) whether the defendant has been placed on probation and the length and terms thereof; and (ii) whether the defendant has been incarcerated and the length of incarceration.

(b) A conviction may be removed from a defendant's criminal history only if it is vacated pursuant to RCW 9.96.060, 9.94A.640, 9.95.240, or a similar out-of-state statute, or if the conviction has been vacated pursuant to a governor's pardon.

(c) The determination of a defendant's criminal history is distinct from the determination of an offender score. A prior conviction that was not included in an offender score calculated pursuant to a former version of the sentencing reform act remains part of the defendant's criminal history.

(15) "Criminal street gang" means any ongoing organization, association, or group of three or more persons, whether formal or informal, having a common name or common identifying sign or symbol, having as one of its primary activities the commission of criminal acts, and whose members or associates individually or collectively engage in or have engaged in a pattern of criminal street gang activity. This definition does not apply to employees engaged in concerted activities for their mutual aid and protection, or to the activities of labor and bona fide nonprofit organizations or their members or agents.

(16) "Criminal street gang associate or member" means any person who actively participates in any criminal street gang and who intentionally promotes, furthers, or assists in any criminal act by the criminal street gang.

(17) "Criminal street gang-related offense" means any felony or misdemeanor offense, whether in this state or elsewhere, that is committed for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with any criminal street gang, or is committed with the intent to promote, further, or assist in any criminal conduct by the gang, or is committed for one or more of the following reasons:

(a) To gain admission, prestige, or promotion within the gang;

(b) To increase or maintain the gang's size, membership, prestige, dominance, or control in any geographical area;

(c) To exact revenge or retribution for the gang or any member of the gang;

(d) To obstruct justice, or intimidate or eliminate any witness against the gang or any member of the gang;

(e) To directly or indirectly cause any benefit, aggrandizement, gain, profit, or other advantage for the gang, its reputation, influence, or membership; or

(f) To provide the gang with any advantage in, or any control or dominance over any criminal market sector, including, but not limited to, manufacturing, delivering, or selling any controlled substance (chapter 69.50 RCW); arson (chapter 9A.48 RCW); trafficking in stolen property (chapter 9A.82 RCW); promoting prostitution (chapter 9A.88 RCW); human trafficking (RCW 9A.40.100); or promoting pornography (chapter 9.68 RCW).

(18) "Day fine" means a fine imposed by the sentencing court that equals the difference between the offender's net daily income and the reasonable obligations that the offender has for the support of the offender and any dependents.

(19) "Day reporting" means a program of enhanced supervision designed to monitor the offender's daily activities and compliance with sentence conditions, and in which the offender is required to report daily to a specific location designated by the department or the sentencing court.

(20) "Department" means the department of corrections.

(21) "Determinate sentence" means a sentence that states with exactitude the number of actual years, months, or days of total confinement, of partial confinement, of community supervision, the number of actual hours or days of community restitution work, or dollars or terms of a legal financial obligation. The fact that an offender through earned release can reduce the actual period of confinement shall not affect the classification of the sentence as a determinate sentence.

(22) "Disposable earnings" means that part of the earnings of an offender remaining after the deduction from those earnings of any amount required by law to be withheld. For the purposes of this definition, "earnings" means compensation paid or payable for personal services, whether denominated as wages, salary, commission, bonuses, or otherwise, and, notwithstanding any other provision of law making the payments exempt from garnishment, attachment, or other process to satisfy a court-ordered legal financial obligation, specifically includes periodic payments pursuant to pension or retirement programs, or insurance policies of any type, but does not include payments made under Title 50 RCW, except as provided in RCW 50.40.020 and 50.40.050, or Title 74 RCW.

(23) "Drug offender sentencing alternative" is a sentencing option available to persons convicted of a felony offense other than a violent offense or a sex offense and who are eligible for the option under RCW 9.94A.660.

(24) "Drug offense" means:

Effective date -- 2002 c 175: See note following RCW 7.80.130.

Finding -- 2002 c 107: "The legislature considers the majority opinions in State v. Cruz, 139 Wn.2d 186 (1999), and State v. Smith, Cause No. 70683-2 (September 6, 2001), to be wrongly decided, since neither properly interpreted legislative intent. When the legislature enacted the sentencing reform act, chapter 9.94A RCW, and each time the legislature has amended the act, the legislature intended that an offender's criminal history and offender score be determined using the statutory provisions that were in effect on the day the current offense was committed.

Although certain prior convictions previously were not counted in the offender score or included in the criminal history pursuant to former versions of RCW 9.94A.525, or RCW 9.94A.030, those prior convictions need not be "revived" because they were never vacated. As noted in the minority opinions in Cruz and Smith, such application of the law does not involve retroactive application or violate ex postfacto prohibitions. Additionally, the Washington state supreme court has repeatedly held in the past that the provisions of the sentencing reform act act upon and punish only current conduct; the sentencing reform act does not act upon or alter the punishment for prior convictions. See In re Personal Restraint Petition of Williams, 111 Wn.2d 353, (1988). The legislature has never intended to create in an offender a vested right with respect to whether a prior conviction is excluded when calculating an offender score or with respect to how a prior conviction is counted in the offender score for a current offense." [2002 c 107 § 1.]

Application -- 2002 c 107: "RCW 9.94A.030(13) (b) and (c) and 9.94A.525 (18) apply only to current offenses committed on or after June 13, 2002. No offender who committed his or her current offense prior to June 13, 2002, may be subject to resentencing as a result of this act." [2002 c 107 § 4.]

Finding -- Intent -- 2001 c 7: "The legislature finds that an ambiguity may exist regarding whether out-of-state convictions or convictions under prior Washington law, for sex offenses that are comparable to current Washington offenses, count when determining whether an offender is a persistent offender. This act is intended to clarify the legislature's intent that out-of-state convictions for comparable sex offenses and prior

State preemption of criminal street gang definitions: Chapter 9.101 RCW.

Definitions (Effective August 1, 2009.)

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Board" means the indeterminate sentence review board created under chapter 9.95 RCW.

(2) "Collect," or any derivative thereof, "collect and remit," or "collect and deliver," when used with reference to the department, means that the department, either directly or through a collection agreement authorized by RCW 9.94A.760, is responsible for monitoring and enforcing the offender's sentence with regard to the legal financial obligation, receiving payment thereof from the offender, and, consistent with current law, delivering daily the entire payment to the superior court clerk without depositing it in a departmental account.

(3) "Commission" means the sentencing guidelines commission.

(4) "Community corrections officer" means an employee of the department who is responsible for carrying out specific duties in supervision of sentenced offenders and monitoring of sentence conditions.

(5) "Community custody" means that portion of an offender's sentence of confinement in lieu of earned release time or imposed ~~((pursuant to RCW 9.94A.505(2)(b), 9.94A.650 through 9.94A.670, 9.94A.690, 9.94A.700 through 9.94A.715, or 9.94A.545;))~~ as part of a sentence and served in the community subject to controls placed on the offender's movement and activities by the department. ~~((For offenders placed on community custody for crimes committed on or after July 1, 2000, the department shall assess the offender's risk of reoffense and may establish and modify conditions of community custody, in addition to those imposed by the court, based upon the risk to~~

(6) "Community custody range" means the minimum and maximum period of community custody included as part of a sentence under *RCW 9.94A.715, as established by the commission or the legislature under RCW 9.94A.850 (~~for crimes committed on or after July 1, 2000~~)).

~~(7) ("Community placement" means that period during which the offender is subject to the conditions of community custody and/or postrelease supervision, which begins either upon completion of the term of confinement (postrelease supervision) or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned release. Community placement may consist of entirely community custody, entirely postrelease supervision, or a combination of the two.~~

~~—(8))~~ (8) "Community protection zone" means the area within eight hundred eighty feet of the facilities and grounds of a public or private school.

~~((9))~~ (8) "Community restitution" means compulsory service, without compensation, performed for the benefit of the community by the offender.

~~((10) "Community supervision" means a period of time during which a convicted offender is subject to crime-related prohibitions and other sentence conditions imposed by a court pursuant to this chapter or RCW 16.52.200(6) or 46.61.524. Where the court finds that any offender has a chemical dependency that has contributed to his or her offense, the conditions of supervision may, subject to available resources, include treatment. For purposes of the interstate compact for out-of-state supervision of parolees and probationers, RCW 9.95.270, community supervision is the functional equivalent of probation and should be considered the same as probation by other states.~~

~~—(11))~~ (9) "Confinement" means total or partial confinement.

~~((12))~~ (10) "Conviction" means an adjudication of guilt pursuant to Titles 10 or 13 RCW and includes a verdict of guilty, a finding of guilty, and acceptance of a plea of guilty.

~~((13))~~ (11) "Crime-related prohibition" means an order of a court prohibiting conduct that directly relates to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, and shall not be construed to mean orders directing an offender affirmatively to participate in rehabilitative programs or to otherwise perform affirmative conduct. However, affirmative acts necessary to monitor compliance with the order of a court may be required by the department.

~~((14))~~ (12) "Criminal history" means the list of a defendant's prior convictions and juvenile adjudications, whether in this state, in federal court, or elsewhere.

(a) The history shall include, where known, for each conviction (i) whether the defendant has been placed on probation and the length and terms thereof; and (ii) whether the defendant has been incarcerated and the length of incarceration.

(b) A conviction may be removed from a defendant's criminal history only if it is vacated pursuant to RCW 9.96.060, 9.94A.640, 9.95.240, or a similar out-of-state statute, or if the conviction has been vacated pursuant to a governor's pardon.

(c) The determination of a defendant's criminal history is distinct from the determination of an offender score. A prior conviction that was not included in an offender score calculated pursuant to a former version of the sentencing reform act remains part of the defendant's criminal history.

~~((15))~~ (13) "Day fine" means a fine imposed by the sentencing court that equals the difference between the offender's net daily income and the reasonable obligations that the offender has for the support of the offender and any dependents.

~~((16))~~ (14) "Day reporting" means a program of enhanced supervision designed to monitor the offender's daily activities and compliance with sentence conditions, and in which the offender is required to report daily to a specific location designated by the department or the sentencing court.

~~((17))~~ (15) "Department" means the department of corrections.

~~((18))~~ (16) "Determinate sentence" means a sentence that states with exactitude the number of actual years, months, or days of total confinement, of partial confinement, of community ~~(supervision)~~ custody, the number of actual hours or days of community restitution work, or dollars or terms of a legal financial obligation. The fact that an offender through earned release can reduce the actual period of confinement shall not affect the classification of the sentence as a determinate sentence.

~~((19))~~ (17) "Disposable earnings" means that part of the earnings of an offender remaining after the deduction from those earnings of any amount required by law to be withheld. For the purposes of this definition, "earnings" means compensation paid or payable for personal services, whether denominated as wages, salary, commission, bonuses, or otherwise, and, notwithstanding any other provision of law making the payments exempt from garnishment, attachment, or other process to satisfy a court-ordered legal financial obligation, specifically includes periodic payments pursuant to pension or retirement programs, or insurance policies of any type, but does not include payments made under Title 50 RCW, except as provided in RCW 50.40.020 and 50.40.050, or Title 74 RCW.

~~((20))~~ (18) "Drug offender sentencing alternative" is a sentencing option available to persons convicted of a felony offense other than a violent offense or a sex offense and who are eligible for the option under RCW 9.94A.660.

~~((21))~~ (19) "Drug offense" means:

Finding -- 2002 c 107: "The legislature considers the majority opinions in State v. Cruz, 139 Wn.2d 186 (1999), and State v. Smith, Cause No. 70683-2 (September 6, 2001), to be wrongly decided, since neither properly interpreted legislative intent. When the legislature enacted the sentencing reform act, chapter 9.94A RCW, and each time the legislature has amended the act, the legislature intended that an offender's criminal history and offender score be determined using the statutory provisions that were in effect on the day the current offense was committed.

Although certain prior convictions previously were not counted in the offender score or included in the criminal history pursuant to former versions of RCW 9.94A.525, or RCW 9.94A.030, those prior convictions need not be "revived" because they were never vacated. As noted in the minority opinions in Cruz and Smith, such application of the law does not involve retroactive application or violate ex postfacto prohibitions. Additionally, the Washington state supreme court has repeatedly held in the past that the provisions of the sentencing reform act act upon and punish only current conduct; the sentencing reform act does not act upon or alter the punishment for prior convictions. See In re Personal Restraint Petition of Williams, 111 Wn.2d 353, (1988). The legislature has never intended to create in an offender a vested right with respect to whether a prior conviction is excluded when calculating an offender score or with respect to how a prior conviction is counted in the offender score for a current offense." [2002 c 107 § 1.]

Application -- 2002 c 107: "RCW 9.94A.030(13) (b) and (c) and 9.94A.525 (18) apply only to current offenses committed on or after June 13, 2002. Finding -- Intent -- 2001 c 7: "The legislature finds that an ambiguity may exist regarding whether out-of-state convictions or convictions under prior Washington law, for sex offenses that are comparable to current Washington offenses, count when determining whether an offender is a persistent offender. RCW 9.94A.030 (As amended by 2008 c 230).

Definitions - (Effective ninety days after adjournment sine die of the 2010 legislative session.)

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Board" means the indeterminate sentence review board created under chapter 9.95 RCW.

(2) "Collect," or any derivative thereof, "collect and remit," or "collect and deliver," when used with reference to the department, means that the department, either directly or through a collection agreement authorized by RCW 9.94A.760, is responsible for monitoring and enforcing the offender's sentence with regard to the legal financial obligation, receiving payment thereof from the offender, and, consistent with current law, delivering daily the entire payment to the superior court clerk without depositing it in a departmental account.

(3) "Commission" means the sentencing guidelines commission.

(4) "Community corrections officer" means an employee of the department who is responsible for carrying out specific duties in supervision of sentenced offenders and monitoring of sentence conditions.

(5) "Community custody" means that portion of an offender's sentence of confinement in lieu of earned release time or imposed pursuant to RCW 9.94A.505(2)(b), 9.94A.650 through 9.94A.670, 9.94A.690, 9.94A.700 through 9.94A.715, or 9.94A.545, served in the community subject to controls placed on the offender's movement and activities by the department. For offenders placed on community custody for crimes committed on or after July 1, 2000, the department shall assess the offender's risk of reoffense and may establish and modify conditions of community custody, in addition to those imposed by the court, based upon the risk to community safety.

(6) "Community custody range" means the minimum and maximum period of community custody included as part of a sentence under *RCW 9.94A.715, as established by the commission or the legislature under RCW 9.94A.850, for crimes committed on or after July 1, 2000.

(7) "Community placement" means that period during which the offender is subject to the conditions of community custody and/or postrelease supervision, which begins either upon completion of the term of confinement (postrelease supervision) or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned release. Community placement may consist of entirely community custody, entirely postrelease supervision, or a combination of the two.

(8) "Community protection zone" means the area within eight hundred eighty feet of the facilities and grounds of a public or private school.

(9) "Community restitution" means compulsory service, without compensation, performed for the benefit of the community by the offender.

(10) "Community supervision" means a period of time during which a convicted offender is subject to crime-related prohibitions and other sentence conditions imposed by a court pursuant to this chapter or RCW 16.52.200(6) or 46.61.524. Where the court finds that any offender has a chemical dependency that has contributed to his or her offense, the conditions of supervision may, subject to available resources, include treatment. For purposes of the interstate compact for out-of-state supervision of parolees and probationers, RCW 9.95.270, community supervision is the functional equivalent of probation and should be considered the same as probation by other states.

(11) "Confinement" means total or partial confinement.

(12) "Conviction" means an adjudication of guilt pursuant to Titles 10 or 13 RCW and includes a verdict of guilty, a finding of guilty, and acceptance of a plea of guilty.

(13) "Crime-related prohibition" means an order of a court prohibiting conduct that directly relates to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, and shall not be construed to mean orders directing an offender affirmatively to participate in rehabilitative programs or to otherwise perform affirmative conduct. However, affirmative acts necessary to monitor compliance with the order of a court may be required by the department.

(14) "Criminal history" means the list of a defendant's prior convictions and juvenile adjudications, whether in this state, in federal court, or elsewhere.

(a) The history shall include, where known, for each conviction (i) whether the defendant has been placed on probation and the length and terms thereof; and (ii) whether the defendant has been incarcerated and the length of incarceration.

(b) A conviction may be removed from a defendant's criminal history only if it is vacated pursuant to RCW 9.96.060, 9.94A.640, 9.95.240, or a similar out-of-state statute, or if the conviction has been vacated pursuant to a governor's pardon.

(c) The determination of a defendant's criminal history is distinct from the determination of an offender score. A prior conviction that was not included in an offender score calculated pursuant to a former version of the sentencing reform act remains part of the defendant's criminal history.

(15) "Day fine" means a fine imposed by the sentencing court that equals the difference between the offender's net daily income and the reasonable obligations that the offender has for the support of the offender and any dependents.

(16) "Day reporting" means a program of enhanced supervision designed to monitor the offender's daily activities and compliance with sentence conditions, and in which the offender is required to report daily to a specific location designated by the department or the sentencing court.

(18) "Determinate sentence" means a sentence that states with exactitude the number of actual years, months, or days of total confinement, of partial confinement, of community supervision, the number of actual hours or days of community restitution work, or dollars or terms of a legal financial obligation. The fact that an offender through earned release can reduce the actual period of confinement shall not affect the classification of the sentence as a determinate sentence.

(19) "Disposable earnings" means that part of the earnings of an offender remaining after the deduction from those earnings of any amount required by law to be withheld. For the purposes of this definition, "earnings" means compensation paid or payable for personal services, whether denominated as wages, salary, commission, bonuses, or otherwise, and, notwithstanding any other provision of law making the payments exempt from garnishment, attachment, or other process to satisfy a court-ordered legal financial obligation, specifically includes periodic payments pursuant to pension or retirement programs, or insurance policies of any type, but does not include payments made under Title 50 RCW, except as provided in RCW 50.40.020 and 50.40.050, or Title 74 RCW.

Finding -- 2002 c 107: "The legislature considers the majority opinions in State v. Cruz, 139 Wn.2d 186 (1999), and State v. Smith, Cause No. 70683-2 (September 6, 2001), to be wrongly decided, since neither properly interpreted legislative intent. When the legislature enacted the sentencing reform act, chapter 9.94A RCW, and each time the legislature has amended the act, the legislature intended that an offender's criminal history and offender score be determined using the statutory provisions that were in effect on the day the current offense was committed.

Although certain prior convictions previously were not counted in the offender score or included in the criminal history pursuant to former versions of RCW 9.94A.525, or RCW 9.94A.030, those prior convictions need not be "revived" because they were never vacated. As noted in the minority opinions in Cruz and Smith, such application of the law does not involve retroactive application or violate ex postfacto prohibitions. Additionally, the Washington state supreme court has repeatedly held in the past that the provisions of the sentencing reform act act upon and punish only current conduct; the sentencing reform act does not act upon or alter the punishment for prior convictions. See In re Personal Restraint Petition of Williams, 111 Wn.2d 353, (1988). The legislature has never intended to create in an offender a vested right with respect to whether a prior conviction is excluded when calculating an offender score or with respect to how a prior conviction is counted in the offender score for a current offense." Application -- 2002 c 107: "RCW 9.94A.030(13) (b) and (c) and 9.94A.525 (18) apply only to current offenses committed on or after June 13, 2002. "Community Custody" was first defined in 1988 in relation to the community placement program. The 1996 Legislature amended the definition of "community custody" to include the status of persons sentenced under the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (see RCW 9.94A.120(8)).

The 1999 Legislature, enacting the Offender Accountability Act, extended community custody to apply to all sex offenses, all violent offenses, all crimes against persons (defined in RCW 9.94A.440) and all felony drug offenses (except DOSA sentences) committed on or after July 1, 2000. The term “community custody” replaced “community supervision,” “community placement” and “post-release supervision.” Offenders required to serve a period of community custody as part of the sentence will be supervised according to the risk they pose and may be subject to the imposition of affirmative conditions by sentencing courts (such as rehabilitative treatment), as long as such conditions are reasonably related to the circumstances of the offense, the risk of recidivism and community safety. The Department of Corrections may also impose affirmative conditions, as long as they are not in contravention of court orders. See RCW 9.94A.120(5)(b)(ii), (7), (11), (14), (15) and (16). Courts are permitted to impose affirmative conditions on sex offenders beyond their term of community custody.

“Community Custody Range” was defined by the 1999 Legislature as part of the Offender Accountability Act. The Sentencing Guidelines Commission was directed by the Legislature to formulate community custody ranges by December 31, 1999. The ranges became effective for eligible offenses committed on or after July 1, 2000. Future modifications of community custody ranges will require the enactment of a bill by the Legislature. See RCW 9.94A.040(5). Courts must sentence offenders to community custody for the period of the community custody range or for the period of earned release time, whichever is longer. Offenders must remain on community custody for either the period of earned release or at least the minimum of their community custody range, whichever is longer.

“Community Placement” was established by the 1988 Legislature and included “community custody” and “post-release supervision.” The 1999 Legislature required a one-year period of community placement for all violent offenses and for all crimes against persons (defined in RCW 9.94A.440), committed between July 25, 1999 and June 30, 2000. For offenses committed on or after July 1, 2000, the term “community placement” no longer applies and all forms of supervision in the community will fall under the definition of “community custody”.

“Crime-Related Prohibition” was amended by the 1997 Legislature to clarify that “crime-related prohibition,” while generally not including orders that offenders perform affirmative conduct, nevertheless allows the Department of Corrections to require certain affirmative acts, such as undergoing drug testing or polygraph examinations, necessary to monitor compliance with crime-related prohibitions.

“Criminal History” was first amended in 1986 to reflect the serious nature of Class A felonies, so that prior juvenile Class A felonies do not “wash out” when the defendant becomes 23 years of age.

In 1988, the Commission recommended that the definition of juvenile criminal history (RCW 9.94A.030(12)(b)) be amended to include serious traffic offenses. The offender scoring rules (RCW 9.94A.360) include serious traffic offenses when determining the sentence range for felony traffic offenses; therefore, this section was changed to be consistent.

The 1990 Legislature amended the definition of “criminal history” so that juvenile convictions for sex offenses are always included in criminal history despite the offender’s age or the class of the crime.

The 1995 Legislature expanded the definition of “criminal history” to include juvenile convictions for serious violent offenses, regardless of the offender’s age at the time of the offense.

The 1997 Legislature removed the provision for “wash out” at age 23 for all juvenile felonies, repealing language that excluded certain adjudications for non-violent, non-sex offenses committed before the offender was 15 years old.

*In 1999, the Court of Appeals ruled that pre-1997 plea agreements, providing that certain juvenile offenses would not be counted in criminal history, do not insulate current offenders from changes in the law and cannot be relied upon when an offender is sentenced on a subsequent conviction for an offense committed after the effective date of the change in 1997. See State v. McRae, 96 Wn. App. 298 (1999).*

“Criminal Street Gang”, “Criminal Street Gang Member or Associate”, and “Criminal Street Gang-Related Offense” were first defined in 2008 as a part of a group of new laws passed to combat gang-related crime. “Criminal Street Gang” requires an ongoing group of three or more people, formal or informal, having a common name or common identifying sign or symbol, having as one of its primary activities the commission of criminal acts, and whose members or associates individually or collectively engage in or have engaged in a pattern of criminal street gang activity. “Pattern of Criminal Street Gang Activities” was also defined. “Criminal Street Gang Member or Associate” includes any person who actively participates in any criminal street gang and who intentionally promotes, furthers or assists in any criminal act by a criminal street gang. “Criminal Street Gang-Related Offense” means the conviction of any felony or misdemeanor committed with intent for one or more specified reasons.

“Drug Offense,” as defined in the Sentencing Reform Act, excludes simple possession, forged prescriptions and violations of the Legend Drug Act.

*In 1999, the Supreme Court clarified that solicitations to commit violations of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (RCW 69.50) are not “drug offenses” and are not subject to the multiple “scoring” requirement for drug offenses, under RCW 9.94A.360, or to the community placement requirement for drug offenses, under RCW 9.94A.120(9)(a). See In re Hopkins, 137 Wn.2d 897 (1999).*

“Escape” was amended in 1988 to include failure to comply with movement limitations while on community custody.

“Felony Traffic Offense” was amended in 1984 to include Eluding a Police Officer. That provision was removed from the definition in 1986. The 1987 Legislature once again defined this crime as a felony traffic offense.

“Financial Obligation” was amended by the 1993 Legislature to expand the range of financial obligations that may be imposed against offenders convicted of Vehicular Assault or of Vehicular Homicide While Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or Any Drug. The court may now impose up to $1,000 in costs incurred by public agencies in an emergency response to the incident that resulted in a conviction.

“First-time Offender” at first confused practitioners and raised questions concerning whether prior juvenile convictions precluded an adult offender from being sentenced as a “First-time Offender.” Changes in the definition in 1986 made it clear that a juvenile offense committed at the age of 15 years or older disqualifies the offender from being sentenced under the First-time Offender Waiver. The 1995 Legislature modified the definition of “First-time Offender” to exclude persons with prior juvenile adjudications of serious violent offenses, regardless of age at the time of adjudication. The 1997 Legislature further disqualified offenders with any prior juvenile felony adjudication from the First-time Offender Waiver.

The definition of “First-time Offender” was amended in 1987 to exclude the use of the waiver for persons convicted of Manufacture, Delivery, or Possession with Intent to Manufacture or Deliver Schedule I or II Narcotics.

In order to include certain Vehicular Homicide offenders in the First-time Offender Waiver, the definition of “violent offenses” was amended in 1987 to include Vehicular Homicide only when caused by driving under the influence or by reckless driving. Vehicular Homicide is not classified as a violent offense if caused by disregard for the safety of others.

The 1995 Legislature amended the definition of “First-time Offender” to exclude persons convicted of Manufacture, Delivery, or Possession with Intent to Deliver Methamphetamine.

The 1998 Legislature amended the definition of “First-time Offender” to exclude persons convicted of Manufacture, Delivery, or Possession with Intent to Manufacture or Deliver Flunitrazepam from Schedule IV (commonly known as Rohypnol).

“Most Serious Offense” was first defined in 1993, as part of Initiative Measure No. 593, which added the definitions of “most serious offense” and “persistent offender.” The definition of “persistent offender” requires two previous convictions “as an offender” of “most serious offenses.”

“Most Serious Offense” was amended in 2008 to include out-of-state felony offenses with a sexual motivation finding, so long as the minimum sentence imposed was ten years or more, the out-of-state offense is comparable to an offense under RCW 9 or 9A, and the out-of-state definition of sexual motivation is comparable to that found here. RCW 9.94A.030. That same year, the Court of Appeals held that defendant’s 1974 robbery conviction is a strike offense, even though the charging information did not allege a specific “intent to steal.” State v. Failey, 144 Wn. App. 132 (2008).

“Offender” was defined in 1993 to include juveniles whose cases are transferred from juvenile court to adult criminal court when the juvenile court declines jurisdiction after a hearing under RCW 13.40.110. However, the definition did not include juveniles whose cases are transferred automatically to adult criminal court under RCW 13.04.030(1)(e)(iv), a provision added by the Youth Violence Act of 1994. That legislation gave criminal courts exclusive original jurisdiction of certain cases involving juveniles age 16 or older, without requiring juvenile courts to decline jurisdiction. The 1997 Legislature clarified that a conviction of a 16- or 17-year-old in adult criminal court counts as a “strike” under Initiative 593 if the court’s jurisdiction were based either on an automatic decline (RCW 13.04.030(1)(e)(v) or a transfer following a hearing (RCW 13.40.110).

“Pattern of Criminal Street Gang Activities” was first defined in 2008 as a part of a group of new laws passed to combat gang-related crime. A “pattern” requires the (1) attempt, commission or conspiracy to commit two or more specified criminal street gang-related offenses; (2) the conviction for at least one of the specified offenses must have occurred after July 1, 2008; (3) the offender’s current conviction for the most recent committed offense must have occurred within three years of the prior offense; and (4) the offenses must have occurred on separate occasions or by two or more persons.

“Persistent Offender” was defined in 1993 as part of Initiative Measure No. 593. The definition of “persistent offender” requires two previous convictions “as an offender” of “most serious offenses.” Each “most serious offense” must have been committed after conviction of the previous such offense. A persistent offender is sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of release, under RCW 9.94A.120(4).

The 1996 Legislature amended the definition of “persistent offender” to include persons convicted of specified sex offenses with one previous conviction “as an offender” of one of the specified sex offenses. The second such offense must have been committed after conviction of the first.

The 1997 Legislature amended the definition of “persistent offender” to include persons convicted of additional sex offenses against children after a previous conviction of one of the specified sex offenses. The offenses added in 1997 are Rape of a Child 1 and 2, Child Molestation 1, Homicide by Abuse with sexual motivation, and Assault of a Child 1 with sexual motivation. The legislation specified that, for a conviction to be counted in determining “persistent offender” status, Rape of a Child 1 must have been committed when the offender was 16 or older, and Rape of a Child 2 must have been committed when the offender was 18 or older.

The 1997 Legislature also clarified that a prior conviction of Indecent Liberties is counted in determining “persistent offender” status under all definitions of the offense in effect since 1975, except for cases under RCW 9A.44.100(1)(c) as it existed between June 11, 1986 and July 1, 1988, where the victim was 14 or 15 years old, the offender was at least 48 months older, and the offender was in a position of authority over the victim.

“Post-release Supervision” was defined in 1988 in relation to the community placement program. For offenses committed on or after July 1, 2000, the term “post-release supervision” will no longer apply and all forms of supervision in the community will fall under the definition of “community custody”.

“Risk Assessment” was defined in 1999 as part of the Offender Accountability Act.

“Serious Offense” was amended in 1987 to include federal and out-of-state convictions.

“Serious Violent Offense” was expanded in 1986 to include attempts, solicitations and conspiracies to commit any of the felonies listed in the definition. Previously, the law was not clear in three areas: (1) Whether anticipatory crimes were included in this definition; (2) whether anticipatory crimes are eligible for a deadly weapon enhancement; and (3) how anticipatory crimes are to be “scored” in criminal history. The statutes in this section make clear that anticipatory crimes are considered the same as completed crimes for purposes of determining whether the crime is a serious violent offense, whether the crime warrants a longer sentence for a deadly weapon and/or whether to increase the offender's criminal history score."

The 1997 Legislature added Manslaughter 1 to the definition of "serious violent offense."

In 2007, the Supreme Court held that Serious Violent Offenses are exceptions to the general rule that juvenile courts in Washington shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over all proceedings. The adult court did not retain jurisdiction over the defendant's remaining charges when he was acquitted of the Serious Violent Offense. State v. Poseyk, 161 Wn.2d 638 (2007).

"Sex Offense" was added in 1986 to clarify which offenses qualify for the sex offender sentencing option and which are precluded from being considered for the First-time Offender Waiver. Anticipatory crimes are included within the definition.

The 1990 Legislature amended the definition of "sex offense" to include crimes committed with sexual motivation.

The 1995 Legislature amended the definition of "sex offense" to include only felonies. However, a criminal attempt, solicitation or conspiracy to commit a sex offense triggers the requirement to register as a sex offender under 9A.44.130, even when the offense is classified as a gross misdemeanor.

The 1999 Legislature amended the definition of "sex offense" to exclude offenders convicted of Failure to Register as a Kidnapper, unless the original kidnapping offense was sexually motivated. Kidnapping offenders are still required to register with the county sheriff (See RCW 9A.44.130(9) and (10).

The 1999 Legislature also modified the definition of "sex offense" to include, for the purpose of "scoring" an offender's criminal history, those convictions of comparable felony sex offenses before July 1, 1976.

In 2008, the Court of Appeals "corrected the numbering error" in the definition of "Sex Offense" so that it reads: "A felony that is a violation of chapter RCW 9A.44 RCW other than RCW 9A.44.130(12)." State v. Albright, 144 Wn. App. 566 (2008).

"Violent Offense" was amended in 1986 to include the crime of Vehicular Assault. The Commission decided that this crime involves basically the same offender behavior as Vehicular Homicide, which is already classified as a "violent offense."

The 1990 Legislature deleted Child Molestation 1 and Rape 2 from the specific list of "violent offenses," because those offenses were raised from Class B to Class A offenses. All Class A offenses are defined as "violent offenses."

The 1997 Legislature amended the definition of "violent offense" to include federal and out-of-state convictions.

The 1997 Legislature also added Drive-by Shooting (formerly Reckless Endangerment 1, nonviolent) to the specific list of offenses defined as "violent offenses."

“Work Crew” eligibility was broadened in 1993, removing the language that limited the performance of civic improvement tasks to public or private nonprofit property.

The 1999 Legislature expanded eligibility for work crew to offenders on community custody, pursuant to RCW 9.94A.205(2)(c).

RCW 9.94A.035

Classification of felonies not in Title 9A RCW.

For a felony defined by a statute of this state that is not in Title 9A RCW, unless otherwise provided:

(1) If the maximum sentence of imprisonment authorized by law upon a first conviction of such felony is twenty years or more, such felony shall be treated as a class A felony for purposes of this chapter;

(2) If the maximum sentence of imprisonment authorized by law upon a first conviction of such felony is eight years or more, but less than twenty years, such felony shall be treated as a class B felony for purposes of this chapter;

(3) If the maximum sentence of imprisonment authorized by law upon a first conviction of such felony is less than eight years, such felony shall be treated as a class C felony for purposes of this chapter.

Comment

This section, added in 1996 at the Commission’s request, provides a means of classifying, for purposes of the Sentencing Reform Act, felonies that are not classified in the statutes defining them. The classification system is consistent with RCW 9A.20.040 for offenses related to other felonies, and to RCW 9A.28.010 for anticipatory offenses. It is also consistent with State v. Kelley, 77 Wn. App. 66 (1995), which held that doubling the statutory maximum sentence for an offense under RCW 69.50.408 does not change the classification of the offense.

In 2008, the Court of Appeals ruled that RCW 9.94A.035 is not ambiguous. The trial court should have applied the statute to classify the defendant’s 1974 robbery conviction as a class A felony. State v. Failey, 144 Wn. App. 132 (2008).

RCW 9.94A.171

Tolling of term of confinement, supervision.

(Effective August 1, 2009.)

1) A term of confinement ordered in a sentence pursuant to this chapter shall be tolled by any period of time during which the offender has absented himself or herself from confinement without the prior approval of the entity in whose custody the offender has been placed. A term of partial confinement shall be tolled during any period of time spent in total confinement pursuant to a new conviction or pursuant to sanctions for violation of sentence conditions on a separate felony conviction.

(2) Any term of community custody shall be tolled by any period of time during which the offender has absented himself or herself from supervision without prior approval of the entity under whose supervision the offender has been placed.

(3) Any period of community custody shall be tolled during any period of time the offender is in confinement for any reason. However, if an offender is detained pursuant to RCW 9.94A.740 or 9.94A.631 and is later found not to have violated a condition or requirement of community custody, time spent in confinement due to such detention shall not toll the period of community custody.

(4) For terms of confinement or community custody, the date for the tolling of the sentence shall be established by the entity responsible for the confinement or supervision.

Terms of more than one year or less than one year — Where served — Reimbursement of costs.

(1) A sentence that includes a term or terms of confinement totaling more than one year shall be served in a facility or institution operated, or utilized under contract, by the state. Except as provided in subsection (3) or (5) of this section, a sentence of not more than one year of confinement shall be served in a facility operated, licensed, or utilized under contract, by the county, or if home detention or work crew has been ordered by the court, in the residence of either the offender or a member of the offender's immediate family.

(2) If a county uses a state partial confinement facility for the partial confinement of a person sentenced to confinement for not more than one year, the county shall reimburse the state for the use of the facility as provided in this subsection. The office of financial management shall set the rate of reimbursement based upon the average per diem cost per offender in the facility. The office of financial management shall determine to what extent, if any, reimbursement shall be reduced or eliminated because of funds provided by the legislature to the department for the purpose of covering the cost of county use of state partial confinement facilities. The office of financial management shall reestablish reimbursement rates each even-numbered year.

(3) A person who is sentenced for a felony to a term of not more than one year, and who is committed or returned to incarceration in a state facility on another felony conviction, either under the indeterminate sentencing laws, chapter 9.95 RCW, or under this chapter shall serve all terms of confinement, including a sentence of not more than one year, in a facility or institution operated, or utilized under contract, by the state, consistent with the provisions of RCW 9.94A.589.

(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a sentence imposed pursuant to RCW 9.94A.660 which has a standard sentence range of over one year, regardless of length, shall be served in a facility or institution operated, or utilized under contract, by the state.

(5) Sentences imposed pursuant to RCW 9.94A.712 shall be served in a facility or institution operated, or utilized under contract, by the state.

Comments

See also RCW 70.48.400: "Persons sentenced to felony terms or a combination of terms of more than three hundred sixty-five days of incarceration shall be committed to state institutions under the authority of the Department of Corrections. Persons serving sentences of three hundred sixty-five consecutive days or less may be sentenced to a jail as defined in RCW 70.48.020. All persons convicted of felonies or misdemeanors and sentenced to jail shall be the financial responsibility of the city or county."

The 1986 Legislature provided that offenders with a sentence greater than a year, who also have a sentence less than a year, will serve the entire period of time in a state institution. Prior to this amendment, offenders were transferred from the state institution to a local facility to serve sentences of less than one year.

The 1995 Legislature, in creating the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative (see RCW 9.94A.660), provided that a term of confinement imposed under that alternative must be served, regardless of length, in a state correctional facility.

Introduction.

These standards are intended solely for the guidance of prosecutors in the state of Washington. They are not intended to, do not and may not be relied upon to create a right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law by a party in litigation with the state.

1983 c 115 § 14. Formerly RCW [9.94A.430.]

RCW 9.94A.411

Evidentiary sufficiency.

(1) Decision not to prosecute.

STANDARD: A prosecuting attorney may decline to prosecute, even though technically sufficient evidence to prosecute exists, in situations where prosecution would serve no public purpose, would defeat the underlying purpose of the law in question or would result in decreased respect for the law.

GUIDELINE/COMMENTARY:

Examples

The following are examples of reasons not to prosecute which could satisfy the standard.

(a) Contrary to Legislative Intent - It may be proper to decline to charge where the application of criminal sanctions would be clearly contrary to the intent of the legislature in enacting the particular statute.

(b) Antiquated Statute - It may be proper to decline to charge where the statute in question is antiquated in that:

(i) It has not been enforced for many years; and

(ii) Most members of society act as if it were no longer in existence; and

(iii) It serves no deterrent or protective purpose in today's society; and

(iv) The statute has not been recently reconsidered by the legislature.

This reason is not to be construed as the basis for declining cases because the law in question is unpopular or because it is difficult to enforce.

(c) De Minimis Violation - It may be proper to decline to charge where the violation of law is only technical or insubstantial and where no public interest or deterrent purpose would be served by prosecution.

(d) Confinement on Other Charges - It may be proper to decline to charge because the accused has been sentenced on another charge to a lengthy period of confinement; and

(i) Conviction of the new offense would not merit any additional direct or collateral punishment;

(ii) The new offense is either a misdemeanor or a felony which is not particularly aggravated; and

(iii) Conviction of the new offense would not serve any significant deterrent purpose.

(e) Pending Conviction on Another Charge - It may be proper to decline to charge because the accused is facing a pending prosecution in the same or another county; and

(i) Conviction of the new offense would not merit any additional direct or collateral punishment;

(ii) Conviction in the pending prosecution is imminent;

(iii) The new offense is either a misdemeanor or a felony which is not particularly aggravated; and

(iv) Conviction of the new offense would not serve any significant deterrent purpose.

(f) High Disproportionate Cost of Prosecution - It may be proper to decline to charge where the cost of locating or transporting, or the burden on, prosecution witnesses is highly disproportionate to the importance of prosecuting the offense in question. This reason should be limited to minor cases and should not be relied upon in serious cases.

(g) Improper Motives of Complainant - It may be proper to decline charges because the motives of the complainant are improper and prosecution would serve no public purpose, would defeat the underlying purpose of the law in question or would result in decreased respect for the law.

(h) Immunity - It may be proper to decline to charge where immunity is to be given to an accused in order to prosecute another where the accused's information or testimony will reasonably lead to the conviction of others who are responsible for more serious criminal conduct or who represent a greater danger to the public interest.

(i) Victim Request - It may be proper to decline to charge because the victim requests that no criminal charges be filed and the case involves the following crimes or situations:

(i) Assault cases where the victim has suffered little or no injury;

(ii) Crimes against property, not involving violence, where no major loss was suffered;

(iii) Where doing so would not jeopardize the safety of society.

Care should be taken to insure that the victim's request is freely made and is not the product of threats or pressure by the accused.

The presence of these factors may also justify the decision to dismiss a prosecution which has been commenced.

Notification

The prosecutor is encouraged to notify the victim, when practical, and the law enforcement personnel, of the decision not to prosecute.

(2) Decision to prosecute.

(a) STANDARD:

Crimes against persons will be filed if sufficient admissible evidence exists, which, when considered with the most plausible, reasonably foreseeable defense that could be raised under the evidence, would justify conviction by a reasonable and objective fact-finder. With regard to offenses prohibited by RCW 9A.44.040, 9A.44.050, 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, 9A.44.079, 9A.44.083, 9A.44.086, 9A.44.089, and 9A.64.020 the prosecutor should avoid pre-filing agreements or diversions intended to place the accused in a program of treatment or counseling, so that treatment, if determined to be beneficial, can be provided pursuant to RCW 9.94A.670.

Crimes against property/other crimes will be filed if the admissible evidence is of such convincing force as to make it probable that a reasonable and objective fact-finder would convict after hearing all the admissible evidence and the most plausible defense that could be raised.

Selection of Charges/Degree of Charge

(i) The prosecutor should file charges which adequately describe the nature of defendant's conduct. Other offenses may be charged only if they are necessary to ensure that the charges:

(A) Will significantly enhance the strength of the state's case at trial; or

(B) Will result in restitution to all victims.

(ii) The prosecutor should not overcharge to obtain a guilty plea. Overcharging includes:

(A) Charging a higher degree;

(B) Charging additional counts.

This standard is intended to direct prosecutors to charge those crimes which demonstrate the nature and seriousness of a defendant's criminal conduct, but to decline to charge crimes which are not necessary to such an indication. Crimes which do not merge as a matter of law, but which arise from the same course of conduct, do not all have to be charged.

(b) GUIDELINES/COMMENTARY:

(i) Police Investigation

A prosecuting attorney is dependent upon law enforcement agencies to conduct the necessary factual investigation which must precede the decision to prosecute. The prosecuting attorney shall ensure that a thorough factual investigation has been conducted before a decision to prosecute is made. In ordinary circumstances the investigation should include the following:

(A) The interviewing of all material witnesses, together with the obtaining of written statements whenever possible;

(B) The completion of necessary laboratory tests; and

(C) The obtaining, in accordance with constitutional requirements, of the suspect's version of the events.

If the initial investigation is incomplete, a prosecuting attorney should insist upon further investigation before a decision to prosecute is made, and specify what the investigation needs to include.

(ii) Exceptions

In certain situations, a prosecuting attorney may authorize filing of a criminal complaint before the investigation is complete if:

- (A) Probable cause exists to believe the suspect is guilty; and
- (B) The suspect presents a danger to the community or is likely to flee if not apprehended; or
- (C) The arrest of the suspect is necessary to complete the investigation of the crime.

In the event that the exception to the standard is applied, the prosecuting attorney shall obtain a commitment from the law enforcement agency involved to complete the investigation in a timely manner. If the subsequent investigation does not produce sufficient evidence to meet the normal charging standard, the complaint should be dismissed.

(iii) Investigation Techniques

The prosecutor should be fully advised of the investigatory techniques that were used in the case investigation including:

- (A) Polygraph testing;
- (B) Hypnosis;
- (C) Electronic surveillance;
- (D) Use of informants.

(iv) Pre-Filing Discussions with Defendant

Discussions with the defendant or his/her representative regarding the selection or disposition of charges may occur prior to the filing of charges, and potential agreements can be reached.

(v) Pre-Filing Discussions with Victim(s)

Discussions with the victim(s) or victims' representatives regarding the selection or disposition of charges may occur before the filing of charges. The discussions may be considered by the prosecutor in charging and disposition decisions, and should be considered before reaching any agreement with the defendant regarding these decisions.

Comments

Decision Not to Prosecute: This standard and the examples previously listed were taken in large measure from the 1980 Washington Association of Prosecuting Attorneys' Standards for Charging and Plea Bargaining.

The 1995 Legislature added a guideline calling for prosecutors to consult with victims or their representatives about the selection or disposition of charges, and to consider those discussions before reaching any agreement with a defendant about charging or disposition.

The 1999 Legislature added the following offenses to the list of "Crimes Against Persons:": Custodial Assault (RCW 9A.36.100); Stalking (RCW 9A.46.110); No-Contact Order Violation: Domestic Violence Pre-Trial Condition (RCW 10.99.040(4)(b) and (c)); No-Contact Order Violation: Domestic Violence Sentence Condition (RCW 10.99.050(2)); Protection Order Violation: Domestic Violence Civil Action (RCW 26.50.110(4) and (5)); and Counterfeiting While Endangering Public Health and Safety (RCW 9.16.035(4)).

In 2007, the Supreme Court held that the "crimes against persons" language in RCW 9.94A.411 was intended by the Legislature to be an exhaustive, exclusive list, and not an illustrative list. It does not include the crime of attempted assault of a child in the second degree. In re Leach, 161 Wn.2d 180 (2007).

In 2007 the Court of Appeals held that the defendant failed to show that he falls within the circumstances necessary for discretionary "de minimis" dismissal under RW 9.94A.411(1)(c) and so it was not an abuse of discretion for the trial court or prosecution to refuse to dismiss. State v. Stewart, 141 Wn. App. 791 (2007).

RCW 9.94A.421

Plea agreements — Discussions — Contents of agreements.

The prosecutor and the attorney for the defendant, or the defendant when acting pro se, may engage in discussions with a view toward reaching an agreement that, upon the entering of a plea to a charged offense or to a lesser or related offense, the prosecutor will do any of the following:

- (1) Move for dismissal of other charges or counts;
- (2) Recommend a particular sentence within the sentence range applicable to the offense or offenses to which the offender pled guilty;
- (3) Recommend a particular sentence outside of the sentence range;
- (4) Agree to file a particular charge or count;
- (5) Agree not to file other charges or counts; or
- (6) Make any other promise to the defendant, except that in no instance may the prosecutor agree not to allege prior convictions.

In a case involving a crime against persons as defined in RCW 9.94A.411, the prosecutor shall make reasonable efforts to inform the victim of the violent offense of the nature of and reasons for the plea agreement, including all offenses the prosecutor has agreed not to file, and ascertain any objections or comments the victim has to the plea agreement.

The court shall not participate in any discussions under this section.

Notes:

Effective date -- 1981 c 137: See RCW 9.94A.905.

Comments

Pursuant to subsection (6), agreements may be reached regarding the filing or dismissal of deadly weapon allegations, the amount of restitution to be paid, whether an alternative conversion from total confinement to community service will be recommended and whether confinement shall be total or partial. These examples are not exclusive, and subsection (6) was designed to allow agreements appropriate to the specific facts of individual cases permitted under the Act. See RCW 9.94A.450, the Recommended Prosecuting Standards for Charging and Plea Dispositions.

The requirement that in no instance may the prosecutor agree not to allege prior convictions does not apply to situations in which the conviction is constitutionally invalid on its face. Similarly, it need not be alleged if the prior conviction has been previously determined through a personal restraint petition (or equivalent process) to have been unconstitutionally obtained. See State v. Ammons, 105 Wn.2d 175, 187 (1986).

The 1995 Legislature added a requirement that prosecutors consult with the victims of violent offenses about plea agreements in such cases.

A defendant may not assert a cruel and unusual punishment claim or an equal protection claim in challenging a standard range sentence negotiated as part of a plea agreement. A plea agreement for a standard range sentence operates as a waiver of nonjurisdictional challenges to the sentence. See State v. Moton, 976 P.2d 1286 (1999).

RCW 9.94A.431

Plea agreements — Information to court — Approval or disapproval — Sentencing judge not bound.

(1) If a plea agreement has been reached by the prosecutor and the defendant pursuant to RCW 9.94A.421, they shall at the time of the defendant's plea state to the court, on the record, the nature of the agreement and the reasons for the agreement. The prosecutor shall inform the court on the record whether the victim or victims of all crimes against persons, as defined in RCW 9.94A.411, covered by the plea agreement have expressed any objections to or comments on the nature of and reasons for the plea agreement. The court, at the time of the plea, shall determine if the agreement is consistent with the interests of justice and with the prosecuting standards. If the court determines it is not consistent with the interests of justice and with the prosecuting standards, the court shall, on the record, inform the defendant and the prosecutor that they are not bound by the agreement and that the defendant may withdraw the defendant's plea of guilty, if one has been made, and enter a plea of not guilty.

(2) The sentencing judge is not bound by any recommendations contained in an allowed plea agreement and the defendant shall be so informed at the time of plea.

Comments

Subsection (1) gives the judge hearing a defendant's plea of guilty the authority to void the plea agreement upon which it is based if it is not consistent with the interests of justice and the prosecuting standards. This includes the authority to deny an amendment of the information. CrR 2.1(e).

A sentencing judge is not bound by the recommendations of any party, even if that judge also accepted the defendant's plea of guilty. This is consistent with Washington law preceding implementation of the Sentencing Reform Act.

The 1995 Legislature added a requirement that prosecutors inform the sentencing court whether the victims of violent crimes have expressed any objections or comments on the plea agreement.

RCW 9.94A.441

Plea agreements — Criminal history.

The prosecuting attorney and the defendant shall each provide the court with their understanding of what the defendant's criminal history is prior to a plea of guilty pursuant to a plea agreement. All disputed issues as to criminal history shall be decided at the sentencing hearing.

- (a) Evidentiary problems which make conviction on the original charges doubtful;
- (b) The defendant's willingness to cooperate in the investigation or prosecution of others whose criminal conduct is more serious or represents a greater public threat;
- (c) A request by the victim when it is not the result of pressure from the defendant;
- (d) The discovery of facts which mitigate the seriousness of the defendant's conduct;
- (e) The correction of errors in the initial charging decision;

Initiative Measure No. 159 added this section, requiring the maintenance as public records of all plea or recommended sentencing agreements involving violent offenses, most serious offenses or felonies involving deadly weapons.

RCW 9.94A.480

Judicial records for sentences of certain offenders.

- (1) A current, newly created or reworked judgment and sentence document for each felony sentencing shall record any and all recommended sentencing agreements or plea agreements and the sentences for any and all felony crimes kept as public records under RCW 9.94A.475 shall contain the clearly printed name and legal signature of the sentencing judge. The judgment and sentence document as defined in this section shall also provide additional space for the sentencing judge's reasons for going either above or below the presumptive sentence range for any and all felony crimes covered as public records under RCW 9.94A.475. Both the sentencing judge and the prosecuting attorney's office shall each retain or receive a completed copy of each sentencing document as defined in this section for their own records.

(2) The sentencing guidelines commission shall be sent a completed copy of the judgment and sentence document upon conviction for each felony sentencing under subsection (1) of this section and shall compile a yearly and cumulative judicial record of each sentencing judge in regards to his or her sentencing practices for any and all felony crimes involving:

(a) Any violent offense as defined in this chapter;

(b) Any most serious offense as defined in this chapter;

(c) Any felony with any deadly weapon special verdict under RCW 9.94A.602;

(d) Any felony with any deadly weapon enhancements under RCW 9.94A.533 (3) or (4), or both; and/or

(e) The felony crimes of possession of a machine gun, possessing a stolen firearm, drive-by shooting, theft of a firearm, unlawful possession of a firearm in the first or second degree, and/or use of a machine gun in a felony.

(3) The sentencing guidelines commission shall compare each individual judge's sentencing practices to the standard or presumptive sentence range for any and all felony crimes listed in subsection (2) of this section for the appropriate offense level as defined in RCW 9.94A.515 or 9.94A.518, offender score as defined in RCW 9.94A.525, and any applicable deadly weapon enhancements as defined in RCW 9.94A.533 (3) or (4), or both. These comparative records shall be retained and made available to the public for review in a current, newly created or reworked official published document by the sentencing guidelines commission.

(4) Any and all felony sentences which are either above or below the standard or presumptive sentence range in subsection (3) of this section shall also mark whether the prosecuting attorney in the case also recommended a similar sentence, if any, which was either above or below the presumptive sentence range and shall also indicate if the sentence was in conjunction with an approved alternative sentencing option including a first-time offender waiver, sex offender sentencing alternative, or other prescribed sentencing option.

(5) If any completed judgment and sentence document as defined in subsection (1) of this section is not sent to the sentencing guidelines commission as required in subsection (2) of this section, the sentencing guidelines commission shall have the authority and shall undertake reasonable and necessary steps to assure that all past, current, and future sentencing documents as defined in subsection (1) of this section are received by the sentencing guidelines commission.

Initiative Measure No. 159 added this section, requiring that every felony Judgment and Sentence document includes all recommended plea or sentencing agreements, the printed name of the sentencing judge and space for the judge's reasons to impose an exceptional sentence. Records of sentences above or below the standard range must reveal whether the prosecuting attorney recommended a similar sentence.

The Sentencing Guidelines Commission is required to compile annual and cumulative records of each judge's sentencing practices involving violent offenses, most serious offenses and felonies involving deadly weapons. The Commission is to compare each judge's sentencing practices to the standard range for each of these offenses, and to publish these comparative records.

RCW 9.94A.500

Sentencing hearing — Presentencing procedures — Disclosure of mental health services information.

(1) Before imposing a sentence upon a defendant, the court shall conduct a sentencing hearing. The sentencing hearing shall be held within forty court days following conviction. Upon the motion of either party for good cause shown, or on its own motion, the court may extend the time period for conducting the sentencing hearing.

Except in cases where the defendant shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement for life without the possibility of release or, when authorized by RCW 10.95.030 for the crime of aggravated murder in the first degree, sentenced to death, the court may order the department to complete a risk assessment report. If available before sentencing, the report shall be provided to the court.

Unless specifically waived by the court, the court shall order the department to complete a chemical dependency screening report before imposing a sentence upon a defendant who has been convicted of a violation of the uniform controlled substances act under chapter 69.50 RCW, a criminal solicitation to commit such a violation under chapter 9A.28 RCW, or any felony where the court finds that the offender has a chemical dependency that has contributed to his or her offense. In addition, the court shall, at the time of plea or conviction, order the department to complete a presentence report before imposing a sentence upon a defendant who has been convicted of a felony sexual offense. The department of corrections shall give priority to presentence investigations for sexual offenders. If the court determines that the defendant may be a mentally ill person as defined in RCW 71.24.025, although the defendant has not established that at the time of the crime he or she lacked the capacity to commit the crime, was incompetent to commit the crime, or was insane at the time of the crime, the court shall order the department to complete a presentence report before imposing a sentence.

The court shall consider the risk assessment report and presentence reports, if any, including any victim impact statement and criminal history, and allow arguments from the prosecutor, the defense counsel, the offender, the victim, the survivor of the victim, or a representative of the victim or survivor, and an investigative law enforcement officer as to the sentence to be imposed.

A criminal history summary relating to the defendant from the prosecuting authority or from a state, federal, or foreign governmental agency shall be prima facie evidence of the existence and validity of the convictions listed therein. If the court is satisfied by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant has a criminal history, the court shall specify the convictions it has found to exist. All of this information shall be part of the record. Copies of all risk assessment reports and presentence reports presented to the sentencing court and all written findings of facts and conclusions of law as to sentencing entered by the court shall be sent to the department by the clerk of the court at the conclusion of the sentencing and shall accompany the offender if the offender is committed to the custody of the department. Court clerks shall provide, without charge, certified copies of documents relating to criminal convictions requested by prosecuting attorneys.

(2) To prevent wrongful disclosure of information related to mental health services, as defined in RCW 71.05.445 and 71.34.345, a court may take only those steps necessary during a sentencing hearing or any hearing in which the department presents information related to mental health services to the court. The steps may be taken on motion of the defendant, the prosecuting attorney, or on the court's own motion. The court may seal the portion of the record relating to information relating to mental health services, exclude the public from the hearing during presentation or discussion of information relating to mental health services, or grant other relief to achieve the result intended by this subsection, but nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prevent the subsequent release of information related to mental health services as authorized by RCW 71.05.445, 71.34.345, or 72.09.585. Any person who otherwise is permitted to attend any hearing pursuant to chapter 7.69 or 7.69A RCW shall not be excluded from the hearing solely because the department intends to disclose or discloses information related to mental health services.

Notes:

Intent -- 2008 c 231 §§ 2-4: "It is the legislature's intent to ensure that offenders receive accurate sentences that are based on their actual, complete criminal history. Accurate sentences further the sentencing reform act's goals of:

(1) Ensuring that the punishment for a criminal offense is proportionate to the seriousness of the offense and the offender's criminal history;

(2) Ensuring punishment that is just; and

(3) Ensuring that sentences are commensurate with the punishment imposed on others for committing similar offenses.

Given the decisions in In re Cadwallader, 155 Wn.2d 867 (2005); State v. Lopez, 147 Wn.2d 515 (2002); State v. Ford, 137 Wn.2d 472 (1999); and *State v. These amendments are consistent with the United States supreme court holding in Monge v. California, 524 U.S. 721 (1998), that double jeopardy is not implicated at resentencing following an appeal or collateral attack." [2008 c 231 § 1.]

(1) The courts to request presentence reports from the department of corrections when a relationship between mental illness and criminal behavior is suspected, and to order a mental status evaluation and treatment for offenders whose criminal behavior is influenced by a mental illness; and

Comments

This section is procedurally implemented through CrR 7.1. Relevant information for purposes of sentencing is to be submitted through written presentence reports. Information set forth in the presentence reports of the prosecuting attorney and the Department of Corrections will be considered admitted, unless specifically controverted by the defendant. State v. Ammons, 105 Wn.2d 175, 184 (1986).

A comprehensive discussion regarding the determination of a defendant's criminal history at the sentencing hearing is contained in State v. Ammons, 105 Wn.2d 175 (1986). See RCW 9.94A.370 for a discussion of other disputed facts that may affect the defendant's sentence.

The 1988 Legislature directed the court to order presentence reports on all offenders convicted of felony sex offenses.

The 1998 Legislature directed the courts to order the Department of Corrections to complete presentence reports before imposing sentences where the court determines the offender may be a mentally ill person as defined in RCW 71.24.025.

The 1999 Legislature authorized courts to order the Department of Corrections to complete presentence risk assessment reports for offenders and directed courts to consider risk assessment reports as part of the determination of what sentence to impose, although sentences may be entered without considering a risk assessment report. The 1999 Legislature also mandated presentence chemical dependency screening reports to be completed for all offenders violating the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (RCW 69.50). A court may specifically waive a chemical dependency screening in such cases. In other cases (non-drug offenses), a court may order a chemical dependency screening where the court finds that a chemical dependency contributed to the crime.

The 2008 Legislature amended RCW 9.94A.500 to provide that a criminal history summary relating to the defendant from the prosecuting authority or from a state, federal or foreign governmental agency, shall be prima facie evidence of the existence and validity of the convictions listed therein. This was in response to a Court of Appeals decision that such a summary was insufficient, that the State must introduce evidence of some kind to support the alleged criminal history, and that the best evidence of a prior conviction is a certified copy of the judgment. State v. Mendoza, 139 Wn. App. 693 (2007).

(1) When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this chapter.

(2)(a) The court shall impose a sentence as provided in the following sections and as applicable in the case:

(i) Unless another term of confinement applies, the court shall impose a sentence within the standard sentence range established in RCW 9.94A.510 or 9.94A.517;

(ii) RCW 9.94A.700 and 9.94A.705, relating to community placement;

(iii) RCW 9.94A.710 and 9.94A.715, relating to community custody;

(iv) RCW 9.94A.545, relating to community custody for offenders whose term of confinement is one year or less;

(v) RCW 9.94A.570, relating to persistent offenders;

(vi) RCW 9.94A.540, relating to mandatory minimum terms;

(vii) RCW 9.94A.650, relating to the first-time offender waiver;

(viii) RCW 9.94A.660, relating to the drug offender sentencing alternative;

(ix) RCW 9.94A.670, relating to the special sex offender sentencing alternative;

(x) *RCW 9.94A.712, relating to certain sex offenses;

(xi) RCW 9.94A.535, relating to exceptional sentences;

(xii) RCW 9.94A.589, relating to consecutive and concurrent sentences;

(xiii) RCW 9.94A.603, relating to felony driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug and felony physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug.

(b) If a standard sentence range has not been established for the offender's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement; community restitution work; until July 1, 2000, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year and on and after July 1, 2000, a term of community custody not to exceed one year, subject to conditions and sanctions as authorized in RCW 9.94A.710 (2) and (3); and/or other legal financial obligations. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds reasons justifying an exceptional sentence as provided in RCW 9.94A.535.

(3) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days. Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(4) If a sentence imposed includes payment of a legal financial obligation, it shall be imposed as provided in RCW 9.94A.750, 9.94A.753, 9.94A.760, and 43.43.7541.

(5) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.750(4) and 9.94A.753 (4), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision, community placement, or community custody which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(6) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(7) The court shall order restitution as provided in RCW 9.94A.750 and 9.94A.753.

(8) As a part of any sentence, the court may impose and enforce crime-related prohibitions and affirmative conditions as provided in this chapter.

(9) The court may order an offender whose sentence includes community placement or community supervision to undergo a mental status evaluation and to participate in available outpatient mental health treatment, if the court finds that reasonable grounds exist to believe that the offender is a mentally ill person as defined in RCW 71.24.025, and that this condition is likely to have influenced the offense. An order requiring mental status evaluation or treatment must be based on a presentence report and, if applicable, mental status evaluations that have been filed with the court to determine the offender's competency or eligibility for a defense of insanity. The court may order additional evaluations at a later date if deemed appropriate.

(10) In any sentence of partial confinement, the court may require the offender to serve the partial confinement in work release, in a program of home detention, on work crew, or in a combined program of work crew and home detention.

(11) In sentencing an offender convicted of a crime of domestic violence, as defined in RCW 10.99.020, if the offender has a minor child, or if the victim of the offense for which the offender was convicted has a minor child, the court may, as part of any term of community supervision, community placement, or community custody, order the offender to participate in a domestic violence perpetrator program approved under RCW 26.50.150.

RCW 9.94A.505

Sentences. (Effective August 1, 2009.)

(1) When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this chapter.

(2)(a) The court shall impose a sentence as provided in the following sections and as applicable in the case:

(i) Unless another term of confinement applies, a sentence within the standard sentence range established in RCW 9.94A.510 or 9.94A.517;

(ii) RCW 9.94A.701 and 9.94A.702, relating to community custody;

(iii) RCW 9.94A.570, relating to persistent offenders;

(iv) RCW 9.94A.540, relating to mandatory minimum terms;

(v) RCW 9.94A.650, relating to the first-time offender waiver;

(vi) RCW 9.94A.660, relating to the drug offender sentencing alternative;

(vii) RCW 9.94A.670, relating to the special sex offender sentencing alternative;

(viii) *RCW 9.94A.712, relating to certain sex offenses;

(ix) RCW 9.94A.535, relating to exceptional sentences;

(x) RCW 9.94A.589, relating to consecutive and concurrent sentences;

(xi) RCW 9.94A.603, relating to felony driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug and felony physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug.

(b) If a standard sentence range has not been established for the offender's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement; community restitution work; a term of community custody not to exceed one year; and/or other legal financial obligations. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds reasons justifying an exceptional sentence as provided in RCW 9.94A.535.

(3) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days. Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(4) If a sentence imposed includes payment of a legal financial obligation, it shall be imposed as provided in RCW 9.94A.750, 9.94A.753, 9.94A.760, and 43.43.7541.

(5) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.750(4) and 9.94A.753 (4), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community custody that exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(6) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(7) The court shall order restitution as provided in RCW 9.94A.750 and 9.94A.753.

(8) As a part of any sentence, the court may impose and enforce crime-related prohibitions and affirmative conditions as provided in this chapter.

(9) In any sentence of partial confinement, the court may require the offender to serve the partial confinement in work release, in a program of home detention, on work crew, or in a combined program of work crew and home detention.

Comments

RCW 9.94A.505(6) codifies the constitutional requirement that offenders receive credit for time served prior to sentencing. See State v. Phelan, 100 Wn.2d 508, 671 P.2d 1212 (1983).

The 1988 Legislature directed that restitution to victims shall be the first payment of monetary obligations. The Legislature also clarified that the Department of Corrections is responsible for supervising payment of monetary obligations, and if the court does not set a schedule for payments, the Department can set one.

The 1999 Legislature also authorized courts to order certain domestic violence offenders to participate in domestic violence perpetrator programs as part of their term of supervision in the community. See RCW 9.94A.505(11)

In 2007, the Court of Appeals considered a case in which the defendant was convicted of all three alternative methods of committing vehicular assault. The Court held that the sentencing court must impose sentence using the highest sentence range. To do otherwise would be to disregard the jury's finding on the higher crime. State v. Brown, 145 Wn. App. 62 (2008).

After reviewing former RCW 9.94A.120 (recodified as RCW 9.94A.505), the Court also held that the trial court and parties were mistaken about the required period of community placement. Therefore, the case should be remanded and the trial court directed to reduce the term of confinement to 48 months so that the entire sentence, including a 12-month community placement term, does not exceed the statutory maximum of 60 months. State v. Hibdon, 140 Wn. App. 256 (2007).

In 2008, the Court of Appeals held that two years of community placement, in addition to the defendant's prison sentences, did not exceed the statutory maximum in violation of RCW 9.94A.505(5). State v. Thompson, 143 Wn. App. 861 (2008).

The Court also held that the sentencing court does not have authority to order a mental health evaluation and treatment under RCW 9.94A.505(9) and RCW 9.94A.700(5)(c) unless reasonable grounds demonstrate that the defendant is mentally ill and the condition most likely influenced the offense. State v. Brooks, 142 Wn. App. 842 (2008). See also State v. Lopez, 142 Wn. App. 341 (2008).

(2) An offender convicted of rape of a child in the first or second degree or child molestation in the first degree who was seventeen years of age or younger at the time of the offense shall not be sentenced under this section.

(3)(a) Upon a finding that the offender is subject to sentencing under this section, the court shall impose a sentence to a maximum term and a minimum term.

(b) The maximum term shall consist of the statutory maximum sentence for the offense.

(c)(i) Except as provided in (c)(ii) of this subsection, the minimum term shall be either within the standard sentence range for the offense, or outside the standard sentence range pursuant to RCW 9.94A.535, if the offender is otherwise eligible for such a sentence.

(ii) If the offense that caused the offender to be sentenced under this section was rape of a child in the first degree, rape of a child in the second degree, or child molestation in the first degree, and there has been a finding that the offense was predatory under RCW 9.94A.836, the minimum term shall be either the maximum of the standard sentence range for the offense or twenty-five years, whichever is greater. If the offense that caused the offender to be sentenced under this section was rape in the first degree, rape in the second degree, indecent liberties by forcible compulsion, or kidnapping in the first degree with sexual motivation, and there has been a finding that the victim was under the age of fifteen at the time of the offense under RCW 9.94A.837, the minimum term shall be either the maximum of the standard sentence range for the offense or twenty-five years, whichever is greater. (d) The minimum terms in (c)(ii) of this subsection do not apply to a juvenile tried as an adult pursuant to RCW 13.04.030(1)(e) (i) or (v). The minimum term for such a juvenile shall be imposed under (c)(i) of this subsection.

(4) A person sentenced under subsection (3) of this section shall serve the sentence in a facility or institution operated, or utilized under contract, by the state.

(5) When a court sentences a person to the custody of the department under this section, the court shall, in addition to the other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to community custody under the supervision of the department and the authority of the board for any period of time the person is released from total confinement before the expiration of the maximum sentence.

(6)(a) As part of any sentence under this section, the court shall also require the offender to comply with any conditions imposed by the board under RCW 9.95.420 through 9.95.435.

(b) An offender released by the board under RCW 9.95.420 is subject to the supervision of the department until the expiration of the maximum term of the sentence. The department shall monitor the offender's compliance with conditions of community custody imposed by the court, department, or board, and promptly report any violations to the board. Any violation of conditions of community custody established or modified by the board are subject to the provisions of RCW 9.95.425 through 9.95.440.

Findings and intent -- 1995 c 129: "(1) The people of the state of Washington find and declare that:

(a) Armed criminals pose an increasing and major threat to public safety and can turn any crime into serious injury or death.

(b) Criminals carry deadly weapons for several key reasons including: Forcing the victim to comply with their demands; injuring or killing anyone who tries to stop the criminal acts; and aiding the criminal in escaping.

(c) Current law does not sufficiently stigmatize the carrying and use of deadly weapons by criminals, and far too often there are no deadly weapon enhancements provided for many felonies, including murder, arson, manslaughter, and child molestation and many other sex offenses including child luring.

(d) Current law also fails to distinguish between gun-carrying criminals and criminals carrying knives or clubs.

(2) By increasing the penalties for carrying and using deadly weapons by criminals and closing loopholes involving armed criminals, the people intend to:

(a) Stigmatize the carrying and use of any deadly weapons for all felonies with proper deadly weapon enhancements.

(b) Reduce the number of armed offenders by making the carrying and use of the deadly weapon not worth the sentence received upon conviction.

(c) Distinguish between the gun predators and criminals carrying other deadly weapons and provide greatly increased penalties for gun predators and for those offenders committing crimes to acquire firearms.

(d) Bring accountability and certainty into the sentencing system by tracking individual judges and holding them accountable for their sentencing practices in relation to the state's sentencing guidelines for serious crimes." [1995 c 129 § 1 (Initiative Measure No. 159).]

Comments

The 1986 amendments provided that the 12-month deadly weapon penalty applies to those offenses defined in RCW 9.94A.030 as drug offenses, instead of applying only to Delivery or Possession of a Controlled Substance with Intent to Deliver. The term "drug offense," as defined in the SRA, excludes simple possession, forged prescriptions and violations of the Legend Drug Act.

The 1986 revisions also clarified that the deadly weapon penalties apply to anticipatory offenses.

The 1989 Legislature added two enhancements for some drug crimes committed in certain locations: (1) violations of RCW 69.50.401(a) committed within 1,000 feet of a school or school bus zone, and (2) violations of RCW 69.50.401(a) or (d) committed within a county jail or state correctional facility.

The 1990 Legislature amended the sentencing grid to add a new Level XII, and renumber Levels XII through XIV. The sentence ranges in Level XI were increased.

The 1990 Legislature amended the enhancement for certain drug crimes near schools to also apply to manufacture, delivery, and possession with intent to deliver in parks, public transit vehicles and transit stop shelters (RCW 69.50.435).

The 1992 Legislature added Assault of a Child 2 to the crimes eligible for deadly weapon penalties.

The 1994 Legislature amended subsection (4)(c) to apply the previous 12-month deadly weapon enhancement to all violent offenses not subject to a longer enhancement. This was repealed and replaced in 1995 by Initiative 159.

The enactment of Initiative Measure No. 159 by the 1995 Legislature split the previous deadly weapon enhancement into separate enhancements for firearms and for other deadly weapons, and broadened their application to all felonies except those in which using a firearm is an element of the offense. The enhancements double when the offender has previously (but on or after July 23, 1995) been sentenced to a deadly weapon enhancement under (3) or (4). The enhancements must run consecutively to any other sentence, as long as the period of total confinement does not exceed the statutory maximum for the offense. The amendments increased the enhancement (where the weapon is not a firearm) for Burglary 1 from 18 months to two years and reduced the enhancement for Theft of Livestock 2 from one year to six months.

Although the 1995 amendments to subsections (3) and (4) in Initiative 159 prohibit weapon enhancements from running concurrently to other sentencing provisions, the Initiative did not amend RCW 9.94A.400, which provides for concurrent sentencing of multiple counts except under circumstances specified in that section.

Subsections (3) and (4) limit the total sentence for each count to the statutory maximum, even with weapon enhancements. However, it is unclear whether the maximum consists of the entire weapon enhancement plus the remainder of the base sentence, or of the base sentence plus whatever part of the weapon enhancement remains within the maximum. This issue is especially important in multiple-count cases, where the statutory maximum for the most serious count would limit the total sentence in the absence of weapon enhancements, but may not if weapon enhancements are computed consecutively.

The 1996 Legislature increased from 15 months to 18 months the enhancement for Manufacture, Delivery, or Possession with Intent to Manufacture or Deliver Methamphetamine in a county jail or state correctional facility. The Legislature also authorized local governments to designate additional “drug free zones” at or around defined “civic centers,” under RCW 69.50.435, for purposes of the 24-month enhancement for drug offenses committed within such areas.

The 1998 Legislature clarified that when an offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the firearm enhancement or enhancements and or deadly weapon enhancement or enhancements must be added to the total period of confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to the enhancement. This takes effect for crimes committed on or after June 11, 1998.

The 1998 Legislature also clarified that for all offenses sentenced under RCW 9.94A.310, all firearm or deadly weapon enhancements run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other firearm or deadly weapon enhancements. This takes effect for crimes committed on or after June 11, 1998.

The 1998 Legislature required that an additional two years be added to the presumptive sentence for Vehicular Homicide committed while under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or any Drug as defined by RCW 46.61.502 for each prior offense as defined in RCW 46.61.5055.

The 1998 Legislature required that if the firearm enhancement or the deadly weapon enhancement increases a sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced. As a result, in such a case the underlying sentence must be reduced so that the total confinement time does not exceed the statutory maximum. This takes effect for crimes committed on or after June 11, 1998.

The Supreme Court of Washington in Post Sentencing Review of Charles, 135 Wn.2d 239 (1998), ruled that when two or more offenses each carry firearm enhancements, the determination of whether multiple current sentences are to run concurrently or consecutively is governed by RCW 9.94A.400. (See 9.94A.589 for current rule.)

In State v. Barajas, 88 Wn. App. 387 (1997), the Court of Appeals ruled that when a convicted drug offender is subject to both RCW 69.50.435 (which doubles the maximum sentence that may be imposed for a drug offense committed in or near a public place or facility as specified by the statute) and RCW 9.94A.310(3) (which mandates enhanced sentences for offenses committed while armed with a firearm), the maximum sentence on which to determine the length of the firearm enhancement is the statutory maximum for the offenses as doubled by RCW 69.50.435.

The 1997 Legislature increased the maximum term of total confinement in the standard range for level XIII. However, the minimum term in that range applied only to sentences for murder 2 because the Legislature amended limiting language in RCW 9.94A.040(4)(b) only for murder 2 offenses. The new standard ranges for Murder 2 applied to crimes committed on or after July 27, 1997. The 1999 Legislature resolved the conflict within Level XIII that arose after the 1997 legislative session. A new Level XIV was created for Murder 2 only, with its unique “range widths” as outlined in 9.94A.040(4)(b). The “range widths” for the offenses remaining at Level XIII were returned to their pre-1997 status, and offenses previously at Levels XIV and XV were moved up to Level XV and a new Level XVI, respectively (for offenses committed on or after July 25, 1999).

The 1999 Legislature provided exceptions to serving mandatory minimum sentences in total confinement for offenders granted an “extraordinary medical placement” authorized under RCW 9.94A.150(4).

In 2008, the Supreme Court held that given these unique circumstances – where defense counsel acknowledged the offender score, defense counsel never retracted the acknowledgement, and the only objection was a pro se argument at a hearing to determine the eligibility for electronic home monitoring after repeated continuances – it is inequitable to deny the State an opportunity to prove the existence of the defendant’s prior convictions at the resentencing hearing. Comments

Crime Label: Offense seriousness is established by the actual crime of conviction. The crime of conviction is therefore far more significant in determining a sentence than under the former indeterminate system.

Crime Ranking: One of the most significant and time-consuming decisions made by the Commission was its ranking of crimes by seriousness. The three mandatory minimum sentences originally established by the Sentencing Reform Act (First Degree Murder, First Degree Assault, First Degree Rape) served as bench marks for the Commission's work. The Commission was also assisted by the general felony classifications established by the Legislature (classes A, B and C felonies-RCW 9A.20.020). The Commission decided that given the law's emphasis on violent crimes, the seriousness levels needed to reflect this priority. Certain Class C felonies were eventually ranked higher than some Class B felonies because they constituted a crime against a person.

Offense Date: The date of the offense is important because it establishes whether the guidelines apply to a particular offender's case. If the date of offense is on or before June 30, 1984, the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board and its successors must make decisions with reference to the purposes, standards, and ranges of the Sentencing Reform Act and the minimum term recommendations of the sentencing judge and prosecuting attorney. See In Re Myers, 105 Wn.2d 257 (1986). The date of the offense also influences what portion of an offender's juvenile record will be used to calculate criminal history.

Ranked Felonies: The most common felonies have been included in the Seriousness Level Table. The Commission decided not to rank certain felonies that seldom occur. The Commission will continue to recommend adjustments in seriousness levels as new felonies are created by the Legislature. If a significant number of persons are convicted of offenses not included in the Seriousness Level table, the Commission will recommend to the Legislature ranking those offenses at the appropriate seriousness levels. In 1999, the Commission recommended, and the Legislature enacted, legislation that ranked certain previously unranked felonies on the sentencing grid.

The 1990 Legislature created an additional seriousness level at Level XI, and renumbered Levels XI through XIV, making these Levels XII through XV.

The 1994 Legislature created a new class C felony offense, Theft of a Firearm (RCW 9A.56.300) at Level V, and increased the severity of Reckless Endangerment 1 (RCW 9A.36.045) from Level II to Level V. These amendments to this section were repealed and replaced in 1995 by Initiative Measure No. 159.

The 1994 Legislature increased the severity level of Vehicular Homicide by Being Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or Any Drug (RCW 46.61.520) from Level VIII to Level IX. Vehicular Homicide by Operating a Vehicle in a Reckless Manner remains at Level VIII.

The enactment of Initiative Measure No. 159 by the 1995 Legislature made numerous changes in definitions and seriousness levels of felonies involving firearms:

Increased the seriousness level of Reckless Endangerment 1 from Level V to Level VII.

Expanded the definition of Burglary 1 to cover entry into a non-residential building.

Increased the seriousness level of Theft of a Firearm from a class C felony at Level V to a class B felony at Level VI.

Created the class B felony of Possessing a Stolen Firearm at Level V.

Narrowed the definitions of Theft and Possession of Stolen Property to exclude Theft or Possession of a Firearm.

Created two degrees of Unlawful Possession of a Firearm. Unlawful Possession of a Firearm 1 is a class B felony at Level VII. Unlawful Possession of a Firearm 2 is a class C felony at Level III. See RCW 9.41.040.

Authorized separate convictions for Theft of a Firearm, Possession of a Stolen Firearm, and Unlawful Possession of a Firearm arising from the same actions, required that sentences for each of these offenses run consecutively, and provided that each firearm constitutes a separate offense.

Expanded the definition of Aggravated Murder 1, subject to the death penalty, to include gang-related murders, "drive-by" shootings and murders to avoid prosecution as a persistent ("third strike") offender.

The 1995 Legislature created the class C felony offense of Persistent Prison Misbehavior, ranked at Level V (see RCW 9.94.070).

The 1995 Legislature created several new felony offenses: Commercial Bribery (class B at Level IV, see RCW 9A.68.060), Unlawful Practice of Law (class C at Level II after the first violation, see RCW 2.48.180), Trafficking in Insurance Claims (class C at Level II after the first violation, see RCW 48.30A.015), and Unlicensed Practice of a Profession or Business (class C at Level II after the first violation, see RCW 18.130.190).

Health Care False Claims, a class C felony, was ranked at Level II in 1995 (see RCW 48.80.030).

The 1996 Legislature created the following new ranked offenses: possession of ephedrine or pseudoephedrine with intent to manufacture methamphetamine, a class B felony at Level VIII; Hit and Run with Vessel - Injury Accident, a class C felony at Level IV; Abandonment of a Dependent Person 1, a class B felony at Level V; and Abandonment of a Dependent Person 2, a class C felony at Level III.

The 1997 Legislature increased the seriousness of rape 1 and rape of a child 1 to level XII, rape 2 and rape of a child 2 to Level XI, and indecent liberties with force to level X. The Legislature also increased the seriousness of manslaughter 1 to level XI and manslaughter 2 to level VIII.

The 1997 Legislature added new offenses relating to explosives and imitation explosives at levels VI, VII, IX, X, XII, XIII and XIV.

The 1997 Legislature also added new felonies: criminal gang intimidation at level III, and theft of rental property at levels I and II. The Legislature also redesignated reckless endangerment 1 (at level VII) as "drive-by shooting."

The 1998 Legislature added new felonies: Homicide by Watercraft, by being under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or any Drug at Level IX; Homicide by Watercraft, by the Operation of any Vessel in a Reckless Manner at Level VIII; Homicide by Watercraft, by Disregard for the Safety of Others at Level VII; and Assault by Watercraft at Level IV.

The 1998 Legislature also enacted and ranked three new felonies involving the drug Flunitrazepam (commonly known as Rohypnol). The Possession of Flunitrazepam is ranked at Level II (RCW 69.50.401(d)). The Manufacture, Delivery or Possession with Intent to Deliver Flunitrazepam is ranked at Level VI (RCW 69.50.401(1)(iii) through (v)). The Delivery of Flunitrazepam by a Person over 18 Years of Age to a Person less than 18 Years of Age is ranked at Level X (RCW 69.50.406).

In addition, the 1998 Legislature increased the seriousness level of Manufacture, Delivery or Possession with Intent to Deliver Amphetamine from Level IV to Level VIII (RCW 69.50.401(a)(1)(ii)) and increased the seriousness level for Manufacturing Methamphetamine from Level VIII to Level X (RCW 69.50.401(a)(1)(ii)).

The 1999 Legislature amended Table 2 in RCW 9.94A.320 to add Seriousness Level XVI and to adjust the list of crimes in Levels XIII, XIV, XV and XVI to correspond to the 1999 amendments to the sentencing grid in RCW 9.94A.310.

The 1999 Legislature ranked some previously unranked felonies and created some new felonies, and listed them accordingly by Seriousness Level in Table 2 of RCW 9.94A.320, including: Over 18 and Deliver Methamphetamine to Persons Under 18 at Level X (RCW 69.50.406); Use of a Machine Gun in Commission of a Felony at Level VII (RCW 9.41.225); Custodial Sexual Misconduct I at Level V (RCW 9A.44.160); Stalking (on or after July 1, 2000) at Level V (RCW 9A.46.110); No-Contact Order Violation: Domestic Violence Pre-Trial Condition (on or after July 1, 2000) at Level V (RCW 10.99.040(4)(b) and (c)); No-Contact Order Violation: Domestic Violence Sentence Condition (on or after July 1, 2000) at Level V (RCW 10.99.050(2)); Protection Order Violation: Domestic Violence Civil Action (on or after July 1, 2000) at Level V (RCW 26.50.110(4) and (5)); Indecent Exposure to Person Under Age 14 (repeat offense or with previous sex offense) at Level IV (RCW 9A.88.010); Counterfeiting While Endangering Public Health and Safety at Level IV (RCW 9.16.035(4)); Maintaining a Dwelling or Place for Controlled Substances at Level III (RCW 69.50.402(a)(6)); Malicious Injury to Railroad Property at Level III (RCW 81.60.070); Possession of an Incendiary Device at Level III (RCW 9.40.120); Possession of a Machine Gun or Short-Barreled Shotgun or Rifle at Level III (RCW 9.41.190); Telephone Harassment (subsequent conviction or threat of death) at Level III (RCW 9.61.230); Unlawful Use of Building for Drug Purposes at Level III (RCW 69.53.010); and Counterfeiting (with two or more previous convictions and more than 1000 counterfeit items with a retail value of $10,000 or more) at Level I (RCW 9.16.035(3)).

The 2007 Legislature also created the following new crimes and listed them in the Seriousness Offense Level in Table 2: Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor at Level III (RCW 9.68A.100), and Promoting Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor at Level VIII (RCW 9.68A.101). The Legislature created the crime of Promoting Travel for Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor (RCW 9.68A.102) and made it an unranked, Class C felony. The Legislature also created the gross misdemeanor crime of Permitting Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor (RCW 9.68A.103).

The 2008 Legislature increased the seriousness level of Criminal Mistreatment in the First Degree (RCW 9A.42.020) from a level 9 to a level 10. The Legislature also included the new offense of Mortgage Fraud (RCW 19.144.090(1)) as a level 3, class B felony offense.

(2) The court may utilize any other sanctions or alternatives as authorized by law, including but not limited to the special drug offender sentencing alternative under RCW 9.94A.660 or drug court under RCW 2.28.170.

(3) Nothing in this section creates an entitlement for a criminal defendant to any specific sanction, alternative, sentence option, or substance abuse treatment.

[2002 c 290 § 8.]

Notes:

Intent -- 2002 c 290: "It is the intent of the legislature to increase the use of effective substance abuse treatment for defendants and offenders in Washington in order to make frugal use of state and local resources, thus reducing recidivism and increasing the likelihood that defendants and offenders will become productive and law-abiding persons. The legislature recognizes that substance abuse treatment can be effective if it is well planned and involves adequate monitoring, and that substance abuse and addiction is a public safety and public health issue that must be more effectively addressed if recidivism is to be reduced. The legislature intends that sentences for drug offenses accurately reflect the adverse impact of substance abuse and addiction on public safety, that the public must have protection from violent offenders, and further intends that such sentences be based on policies that are supported by research and public policy goals established by the legislature." [2002 c 290 § 1.]

Effectiveness report: "The Washington state institute for public policy shall evaluate the effectiveness of the drug offense sentencing grid in reducing recidivism and its financial impact. The Washington state institute for public policy shall present a preliminary report to the legislature by December 1, 2007, and shall present a final report regarding long-term recidivism and its financial impacts to the legislature by December 1, 2008." Offense seriousness level.

The offense seriousness level is determined by the offense of conviction.

RCW 9.94A.525

Offender score.

The offender score is measured on the horizontal axis of the sentencing grid. The offender score rules are as follows:

The offender score is the sum of points accrued under this section rounded down to the nearest whole number.

(1) A prior conviction is a conviction which exists before the date of sentencing for the offense for which the offender score is being computed. Convictions entered or sentenced on the same date as the conviction for which the offender score is being computed shall be deemed "other current offenses" within the meaning of RCW 9.94A.589.

(2)(a) Class A and sex prior felony convictions shall always be included in the offender score.

(b) Class B prior felony convictions other than sex offenses shall not be included in the offender score, if since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent ten consecutive years in the community without committing any crime that subsequently results in a conviction.

(c) Except as provided in (e) of this subsection, class C prior felony convictions other than sex offenses shall not be included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent five consecutive years in the community without committing any crime that subsequently results in a conviction.

(d) Except as provided in (e) of this subsection, serious traffic convictions shall not be included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or entry of judgment and sentence, the offender spent five years in the community without committing any crime that subsequently results in a conviction.

(e) If the present conviction is felony driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug (RCW 46.61.502(6)) or felony physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug (RCW 46.61.504(6)), prior convictions of felony driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, felony physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, and serious traffic offenses shall be included in the offender score if: (i) The prior convictions were committed within five years since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) or entry of judgment and sentence; or (ii) the prior convictions would be considered "prior offenses within ten years" as defined in RCW 46.61.5055.

(f) This subsection applies to both adult and juvenile prior convictions.

(3) Out-of-state convictions for offenses shall be classified according to the comparable offense definitions and sentences provided by Washington law. Federal convictions for offenses shall be classified according to the comparable offense definitions and sentences provided by Washington law. If there is no clearly comparable offense under Washington law or the offense is one that is usually considered subject to exclusive federal jurisdiction, the offense shall be scored as a class C felony equivalent if it was a felony under the relevant federal statute.

(4) Score prior convictions for felony anticipatory offenses (attempts, criminal solicitations, and criminal conspiracies) the same as if they were convictions for completed offenses.

(5)(a) In the case of multiple prior convictions, for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all convictions separately, except:

(i) Prior offenses which were found, under RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a), to encompass the same criminal conduct, shall be counted as one offense, the offense that yields the highest offender score. The current sentencing court shall determine with respect to other prior adult offenses for which sentences were served concurrently or prior juvenile offenses for which sentences were served consecutively, whether those offenses shall be counted as one offense or as separate offenses using the "same criminal conduct" analysis found in RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a), and if the court finds that they shall be counted as one offense, then the offense that yields the highest offender score shall be used. The current sentencing court may presume that such other prior offenses were not the same criminal conduct from sentences imposed on separate dates, or in separate counties or jurisdictions, or in separate complaints, indictments, or informations;

(ii) In the case of multiple prior convictions for offenses committed before July 1, 1986, for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all adult convictions served concurrently as one offense, and count all juvenile convictions entered on the same date as one offense. Use the conviction for the offense that yields the highest offender score.

(b) As used in this subsection (5), "served concurrently" means that: (i) The latter sentence was imposed with specific reference to the former; (ii) the concurrent relationship of the sentences was judicially imposed; and (iii) the concurrent timing of the sentences was not the result of a probation or parole revocation on the former offense.

(6) If the present conviction is one of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy, count each prior conviction as if the present conviction were for a completed offense. When these convictions are used as criminal history, score them the same as a completed crime.

(7) If the present conviction is for a nonviolent offense and not covered by subsection (11), (12), or (13) of this section, count one point for each adult prior felony conviction and one point for each juvenile prior violent felony conviction and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior nonviolent felony conviction.

(8) If the present conviction is for a violent offense and not covered in subsection (9), (10), (11), (12), or (13) of this section, count two points for each prior adult and juvenile violent felony conviction, one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(9) If the present conviction is for a serious violent offense, count three points for prior adult and juvenile convictions for crimes in this category, two points for each prior adult and juvenile violent conviction (not already counted), one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(10) If the present conviction is for Burglary 1, count prior convictions as in subsection (8) of this section; however count two points for each prior adult Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction, and one point for each prior juvenile Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction.

(11) If the present conviction is for a felony traffic offense count two points for each adult or juvenile prior conviction for Vehicular Homicide or Vehicular Assault; for each felony offense count one point for each adult and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior conviction; for each serious traffic offense, other than those used for an enhancement pursuant to RCW 46.61.520(2), count one point for each adult and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior conviction; count one point for each adult and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior conviction for operation of a vessel while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug.

(12) If the present conviction is for homicide by watercraft or assault by watercraft count two points for each adult or juvenile prior conviction for homicide by watercraft or assault by watercraft; for each felony offense count one point for each adult and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior conviction; count one point for each adult and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior conviction for driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, actual physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, or operation of a vessel while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug.

(13) If the present conviction is for manufacture of methamphetamine count three points for each adult prior manufacture of methamphetamine conviction and two points for each juvenile manufacture of methamphetamine offense. If the present conviction is for a drug offense and the offender has a criminal history that includes a sex offense or serious violent offense, count three points for each adult prior felony drug offense conviction and two points for each juvenile drug offense. All other adult and juvenile felonies are scored as in subsection (8) of this section if the current drug offense is violent, or as in subsection (7) of this section if the current drug offense is nonviolent.

(14) If the present conviction is for Escape from Community Custody, RCW 72.09.310, count only prior escape convictions in the offender score. Count adult prior escape convictions as one point and juvenile prior escape convictions as 1/2 point.

(15) If the present conviction is for Escape 1, RCW 9A.76.110, or Escape 2, RCW 9A.76.120, count adult prior convictions as one point and juvenile prior convictions as 1/2 point.

(16) If the present conviction is for Burglary 2 or residential burglary, count priors as in subsection (7) of this section; however, count two points for each adult and juvenile prior Burglary 1 conviction, two points for each adult prior Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction, and one point for each juvenile prior Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction.

(17) If the present conviction is for a sex offense, count priors as in subsections (7) through (11) and (13) through (16) of this section; however count three points for each adult and juvenile prior sex offense conviction.

(18) If the present conviction is for failure to register as a sex offender under RCW 9A.44.130(11), count priors as in subsections (7) through (11) and (13) through (16) of this section; however count three points for each adult and juvenile prior sex offense conviction, excluding prior convictions for failure to register as a sex offender under RCW 9A.44.130(11), which shall count as one point.

(19) If the present conviction is for an offense committed while the offender was under community custody, add one point. For purposes of this subsection, community custody includes community placement or postrelease supervision, as defined in chapter 9.94B RCW.

(20) If the present conviction is for Theft of a Motor Vehicle, Possession of a Stolen Vehicle, Taking a Motor Vehicle Without Permission 1, or Taking a Motor Vehicle Without Permission 2, count priors as in subsections (7) through (18) of this section; however count one point for prior convictions of Vehicle Prowling 2, and three points for each adult and juvenile prior Theft 1 (of a motor vehicle), Theft 2 (of a motor vehicle), Possession of Stolen Property 1 (of a motor vehicle), Possession of Stolen Property 2 (of a motor vehicle), Theft of a Motor Vehicle, Possession of a Stolen Vehicle, Taking a Motor Vehicle Without Permission 1, or Taking a Motor Vehicle Without Permission 2 conviction.

(21) The fact that a prior conviction was not included in an offender's offender score or criminal history at a previous sentencing shall have no bearing on whether it is included in the criminal history or offender score for the current offense. Prior convictions that were not counted in the offender score or included in criminal history under repealed or previous versions of the sentencing reform act shall be included in criminal history and shall count in the offender score if the current version of the sentencing reform act requires including or counting those convictions. Prior convictions that were not included in criminal history or in the offender score shall be included upon any resentencing to ensure imposition of an accurate sentence.

Misdemeanors: The Commission decided not to include misdemeanors in the offender score for two reasons: 1) the emphasis of the legislation was on felonies, and 2) the reliability of court records varies greatly throughout the state. An exception to this policy was made in the case of felony traffic offenses. The Commission decided that for these crimes, previous serious driving misdemeanors are relevant in establishing the offender's history of similar behavior. The Commission anticipates that in some instances an offender's history of misdemeanors may be used by the court in selecting a sentence within the standard sentence range or in departing from the range to administer an exceptional sentence.

Role of Criminal History: The Commission's mandate from the Legislature was to consider both the seriousness of the crime and the nature and extent of criminal history. The Commission decided to emphasize the current offense in establishing standard sentence ranges but also to give weight to a person's past convictions, including the pattern of those convictions. Given the legislation's emphasis on sanctions for violent crimes, the Commission decided that repeat violent offenders needed to be identified and dealt with severely. As a result, the grid places an accelerated emphasis on criminal history for the repeat violent offender.

*Prior Offenses: The Commission decided that the weighing of prior offenses should vary depending on the present offense. Thus, a criminal history with serious violent crime convictions counts most heavily when the current offense is also a serious violent offense; previous convictions for violent offenses count more heavily when the current offense is violent; prior burglary convictions count more heavily when the current offense is a burglary; prior drug offenses count more heavily when the current offense is a drug offense; and prior violent felony traffic offenses count more heavily when the current offense is a felony traffic offense. The Legislature has subsequently provided for counting sex offenses more heavily when the current offense is a sex offense. Subsection 5(b) refers to prior convictions "served concurrently." The meaning of this term was addressed in State v. Hartley, 41 Wn. App. 669 (1985).*

*Anticipatory Offenses: A prior conviction for an anticipatory crime (attempt, solicitation, conspiracy) counts as two points if the completed crime constitutes a "violent offense." State v. Becker, 59 Wn. App. 848(1990). In 1999, The Supreme Court clarified that solicitations to commit violations of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act ("VUCSA") fall under RCW 9A.28.030 and are not "drug offenses" under RCW 69.50. Solicitations to commit VUCSA offenses are not subject to community placement requirements for completed VUCSA offenses. See In re Hopkins, 137 Wn.2d 897 (1999); but see State vs. Howell, 902 Wn. App. 288 (2000) (scoring anticipatory VUSCA offenses as completed).*

Juvenile Criminal History: Since the legislation required that certain prior juvenile felony adjudications be included as part of criminal history, the Commission needed to establish the relative weight of these felonies in comparison to adult prior felonies. The Commission decided that prior violent felony convictions, whether committed by an adult or a juvenile, should receive the same number of points if the instant offense was violent. The Commission believed that a distinction was necessary between nonviolent adult felonies and nonviolent juvenile felonies because nonviolent juvenile felonies often represent less serious conduct.

In addition, under the definition of juvenile criminal history in RCW 9.94.030, the legislation originally specified that prior juvenile convictions are not considered after the offender reaches age 23; the Commission therefore wanted to avoid a significant disparity between the potential Offender Score for someone at age 22 and someone at age 23. Thus, the decision was to count juvenile nonviolent felony adjudications at one-half point (rounding down to the nearest whole number). In 1986 and 1997, the Legislature expanded the definition of criminal history to include all juvenile felony adjudications.

*In 1999, the Court of Appeals, Division I, ruled that pre-1997 plea agreements, providing that certain juvenile offenses would not be counted in criminal history, do not insulate current offenders from changes in the law and cannot be relied upon when an offender is sentenced for a subsequent conviction for an offense committed after the effective date of the change in 1997. See State v. McRae, 96 Wn. App. 298 (1999).*

*"Wash Out" of Priors: The Commission decided that adult Class A felonies should always be considered as part of the Offender Score. The Commission decided that prior Class B and C felonies should eventually "wash out" and be eliminated from the Offender Score. The 1995 Legislature amended the "wash-out" rule to preclude "wash-out" based on misdemeanor as well as felony convictions. In State v. Watkins, 86 Wn. App. 852 (1997), the court held that the 1995 amendment applies to all prior felony convictions, regardless of whether the conviction was previously washed out.*

Out-of-state Convictions: In calculating the Offender Score, out-of-state convictions must be compared to Washington law.

*The question of whether a foreign conviction constituted a felony was discussed in State v. Southerland, 43 Wn. App. 246 (1986).*

The 1986 amendments made several changes to this section:

Added a definition of "prior conviction" and a definition of "other current offenses" in subsection (1);

Provided that Class A juvenile convictions always count in the criminal history score if a juvenile was at least 15 at the time of the offense (previously, juvenile convictions no longer counted after the person was 23 years of age);

Changed the scoring rules for felony traffic offenses;

Clarified the fact that anticipatory offenses are to be counted the same as completed offenses for the purpose of scoring current convictions; and Allowed post-1986 prior adult convictions which were served concurrently to be counted separately.

The 1987 amendments changed the scoring rules for First and Second Degree Escape. All prior felony convictions count in the criminal history score instead of only prior escapes counting. However, only prior escape convictions count against Willful Failure to Return from Furlough and Willful Failure to Return from Work Release or Escape from Community Custody.

The Commission recommended some changes to this section to clarify ambiguities and correct previous drafting errors. The rule on scoring for serious violent offenses (RCW 9.94A.360(10)) as amended to include Homicide by Abuse. The 1987 Legislature defined this crime as a serious violent offense, but neglected to reference it in the rules on offender scoring.

The scoring rules for felony traffic offenses were amended to clarify that prior Vehicular Assaults also receive two points. This scoring procedure was previously reflected in the Offender Score Matrix, but the narrative was not accurate. Because of drafting errors caused by having the scoring rules in two sections, the Commission recommended the Offender Score Matrix (RCW 9.94A.330) be repealed, which it was in 1988.

The 1988 Legislature added a point to the offender score if the current offense was committed while the offender was on community placement.

Several scoring rules were changed by the 1990 Legislature. These changes are effective for crimes committed after June 30, 1990, and include:

Adult and juvenile prior sex offenses are always included in the offender score; they do not wash out.

Juvenile sex offenses are counted regardless of the age of the offender at the time of commission of the juvenile offense or the current offense.

Juvenile prior convictions for violent offenses that are sentenced on the same day now count as separate crimes in cases involving separate victims.

Residential Burglary was included with First and Second Degree Burglary in the offender scoring rules. The 1989 Legislature neglected to amend this section in the bill creating the crime of Residential Burglary.

Prior and other current sex offenses count three points when the current conviction is a sex offense.

The 1995 Legislature required that juvenile convictions for serious violent offenses (as defined in RCW 9.94A.030(29)) always be counted in the offender score, regardless of the offender's age at the time of the offense. The Legislature also prohibited "wash out" of a prior conviction if, within the prescribed time period, an offender commits a crime for which he or she is subsequently convicted. Thus the qualifying period is measured not from release until a subsequent conviction, but from release until a subsequent offense. Intervening misdemeanors and gross misdemeanors, as well as felonies, appear to preclude "wash out." The legislation also amended (3) to classify federal convictions according to comparable Washington definitions and sentences, and to classify federal felony convictions as class C felonies, for purposes of calculating the offender score, when there is no clearly comparable Washington offense. In addition, (6) was amended to permit a sentencing court to presume that certain prior offenses did not encompass the same criminal conduct for scoring purposes. The term "served concurrently" in (6) was defined by adding (6)(b).

The 1997 Legislature required that all prior juvenile felonies be counted as criminal history if they were sentenced consecutively, unless the court determines that they constituted the "same criminal conduct" as defined in RCW 9.94A.400. The Legislature did not change the fractional point values assigned to certain juvenile offenses.

The 1999 Legislature amended RCW 9.94A.360 to ensure that all "serious violent" offenses are "triples scored" as criminal history when the current offense is another "serious violent" offense, including Manslaughter 1, which was added to the list of "serious violent" offenses in 1997.

The 1999 Legislature also clarified that, although prior DUI-related convictions may not be considered in history when the current offense is Vehicular Homicide by Being Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or Any Drug (because a two-year enhancement results from each prior DUI-related offense in such cases), other prior non-DUI-related serious traffic offenses should be included in the offender score when the current offense is Vehicular Homicide by Being Under the Influence of Intoxicating Liquor or Any Drug.

The 2007 Legislature increased auto theft-related penalties, triple scored prior offenses for adult, motor vehicle-related offenses (Theft, Possession of a Stolen Vehicle, and Taking a Motor Vehicle Without Permission), and began counting prior Vehicle Prowling a prior convictions when calculating an offender's sentence.

The 2007 legislature also modified the points counted for felony traffic offenses to make the offense of Operating a Vehicle Under the Influence count in a person's offender score. The Legislature also made calculating the offender score for Homicide by Watercraft and Assault by Watercraft similar to calculating the offender score for Vehicular Homicide and Vehicular Assault.

In 2007, the Court of Appeals held that the trial court's failure to determine on the record whether defendant's prior convictions constituted same criminal conduct was harmless error, because the standard sentence range would not have been affected. State v. Fleming, 140 Wn. App. 132 (2007).

The Supreme Court held that given these unique circumstances – where defense counsel acknowledged the offender score, defense counsel never retracted the acknowledgement, and the only objection was a pro se argument at a hearing to determine the eligibility for electronic home monitoring after repeated continuances – it is inequitable to deny the State an opportunity to prove the existence of the defendant's prior convictions at the resentencing hearing. State v. Bergstrom, 162 Wn.2d 87 (2007).

The Court of Appeals held that defendant's offenses of child rape and incest do not constitute "same criminal conduct" and must be counted separately in the offender score. Additionally, because defendant's current offender score was 20 for his child rape convictions and 17 for his incest convictions, the offender score calculation error was harmless. State v. Bobenhouse, 143 Wn. App 315 (2008).

The Court also held that RCW 9.94A.525(14) requires that every prior conviction be counted individually when calculating the offender score for Escape. In re Lofton, 142 Wn. App. 412 (2008).

RCW 9.94A.530

Standard sentence range.

1) The intersection of the column defined by the offender score and the row defined by the offense seriousness score determines the standard sentence range (see RCW 9.94A.510, (Table 1) and RCW 9.94A.517, (Table 3)). The additional time for deadly weapon findings or for other adjustments as specified in RCW 9.94A.533 shall be added to the entire standard sentence range. The court may impose any sentence within the range that it deems appropriate. All standard sentence ranges are expressed in terms of total confinement.

(2) In determining any sentence other than a sentence above the standard range, the trial court may rely on no more information than is admitted by the plea agreement, or admitted, acknowledged, or proved in a trial or at the time of sentencing, or proven pursuant to RCW 9.94A.537. Acknowledgment includes not objecting to information stated in the presentence reports and not objecting to criminal history presented at the time of sentencing. Where the defendant disputes material facts, the court must either not consider the fact or grant an evidentiary hearing on the point. The facts shall be deemed proved at the hearing by a preponderance of the evidence, except as otherwise specified in RCW 9.94A.537. On remand for resentencing following appeal or collateral attack, the parties shall have the opportunity to present and the court to consider all relevant evidence regarding criminal history, including criminal history not previously presented.

(3) In determining any sentence above the standard sentence range, the court shall follow the procedures set forth in RCW 9.94A.537. Facts that establish the elements of a more serious crime or additional crimes may not be used to go outside the standard sentence range except upon stipulation or when specifically provided for in RCW 9.94A.535(3)(d), (e), (g), and (h).

Comments

The Commission believed that defendants should be sentenced on the basis of facts which are acknowledged, proven, or pleaded to. Concerns were raised about facts which were not proven as an element of the conviction or the plea being used as a basis for sentence decisions, including decisions to depart from the sentence range. As a result, the "real facts policy" was adopted. Amendments in 1986 clarified that facts proven in a trial can be used by a court in determining a sentence.

If the defendant disputes information in the presentence investigation, it is anticipated that an evidentiary hearing will be held to resolve the issue.

In 2007, the Court of Appeals held that the trial court did not incorrectly determine the defendant's offender score by basing calculation on insufficient evidence of the defendant's criminal history, because in determining any sentence, the trial court may rely on no more information than is admitted in the plea agreement, or admitted, acknowledged, or provided in a trial or at the time of sentencing. State v. Fleming, 140 Wn. App. 132 (2007).

In 2008, the Legislature amended RCW 9.94A.500 to provide that a criminal history summary relating to the defendant from the prosecuting attorney or from a state, federal or foreign governmental agency, shall be prima facie evidence of the existence and validity of the convictions listed therein. This was in response to the Court holding that such a summary was insufficient to establish criminal history for sentencing purposes, that the State must introduce evidence of some kind to support the alleged criminal history, and that the best evidence of a prior conviction is a certified copy of the judgment. State v. Mendoza, 139 Wn. App. 693 (2007).

RCW 9.94A.533

Adjustments to standard sentences.

(1) The provisions of this section apply to the standard sentence ranges determined by RCW 9.94A.510 or 9.94A.517.

(2) For persons convicted of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the standard sentence range is determined by locating the sentencing grid sentence range defined by the appropriate offender score and the seriousness level of the completed crime, and multiplying the range by seventy-five percent.

(3) The following additional times shall be added to the standard sentence range for felony crimes committed after July 23, 1995, if the offender or an accomplice was armed with a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any firearm enhancements based on the classification of the completed felony crime. If the offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the firearm enhancement or enhancements must be added to the total period of confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to a firearm enhancement. If the offender or an accomplice was armed with a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any firearm enhancements, the following additional times shall be added to the standard sentence range determined under subsection (2) of this section based on the felony crime of conviction as classified under RCW 9A.28.020:

(a) Five years for any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or with a statutory maximum sentence of at least twenty years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection;

(b) Three years for any felony defined under any law as a class B felony or with a statutory maximum sentence of ten years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection;

(c) Eighteen months for any felony defined under any law as a class C felony or with a statutory maximum sentence of five years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection;

(d) If the offender is being sentenced for any firearm enhancements under (a), (b), and/or (c)

of this subsection and the offender has previously been sentenced for any deadly weapon enhancements after July 23, 1995, under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection or subsection (4)(a), (b), and/or (c) of this section, or both, all firearm enhancements under this subsection shall be twice the amount of the enhancement listed;

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all firearm enhancements under this section are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other firearm or deadly weapon enhancements, for all offenses sentenced under this chapter. However, whether or not a mandatory minimum term has expired, an offender serving a sentence under this subsection may be granted an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.728\(4\);

(f) The firearm enhancements in this section shall apply to all felony crimes except the following: Possession of a machine gun, possessing a stolen firearm, drive-by shooting, theft of a firearm, unlawful possession of a firearm in the first and second degree, and use of a machine gun in a felony;

(g) If the standard sentence range under this section exceeds the statutory maximum sentence for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender. If the addition of a firearm enhancement increases the sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced.

(4) The following additional times shall be added to the standard sentence range for felony crimes committed after July 23, 1995, if the offender or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon other than a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any deadly weapon enhancements based on the classification of the completed felony crime. If the offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the deadly weapon enhancement or enhancements must be added to the total period of confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to a deadly weapon enhancement. If the offender or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon other than a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any deadly weapon enhancements, the following additional times shall be added to the standard sentence range determined under subsection (2) of this section based on the felony crime of conviction as classified under RCW 9A.28.020:

(a) Two years for any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or with a statutory maximum sentence of at least twenty years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection;

(b) One year for any felony defined under any law as a class B felony or with a statutory maximum sentence of ten years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection;

(c) Six months for any felony defined under any law as a class C felony or with a statutory maximum sentence of five years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection;

(d) If the offender is being sentenced under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection for any deadly weapon enhancements and the offender has previously been sentenced for any deadly weapon enhancements after July 23, 1995, under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection or subsection (3)(a), (b), and/or (c) of this section, or both, all deadly weapon enhancements under this subsection shall be twice the amount of the enhancement listed;

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all deadly weapon enhancements under this section are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other firearm or deadly weapon enhancements, for all offenses sentenced under this chapter. However, whether or not a mandatory minimum term has expired, an offender serving a sentence under this subsection may be granted an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.728(4);

(f) The deadly weapon enhancements in this section shall apply to all felony crimes except the following: Possession of a machine gun, possessing a stolen firearm, drive-by shooting, theft of a firearm, unlawful possession of a firearm in the first and second degree, and use of a machine gun in a felony;

(g) If the standard sentence range under this section exceeds the statutory maximum sentence for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender. If the addition of a deadly weapon enhancement increases the sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced.

(5) The following additional times shall be added to the standard sentence range if the offender or an accomplice committed the offense while in a county jail or state correctional facility and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection. If the offender or an accomplice committed one of the crimes listed in this subsection while in a county jail or state correctional facility, and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection, the following additional times shall be added to the standard sentence range determined under subsection (2) of this section:

(a) Eighteen months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(2) (a) or (b) or 69.50.410;

(b) Fifteen months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(2) (c), (d), or (e);

(c) Twelve months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.4013.

For the purposes of this subsection, all of the real property of a state correctional facility or county jail shall be deemed to be part of that facility or county jail.

(6) An additional twenty-four months shall be added to the standard sentence range for any ranked offense involving a violation of chapter 69.50 RCW if the offense was also a violation of RCW 69.50.435 or 9.94A.605. All enhancements under this subsection shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, for all offenses sentenced under this chapter.

(7) An additional two years shall be added to the standard sentence range for vehicular homicide committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.502 for each prior offense as defined in RCW 46.61.5055.

(8)(a) The following additional times shall be added to the standard sentence range for felony crimes committed on or after July 1, 2006, if the offense was committed with sexual motivation, as that term is defined in RCW 9.94A.030. If the offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the sexual motivation enhancement must be added to the total period of total confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to a sexual motivation enhancement. If the offender committed the offense with sexual motivation and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the following additional times shall be added to the standard sentence range determined under subsection (2) of this section based on the felony crime of conviction as classified under RCW 9A.28.020:

(i) Two years for any felony defined under the law as a class A felony or with a statutory maximum sentence of at least twenty years, or both;

(ii) Eighteen months for any felony defined under any law as a class B felony or with a statutory maximum sentence of ten years, or both;

(iii) One year for any felony defined under any law as a class C felony or with a statutory maximum sentence of five years, or both;

(iv) If the offender is being sentenced for any sexual motivation enhancements under (i), (ii), and/or (iii) of this subsection and the offender has previously been sentenced for any sexual motivation enhancements on or after July 1, 2006, under (i), (ii), and/or (iii) of this subsection, all sexual motivation enhancements under this subsection shall be twice the amount of the enhancement listed;

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all sexual motivation enhancements under this subsection are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other sexual motivation enhancements, for all offenses sentenced under this chapter. However, whether or not a mandatory minimum term has expired, an offender serving a sentence under this subsection may be granted an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.728(4);

(c) The sexual motivation enhancements in this subsection apply to all felony crimes;

(d) If the standard sentence range under this subsection exceeds the statutory maximum sentence for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender. If the addition of a sexual motivation enhancement increases the sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced;

(e) The portion of the total confinement sentence which the offender must serve under this subsection shall be calculated before any earned early release time is credited to the offender;

(f) Nothing in this subsection prevents a sentencing court from imposing a sentence outside the standard sentence range pursuant to RCW 9.94A.535.

(9) An additional one-year enhancement shall be added to the standard sentence range for the felony crimes of RCW 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, 9A.44.079, 9A.44.083, 9A.44.086, or 9A.44.089 committed on or after July 22, 2007, if the offender engaged, agreed, or offered to engage the victim in the sexual conduct in return for a fee. If the offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the one-year enhancement must be added to the total period of total confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to the enhancement. If the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense for the felony crimes of RCW 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, 9A.44.079, 9A.44.083, 9A.44.086, or 9A.44.089, and the offender attempted, solicited another, or conspired to engage, agree, or offer to engage the victim in the sexual conduct in return for a fee, an additional one-year enhancement shall be added to the standard sentence range determined under subsection (2) of this section. For purposes of this subsection, "sexual conduct" means sexual intercourse or sexual contact, both as defined in chapter 9A.44 RCW.

(10)(a) For a person age eighteen or older convicted of any criminal street gang-related felony offense for which the person compensated, threatened, or solicited a minor in order to involve the minor in the commission of the felony offense, the standard sentence range is determined by locating the sentencing grid sentence range defined by the appropriate offender score and the seriousness level of the completed crime, and multiplying the range by one hundred twenty-five percent. If the standard sentence range under this subsection exceeds the statutory maximum sentence for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence is the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender.

(b) This subsection does not apply to any criminal street gang-related felony offense for which involving a minor in the commission of the felony offense is an element of the offense.

(c) The increased penalty specified in (a) of this subsection is unavailable in the event that the prosecution gives notice that it will seek an exceptional sentence based on an aggravating factor under RCW 9.94A.535.

(11) An additional twelve months and one day shall be added to the standard sentence range for a conviction of attempting to elude a police vehicle as defined by RCW 46.61.024, if the conviction included a finding by special allegation of endangering one or more persons under RCW 9.94A.834.

Comments

The 2007 Legislature created a specific one-year sentence enhancement for Rape of a Child and Child Molestation when the perpetrator engaged, agreed, or offered to engage the victim in sexual contact for a fee.

In State v. Brown, 162, Wn.2d 422 (2007), the Supreme Court held that, "armed" as used in this statute, is limited to situations in which a weapon is readily available and easily accessible and there is a nexus based on the facts of the case.

The 2008 Legislature added a twelve month and one day "Endangerment by Eluding" enhancement to the presumptive sentence for Attempting to Elude a Police Vehicle under RCW 46.61.021. RCW 9.94A.834. In order to obtain the enhancement, the State must file a special allegation and prove beyond a reasonable doubt that one or more persons other than the defendant or the pursuing law enforcement officer were threatened with physical injury or harm by the actions of the eluder.

The 2008 Legislature also gave the State two alternative methods to increase the sentence of a gang-related offender who compensates, threatens or solicits a minor to involve the minor in the commission of a felony: an enhancement and an aggravator. The enhancement is an alternative to the aggravator because, where the State gives notice that it will seek an exceptional sentence based on the aggravating factor, the enhancement is unavailable. RCW 9.94A.533(1)(c).

This enhancement is unique in that it increases the standard range sentence for the underlying crime. RCW 9.94A.533(10). When the State files a special allegation and proves that a felony offense involved the compensation, threatening, or solicitation of a minor in order to involve that minor in the commission of the felony offense, the standard range for that felony is determined by multiplying the grid range by 125%. RCW 9.94A.533(1)(a). The enhancement does not apply to any criminal street gang-related felony for which involving a minor in the commission of the felony is already an element of the offense. RCW 9.94A.533(1)(b).

In 2008, the Supreme Court considered the sufficiency of the evidence to support the firearm enhancement. State v. Neff, 163 Wn.2d 453 (2008). The Court also held that the trial court exceeded its authority when it imposed a sentence enhancement for being armed with a firearm, when the jury had returned a "true" finding on a deadly weapon allegation. State v. Recuenco, 163 Wn.2d 428 (2008). The error was not harmless, as it can never be harmless to sentence someone for a crime not charged, not sought at trial, and not found by a jury. Id.

The Court of Appeals held that the State does not need to follow any other specific statutory procedure, other than that found in RCW 9.94A., in order to obtain a firearm enhancement. State v. Anderson, 144 Wn. App. 85 (2008).

The Court also held that the Legislature did not intend that RCW 9.94A.533(5)(c), a zone enhancement, to apply if the defendant did not voluntarily introduce drugs into the county jail. State v. Eaton, 143 Wn. App. 155 (2008).

RCW 9.94A.535

Departures from the guidelines.

The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for an offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence. Facts supporting aggravated sentences, other than the fact of a prior conviction, shall be determined pursuant to the provisions of RCW 9.94A.537.

Whenever a sentence outside the standard sentence range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard sentence range shall be a determinate sentence.

If the sentencing court finds that an exceptional sentence outside the standard sentence range should be imposed, the sentence is subject to review only as provided for in RCW 9.94A.585(4).

A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.589 (1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in this section, and may be appealed by the offender or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.585 (2) through (6).

(1) Mitigating Circumstances - Court to Consider

The court may impose an exceptional sentence below the standard range if it finds that mitigating circumstances are established by a preponderance of the evidence. The following are illustrative only and are not intended to be exclusive reasons for exceptional sentences.

(a) To a significant degree, the victim was an initiator, willing participant, aggressor, or provoker of the incident.

(b) Before detection, the defendant compensated, or made a good faith effort to compensate, the victim of the criminal conduct for any damage or injury sustained.

(c) The defendant committed the crime under duress, coercion, threat, or compulsion insufficient to constitute a complete defense but which significantly affected his or her conduct.

(d) The defendant, with no apparent predisposition to do so, was induced by others to participate in the crime.

(e) The defendant's capacity to appreciate the wrongfulness of his or her conduct, or to conform his or her conduct to the requirements of the law, was significantly impaired. Voluntary use of drugs or alcohol is excluded.

(f) The offense was principally accomplished by another person and the defendant manifested extreme caution or sincere concern for the safety or well-being of the victim.

(g) The operation of the multiple offense policy of RCW 9.94A.589 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly excessive in light of the purpose of this chapter, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

(h) The defendant or the defendant's children suffered a continuing pattern of physical or sexual abuse by the victim of the offense and the offense is a response to that abuse.

(2) Aggravating Circumstances - Considered and Imposed by the Court

The trial court may impose an aggravated exceptional sentence without a finding of fact by a jury under the following circumstances:

(a) The defendant and the state both stipulate that justice is best served by the imposition of an exceptional sentence outside the standard range, and the court finds the exceptional sentence to be consistent with and in furtherance of the interests of justice and the purposes of the sentencing reform act.

(b) The defendant's prior unscored misdemeanor or prior unscored foreign criminal history results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient in light of the purpose of this chapter, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

(c) The defendant has committed multiple current offenses and the defendant's high offender score results in some of the current offenses going unpunished.

(d) The failure to consider the defendant's prior criminal history which was omitted from the offender score calculation pursuant to RCW 9.94A.525 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient.

(3) Aggravating Circumstances - Considered by a Jury -Imposed by the Court

Except for circumstances listed in subsection (2) of this section, the following circumstances are an exclusive list of factors that can support a sentence above the standard range. Such facts should be determined by procedures specified in RCW 9.94A.537.

(a) The defendant's conduct during the commission of the current offense manifested deliberate cruelty to the victim.

(b) The defendant knew or should have known that the victim of the current offense was particularly vulnerable or incapable of resistance.

(c) The current offense was a violent offense, and the defendant knew that the victim of the current offense was pregnant.

(d) The current offense was a major economic offense or series of offenses, so identified by a consideration of any of the following factors:

(i) The current offense involved multiple victims or multiple incidents per victim;

(ii) The current offense involved attempted or actual monetary loss substantially greater than typical for the offense;

(iii) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning or occurred over a lengthy period of time; or

(iv) The defendant used his or her position of trust, confidence, or fiduciary responsibility to facilitate the commission of the current offense.

(e) The current offense was a major violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW (VUCSA), related to trafficking in controlled substances, which was more onerous than the typical offense of its statutory definition: The presence of ANY of the following may identify a current offense as a major VUCSA:

(i) The current offense involved at least three separate transactions in which controlled substances were sold, transferred, or possessed with intent to do so;

(ii) The current offense involved an attempted or actual sale or transfer of controlled substances in quantities substantially larger than for personal use;

(iii) The current offense involved the manufacture of controlled substances for use by other parties;

(iv) The circumstances of the current offense reveal the offender to have occupied a high position in the drug distribution hierarchy;

(v) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning, occurred over a lengthy period of time, or involved a broad geographic area of disbursement; or

(vi) The offender used his or her position or status to facilitate the commission of the current offense, including positions of trust, confidence or fiduciary responsibility (e.g., pharmacist, physician, or other medical professional).

(f) The current offense included a finding of sexual motivation pursuant to RCW 9.94A.835.

(g) The offense was part of an ongoing pattern of sexual abuse of the same victim under the age of eighteen years manifested by multiple incidents over a prolonged period of time.

(h) The current offense involved domestic violence, as defined in RCW 10.99.020, and one or more of the following was present:

(i) The offense was part of an ongoing pattern of psychological, physical, or sexual abuse of the victim manifested by multiple incidents over a prolonged period of time;

(ii) The offense occurred within sight or sound of the victim's or the offender's minor children under the age of eighteen years; or

(iii) The offender's conduct during the commission of the current offense manifested deliberate cruelty or intimidation of the victim.

(i) The offense resulted in the pregnancy of a child victim of rape.

(j) The defendant knew that the victim of the current offense was a youth who was not residing with a legal custodian and the defendant established or promoted the relationship for the primary purpose of victimization.

(k) The offense was committed with the intent to obstruct or impair human or animal health care or agricultural or forestry research or commercial production.

(l) The current offense is trafficking in the first degree or trafficking in the second degree and any victim was a minor at the time of the offense.

(m) The offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning.

(n) The defendant used his or her position of trust, confidence, or fiduciary responsibility to facilitate the commission of the current offense.

(o) The defendant committed a current sex offense, has a history of sex offenses, and is not amenable to treatment.

(p) The offense involved an invasion of the victim's privacy.

(q) The defendant demonstrated or displayed an egregious lack of remorse.

(r) The offense involved a destructive and foreseeable impact on persons other than the victim.

(s) The defendant committed the offense to obtain or maintain his or her membership or to advance his or her position in the hierarchy of an organization, association, or identifiable group.

(t) The defendant committed the current offense shortly after being released from incarceration.

(u) The current offense is a burglary and the victim of the burglary was present in the building or residence when the crime was committed.

(v) The offense was committed against a law enforcement officer who was performing his or her official duties at the time of the offense, the offender knew that the victim was a law enforcement officer, and the victim's status as a law enforcement officer is not an element of the offense.

(w) The defendant committed the offense against a victim who was acting as a good samaritan.

(x) The defendant committed the offense against a public official or officer of the court in retaliation of the public official's performance of his or her duty to the criminal justice system.

(y) The victim's injuries substantially exceed the level of bodily harm necessary to satisfy the elements of the offense. This aggravator is not an exception to RCW 9.94A.530\(2\).

(z)(i)(A) The current offense is theft in the first degree, theft in the second degree, possession of stolen property in the first degree, or possession of stolen property in the second degree; (B) the stolen property involved is metal property; and (C) the property damage to the victim caused in the course of the theft of metal property is more than three times the value of the stolen metal property, or the theft of the metal property creates a public hazard.

(ii) For purposes of this subsection, "metal property" means commercial metal property, private metal property, or nonferrous metal property, as defined in RCW 19.290.010.

(aa) The defendant committed the offense with the intent to directly or indirectly cause any benefit, aggrandizement, gain, profit, or other advantage to or for a criminal street gang as defined in RCW 9.94A.030, its reputation, influence, or membership.

Standard sentence ranges represent the appropriate sanction for the "typical" case. The judge will consider individual factors when setting the determinate sentence within the standard sentence range. Some cases, however, are exceptional and require departure from the standard sentence range.

Although it was recognized that not all exceptional fact patterns can be anticipated, the Commission determined that a carefully considered nonexclusive list of appropriate justifications for departures from the standard range would be helpful to both the trial and appellate courts. This list is intended as a frame of reference for the court to use in identifying the exceptional case. The list includes examples of mitigating and aggravating factors. As the state has gained more experience with this new sentencing system, additional factors have been added to this list.

One illustrative mitigating factor concerns operation of the multiple offense policy. The Commission was particularly concerned about multiple offenses committed in separate jurisdictions where separate sentencing hearings would occur, thus resulting in a higher presumptive sentence than if the crimes were committed in a single jurisdiction and there was only one hearing. In that instance, if the multiple offense policy results in such comparatively high presumptive sentences, the judge might want to consider departing from the standard sentence range in order to impose a less severe sentence, depending, of course, on the particular set of case facts. There was also concern that the multiple offense policy might sometimes result in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient in light of the purposes of this chapter.

The 1986 amendments provided better enumeration of the aggravating and mitigating factors. In addition, the reference to firearm possession in major VUCSA offenses was removed. The Commission decided that when firearm use was charged, it should be used to set a sentence within the standard range or as part of a sentence enhancement under RCW9.94A.310; if firearm use is not charged, it can influence the sentence only upon the stipulation of both parties under RCW9.94A.370. The other 1986 amendment added the adjective "current" to subsection (2) to make it clear that aggravating factors only apply to the circumstances surrounding the charged offense.

The 1990 Legislature added a finding of sexual motivation as an aggravating factor.

The 1995 Legislature authorized an exceptional sentence above the standard range when a defendant's prior unscored misdemeanor or foreign criminal history results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient.

The 1996 Legislature added two new statutory aggravating factors: (1) that the offense was violent and the defendant knew the victim was pregnant, and (2) that the offense involved domestic violence and additional circumstances as defined.

The 1997 Legislature authorized an exceptional sentence above the range in cases where a rape resulted in the pregnancy of a child victim.

The 1999 Legislature added a new aggravating factor: the defendant knew that the victim of the current offense was a youth who was not residing with a legal custodian and the defendant established or promoted the relationship for the primary purpose of victimization.

*The Supreme Court reaffirmed in 1999 that an aggravating factor of “future dangerousness” may not be used as a justification to impose an exceptional sentence, unless the offense is a sex offense. See State v. Halgren, 137 Wn.2d 340 (1999).*

The 2007 Legislature added a new aggravating factor, allowing the Court to impose a sentence above the standard range for Theft in the First and Second Degree when the stolen property is commercial metal property or nonferrous metal property and the property damage to the victim caused in the course of the theft of metal property is more than three times the value of the stolen metal property, or the theft of the metal property creates a public hazard.

*In 2007 the Supreme Court held that a sentencing court has discretion to impose concurrent sentences for separate serious violent sentences as an exceptional sentence. In re Mulholland, 161 Wn.2d 322 (2007).*

*The Court of Appeals held that, where the defendant makes an agreed recommendation of an exceptional sentence as part of his plea, the sentencing court does not need to find any additional facts in order to impose an exceptional sentence. State v. Dillon, 142 Wn. App. 269 (2007).*

*The Court also held that RCW 9.94A.535, authorizing exceptional sentences, also applies to exceptional conditions and terms of community custody. In re Smith, 139 Wn. App. 600 (2007).*

*In State v. Halsey, 140 Wn. App. 313 (2007), the court reviewed the factors considered by the sentencing court and concluded that defendant’s 720 month sentence was not “clearly excessive.”*

The 2008 Legislature added another new aggravating factor: that the offense was intentionally committed directly or indirectly for the benefit, aggrandizement, gain, profit, advantage, reputation, membership, or influence of a gang. The Legislature also added the term “private metal property” to the definition of “metal property” under RCW 9.94A.533(3)(z).

*The Supreme Court ruled in 2008 that Blakely v. Washington, 542 U.S. 296, 124 S.Ct. 2531, 159 L.Ed.2d 403 (2004), required the jury, not the trial court, to make the factual determination that offenses are “a major VUCSA.” State v. Flores, 164 Wn.2d 1 (2008). The failure to submit aggravating circumstances to the jury was not harmless error. State v. Hall, 163 Wn.2d 346 (2008).*

*The court also held that trial courts lacked authority to submit special interrogatories to juries at trial in deviation from legislatively prescribed exceptional sentence procedures, during the period between the U.S. Supreme Court’s issuance of Blakely and the effective date of the 2005 amendment.*

The Court of Appeals ruled that RCW 9.94A.535(3)(y), permitting a departure from the standard range when “[t]he victim’s injuries substantially exceed the level of bodily harm necessary to satisfy the elements of the offense” does not violate due process vagueness prohibitions. State v. Stubbs, 144 Wn. App. 644 (2008).

In State v. Bunker, 144 Wn. App. 407, the Court ruled that a trial court’s belief that it lacks the discretion to depart downward from the standard sentencing range is itself an abuse of discretion. The court should have considered whether facts showing that the victim was willingly present in the defendant’s truck was a reason to depart downward on his sentence for violating a no-contact order.

The Court held that due process is not violated where the State provides notice of intent to prove specified aggravating factors, but does not allege aggravating factors in the Information. However, in this case, there was insufficient evidence to support the trial court’s findings that the defendant’s conduct manifested deliberate cruelty, an egregious lack of remorse, or retaliation against his probation officer for the performance of his duties. Therefore, the exceptional sentence was reversed and the case remanded for a standard range sentence. State v. Berrier, 143 Wn. App. 547 (2008).

The Court held that concurrent minimum sentences of 600 months on each of 20 rape counts were less than the statutory maximum of life and therefore, the exceptional minimum sentence did not violate the holding of Blakely v. Washington requiring the jury to decide factual issues increasing a sentence beyond the statutory maximum. State v. Bobenhouse, 143 Wn. App. 315 (2008).

The Court held that because judicial findings required for a sentencing court to impose an exceptional sentence under RCW 9.94A.535(2)(c) relate solely to criminal history, it is constitutionally permissible for a sentence court to make that finding and impose an exceptional sentence on that basis. State v. Newlum, 142 Wn. App. 730 (2008).

The Court held that because RCW 9.94A.535 contains an exclusive list of aggravating factors, the court erred in basing an exceptional sentence on a factor (“that the sentence was clearly too lenient”) that is not found in that statute. If it was an aggravating factor, the jury should have determined whether sufficient facts existed, not the Court. State v. Vance, 142 Wn. App. 398

Finally, the Court held that the defendant’s consecutive sentences did not violate Blakely and Apprendi because the trial court made factual findings under RCW 9.94A.535(2) to support the sentence, and because the jury found, in a special verdict, that the defendant committed one of his offenses with sexual motivation. State v. Grenning, 142 Wn. App. 518 (2008).

Aggravating circumstances — Sentences above standard range.

(1) At any time prior to trial or entry of the guilty plea if substantial rights of the defendant are not prejudiced, the state may give notice that it is seeking a sentence above the standard sentencing range. The notice shall state aggravating circumstances upon which the requested sentence will be based.

(2) In any case where an exceptional sentence above the standard range was imposed and where a new sentencing hearing is required, the superior court may impanel a jury to consider any alleged aggravating circumstances listed in RCW 9.94A.535(3), that were relied upon by the superior court in imposing the previous sentence, at the new sentencing hearing.

(3) The facts supporting aggravating circumstances shall be proved to a jury beyond a reasonable doubt. The jury's verdict on the aggravating factor must be unanimous, and by special interrogatory. If a jury is waived, proof shall be to the court beyond a reasonable doubt, unless the defendant stipulates to the aggravating facts.

(4) Evidence regarding any facts supporting aggravating circumstances under RCW 9.94A.535(3) (a) through (y) shall be presented to the jury during the trial of the alleged crime, unless the jury has been impaneled solely for resentencing, or unless the state alleges the aggravating circumstances listed in RCW 9.94A.535(3) (e)(iv), (h)(i), (o), or (t). If one of these aggravating circumstances is alleged, the trial court may conduct a separate proceeding if the evidence supporting the aggravating fact is not part of the res geste of the charged crime, if the evidence is not otherwise admissible in trial of the charged crime, and if the court finds that the probative value of the evidence to the aggravated fact is substantially outweighed by its prejudicial effect on the jury's ability to determine guilt or innocence for the underlying crime.

(5) If the superior court conducts a separate proceeding to determine the existence of aggravating circumstances listed in RCW 9.94A.535(3) (e)(iv), (h)(i), (o), or (t), the proceeding shall immediately follow the trial on the underlying conviction, if possible. If any person who served on the jury is unable to continue, the court shall substitute an alternate juror.

(6) If the jury finds, unanimously and beyond a reasonable doubt, one or more of the facts alleged by the state in support of an aggravated sentence, the court may sentence the offender pursuant to RCW 9.94A.535 to a term of confinement up to the maximum allowed under RCW 9A.20.021 for the underlying conviction if it finds, considering the purposes of this chapter, that the facts found are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

Notes:

Intent -- 2007 c 205: "In State v. Pillatos, 150 P.3d 1130 (2007), the Washington supreme court held that the changes made to the sentencing reform act concerning exceptional sentences in chapter 68, Laws of 2005 do not apply to cases where the trials had already begun or guilty pleas had already been entered prior to the effective date of the act on April 15, 2005. The legislature intends that the superior courts shall have the authority to impanel juries to find aggravating circumstances in all cases that come before the courts for trial or sentencing, regardless of the date of the original trial or sentencing." Effective date -- 2007 c 205: "This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately [April 27, 2007]." [2007 c 205 § 3.]

Intent -- 2005 c 68: "The legislature intends to conform the sentencing reform act, chapter 9.94A RCW, to comply with the ruling in Blakely v. Washington, 542 U.S. ... (2004). In that case, the United States supreme court held that a criminal defendant has a Sixth Amendment right to have a jury determine beyond a reasonable doubt any aggravating fact, other than the fact of a prior conviction, that is used to impose greater punishment than the standard range or standard conditions. The legislature intends that aggravating facts, other than the fact of a prior conviction, will be placed before the jury. The legislature intends that the sentencing court will then decide whether or not the aggravating fact is a substantial and compelling reason to impose greater punishment. The legislature intends to create a new criminal procedure for imposing greater punishment than the standard range or conditions and to codify existing common law aggravating factors, without expanding or restricting existing statutory or common law aggravating circumstances. The legislature does not intend the codification of common law aggravating factors to expand or restrict currently available statutory or common law aggravating circumstances. The legislature does not intend to alter how mitigating facts are to be determined under the sentencing reform act, and thus intends that mitigating facts will be found by the sentencing court by a preponderance of the evidence.

While the legislature intends to bring the sentencing reform act into compliance as previously indicated, the legislature recognizes the need to restore the judicial discretion that has been limited as a result of the Blakely decision." [2005 c 68 § 1.]

Severability -- 2005 c 68: "If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected." [2005 c 68 § 6.]

*When a person is convicted of a crime, a court must generally sentence the offender within a standard range determined by the person's criminal history and the seriousness level of the crime. Prior to 2004, a court could sentence an offender above the standard range if it found, by a preponderance of the evidence, that aggravating circumstances existed. This type of sentence is known as an "exceptional sentence." In 2004, the United States Supreme Court ruled that sentencing an offender above the standard range in this manner is unconstitutional. Blakely v. Washington, 542 U.S. 296 (2004). Under the Blakely decision, the prosecution has the burden to prove any factor that increases an offender's sentence above the standard range, other than the fact of a prior conviction, to a jury beyond a reasonable doubt.*

*In 2005, the Legislature responded to the Blakely, decision by changing the manner in which exceptional sentences are imposed. Under this new procedure, the prosecutor must provide notice that he or she is seeking an exceptional sentence above the standard range at any time prior to trial or the entry of a guilty plea so long as the substantial rights of the defendant are not prejudiced. The prosecutor must then prove the aggravating circumstances justifying the exceptional sentence to a jury (or to the judge if the jury is waived) beyond a reasonable doubt.*

*In 2007, the Washington State Supreme Court ruled that changes the Legislature made in 2005 do not apply to cases where trials have already begun or guilty pleas have already been entered prior to the effective date of the legislation (April 15, 2005). State v. Pillatos, 159 Wn.2d 459 (2007). The Pillatos Court also held that courts do not have the inherent power to empanel sentencing juries; i.e., the courts must have statutory authority to do so.*

*In 2007, the Legislature responded to the Pillatos ruling, giving courts specific authority to empanel a jury to consider aggravating circumstances, regardless of the date of the original trial or sentencing.*

*In 2007, the Court of Appeals held that, where the defendant makes an agreed recommendation of an exceptional sentence as part of his plea, the sentencing court does not need to find any additional facts in order to impose an exceptional sentence. State v. Dillon, 142 Wn. App. 269 (2007).*

The Court held that the sentence court had authority to empanel a jury to find aggravating circumstances warranting an exceptional sentence for an offense committed before RCW 9.94A.537 went into effect, because defendant entered a plea after the statute's effective date and the prior statutory exceptional sentencing scheme put the defendant on fair notice of the risk of receiving such a sentence. State v. Murawski, 139 Wn. App. 587 (2007).

The Court refused to bar the State from appealing the trial court's imposition of a standard range sentence where it is not contesting the length of the sentence, but the sentencing court's decision not to apply RCW 9.94A.537. It also held that double jeopardy does not prevent remand for a jury to be empanelled to consider aggravating factors for sentencing in accordance with RCW 9.94A.537. State v. Murawski, 142 Wn. App. 278 (2007).

The Supreme Court ruled in 2008 that Blakely v. Washington, 542 U.S. 296, 124 S.Ct. 2531, 159 L.Ed.2d 403 (2004), required the jury, not the trial court, to make the factual determination that offenses are "a major VUCSA." State v. Flores, 164 Wn.2d 1 (2008). The failure to submit aggravating circumstances to the jury was not harmless error. State v. Hall, 163 Wn.2d 346 (2008).

The court also held that trial courts lacked authority to submit special interrogatories to juries at trial in deviation from legislatively prescribed exceptional sentence procedures, during the period between the U.S. Supreme Court's issuance of Blakely and the effective date of the 2005 amendment. State v. Davis, 163 Wn.2d 606 (2008).

The court held that because the defendant pled guilty before April 15, 2005, the Blakely-fix statute did not apply to him. Therefore, the trial court erred in impaneling a jury to consider aggravating factors. But the error was harmless because, if the defendant's case was remanded, the Blakely-fix statute would apply and the defendant would be entitled to a jury determination of aggravating factors. State v. Doney, 142 Wn. App. 450 (2008).

The Court of Appeals held that, so long as the defendant's substantial rights are not prejudiced, the State may allege, under former and current RCW 9.94A.537, aggravating factors in its notice of intent to seek an exceptional sentence separate and apart from the information. State v. Berrier, 143 Wn. App. 547 (2008).

The Court also held that sufficient notice of intent to seek an exceptional sentence was provided when notice was sent to the defense attorney, the attorney acknowledged receipt in writing, and the attorney sent notice to the client. State v. Bobenhouse, 143 Wn. App. 315 (2008).

RCW 9.94A.540

Mandatory minimum terms.

(1) Except to the extent provided in subsection (3) of this section, the following minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified under RCW 9.94A.535:

(a) An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years.

(b) An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree or assault of a child in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years.

(c) An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years.

(d) An offender convicted of the crime of sexually violent predator escape shall be sentenced to a minimum term of total confinement not less than sixty months.

(2) During such minimum terms of total confinement, no offender subject to the provisions of this section is eligible for community custody, earned release time, furlough, home detention, partial confinement, work crew, work release, or any other form of early release authorized under RCW 9.94A.728, or any other form of authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility while not in the direct custody of a corrections officer. The provisions of this subsection shall not apply: (a) In the case of an offender in need of emergency medical treatment; (b) for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility in the case of an offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree; or (c) for an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.728(4).

(3)(a) Subsection (1) of this section shall not be applied in sentencing of juveniles tried as adults pursuant to RCW 13.04.030(1)(e)(i).

(b) This subsection (3) applies only to crimes committed on or after July 24, 2005.

Notes:

Findings -- Intent -- 2005 c 437: "(1) The legislature finds that emerging research on brain development indicates that adolescent brains, and thus adolescent intellectual and emotional capabilities, differ significantly from those of mature adults. It is appropriate to take these differences into consideration when sentencing juveniles tried as adults. The legislature further finds that applying mandatory minimum sentences for juveniles tried as adults prevents trial court judges from taking these differences into consideration in appropriate circumstances.

(2) The legislature intends to eliminate the application of mandatory minimum sentences under RCW 9.94A.540 to juveniles tried as adults, and to continue to apply all other adult sentencing provisions to juveniles tried as adults." [2005 c 437 § 1.]

Community custody.

(1) Except as provided in RCW 9.94A.650 and in subsection (2) of this section, on all sentences of confinement for one year or less, in which the offender is convicted of a sex offense, a violent offense, a crime against a person under RCW 9.94A.411, or felony violation of chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW or an attempt, conspiracy, or solicitation to commit such a crime, the court may impose up to one year of community custody, subject to conditions and sanctions as authorized in RCW 9.94A.715 and 9.94A.720. An offender shall be on community custody as of the date of sentencing. However, during the time for which the offender is in total or partial confinement pursuant to the sentence or a violation of the sentence, the period of community custody shall toll.

(2)(a) If the offender is guilty of failure to register under RCW 9A.44.130(((10))) (11)(a), the court shall impose a term of community custody under RCW 9.94A.715.

(b) If the offender is a criminal street gang associate or member and is found guilty of unlawful possession of a firearm under RCW 9.41.040, the court shall impose a term of community custody under RCW 9.94A.715.

(c) In a criminal case in which there has been a special allegation, the state shall prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the accused is a criminal street gang member or associate as defined in RCW 9.94A.030 and has committed the crime of unlawful possession of a firearm. The court shall make a finding of fact of whether or not the accused was a criminal street gang member or associate at the time of the commission of the crime, or if a jury trial is had, the jury shall, if it finds the defendant guilty, also find a special verdict as to whether or not the accused was a criminal street gang member or associate during the commission of the crime.

Comments

In 2007, the Court of Appeals held that RCW 9.94A.535, authorizing exceptional sentences, also applies to exceptional conditions and terms of community custody. In re Smith, 139 Wn. App. 600 (2007).

In 2008, the Court ruled that sentencing courts have the authority to impose a term of community custody upon persons found guilty of failure to register as a sex offender. State v. Castillo, 144 Wn. App. 584 (2008).

Effective August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.545 is repealed. Most of its provisions can then be found in RCW 9.94A.701, .702 and .707. The 2008 Legislature, however, amended this statute to add the “Criminal Street Gang” provisions found in Section 2(b) and (c) without cognizance of its repeal. As of printing, those provisions have not been moved or recodified.

Findings and intent — 1994 c 1.

(1) The people of the state of Washington find and declare that:

(a) Community protection from persistent offenders is a priority for any civilized society.

(b) Nearly fifty percent of the criminals convicted in Washington state have active prior criminal histories.

(c) Punishments for criminal offenses should be proportionate to both the seriousness of the crime and the prior criminal history.

(d) The public has the right and the responsibility to determine when to impose a life sentence.

(2) By sentencing three-time, most serious offenders to prison for life without the possibility of parole, the people intend to:

(a) Improve public safety by placing the most dangerous criminals in prison.

(b) Reduce the number of serious, repeat offenders by tougher sentencing.

(c) Set proper and simplified sentencing practices that both the victims and persistent offenders can understand.

(d) Restore public trust in our criminal justice system by directly involving the people in the process.

Offender notification and warning.

A sentencing judge, law enforcement agency, or state or local correctional facility may, but is not required to, give offenders who have been convicted of an offense that is a most serious offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030 either written or oral notice, or both, of the sanctions imposed upon persistent offenders. General notice of these sanctions and the conditions under which they may be imposed may, but need not, be given in correctional facilities maintained by state or local agencies. This section is enacted to provide authority, but not requirement, for the giving of such notice in every conceivable way without incurring liability to offenders or third parties.

Court-ordered treatment — Required notices

When any person is convicted in a superior court, the judgment and sentence shall include a statement that if the offender is or becomes subject to court-ordered mental health or chemical dependency treatment, the offender must notify the department and the offender's treatment information must be shared with the department of corrections for the duration of the offender's incarceration and supervision. Upon a petition by an offender who does not have a history of one or more violent acts, as defined in RCW 71.05.020, the court may, for good cause, find that public safety is not enhanced by the sharing of this offender's information.

Governor's powers.

(1) Nothing in chapter 1, Laws of 1994 shall ever be interpreted or construed as to reduce or eliminate the power of the governor to grant a pardon or clemency to any offender on an individual case-by-case basis. However, the people recommend that any offender subject to total confinement for life without the possibility of parole not be considered for release until the offender has reached the age of at least sixty years old and has been judged to be no longer a threat to society. The people further recommend that sex offenders be held to the utmost scrutiny under this subsection regardless of age.

(2) Nothing in this section shall ever be interpreted or construed to grant any release for the purpose of reducing prison overcrowding. Furthermore, the governor shall provide twice yearly reports on the activities and progress of offenders subject to total confinement for life without the possibility of parole who are released through executive action during his or her tenure. These reports shall continue for not less than ten years after the release of the offender or upon the death of the released offender.

Comments

In 1993, Initiative Measure No. 593 amended the Act to require that persistent offenders be sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of release, unless the death penalty is imposed for Aggravated Murder under RCW 10.95.030. See also RCW 9.94A.030(32).

*Initiative 593 also provided that mandatory periods of total confinement under this subsection (for persistent offenders and those convicted of Murder 1, Assault 1, Assault of a Child 1, and Rape 1) may not be reduced during the mandatory minimum term of confinement for any reason other than emergency medical treatment or, in the case of those convicted of Rape 1, commitment to an inpatient treatment facility. In 1999, the Court of Appeals, Division I, invalidated the provision of Initiative 593 that made Murder 1, Assault 1, Assault of a Child 1 and Rape 1 offenders ineligible for earned release during their mandatory minimum terms, because that issue did not relate to the subject title of the Initiative (the “three strikes” provision), thereby violating the single-subject rule of the state Constitution. See State v. Cloud, 976 P.2d 649 (1999).*

*A defendant challenging his sentence as a persistent offender must show that his prior guilty pleas and judgments are facially invalid. When challenging a guilty plea, he must not only show that the plea forms were deficient, but he must also show that the sentencing court deprived him of constitutional safeguards. State v. Lewis, 141 Wn. App. 367 (2007).*

Which sentences appealable — Procedure — Grounds for reversal — Written opinions.

(1) A sentence within the standard sentence range, under RCW 9.94A.510 or 9.94A.517, for an offense shall not be appealed. For purposes of this section, a sentence imposed on a first-time offender under RCW 9.94A.650 shall also be deemed to be within the standard sentence range for the offense and shall not be appealed.

(2) A sentence outside the standard sentence range for the offense is subject to appeal by the defendant or the state. The appeal shall be to the court of appeals in accordance with rules adopted by the supreme court.

(3) Pending review of the sentence, the sentencing court or the court of appeals may order the defendant confined or placed on conditional release, including bond.

(4) To reverse a sentence which is outside the standard sentence range, the reviewing court must find: (a) Either that the reasons supplied by the sentencing court are not supported by the record which was before the judge or that those reasons do not justify a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense; or (b) that the sentence imposed was clearly excessive or clearly too lenient.

(5) A review under this section shall be made solely upon the record that was before the sentencing court. Written briefs shall not be required and the review and decision shall be made in an expedited manner according to rules adopted by the supreme court.

(6) The court of appeals shall issue a written opinion in support of its decision whenever the judgment of the sentencing court is reversed and may issue written opinions in any other case where the court believes that a written opinion would provide guidance to sentencing courts and others in implementing this chapter and in developing a common law of sentencing within the state.

(7) The department may petition for a review of a sentence committing an offender to the custody or jurisdiction of the department. The review shall be limited to errors of law. Such petition shall be filed with the court of appeals no later than ninety days after the department has actual knowledge of terms of the sentence. The petition shall include a certification by the department that all reasonable efforts to resolve the dispute at the superior court level have been exhausted.

Comments

The State is not barred from appealing the trial court's imposition of a standard range sentence where it is not contesting the length of the sentence, but the sentencing court's decision not to apply RCW 9.94A.537. Moreover double jeopardy does not prevent remand for a jury to be empanelled to consider aggravating factors for sentencing in accordance with RCW 9.94A.537. State v. Murawski, 142 Wn. App. 278 (2007).

RCW 9.94A.589

Consecutive or concurrent sentences.

(1)(a) Except as provided in (b) or (c) of this subsection, whenever a person is to be sentenced for two or more current offenses, the sentence range for each current offense shall be determined by using all other current and prior convictions as if they were prior convictions for the purpose of the offender score: PROVIDED, That if the court enters a finding that some or all of the current offenses encompass the same criminal conduct then those current offenses shall be counted as one crime. Sentences imposed under this subsection shall be served concurrently. Consecutive sentences may only be imposed under the exceptional sentence provisions of RCW 9.94A.535. "Same criminal conduct," as used in this subsection, means two or more crimes that require the same criminal intent, are committed at the same time and place, and involve the same victim. This definition applies in cases involving vehicular assault or vehicular homicide even if the victims occupied the same vehicle.

(b) Whenever a person is convicted of two or more serious violent offenses arising from separate and distinct criminal conduct, the standard sentence range for the offense with the highest seriousness level under RCW 9.94A.515 shall be determined using the offender's prior convictions and other current convictions that are not serious violent offenses in the offender score and the standard sentence range for other serious violent offenses shall be determined by using an offender score of zero. The standard sentence range for any offenses that are not serious violent offenses shall be determined according to (a) of this subsection. All sentences imposed under (b) of this subsection shall be served consecutively to each other and concurrently with sentences imposed under (a) of this subsection.

(c) If an offender is convicted under RCW 9.41.040 for unlawful possession of a firearm in the first or second degree and for the felony crimes of theft of a firearm or possession of a stolen firearm, or both, the standard sentence range for each of these current offenses shall be determined by using all other current and prior convictions, except other current convictions for the felony crimes listed in this subsection (1)(c), as if they were prior convictions. The offender shall serve consecutive sentences for each conviction of the felony crimes listed in this subsection (1)(c), and for each firearm unlawfully possessed.

(2)(a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, whenever a person while under sentence for conviction of a felony commits another felony and is sentenced to another term of confinement, the latter term shall not begin until expiration of all prior terms.

(b) Whenever a second or later felony conviction results in community supervision with conditions not currently in effect, under the prior sentence or sentences of community supervision the court may require that the conditions of community supervision contained in the second or later sentence begin during the immediate term of community supervision and continue throughout the duration of the consecutive term of community supervision.

(3) Subject to subsections (1) and (2) of this section, whenever a person is sentenced for a felony that was committed while the person was not under sentence for conviction of a felony, the sentence shall run concurrently with any felony sentence which has been imposed by any court in this or another state or by a federal court subsequent to the commission of the crime being sentenced unless the court pronouncing the current sentence expressly orders that they be served consecutively.

(4) Whenever any person granted probation under RCW 9.95.210 or 9.92.060, or both, has the probationary sentence revoked and a prison sentence imposed, that sentence shall run consecutively to any sentence imposed pursuant to this chapter, unless the court pronouncing the subsequent sentence expressly orders that they be served concurrently.

(5) In the case of consecutive sentences, all periods of total confinement shall be served before any partial confinement, community restitution, community supervision, or any other requirement or conditions of any of the sentences. Except for exceptional sentences as authorized under RCW 9.94A.535, if two or more sentences that run consecutively include periods of community supervision, the aggregate of the community supervision period shall not exceed twenty-four months.

Comments

Under the SRA, a sentencing judge must impose concurrent sentences. There are two exceptions to this policy: (1) under subsection (b), a person convicted of two or more serious violent offenses arising from separate and distinct criminal conduct must be sentenced consecutively (the criminal history score is calculated differently than in subsection (a)); and (2) under subsection (3), the sentencing judge may expressly order that the sentence be served consecutively to sentences already imposed in other jurisdictions. This comment was addressed by State v. Moore, 63 Wn. App. 466 (1991).

Unless the offenses fall under the exceptions listed in subsection (1) (b) or subsection (3), consecutive sentences imposed for current offenses constitute exceptional sentences and must comply with the exceptional sentence provisions of the Act. See RCW 9.94A.535.

The 1986 amendment to subsection (3) changed this section so sentences for all current offenses run concurrently with the sentences for all other current offenses from any other state or federal court, unless the sentencing court expressly orders the sentences to be consecutive. Previously, the presumption was that such sentences would be consecutive unless the sentencing court expressly ordered otherwise. This subsection is now consistent with pre-SRA law.

Subsections (2) and (3) cover situations where, at the time the defendant is sentenced on a present conviction, he or she has not yet completed a sentence for another felony conviction. The difference between the two subsections is the phrase "under sentence of a felony." Under (2), if at the time the present crime is committed, the defendant has not completed confinement for another sentence, the confinement for the present sentence does not begin until expiration of his or her prior sentence. These sentences are to run consecutively, and an exceptional sentence is necessary to impose concurrent sentences. Under (3), if the latter crime was committed at a point before the offender was sentenced for the previous crime, the presumption is toward a concurrent sentence but the court can decide to order a consecutive sentence.

Subsection (3) will often be relevant where the defendant has been charged in multiple informations or has committed a series of crimes across court jurisdictions (crimes in more than one county, more than one state, or crimes for which he or she has been sentenced under both state and federal jurisdictions) and where the defendant will be sentenced by more than one judge. The purpose of this subsection is to allow the judge some flexibility within the guidelines in order to minimize the incidental factors of geographical boundaries and jurisdictions.

Subsection (4) covers the situation in which a court is imposing a prison sentence for a crime committed prior to July 1, 1984, where the defendant previously received a deferred or suspended sentence and now is having that probation revoked. The sentence for the revocation runs consecutively to any sentence imposed under the new presumptive scheme unless the court expressly orders a concurrent sentence.

Subsection (5) points out that the defendant must serve all terms of total confinement on consecutive sentences before other conditions are performed. As stated earlier, the multiple offense policy was among the most complex issues confronted by the Commission and the Legislature. The Legislature acknowledged in RCW 9.94A.535 (aggravating and mitigating factors) that the operation of the multiple offense policy might, in individual cases, result in a "clearly excessive" or "clearly too lenient" presumptive sentence, and therefore, departures from the range may be appropriate.

This section does not apply to First-time Offenders sentenced under RCW 9.94A.650.

In 1988, the Commission recommended RCW 9.94A.589(1)(b) be clarified to substitute the phrase "prior convictions and other current convictions that are not serious violent offenses" for the term "criminal history." In the Commission's review of sentences it was discovered that offenders convicted of multiple serious violent offenses with additional convictions for offenses that were not serious violent offenses (for example, a burglary), the lesser offenses were frequently not calculated into the offender score. The Commission decided the problem was the use of the term "criminal history" because it appeared to only include prior offenses, not additional current offenses. Thus, the new phrase was recommended.

The 1990 Legislature changed the rules regarding consecutive sentencing for multiple serious violent offenses. The consecutive sentencing requirement now applies to two or more serious violent offenses instead of three.

The 1995 Legislature added (2)(b), for cases where an offender under community supervision is sentenced to additional conditions of community supervision for a subsequent offense.

The 1996 Legislature required that vehicular assault and vehicular homicide be treated as different criminal conduct even if the victims occupied the same vehicle, and repealed language authorizing the court to consider multiple victims in such cases as an aggravating circumstance justifying an exceptional sentence.

The enactment of Initiative Measure No. 159 by the 1995 Legislature amended RCW 9.41.010 to require "notwithstanding any other law," that an offender convicted under RCW 9.41.010 for Unlawful Possession of a Firearm 1 or 2, and for Theft of a Firearm and/or Possession of a Stolen Firearm, serve consecutive sentences for each of those offenses. The 1998 Legislature subsequently clarified that sentences for Unlawful Possession of a Firearm in the First or Second Degree and for Theft of a Firearm or Possession of a Stolen Firearm or both, must be served consecutively for each current conviction of the felony crimes listed and for each firearm unlawfully possessed.

In State v. Roose, 90 Wn. App 513(1998), the Court of Appeals ruled that a court is not precluded from counting multiple counts of the offense of firearm theft as a single offense for sentencing purposes under RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a), if the court enters a finding that those current offenses encompass the same criminal conduct.

The 1999 Legislature clarified RCW 9.94A.589(c) to permit all current offenses, other than current weapon-related offenses, to be considered as prior offenses when calculating an offender's criminal history score to determine a sentence for Unlawful Possession of a Firearm 1 or 2 and Theft of a Firearm or Possession of a Stolen Firearm, or both.

In 2007, the Supreme Court rejected the application of the SRA's provisions on concurrent and consecutive sentences to the imposition of the death penalty. State v. Yates, 161 Wn.2d at 783-84. It also held that a sentencing court has discretion to impose concurrent sentences for separate serious violent sentences as an exceptional sentence. In re Mulholland, 161 Wn.2d 322 (2007).

The Court of Appeals held that Defendant's convictions for Second Degree Assault with a deadly weapon and Second Degree Assault that recklessly inflicts substantial bodily harm did not constitute same criminal conduct because the mens rea requirements are different. State v. Lopez, 142 Wn. App. 341 (2007).

The Court also held that defendant's sentence was a hybrid sentence because the first half of his DOSA sentences ran concurrently with his non-DOSA sentence, but the community custody portions of his DOSA sentences ran consecutively to his non-DOSA sentence. The case was remanded for re-sentencing. State v. Smith, 142 Wn. App. 122 (2007).

Finally, the Court held that defendant's two bail jumping convictions did not constitute "same criminal conduct" because they occurred almost four months apart. State v. Fisher, 139 Wn. App. 578 (2007).

In 2008, the Court of Appeals applied the "rational basis" test and held that RCW 9.94A.589 does not violate the defendant's right to equal protection under the state and federal constitutions. State v. Bryan, 145 Wn. App. 353 (2008).

The Court held that defendant's offenses of child rape and incest do not constitute same criminal conduct and must be counted separately in the offender score. Further, because defendant's current offender score was 20 for his child rape convictions and 17 for his incest convictions the offender score calculation error was harmless. State v. Bobenhouse, 143 Wn. App 315 (2008).

The Court considered the case of a defendant who, while serving a prior arson and assault sentence, was convicted of two counts of Malicious Mischief. The Court held that he should have received concurrent sentences on the malicious mischief convictions. Further, those sentences should be served consecutive to his sentence for arson and assault. State v. Elmore, 143 Wn. App. 185 (2008).

The Court held that RCW 9.94A.589(1)(b) does not apply to persistent offenders. Instead, the default rule requiring concurrent sentences applies. State v. Crumble, 142 Wn. App. 798 (2008).

The Court found it was error for the trial court to make the factual determinations necessary to impose an exceptional consecutive sentence under RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a). Instead, a jury should have been empanelled to make the determination and may do so on remand. State v. McNeal, 142 Wn. App. 777 (2008).

Finally, the Court held that defendant's consecutive sentences did not violate Blakely and Apprendi because the trial court made factual findings under RCW 9.94A.535(2) to support the sentence, and because the jury found, in a special verdict, that the defendant committed one of his offenses with sexual motivation. State v. Grenning, 142 Wn. App. 518 (2008).

Anticipatory offenses.

For persons convicted of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the presumptive sentence is determined by locating the sentencing grid sentence range defined by the appropriate offender score and the seriousness level of the crime, and multiplying the range by 75 percent.

Presumptive ranges that exceed the statutory maximum.

If the presumptive sentence duration given in the sentencing grid exceeds the statutory maximum sentence for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence. If the addition of a firearm or deadly weapon enhancement increases the sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced.

1998 c 235 § 3; 1983 c 115 § 13. Formerly RCW [9.94A.420.]

Comments

The 1998 Legislature clarified that if a firearm or deadly weapon enhancement increases a sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the weapon enhancement may not be reduced. As a result, in such a case the underlying sentence must be reduced so that the total confinement time does not exceed the statutory maximum.

Deadly weapon special verdict — Definition.

In a criminal case wherein there has been a special allegation and evidence establishing that the accused or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of the commission of the crime, the court shall make a finding of fact of whether or not the accused or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of the commission of the crime, or if a jury trial is had, the jury shall, if it find[s] the defendant guilty, also find a special verdict as to whether or not the defendant or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of the commission of the crime.

For purposes of this section, a deadly weapon is an implement or instrument which has the capacity to inflict death and from the manner in which it is used, is likely to produce or may easily and readily produce death. The following instruments are included in the term deadly weapon: Blackjack, sling shot, billy, sand club, sandbag, metal knuckles, any dirk, dagger, pistol, revolver, or any other firearm, any knife having a blade longer than three inches, any razor with an unguarded blade, any metal pipe or bar used or intended to be used as a club, any explosive, and any weapon containing poisonous or injurious gas.

Notes:

Effective date -- 1983 c 163: See note following RCW 9.94A.505.

Comments

The SRA did not originally provide sentence enhancement for all crimes involving a deadly weapon. In 1983, the Legislature adopted the Commission's recommendations that additional time be added to the offender's presumptive sentence for some crimes where the use of the deadly weapon warranted additional punishment. These crimes were Kidnapping 1 and 2, Rape 1, Robbery 1, Burglary 1, Burglary 2 (non-dwelling), Assault 2, Escape 1 and delivery or possession with intent to deliver a controlled substance (RCW 9.94A.310). The 1988 Legislature added Theft of Livestock 1 and 2 to this list and the 1992 Legislature added Assault of a Child 2 to the list. The 1986 Legislature had also clarified that the deadly weapon enhancements apply to anticipatory offenses and to all the drug offenses enumerated in RCW 9.94A.030(19).

Initiative 159, enacted in 1995, made the deadly weapon enhancement applicable to nearly all felonies, doubled that enhancement for subsequent offenses, and created a separate, more severe enhancement where the weapon was a firearm. State v. Workman, 90 Wn.2d 443 (1978), prohibits "double counting" an element of an offense for the purpose of proving the existence of the crime and using it to enhance the sentence, without specific legislative intent to so allow. Consistent with Workman, neither the firearm enhancement nor the "other deadly weapon" enhancement applies to specified crimes where the use of a firearm is an element of the offense (listed in RCW 9.94A.310(3)(f) and (4)(f)). These sentence enhancements apply to crimes committed on and after July 23, 1995. They are to be served consecutively to any other sentence. The sentencing court should first calculate the presumptive sentence range for the current offense, using the appropriate Offense Seriousness Level and Offender Score. Then the firearm or other deadly weapon enhancement is added to the entire range. See RCW 9.94A.310(3) and (4).

A car is not a deadly weapon for sentencing enhancement purposes. See State v. Shepherd, 977 P.2d 635 (1999).

Comments

In 1993, the Legislature amended RCW 9.94A.170. The power to establish a tolling date for sentences involving supervision was shifted from the court to the Department of Corrections.

The 1999 Legislature, enacting the Offender Accountability Act, amended this section to substitute the term “community custody” for the word “supervision.” Under that Act, all forms of supervision in the community, for offenses committed on or after July 1, 2000, will be called “community custody.”

In 2008, the Court of Appeals held that petitioner should be given credit against his 18 to 36 months of community custody for the extra 24 months he was incarcerated beyond his standard range sentence. In re Knippling, 144 Wn. App. 639 (2008). The Court explained that RCW 9.94A.625(3) deals with tolling of the term of community custody after the term of community custody has started. It provides that the community custody term does not run during time in confinement for new crimes or for community custody violations. In contrast, RCW 9.94A.715(1) addresses the point in time at which the term of community custody begins and the statute is clear that the term of community custody begins when the offender completes his confinement time. The petitioner completed his term of confinement 24 months before he was actually released, at which time his community custody term commenced. Id.

Effective August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.625 is recodified as RCW 9.94A.171.

Postrelease supervision — Violations — Expenses.

(Effective until August 1, 2009, then recodified as RCW 9.94B.030.)

If the offender violates any condition of postrelease supervision, a hearing may be conducted in the same manner as provided in RCW 9.94A.634. Jurisdiction shall be with the court of the county in which the offender was sentenced. However, the court may order a change of venue to the offender's county of residence or where the violation occurred, for the purpose of holding a violation hearing.

After the hearing, the court may order the offender to be confined for up to sixty days per violation in the county jail. Reimbursement to a city or county for the care of offenders who are detained solely for violating a condition of postrelease supervision shall be under RCW 70.48.440. A county shall be reimbursed for indigent defense costs for offenders who are detained solely for violating a condition of postrelease supervision in accordance with regulations to be promulgated by the office of financial management. An offender may be held in jail at state expense pending the hearing, and any time served while awaiting the hearing shall be credited against confinement imposed for a violation. The court shall retain jurisdiction for the purpose of holding the violation hearing and imposing a sanction.

Violation of condition or requirement of sentence — Arrest by community corrections officer — Confinement in county jail.

If an offender violates any condition or requirement of a sentence, a community corrections officer may arrest or cause the arrest of the offender without a warrant, pending a determination by the court. If there is reasonable cause to believe that an offender has violated a condition or requirement of the sentence, an offender may be required to submit to a search and seizure of the offender's person, residence, automobile, or other personal property. A community corrections officer may also arrest an offender for any crime committed in his or her presence. The facts and circumstances of the conduct of the offender shall be reported by the community corrections officer, with recommendations, to the court.

If a community corrections officer arrests or causes the arrest of an offender under this section, the offender shall be confined and detained in the county jail of the county in which the offender was taken into custody, and the sheriff of that county shall receive and keep in the county jail, where room is available, all prisoners delivered to the jail by the community corrections officer, and such offenders shall not be released from custody on bail or personal recognizance, except upon approval of the court, pursuant to a written order.

Comments

The Sentencing Guidelines Commission intends that Community Corrections Officers exercise their arrest powers sparingly, with due consideration for the seriousness of the violation alleged and the impact of confinement on jail population. Violations may be charged by the Community Corrections Officer upon notice of violation and summons, without arrest.

The search and seizure authorized by this section should relate to the violation that the Community Corrections Officer believes to have occurred.

(2) In cases where conditions from a second or later sentence of community supervision begin prior to the term of the second or later sentence, the court shall treat a violation of such conditions as a violation of the sentence of community supervision currently being served.

(3) If an offender fails to comply with any of the requirements or conditions of a sentence the following provisions apply:

(ii) Within seventy-two hours of signing the stipulated agreement, the department shall submit a report to the court and the prosecuting attorney outlining the violation or violations, and sanctions imposed. Within fifteen days of receipt of the report, if the court is not satisfied with the sanctions, the court may schedule a hearing and may modify the department's sanctions. If this occurs, the offender may withdraw from the stipulated agreement.

(iii) If the offender fails to comply with the sanction administratively imposed by the department, the court may take action regarding the original noncompliance. Offender failure to comply with the sanction administratively imposed by the department may be considered an additional violation.

Comments

The 1998 Legislature authorized the courts to order a mental status evaluation and to require participation in available outpatient mental health treatment for offenders whose sentence includes community placement or community supervision if a court finds that reasonable grounds exist to believe that the offender is a mentally ill person as defined in RCW 71.24.025 and that this condition is likely to have influenced the offense.

Although the Legislature has not adopted specific guidelines for the length of sanctions for various violations, the imposition of sanctions should be evaluated with reference to the standard range of the original offense. Rarely should the time to be served for violations exceed the underlying standard range.

The 1995 Legislature added (2), for cases where an offender under community supervision is sentenced for a subsequent offense under RCW 9.94A.400.

The 1995 Legislature also authorized the Department of Corrections to enter into agreements with non-complying offenders to impose alternative sanctions. Such agreements must be reported to the sentencing court and prosecutor, and the court may modify the sanctions after a hearing.

*In 2007, the Court of Appeals held that when an individual sentenced under SSOSA has violated sentencing conditions for which the court will impose sanctions, the court may revoke the SSOSA or impose up to 60 days confinement per violation. If there are multiple violations, the Court has the authority to impose consecutive terms of confinement in lieu of revoking the SSOSA. State v. Partee, 141 Wn. App. 355 (2007).*

*The Court also held that former RCW 9.94A.200(2)(c), recodified as RCW 9.94A.634, does not require the court to consider willfulness before ordering incarceration for a violation of a condition that does not involve a financial obligation. State v. McCormick, 141 Wn. App. 256 (2007).*

Effective August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.634 is recodified as RCW 9.94B.040.

Discharge upon completion of sentence — Certificate of discharge — Obligations, counseling after discharge.

(1)(a) When an offender has completed all requirements of the sentence, including any and all legal financial obligations, and while under the custody and supervision of the department, the secretary or the secretary's designee shall notify the sentencing court, which shall discharge the offender and provide the offender with a certificate of discharge by issuing the certificate to the offender in person or by mailing the certificate to the offender's last known address.

(b)(i) When an offender has reached the end of his or her supervision with the department and has completed all the requirements of the sentence except his or her legal financial obligations, the secretary's designee shall provide the county clerk with a notice that the offender has completed all nonfinancial requirements of the sentence.

(ii) When the department has provided the county clerk with notice that an offender has completed all the requirements of the sentence and the offender subsequently satisfies all legal financial obligations under the sentence, the county clerk shall notify the sentencing court, including the notice from the department, which shall discharge the offender and provide the offender with a certificate of discharge by issuing the certificate to the offender in person or by mailing the certificate to the offender's last known address.

(c) When an offender who is subject to requirements of the sentence in addition to the payment of legal financial obligations either is not subject to supervision by the department or does not complete the requirements while under supervision of the department, it is the offender's responsibility to provide the court with verification of the completion of the sentence conditions other than the payment of legal financial obligations. When the offender satisfies all legal financial obligations under the sentence, the county clerk shall notify the sentencing court that the legal financial obligations have been satisfied. When the court has received both notification from the clerk and adequate verification from the offender that the sentence requirements have been completed, the court shall discharge the offender and provide the offender with a certificate of discharge by issuing the certificate to the offender in person or by mailing the certificate to the offender's last known address.

(2) Every signed certificate and order of discharge shall be filed with the county clerk of the sentencing county. In addition, the court shall send to the department a copy of every signed certificate and order of discharge for offender sentences under the authority of the department. The county clerk shall enter into a database maintained by the administrator for the courts the names of all felons who have been issued certificates of discharge, the date of discharge, and the date of conviction and offense.

(3) An offender who is not convicted of a violent offense or a sex offense and is sentenced to a term involving community supervision may be considered for a discharge of sentence by the sentencing court prior to the completion of community supervision, provided that the offender has completed at least one-half of the term of community supervision and has met all other sentence requirements.

(4) Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, the discharge shall have the effect of restoring all civil rights lost by operation of law upon conviction, and the certificate of discharge shall so state. Nothing in this section prohibits the use of an offender's prior record for purposes of determining sentences for later offenses as provided in this chapter. Nothing in this section affects or prevents use of the offender's prior conviction in a later criminal prosecution either as an element of an offense or for impeachment purposes. A certificate of discharge is not based on a finding of rehabilitation.

(5) Unless otherwise ordered by the sentencing court, a certificate of discharge shall not terminate the offender's obligation to comply with an order issued under chapter 10.99 RCW that excludes or prohibits the offender from having contact with a specified person or coming within a set distance of any specified location that was contained in the judgment and sentence. An offender who violates such an order after a certificate of discharge has been issued shall be subject to prosecution according to the chapter under which the order was originally issued.

(6) Upon release from custody, the offender may apply to the department for counseling and help in adjusting to the community. This voluntary help may be provided for up to one year following the release from custody.

If the court finds the offender meets the tests prescribed in subsection (2) of this section, the court may clear the record of conviction by: (a) Permitting the offender to withdraw the offender's plea of guilty and to enter a plea of not guilty; or (b) if the offender has been convicted after a plea of not guilty, by the court setting aside the verdict of guilty; and (c) by the court dismissing the information or indictment against the offender.

(2) An offender may not have the record of conviction cleared if: (a) There are any criminal charges against the offender pending in any court of this state or another state, or in any federal court; (b) the offense was a violent offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030; (c) the offense was a crime against persons as defined in RCW 43.43.830; (d) the offender has been convicted of a new crime in this state, another state, or federal court since the date of the offender's discharge under RCW 9.94A.637; (e) the offense is a class B felony and less than ten years have passed since the date the applicant was discharged under RCW 9.94A.637; (f) the offense was a class C felony, other than a class C felony described in RCW 46.61.502(6) or 46.61.504 (6), and less than five years have passed since the date the applicant was discharged under RCW 9.94A.637; or (g) the offense was a class C felony described in RCW 46.61.502(6) or 46.61.504 (6) and less than ten years have passed since the applicant was discharged under RCW 9.94A.637.

(3) Once the court vacates a record of conviction under subsection (1) of this section, the fact that the offender has been convicted of the offense shall not be included in the offender's criminal history for purposes of determining a sentence in any subsequent conviction, and the offender shall be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offense. For all purposes, including responding to questions on employment applications, an offender whose conviction has been vacated may state that the offender has never been convicted of that crime. Nothing in this section affects or prevents the use of an offender's prior conviction in a later criminal prosecution.

Comments

While all offenders may obtain a discharge under RCW 9.94A.220, only those convicted of a nonviolent offense that have remained crime-free for a specific period may earn a vacation of their conviction. This vacation of the conviction is analogous to the dismissal obtained under RCW 9.95.240 (deferred sentence). See also RCW 9.96 (Restoration of Civil Rights) and 9.96A (Employment Rights). A vacated conviction under this statute cannot be used as criminal history. The issue of whether a vacated conviction entitles an offender to possess a firearm under state law has yet to be determined by the courts; federal law precludes such possession.

The State Patrol was required, under RCW 9.94A.640, to remove the defendant's records of conviction from public access. State v. Riley, 143 Wn. App. 41 (2008).

RCW 9.94A.660

Drug offender sentencing alternative.

(Effective until August 1, 2009.)

(1) An offender is eligible for the special drug offender sentencing alternative if:

(a) The offender is convicted of a felony that is not a violent offense or sex offense and the violation does not involve a sentence enhancement under RCW 9.94A.533 (3) or (4);

(b) The offender is convicted of a felony that is not a felony driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug under RCW 46.61.502(6) or felony physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug under RCW 46.61.504(6);

(c) The offender has no current or prior convictions for a sex offense at any time or violent offense within ten years before conviction of the current offense, in this state, another state, or the United States;

(d) For a violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act under chapter 69.50 RCW or a criminal solicitation to commit such a violation under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the offense involved only a small quantity of the particular controlled substance as determined by the judge upon consideration of such factors as the weight, purity, packaging, sale price, and street value of the controlled substance;

(e) The offender has not been found by the United States attorney general to be subject to a deportation detainer or order and does not become subject to a deportation order during the period of the sentence;

(f) The standard sentence range for the current offense is greater than one year; and

(g) The offender has not received a drug offender sentencing alternative more than once in the prior ten years before the current offense.

(2) A motion for a sentence under this section may be made by the court, the offender, or the state. If the sentencing court determines that the offender is eligible for this alternative, the court may order an examination of the offender. The examination shall, at a minimum, address the following issues:

(a) Whether the offender suffers from drug addiction;

(b) Whether the addiction is such that there is a probability that criminal behavior will occur in the future;

(c) Whether effective treatment for the offender's addiction is available from a provider that has been licensed or certified by the division of alcohol and substance abuse of the department of social and health services; and

(d) Whether the offender and the community will benefit from the use of the alternative.

(3) The examination report must contain:

(a) Information on the issues required to be addressed in subsection (2) of this section; and

(b) A proposed treatment plan that must, at a minimum, contain:

(i) A proposed treatment provider that has been licensed or certified by the division of alcohol and substance abuse of the department of social and health services;

(ii) The recommended frequency and length of treatment, including both residential chemical dependency treatment and treatment in the community;

(iii) A proposed monitoring plan, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements, and monitoring by family members and others; and

(iv) Recommended crime-related prohibitions and affirmative conditions.

(4) After receipt of the examination report, if the court determines that a sentence under this section is appropriate, the court shall waive imposition of a sentence within the standard sentence range and impose a sentence consisting of either a prison-based alternative under subsection (5) of this section or a residential chemical dependency treatment-based alternative under subsection (6) of this section. The residential chemical dependency treatment-based alternative is only available if the midpoint of the standard range is twenty-four months or less.

(5) The prison-based alternative shall include:

(a) A period of total confinement in a state facility for one-half of the midpoint of the standard sentence range or twelve months, whichever is greater. During incarceration in the state facility, offenders sentenced under this subsection shall undergo a comprehensive substance abuse assessment and receive, within available resources, treatment services appropriate for the offender. The treatment services shall be designed by the division of alcohol and substance abuse of the department of social and health services, in cooperation with the department of corrections;

(b) The remainder of the midpoint of the standard range as a term of community custody which must include appropriate substance abuse treatment in a program that has been approved by the division of alcohol and substance abuse of the department of social and health services. If the department finds that conditions have been willfully violated, the offender may be reclassified to serve the remaining balance of the original sentence. An offender who fails to complete the program or who is administratively terminated from the program shall be reclassified to serve the unexpired term of his or her sentence as ordered by the sentencing court;

(c) Crime-related prohibitions including a condition not to use illegal controlled substances;

(d) A requirement to submit to urinalysis or other testing to monitor that status; and

(e) A term of community custody pursuant to RCW 9.94A.715 to be imposed upon failure to complete or administrative termination from the special drug offender sentencing alternative program.

(6) The residential chemical dependency treatment-based alternative shall include:

(a) A term of community custody equal to one-half of the midpoint of the standard sentence range or two years, whichever is greater, conditioned on the offender entering and remaining in residential chemical dependency treatment certified under chapter 70.96A RCW for a period set by the court between three and six months. If the court imposes a term of community custody, the department shall, within available resources, make chemical dependency assessment and treatment services available to the offender during the term of community custody. The court shall impose, as conditions of community custody, treatment and other conditions as proposed in the plan under subsection (3)(b) of this section. The department may impose conditions and sanctions as authorized in RCW 9.94A.715 (2), (3), (6), and (7), 9.94A.737, and 9.94A.740. The court shall schedule a progress hearing during the period of residential chemical dependency treatment, and schedule a treatment termination hearing for three months before the expiration of the term of community custody;

(b) Before the progress hearing and treatment termination hearing, the treatment provider and the department shall submit written reports to the court and parties regarding the offender's compliance with treatment and monitoring requirements, and recommendations regarding termination from treatment. At the hearing, the court may:

(i) Authorize the department to terminate the offender's community custody status on the expiration date determined under (a) of this subsection; or

(ii) Continue the hearing to a date before the expiration date of community custody, with or without modifying the conditions of community custody; or

(iii) Impose a term of total confinement equal to one-half the midpoint of the standard sentence range, followed by a term of community custody under RCW 9.94A.715;

(c) If the court imposes a term of total confinement under (b)(iii) of this subsection, the department shall, within available resources, make chemical dependency assessment and treatment services available to the offender during the terms of total confinement and community custody.

(7) If the court imposes a sentence under this section, the court may prohibit the offender from using alcohol or controlled substances and may require that the monitoring for controlled substances be conducted by the department or by a treatment alternatives to street crime program or a comparable court or agency-referred program. The offender may be required to pay thirty dollars per month while on community custody to offset the cost of monitoring. In addition, the court may impose any of the following conditions:

(a) Devote time to a specific employment or training;

(b) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer before any change in the offender's address or employment;

(c) Report as directed to a community corrections officer;

(d) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations;

(e) Perform community restitution work;

(f) Stay out of areas designated by the sentencing court;

(g) Such other conditions as the court may require such as affirmative conditions.

(8)(a) The court may bring any offender sentenced under this section back into court at any time on its own initiative to evaluate the offender's progress in treatment or to determine if any violations of the conditions of the sentence have occurred.

(b) If the offender is brought back to court, the court may modify the terms of the community custody or impose sanctions under (c) of this subsection.

(c) The court may order the offender to serve a term of total confinement within the standard range of the offender's current offense at any time during the period of community custody if the offender violates the conditions of the sentence or if the offender is failing to make satisfactory progress in treatment.

(d) An offender ordered to serve a term of total confinement under (c) of this subsection shall receive credit for any time previously served under this section.

(9) If an offender sentenced to the prison-based alternative under subsection (5) of this section is found by the United States attorney general to be subject to a deportation order, a hearing shall be held by the department unless waived by the offender, and, if the department finds that the offender is subject to a valid deportation order, the department may administratively terminate the offender from the program and reclassify the offender to serve the remaining balance of the original sentence.

(10) An offender sentenced under this section shall be subject to all rules relating to earned release time with respect to any period served in total confinement.

(11) Costs of examinations and preparing treatment plans under subsections (2) and (3) of this section may be paid, at the option of the county, from funds provided to the county from the criminal justice treatment account under RCW 70.96A.350.

Comments

At the request of the Sentencing Guidelines Commission, the 1995 Legislature created an optional, treatment-oriented Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative for offenders convicted of Manufacture, Delivery, or Possession with Intent to Manufacture or Deliver a small quantity of a narcotic drug, where the offender has no previous felony convictions, where there is no deadly weapon enhancement, and where the sentencing court determines that the offender would benefit from substance abuse treatment. The definition of “small quantity” was intended to be determined by the court based on local standards. A defendant need not be dependent on a drug to be eligible for the alternative sentence.

Under the alternative, an eligible offender is sentenced to total confinement for a period equal to half of the midpoint of the offender’s standard range sentence (e.g., 12 months if the standard range is 21 to 27 months). The period of confinement must be served in a state correctional facility, even if it is for less than 12 months. Substance abuse treatment must be provided within the facility during total confinement, as well as after release on an outpatient basis. Offenders sentenced under this alternative may not be placed on work release for more than three months, unless the midpoint of the standard range is more than 24 months (i.e., their period of total confinement is more than 12 months).

Upon release at half the midpoint of the standard range, offenders sentenced under the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative remain on community custody status for an additional year, not including any period in which they are returned to confinement for violating the terms of their release. During this period they are subject to urinalysis or other testing to monitor drug-free status.

The Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative was not intended to be available to offenders convicted of Manufacture, Delivery, or Possession with Intent to Manufacture or Deliver Methamphetamine, because such offenders were eligible for the First-time Offender Waiver. However, the Legislature amended RCW 9.94A.030 to exclude such offenders from the definition of “First-time Offender,” and thus those offenders were rendered ineligible for either of the sentencing alternatives.

The 1999 Legislature expanded the eligibility for the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative to include all non-violent, non-sex offenders convicted of violating the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (RCW 69.50), including methamphetamine offenses, and also any other non-violent, non-sex offenders deemed by the court to have a chemical dependency that contributed to the crime. Effective July 25, 1999, offenders with prior felony convictions are now eligible, so long as their convictions were not violent or sex offense convictions. Offenders subject to federal INS deportation detainers or orders are not eligible. Offenders whose standard sentence is more than one year are now eligible (reduced from two years). Courts may prohibit DOSA offenders from drug and alcohol use and may impose other affirmative conditions, and violators are subject to graduated sanctions, including reclassification to serve the unexpired term of total confinement.

In 2007, the Court of Appeals held that defendant's sentence was a hybrid sentence because the first half of his DOSA sentences ran concurrently with his non-DOSA sentence, but the community custody portions of his DOSA sentences ran consecutively to his non-DOSA sentence. The case was remanded for re-sentencing. State v. Smith, 142 Wn. App. 122 (2007).

In 2008, the Court held that a defendant who was terminated from a DOSA sentence and reclassified to serve the balance of the unexpired term of his DOSA sentence in prison, was entitled to receive credit for the period of time he was in "total confinement" (confinement within the physical boundaries of a facility or institution for 24 hours a day). In re Albritton, 143 Wn. App. 584 (2008).

The Court also found that it was error to find a defendant ineligible for a DOSA sentence where he received one previous DOSA sentence within the preceding ten years, because RCW 9.94A.660(1)(g) provides that an offender is ineligible only if he has more than one previous DOSA sentence in the prior ten years. State v. Carlson, 143 Wn. App. 507 (2008).

RCW 9.94A.660

Drug offender sentencing alternative.

(Effective August 1, 2009.)

(1) An offender is eligible for the special drug offender sentencing alternative if:

(a) The offender is convicted of a felony that is not a violent offense or sex offense and the violation does not involve a sentence enhancement under RCW 9.94A.533 (3) or (4);

(b) The offender is convicted of a felony that is not a felony driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug under RCW 46.61.502(6) or felony physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug under RCW 46.61.504(6);

(c) The offender has no current or prior convictions for a sex offense at any time or violent offense within ten years before conviction of the current offense, in this state, another state, or the United States;

(d) For a violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act under chapter 69.50 RCW or a criminal solicitation to commit such a violation under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the offense involved only a small quantity of the particular controlled substance as determined by the judge upon consideration of such factors as the weight, purity, packaging, sale price, and street value of the controlled substance;

(e) The offender has not been found by the United States attorney general to be subject to a deportation detainer or order and does not become subject to a deportation order during the period of the sentence;

(f) The standard sentence range for the current offense is greater than one year; and

(g) The offender has not received a drug offender sentencing alternative more than once in the prior ten years before the current offense.

(2) A motion for a sentence under this section may be made by the court, the offender, or the state. If the sentencing court determines that the offender is eligible for this alternative, the court may order an examination of the offender. The examination shall, at a minimum, address the following issues:

(a) Whether the offender suffers from drug addiction;

(b) Whether the addiction is such that there is a probability that criminal behavior will occur in the future;

(c) Whether effective treatment for the offender's addiction is available from a provider that has been licensed or certified by the division of alcohol and substance abuse of the department of social and health services; and

(d) Whether the offender and the community will benefit from the use of the alternative.

(3) The examination report must contain:

(a) Information on the issues required to be addressed in subsection (2) of this section; and

(b) A proposed treatment plan that must, at a minimum, contain:

(i) A proposed treatment provider that has been licensed or certified by the division of alcohol and substance abuse of the department of social and health services;

(ii) The recommended frequency and length of treatment, including both residential chemical dependency treatment and treatment in the community;

(iii) A proposed monitoring plan, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements, and monitoring by family members and others; and

(iv) Recommended crime-related prohibitions and affirmative conditions.

(4) After receipt of the examination report, if the court determines that a sentence under this section is appropriate, the court shall waive imposition of a sentence within the standard sentence range and impose a sentence consisting of either a prison-based alternative under subsection (5) of this section or a residential chemical dependency treatment-based alternative under subsection (6) of this section. The residential chemical dependency treatment-based alternative is only available if the midpoint of the standard range is twenty-four months or less.

(5) The prison-based alternative shall include:

(a) A period of total confinement in a state facility for one-half of the midpoint of the standard sentence range or twelve months, whichever is greater. During incarceration in the state facility, offenders sentenced under this subsection shall undergo a comprehensive substance abuse assessment and receive, within available resources, treatment services appropriate for the offender. The treatment services shall be designed by the division of alcohol and substance abuse of the department of social and health services, in cooperation with the department of corrections;

(b) The remainder of the midpoint of the standard range as a term of community custody which must include appropriate substance abuse treatment in a program that has been approved by the division of alcohol and substance abuse of the department of social and health services. If the department finds that conditions of community custody have been willfully violated, the offender may be reclassified to serve the remaining balance of the original sentence. An offender who fails to complete the program or who is administratively terminated from the program shall be reclassified to serve the unexpired term of his or her sentence as ordered by the sentencing court;

(c) Crime-related prohibitions including a condition not to use illegal controlled substances;

(d) A requirement to submit to urinalysis or other testing to monitor that status; and

(e) A term of community custody pursuant to RCW 9.94A.701 to be imposed upon failure to complete or administrative termination from the special drug offender sentencing alternative program.

(6) The residential chemical dependency treatment-based alternative shall include:

(a) A term of community custody equal to one-half of the midpoint of the standard sentence range or two years, whichever is greater, conditioned on the offender entering and remaining in residential chemical dependency treatment certified under chapter 70.96A RCW for a period set by the court between three and six months. If the court imposes a term of community custody, the department shall, within available resources, make chemical dependency assessment and treatment services available to the offender during the term of community custody. The court shall impose, as conditions of community custody, treatment and other conditions as proposed in the plan under subsection (3)(b) of this section. The court shall schedule a progress hearing during the period of residential chemical dependency treatment, and schedule a treatment termination hearing for three months before the expiration of the term of community custody;

(b) Before the progress hearing and treatment termination hearing, the treatment provider and the department shall submit written reports to the court and parties regarding the offender's compliance with treatment and monitoring requirements, and recommendations regarding termination from treatment. At the hearing, the court may:

(i) Authorize the department to terminate the offender's community custody status on the expiration date determined under (a) of this subsection; or

(ii) Continue the hearing to a date before the expiration date of community custody, with or without modifying the conditions of community custody; or

(iii) Impose a term of total confinement equal to one-half the midpoint of the standard sentence range, followed by a term of community custody under RCW 9.94A.701;

(c) If the court imposes a term of total confinement under (b)(iii) of this subsection, the department shall, within available resources, make chemical dependency assessment and treatment services available to the offender during the terms of total confinement and community custody.

(7) The offender may be required to pay thirty dollars per month while on community custody to offset the cost of monitoring for alcohol or controlled substances.

(8) The court may impose any of the following conditions:

(a) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations; or

(b) Perform community restitution work.

(9)(a) The court may bring any offender sentenced under this section back into court at any time on its own initiative to evaluate the offender's progress in treatment or to determine if any violations of the conditions of the sentence have occurred.

(b) If the offender is brought back to court, the court may modify the conditions of the community custody or impose sanctions under (c) of this subsection.

(c) The court may order the offender to serve a term of total confinement within the standard range of the offender's current offense at any time during the period of community custody if the offender violates the conditions or requirements of the sentence or if the offender is failing to make satisfactory progress in treatment.

(d) An offender ordered to serve a term of total confinement under (c) of this subsection shall receive credit for any time previously served under this section.

(10) In serving a term of community custody imposed upon failure to complete, or administrative termination from, the special drug offender sentencing alternative program, the offender shall receive no credit for time served in community custody prior to termination of the offender's participation in the program.

(11) If an offender sentenced to the prison-based alternative under subsection (5) of this section is found by the United States attorney general to be subject to a deportation order, a hearing shall be held by the department unless waived by the offender, and, if the department finds that the offender is subject to a valid deportation order, the department may administratively terminate the offender from the program and reclassify the offender to serve the remaining balance of the original sentence.

(12) An offender sentenced under this section shall be subject to all rules relating to earned release time with respect to any period served in total confinement.

(13) Costs of examinations and preparing treatment plans under subsections (2) and (3) of this section may be paid, at the option of the county, from funds provided to the county from the criminal justice treatment account under RCW 70.96A.350.

RCW 9.94A.670

Special sex offender sentencing alternative.

(Effective until August 1, 2009.)

(1) Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this subsection apply to this section only.

(a) "Sex offender treatment provider" or "treatment provider" means a certified sex offender treatment provider or a certified affiliate sex offender treatment provider as defined in RCW 18.155.020.

(b) "Substantial bodily harm" means bodily injury that involves a temporary but substantial disfigurement, or that causes a temporary but substantial loss or impairment of the function of any body part or organ, or that causes a fracture of any body part or organ.

(c) "Victim" means any person who has sustained emotional, psychological, physical, or financial injury to person or property as a result of the crime charged. "Victim" also means a parent or guardian of a victim who is a minor child unless the parent or guardian is the perpetrator of the offense.

(2) An offender is eligible for the special sex offender sentencing alternative if:

(a) The offender has been convicted of a sex offense other than a violation of RCW 9A.44.050 or a sex offense that is also a serious violent offense. If the conviction results from a guilty plea, the offender must, as part of his or her plea of guilty, voluntarily and affirmatively admit he or she committed all of the elements of the crime to which the offender is pleading guilty. This alternative is not available to offenders who plead guilty to the offense charged under North Carolina v. Alford, 400 U.S. 25, 91 S.Ct. 160, 27 L.Ed.2d 162 (1970) and State v. Newton, 87 Wash.2d 363, 552 P.2d 682 (1976);

(b) The offender has no prior convictions for a sex offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030 or any other felony sex offenses in this or any other state;

(c) The offender has no prior adult convictions for a violent offense that was committed within five years of the date the current offense was committed;

(d) The offender has no prior adult convictions for a violent offense that was committed within five years of the date the current offense was committed;

(e) The offense did not result in substantial bodily harm to the victim;

(f) The offender had an established relationship with, or connection to, the victim such that the sole connection with the victim was not the commission of the crime; and

(g) The offender's standard sentence range for the offense includes the possibility of confinement for less than eleven years.

(3) If the court finds the offender is eligible for this alternative, the court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the offender, may order an examination to determine whether the offender is amenable to treatment.

(a) The report of the examination shall include at a minimum the following:

(i) The offender's version of the facts and the official version of the facts;

(ii) The offender's offense history;

(iii) An assessment of problems in addition to alleged deviant behaviors;

(iv) The offender's social and employment situation; and

(v) Other evaluation measures used.

The report shall set forth the sources of the examiner's information.

(b) The examiner shall assess and report regarding the offender's amenability to treatment and relative risk to the community. A proposed treatment plan shall be provided and shall include, at a minimum:

(i) Frequency and type of contact between offender and therapist;

(ii) Specific issues to be addressed in the treatment and description of planned treatment modalities;

(iii) Monitoring plans, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements, and monitoring by family members and others;

(iv) Anticipated length of treatment; and

(v) Recommended crime-related prohibitions and affirmative conditions, which must include, to the extent known, an identification of specific activities or behaviors that are precursors to the offender's offense cycle, including, but not limited to, activities or behaviors such as viewing or listening to pornography or use of alcohol or controlled substances.

(c) The court on its own motion may order, or on a motion by the state shall order, a second examination regarding the offender's amenability to treatment. The examiner shall be selected by the party making the motion. The offender shall pay the cost of any second examination ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost.

(4) After receipt of the reports, the court shall consider whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this alternative, consider whether the alternative is too lenient in light of the extent and circumstances of the offense, consider whether the offender has victims in addition to the victim of the offense, consider whether the offender is amenable to treatment, consider the risk the offender would present to the community, to the victim, or to persons of similar age and circumstances as the victim, and consider the victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment disposition under this section. The court shall give great weight to the victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment disposition under this section. If the sentence imposed is contrary to the victim's opinion, the court shall enter written findings stating its reasons for imposing the treatment disposition. The fact that the offender admits to his or her offense does not, by itself, constitute amenability to treatment. If the court determines that this alternative is appropriate, the court shall then impose a sentence or, pursuant to *RCW 9.94A.712, a minimum term of sentence, within the standard sentence range. If the sentence imposed is less than eleven years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and impose the following conditions of suspension:

(a) The court shall order the offender to serve a term of confinement of up to twelve months or the maximum term within the standard range, whichever is less. The court may order the offender to serve a term of confinement greater than twelve months or the maximum term within the standard range based on the presence of an aggravating circumstance listed in RCW 9.94A.535(3). In no case shall the term of confinement exceed the statutory maximum sentence for the offense. The court may order the offender to serve all or part of his or her term of confinement in partial confinement. An offender sentenced to a term of confinement under this subsection is not eligible for earned release under RCW 9.92.151 or 9.94A.728.

(b) The court shall place the offender on community custody for the length of the suspended sentence, the length of the maximum term imposed pursuant to *RCW 9.94A.712, or three years, whichever is greater, and require the offender to comply with any conditions imposed by the department under RCW 9.94A.720.

(c) The court shall order treatment for any period up to five years in duration. The court, in its discretion, shall order outpatient sex offender treatment or inpatient sex offender treatment, if available. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment. The offender shall not change sex offender treatment providers or treatment conditions without first notifying the prosecutor, the community corrections officer, and the court. If any party or the court objects to a proposed change, the offender shall not change providers or conditions without court approval after a hearing.

(d) As conditions of the suspended sentence, the court shall impose specific prohibitions and affirmative conditions relating to the known precursor activities or behaviors identified in the proposed treatment plan under subsection (3)(b)(v) of this section or identified in an annual review under subsection (7)(b) of this section.

(5) As conditions of the suspended sentence, the court may impose one or more of the following:

(a) Crime-related prohibitions;

(b) Require the offender to devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(c) Require the offender to remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;

(d) Require the offender to report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;

(e) Require the offender to pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030;

(f) Require the offender to perform community restitution work; or

(g) Require the offender to reimburse the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime.

(6) At the time of sentencing, the court shall set a treatment termination hearing for three months prior to the anticipated date for completion of treatment.

(7)(a) The sex offender treatment provider shall submit quarterly reports on the offender's progress in treatment to the court and the parties. The report shall reference the treatment plan and include at a minimum the following: Dates of attendance, offender's compliance with requirements, treatment activities, the offender's relative progress in treatment, and any other material specified by the court at sentencing.

(b) The court shall conduct a hearing on the offender's progress in treatment at least once a year. At least fourteen days prior to the hearing, notice of the hearing shall be given to the victim. The victim shall be given the opportunity to make statements to the court regarding the offender's supervision and treatment. At the hearing, the court may modify conditions of community custody including, but not limited to, crime-related prohibitions and affirmative conditions relating to activities and behaviors identified as part of, or relating to precursor activities and behaviors in, the offender's offense cycle or revoke the suspended sentence.

(8) At least fourteen days prior to the treatment termination hearing, notice of the hearing shall be given to the victim. The victim shall be given the opportunity to make statements to the court regarding the offender's supervision and treatment. Prior to the treatment termination hearing, the treatment provider and community corrections officer shall submit written reports to the court and parties regarding the offender's compliance with treatment and monitoring requirements, and recommendations regarding termination from treatment, including proposed community custody conditions. The court may order an evaluation regarding the advisability of termination from treatment by a sex offender treatment provider who may not be the same person who treated the offender under subsection (4) of this section or any person who employs, is employed by, or shares profits with the person who treated the offender under subsection (4) of this section unless the court has entered written findings that such evaluation is in the best interest of the victim and that a successful evaluation of the offender would otherwise be impractical. The offender shall pay the cost of the evaluation. At the treatment termination hearing the court may: (a) Modify conditions of community custody, and either (b) terminate treatment, or (c) extend treatment in two-year increments for up to the remaining period of community custody.

(9)(a) If a violation of conditions other than a second violation of the prohibitions or affirmative conditions relating to precursor behaviors or activities imposed under subsection (4)(d) or (7)(b) of this section occurs during community custody, the department shall either impose sanctions as provided for in RCW 9.94A.737\(2\)\(a\) or refer the violation to the court and recommend revocation of the suspended sentence as provided for in subsections (6) and (8) of this section.

(b) If a second violation of the prohibitions or affirmative conditions relating to precursor behaviors or activities imposed under subsection (4)(d) or (7)(b) of this section occurs during community custody, the department shall refer the violation to the court and recommend revocation of the suspended sentence as provided in subsection (10) of this section.

(10) The court may revoke the suspended sentence at any time during the period of community custody and order execution of the sentence if: (a) The offender violates the conditions of the suspended sentence, or (b) the court finds that the offender is failing to make satisfactory progress in treatment. All confinement time served during the period of community custody shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(11) The offender's sex offender treatment provider may not be the same person who examined the offender under subsection (3) of this section or any person who employs, is employed by, or shares profits with the person who examined the offender under subsection (3) of this section, unless the court has entered written findings that such treatment is in the best interests of the victim and that successful treatment of the offender would otherwise be impractical. Examinations and treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection shall only be conducted by certified sex offender treatment providers or certified affiliate sex offender treatment providers under chapter 18.155 RCW unless the court finds that:

(a) The offender has already moved to another state or plans to move to another state for reasons other than circumventing the certification requirements; or

(b)(i) No certified sex offender treatment providers or certified affiliate sex offender treatment providers are available for treatment within a reasonable geographical distance of the offender's home; and

(ii) The evaluation and treatment plan comply with this section and the rules adopted by the department of health.

(12) If the offender is less than eighteen years of age when the charge is filed, the state shall pay for the cost of initial evaluation and treatment.

Comments

The 1990 Legislature revised several aspects of the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative. These include increasing the accountability of the treatment provider to the court, changing the maximum sentence allowed from six years to eight years, increasing the length of community supervision and treatment and directing that, after July 1991, examinations and treatment under SSOSA be conducted by certified sex offender treatment providers.

The 1996 Legislature also converted the status of offenders sentenced under the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative from community supervision to community custody and authorized the Department of Corrections to impose sanctions administratively. The same legislation extended the period of community custody for sex offenders sentenced to prison to three years or the period of earned release, whichever is longer, and also authorized courts to extend conditions of community custody for a period up to the statutory maximum sentence for the offense. The same legislation authorized the Department of Corrections to impose additional conditions on sex offenders serving in community custody status.

The 1997 Legislature increased from less than eight to less than eleven years the length of a standard-range sentence that may be suspended under the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative. Therefore SSOSA remains available in cases eligible under prior law, despite increases in the seriousness levels of certain offenses under RCW 9.94A.320. The Legislature also required that the state pay for initial evaluation and treatment in SSOSA cases where the defendant was less than 18 years old when the charge was filed.

The 1997 Legislature also clarified that offenders sentenced under SSOSA are not eligible to accrue earned early release time while serving a suspended sentence.

In 2007, the Court of Appeals held that the trial court must consider the victim's opinion about whether the offender should receive the treatment disposition, but the statute does not require the court to consider the victim's opinion before revoking the sentence. State v. Ramirez, 140 Wn. App. 278 (2007).

Effective August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.670's community custody provisions can be found in RCW 9.94A.701(4)

RCW 9.94A.670

Special sex offender sentencing alternative.

(Effective August 1, 2009.)

(1) Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this subsection apply to this section only.

(a) "Sex offender treatment provider" or "treatment provider" means a certified sex offender treatment provider or a certified affiliate sex offender treatment provider as defined in RCW 18.155.020.

(b) "Substantial bodily harm" means bodily injury that involves a temporary but substantial disfigurement, or that causes a temporary but substantial loss or impairment of the function of any body part or organ, or that causes a fracture of any body part or organ.

(c) "Victim" means any person who has sustained emotional, psychological, physical, or financial injury to person or property as a result of the crime charged. "Victim" also means a parent or guardian of a victim who is a minor child unless the parent or guardian is the perpetrator of the offense.

(2) An offender is eligible for the special sex offender sentencing alternative if:

(a) The offender has been convicted of a sex offense other than a violation of RCW 9A.44.050 or a sex offense that is also a serious violent offense. If the conviction results from a guilty plea, the offender must, as part of his or her plea of guilty, voluntarily and affirmatively admit he or she committed all of the elements of the crime to which the offender is pleading guilty. This alternative is not available to offenders who plead guilty to the offense charged under North Carolina v. Alford, 400 U.S. 25, 91 S.Ct. 160, 27 L.Ed.2d 162 (1970) and State v. Newton, 87 Wash.2d 363, 552 P.2d 682 (1976);

(b) The offender has no prior convictions for a sex offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030 or any other felony sex offenses in this or any other state;

(c) The offender has no prior adult convictions for a violent offense that was committed within five years of the date the current offense was committed;

(d) The offense did not result in substantial bodily harm to the victim;

(e) The offender had an established relationship with, or connection to, the victim such that the sole connection with the victim was not the commission of the crime; and

(f) The offender's standard sentence range for the offense includes the possibility of confinement for less than eleven years.

(3) If the court finds the offender is eligible for this alternative, the court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the offender, may order an examination to determine whether the offender is amenable to treatment.

(a) The report of the examination shall include at a minimum the following:

(i) The offender's version of the facts and the official version of the facts;

(ii) The offender's offense history;

(iii) An assessment of problems in addition to alleged deviant behaviors;

(iv) The offender's social and employment situation; and

(v) Other evaluation measures used.

The report shall set forth the sources of the examiner's information.

(b) The examiner shall assess and report regarding the offender's amenability to treatment and relative risk to the community. A proposed treatment plan shall be provided and shall include, at a minimum:

(i) Frequency and type of contact between offender and therapist;

(ii) Specific issues to be addressed in the treatment and description of planned treatment modalities;

(iii) Monitoring plans, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements, and monitoring by family members and others;

(iv) Anticipated length of treatment; and

(v) Recommended crime-related prohibitions and affirmative conditions, which must include, to the extent known, an identification of specific activities or behaviors that are precursors to the offender's offense cycle, including, but not limited to, activities or behaviors such as viewing or listening to pornography or use of alcohol or controlled substances.

(c) The court on its own motion may order, or on a motion by the state shall order, a second examination regarding the offender's amenability to treatment. The examiner shall be selected by the party making the motion. The offender shall pay the cost of any second examination ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost.

(4) After receipt of the reports, the court shall consider whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this alternative, consider whether the alternative is too lenient in light of the extent and circumstances of the offense, consider whether the offender has victims in addition to the victim of the offense, consider whether the offender is amenable to treatment, consider the risk the offender would present to the community, to the victim, or to persons of similar age and circumstances as the victim, and consider the victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment disposition under this section. The court shall give great weight to the victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment disposition under this section. If the sentence imposed is contrary to the victim's opinion, the court shall enter written findings stating its reasons for imposing the treatment disposition. The fact that the offender admits to his or her offense does not, by itself, constitute amenability to treatment. If the court determines that this alternative is appropriate, the court shall then impose a sentence or, pursuant to *RCW 9.94A.712, a minimum term of sentence, within the standard sentence range. If the sentence imposed is less than eleven years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence as provided in this section.

(5) As conditions of the suspended sentence, the court must impose the following:

(a) A term of confinement of up to twelve months or the maximum term within the standard range, whichever is less. The court may order the offender to serve a term of confinement greater than twelve months or the maximum term within the standard range based on the presence of an aggravating circumstance listed in RCW 9.94A.535(3). In no case shall the term of confinement exceed the statutory maximum sentence for the offense. The court may order the offender to serve all or part of his or her term of confinement in partial confinement. An offender sentenced to a term of confinement under this subsection is not eligible for earned release under RCW 9.92.151 or 9.94A.728.

(b) A term of community custody equal to the length of the suspended sentence, the length of the maximum term imposed pursuant to *RCW 9.94A.712, or three years, whichever is greater, and require the offender to comply with any conditions imposed by the department under RCW 9.94A.703.

(c) Treatment for any period up to five years in duration. The court, in its discretion, shall order outpatient sex offender treatment or inpatient sex offender treatment, if available. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment. The offender shall not change sex offender treatment providers or treatment conditions without first notifying the prosecutor, the community corrections officer, and the court. If any party or the court objects to a proposed change, the offender shall not change providers or conditions without court approval after a hearing.

(d) Specific prohibitions and affirmative conditions relating to the known precursor activities or behaviors identified in the proposed treatment plan under subsection (3)(b)(v) of this section or identified in an annual review under subsection (8)(b) of this section.

(6) As conditions of the suspended sentence, the court may impose one or more of the following:

(a) Crime-related prohibitions;

(b) Require the offender to devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(c) Require the offender to remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;

(d) Require the offender to report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;

(e) Require the offender to pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030;

(f) Require the offender to perform community restitution work; or

(g) Require the offender to reimburse the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime.

(7) At the time of sentencing, the court shall set a treatment termination hearing for three months prior to the anticipated date for completion of treatment.

(8)(a) The sex offender treatment provider shall submit quarterly reports on the offender's progress in treatment to the court and the parties. The report shall reference the treatment plan and include at a minimum the following: Dates of attendance, offender's compliance with requirements, treatment activities, the offender's relative progress in treatment, and any other material specified by the court at sentencing.

(b) The court shall conduct a hearing on the offender's progress in treatment at least once a year. At least fourteen days prior to the hearing, notice of the hearing shall be given to the victim. The victim shall be given the opportunity to make statements to the court regarding the offender's supervision and treatment. At the hearing, the court may modify conditions of community custody including, but not limited to, crime-related prohibitions and affirmative conditions relating to activities and behaviors identified as part of, or relating to precursor activities and behaviors in, the offender's offense cycle or revoke the suspended sentence.

(9) At least fourteen days prior to the treatment termination hearing, notice of the hearing shall be given to the victim. The victim shall be given the opportunity to make statements to the court regarding the offender's supervision and treatment. Prior to the treatment termination hearing, the treatment provider and community corrections officer shall submit written reports to the court and parties regarding the offender's compliance with treatment and monitoring requirements, and recommendations regarding termination from treatment, including proposed community custody conditions. The court may order an evaluation regarding the advisability of termination from treatment by a sex offender treatment provider who may not be the same person who treated the offender under subsection (5) of this section or any person who employs, is employed by, or shares profits with the person who treated the offender under subsection (5) of this section unless the court has entered written findings that such evaluation is in the best interest of the victim and that a successful evaluation of the offender would otherwise be impractical. The offender shall pay the cost of the evaluation. At the treatment termination hearing the court may: (a) Modify conditions of community custody, and either (b) terminate treatment, or (c) extend treatment in two-year increments for up to the remaining period of community custody.

(10)(a) If a violation of conditions other than a second violation of the prohibitions or affirmative conditions relating to precursor behaviors or activities imposed under subsection (5)(d) or (8)(b) of this section occurs during community custody, the department shall either impose sanctions as provided for in RCW 9.94A.633(1) or refer the violation to the court and recommend revocation of the suspended sentence as provided for in subsections (7) and (9) of this section.

(b) If a second violation of the prohibitions or affirmative conditions relating to precursor behaviors or activities imposed under subsection (5)(d) or (8)(b) of this section occurs during community custody, the department shall refer the violation to the court and recommend revocation of the suspended sentence as provided in subsection (11) of this section.

(11) The court may revoke the suspended sentence at any time during the period of community custody and order execution of the sentence if: (a) The offender violates the conditions of the suspended sentence, or (b) the court finds that the offender is failing to make satisfactory progress in treatment. All confinement time served during the period of community custody shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(12) If the offender violates a requirement of the sentence that is not a condition of the suspended sentence pursuant to subsection (5) or (6) of this section, the department may impose sanctions pursuant to RCW 9.94A.633(1).

(13) The offender's sex offender treatment provider may not be the same person who examined the offender under subsection (3) of this section or any person who employs, is employed by, or shares profits with the person who examined the offender under subsection (3) of this section, unless the court has entered written findings that such treatment is in the best interests of the victim and that successful treatment of the offender would otherwise be impractical. Examinations and treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection shall only be conducted by certified sex offender treatment providers or certified affiliate sex offender treatment providers under chapter 18.155 RCW unless the court finds that:

(a) The offender has already moved to another state or plans to move to another state for reasons other than circumventing the certification requirements; or

(b)(i) No certified sex offender treatment providers or certified affiliate sex offender treatment providers are available for treatment within a reasonable geographical distance of the offender's home; and

(ii) The evaluation and treatment plan comply with this section and the rules adopted by the department of health.

(14) If the offender is less than eighteen years of age when the charge is filed, the state shall pay for the cost of initial evaluation and treatment.

Alternatives to total confinement.

Alternatives to total confinement are available for offenders with sentences of one year or less. These alternatives include the following sentence conditions that the court may order as substitutes for total confinement:

(1) One day of partial confinement may be substituted for one day of total confinement;

(2) In addition, for offenders convicted of nonviolent offenses only, eight hours of community restitution may be substituted for one day of total confinement, with a maximum conversion limit of two hundred forty hours or thirty days. Community restitution hours must be completed within the period of community supervision or a time period specified by the court, which shall not exceed twenty-four months, pursuant to a schedule determined by the department; and

(3) For offenders convicted of nonviolent and nonsex offenses, the court may authorize county jails to convert jail confinement to an available county supervised community option and may require the offender to perform affirmative conduct pursuant to RCW 9.94A.607.

For sentences of nonviolent offenders for one year or less, the court shall consider and give priority to available alternatives to total confinement and shall state its reasons in writing on the judgment and sentence form if the alternatives are not used.

Comments

One of the legislative directions to the Commission was to "emphasize confinement for the violent offender and alternatives to total confinement for the nonviolent offender" (RCW 9.94A.040). In fulfilling this directive, the Commission believed it was necessary to develop a flexible policy, but one that also ensures some standardization in its application. The Commission decided that by having the court set the sentence in terms of total confinement (i.e., jail time), proportionality among like offenders would be maintained. The court then has the discretion to apply alternative conversions as a substitute for total confinement for offenders with sentences less than a year. One day of partial confinement (typically work release) or eight hours of community service may replace one day of total confinement. The community service hours, however, are limited to 240 hours (30 days) and thus may only be a partial equivalent for any sentence over 30 days.

A converted sentence may include an equivalent combination of jail time, work release, and community service hours. As an example, a sentence of total confinement for nine months may be converted to five months of jail, three months of partial confinement, and one month of community service.

In 1988, the Commission recommended this subsection be rewritten to clarify that conversions to community service hours are not available for offenders convicted of violent offenses. The court is directed to indicate its reasons in writing for not using alternatives to confinement for eligible offenders.

The 1999 Legislature permitted courts to authorize county jails to convert jail confinement to an available county-supervised option for any non-violent, non-sex offender whom the courts finds has a chemical dependency that contributed to the offense. Courts are permitted to require such offenders to perform affirmative conduct and/or to participate in rehabilitative programs.

RCW 9.94A.685

Alien offenders.

(1) Subject to the limitations of this section, any alien offender committed to the custody of the department under the sentencing reform act of 1981, chapter 9.94A RCW, who has been found by the United States attorney general to be subject to a final order of deportation or exclusion, may be placed on conditional release status and released to the immigration and naturalization service for deportation at any time prior to the expiration of the offender's term of confinement. Conditional release shall continue until the expiration of the statutory maximum sentence provided by law for the crime or crimes of which the offender was convicted. If the offender has multiple current convictions, the statutory maximum sentence allowed by law for each crime shall run concurrently.

(2) No offender may be released under this section unless the secretary or the secretary's designee find [finds] that such release is in the best interests of the state of Washington. Further, releases under this section may occur only with the approval of the sentencing court and the prosecuting attorney of the county of conviction.

(3) No offender may be released under this section who is serving a sentence for a violent offense or sex offense, as defined in RCW 9.94A.030, or any other offense that is a crime against a person.

(4) The unserved portion of the term of confinement of any offender released under this section shall be tolled at the time the offender is released to the immigration and naturalization service for deportation. Upon the release of an offender to the immigration and naturalization service, the department shall issue a warrant for the offender's arrest within the United States. This warrant shall remain in effect until the expiration of the offender's conditional release.

(5) Upon arrest of an offender, the department shall seek extradition as necessary and the offender shall be returned to the department for completion of the unserved portion of the offender's term of total confinement. The offender shall also be required to fully comply with all the terms and conditions of the sentence.

(6) Alien offenders released to the immigration and naturalization service for deportation under this section are not thereby relieved of their obligation to pay restitution or other legal financial obligations ordered by the sentencing court.

(7) Any offender released pursuant to this section who returns illegally to the United States may not thereafter be released again pursuant to this section.

(8) The secretary is authorized to take all reasonable actions to implement this section and shall assist federal authorities in prosecuting alien offenders who may illegally reenter the United States and enter the state of Washington.

Comment

The 1993 Legislature established the Work Ethic Camp program sentencing alternative.

The 1995 Legislature authorized a sentence to Work Ethic Camp for offenders convicted of drug delivery. That sentence to Work Ethic Camp was intended as an alternative to the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative, not for use in conjunction with it. The 1999 Legislature subsequently made all drug offenders ineligible for the Work Ethic Camp (see RCW 9.94A.137).

The 1995 Legislature expanded eligibility for Work Ethic Camp by including those sentenced for Possession, manufacture, delivery, or Possession with intent to deliver a controlled substance, eliminating age-based qualifications and reducing from 22 to 16 months the minimum term of confinement qualifying an offender for Work Ethic Camp. The legislation also requires the sentencing court to specify conditions of supervision on community custody status after completion of the Work Ethic Camp, and to specify that violating those conditions may return the offender to total confinement for the remainder of the sentence. The Department of Corrections may deny placement in the Work Ethic Camp on the basis of an offender's custody level. This sentencing option was intended to be an alternative to the treatment-oriented Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative, not for use in conjunction with it.

The 1999 Legislature revised the eligibility criteria for the Work Ethic Camp, effective for offenses committed on or after July 25, 1999. Offenders violating the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (RCW 69.50) are not eligible, nor are offenders subject to federal INS deportation detainers or orders. Offenders who have previously participated in Work Ethic Camp are also not eligible. The 1999 Legislature also reduced the minimum sentence qualifying an offender for Work Ethic Camp from 16 months down to 12 months and a day (and a maximum sentence of 36 months). In addition, the 1999 Legislature eliminated the "three-to-one conversion," whereby one day in Work Ethic Camp equaled three days of total confinement.

RCW 9.94A.700

Community placement. (Effective until August 1, 2009, then recodified as RCW 9.94B.050.)

When a court sentences an offender to a term of total confinement in the custody of the department for any of the offenses specified in this section, the court shall also sentence the offender to a term of community placement as provided in this section. Except as provided in RCW 9.94A.501, the department shall supervise any sentence of community placement imposed under this section.

(1) The court shall order a one-year term of community placement for the following:

(a) A sex offense or a serious violent offense committed after July 1, 1988, but before July 1, 1990; or

(b) An offense committed on or after July 1, 1988, but before July 25, 1999, that is:

(i) Assault in the second degree;

(ii) Assault of a child in the second degree;

(iii) A crime against persons where it is determined in accordance with RCW 9.94A.602 that the offender or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of commission; or

(iv) A felony offense under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW not sentenced under RCW 9.94A.660.

(2) The court shall sentence the offender to a term of community placement of two years or up to the period of earned release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.728, whichever is longer, for:

(a) An offense categorized as a sex offense committed on or after July 1, 1990, but before June 6, 1996, including those sex offenses also included in other offense categories;

(b) A serious violent offense other than a sex offense committed on or after July 1, 1990, but before July 1, 2000; or

(c) A vehicular homicide or vehicular assault committed on or after July 1, 1990, but before July 1, 2000.

(3) The community placement ordered under this section shall begin either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned release. When the court sentences an offender to the statutory maximum sentence then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of the community custody to which the offender may become eligible. Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence.

(4) Unless a condition is waived by the court, the terms of any community placement imposed under this section shall include the following conditions:

(a) The offender shall report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officer as directed;

(b) The offender shall work at department-approved education, employment, or community restitution, or any combination thereof;

(c) The offender shall not possess or consume controlled substances except pursuant to lawfully issued prescriptions;

(d) The offender shall pay supervision fees as determined by the department; and

(e) The residence location and living arrangements shall be subject to the prior approval of the department during the period of community placement.

(5) As a part of any terms of community placement imposed under this section, the court may also order one or more of the following special conditions:

(a) The offender shall remain within, or outside of, a specified geographical boundary;

(b) The offender shall not have direct or indirect contact with the victim of the crime or a specified class of individuals;

(c) The offender shall participate in crime-related treatment or counseling services;

(d) The offender shall not consume alcohol; or

(e) The offender shall comply with any crime-related prohibitions.

(6) An offender convicted of a felony sex offense against a minor victim after June 6, 1996, shall comply with any terms and conditions of community placement imposed by the department relating to contact between the sex offender and a minor victim or a child of similar age or circumstance as a previous victim.

(7) Prior to or during community placement, upon recommendation of the department, the sentencing court may remove or modify any conditions of community placement so as not to be more restrictive.

Comments

The 1996 Legislature required that persons sentenced to prison for Vehicular Assault or Vehicular Homicide also be sentenced to community placement for two years or up to the period of earned release time, whichever is longer.

The 1996 Legislature also authorized courts to require that sex offenders whose victims were minors comply with conditions of community placement imposed by the Department of Corrections regarding contact with minor victims or with children of similar age or circumstances.

In 2008, the Court of Appeals held that, under RCW 9.94A.700(5)(e), a prohibition on internet access without pre-approval must be crime-related in order to be a valid condition of sentence. State v. O’Cain, 144 Wn. App. 772 (2008). This holding does not preclude control over internet access being imposed as part of sex offender treatment if recommended after a sexual deviancy evaluation. Id.

In a separate case, the Court considered a condition of sentence prohibiting contact with “vulnerable, ill or disabled adults.” The Court struck “ill” as unconstitutionally vague, remanded the case to the trial court to define “vulnerable” and “disabled”, but held that the order was not unconstitutionally overbroad because it was reasonably related to the state’s essential need to protect such adults. State v. Moultrie, 143 Wn. App. 387 (2008). The Court also held that the order was not unconstitutional because of its duration. Id.

The Court also held that restricting a defendant, convicted of child rape and incest, from contact with former foster parents was reasonably necessary to protect them and the public order. State v. Bobenhouse, 143 Wn. App. 315 (2008).

Finally, the Court held that the sentencing court does not have authority to order a mental health evaluation and treatment under RCW 9.94A.505(9) and RCW 9.94A.700(5)(c) unless reasonable grounds demonstrate that the defendant is mentally ill and the condition most likely influenced the offense. State v. Brooks, 142 Wn. App. 842 (2008).

Effective August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.700 is recodified to RCW 9.94B.050.

established under RCW 9.94A.850 or up to the period of earned release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.728 (1) and (2), whichever is longer:

- (d) A felony offender under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW.

(2) If an offender is sentenced to a term of confinement of one year or less for a violation of RCW 9A.44.130(11)(a), the court shall impose a term of community custody for the community custody range established under RCW 9.94A.850 or up to the period of earned release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.728 (1) and (2), whichever is longer.

(3) If an offender is sentenced under the drug offender sentencing alternative, the court shall impose community custody as provided in RCW 9.94A.660.

(4) If an offender is sentenced under the special sexual offender sentencing alternative, the court shall impose community custody as provided in RCW 9.94A.670.

(5) If an offender is sentenced to a work ethic camp, the court shall impose community custody as provided in RCW 9.94A.690.

(6) If a sex offender is sentenced as a nonpersistent offender pursuant to *RCW 9.94A.712, the court shall impose community custody as provided in that section.

[2008 c 231 § 7.]

Notes:

Reviser's note: RCW 9.94A.712 was recodified as RCW 9.94A.507 pursuant to the direction found in section 56(4), chapter 231, Laws of 2008, effective August 1, 2009.

Intent -- 2008 c 231: "The existing sentencing reform act contains numerous provisions for supervision of different types of offenders. This duplication has caused great confusion for judges, lawyers, offenders, and the department of corrections, and often results in inaccurate sentences. The clarifications in this act are intended to support continued discussions by the sentencing guidelines commission with the courts and the criminal justice community to identify and propose policy changes that will further simplify and improve the sentencing reform act relating to the supervision of offenders. The sentencing guidelines commission shall submit policy change proposals to the legislature on or before December 1, 2008.

Sections 7 through 58 of this act are intended to simplify the supervision provisions of the sentencing reform act and increase the uniformity of its application. These sections are not intended to either increase or decrease the authority of sentencing courts or the department relating to supervision, except for those provisions instructing the court to apply the provisions of the current community custody law to offenders sentenced after July 1, 2009, but who committed their crime prior to August 1, 2009, to the extent that such application is constitutionally permissible.

This will effect a change for offenders who committed their crimes prior to the offender accountability act, chapter 196, Laws of 1999. These offenders will be ordered to a term of community custody rather than community placement or community supervision. To the extent constitutionally permissible, the terms of the offender's supervision will be as provided in current law. With the exception of this change, the legislature does not intend to make, and no provision of sections 7 through 58 of this act may be construed as making, a substantive change to the supervision provisions of the sentencing reform act.

It is the intent of the legislature to reaffirm that section 3, chapter 379, Laws of 2003, expires July 1, 2010." [2008 c 231 § 6.]

Application -- 2008 c 231 §§ 6-58: "(1) Sections 6 through 58 of this act apply to all sentences imposed or reimposed on or after August 1, 2009, for any crime committed on or after August 1, 2009.

(2) Sections 6 through 58 of this act also apply to all sentences imposed or reimposed on or after August 1, 2009, for crimes committed prior to August 1, 2009, to the extent that such application is constitutionally permissible.

(3) To the extent that application of sections 6 through 58 of this act is not constitutionally permissible with respect to any offender, the sentence for such offender shall be governed by the law as it existed before August 1, 2009, or on such prior date as may be constitutionally required, notwithstanding any amendment or repeal of provisions of such law.

(4) If application of sections 6 through 58 of this act is not constitutionally permissible with respect to any offender, the judgment and sentence shall specify the particular sentencing provisions that will not apply to such offender. Whenever practical, the judgment and sentence shall use the terminology set out in this act.

(5) The sentencing guidelines commission shall prepare a summary of the circumstances under which application of sections 6 through 58 of this act is not constitutionally permissible. The summary should include recommendations of conditions that could be included in judgments and sentences in order to prevent unconstitutional application of the act. This summary shall be incorporated into the Adult Sentencing Guidelines Manual.

(6) Sections 6 through 58 of this act shall not affect the enforcement of any sentence that was imposed prior to August 1, 2009, unless the offender is resentenced after that date." [2008 c 231 § 55.]

Application of repealers -- 2008 c 231 § 57: "The repealers in section 57 of this act shall not affect the validity of any sentence that was imposed prior to August 1, 2009, or the authority of the department of corrections to supervise any offender pursuant to such sentence." [2008 c 231 § 58.]

Effective date -- 2008 c 231 §§ 6-60: "Sections 6 through 60 of this act take effect August 1, 2009." [2008 c 231 § 61.]

As of August 1, 2009, this statute, together with RCW 9.94A.703 replace RCW 9.94A.650(2) as the provisions governing community service for individuals who receive a First-time Offender Waiver. However, RCW 9.94A.650(4) also provides that the Court may order the offender to pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations and/or perform community restitution work. Additionally, RCW 9.94A.702(1) replaces part of RCW 9.94A.545(1).

Community custody — Conditions. (Effective August 1, 2009.)

When a court sentences a person to a term of community custody, the court shall impose conditions of community custody as provided in this section.

(1) Mandatory conditions. As part of any term of community custody, the court shall:

(a) Require the offender to inform the department of court-ordered treatment upon request by the department;

(b) Require the offender to comply with any conditions imposed by the department under RCW 9.94A.704;

(c) If the offender was sentenced under *RCW 9.94A.712 for an offense listed in *RCW 9.94A.712(1)(a), and the victim of the offense was under eighteen years of age at the time of the offense, prohibit the offender from residing in a community protection zone.

(2) Waivable conditions. Unless waived by the court, as part of any term of community custody, the court shall order an offender to:

(a) Report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officer as directed;

(b) Work at department-approved education, employment, or community restitution, or any combination thereof;

(c) Refrain from possessing or consuming controlled substances except pursuant to lawfully issued prescriptions;

Comments

As of August 1, 2009, this statute, together with RCW 9.94A.70 replace RCW 9.94A.650(2) as the provisions governing community custody for individuals who receive a First-time Offender Waiver. However, RCW 9.94A.650(4) also provides that the Court may order the offender to pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations and/or perform community restitution work.

Prior to that August 1, 2009, conditions of community custody were primarily governed by RCW 9.94A.700, .715, and .720. After that date, conditions of community custody are primarily governed by RCW 9.94A.703, .704, .706, .708, .709, and .722.

Comments

The Court of Appeals reviewed the sentence of a defendant convicted in 2003. It held that, under former RCW 9.94A.712 (2002), “an offender who is not a persistent offender shall be sentenced under this section if the offender . . . is convicted of . . . rape of a child in the first degree.” Under State v. Clarke, 156 Wn.2d 880, 134 P.2d 188 (2006), the sentencing court was entitled to make factual findings on the aggravating factors and imposition of the exceptional minimum sentence did not violate Blakely. State v. Halsey, 140 Wn. App. 313 (2007).

Effective August 1, 2009, this statute is recodified as RCW 9.94A.507.

RCW 9.94A.713

Nonpersistent offenders — Conditions.

(Effective until August 1, 2009.)

(1) When an offender is sentenced under *RCW 9.94A.712, the department shall assess the offender's risk of recidivism and shall recommend to the board any additional or modified conditions of the offender's community custody based upon the risk to community safety. In addition, the department shall make a recommendation with regard to, and the board may require the offender to participate in, rehabilitative programs, or otherwise perform affirmative conduct, and obey all laws. The department may recommend and, if recommended, the board may impose electronic monitoring as a condition of community custody for the offender. Within the resources made available by the department for this purpose, the department shall carry out any monitoring imposed under this section using the most appropriate technology given the individual circumstances of the offender. As used in this section, "electronic monitoring" means the monitoring of an offender using an electronic offender tracking system including, but not limited to, a system using radio frequency or active or passive global positioning technology. The board must consider and may impose department-recommended conditions.

(2) The department may not recommend and the board may not impose conditions that are contrary to those ordered by the court and may not contravene or decrease court-imposed conditions. The board shall notify the offender in writing of any such conditions or modifications.

(3) In setting, modifying, and enforcing conditions of community custody, the department shall be deemed to be performing a quasi-judicial function.

(4) If an offender violates conditions imposed by the court, the department, or the board during community custody, the board or the department may transfer the offender to a more restrictive confinement status and impose other available sanctions as provided in RCW 9.95.435.

(5) By the close of the next business day, after receiving notice of a condition imposed by the board or the department, an offender may request an administrative hearing under rules adopted by the board. The condition shall remain in effect unless the hearing examiner finds that it is not reasonably related to any of the following:

- (a) The crime of conviction;
- (b) The offender's risk of reoffending; or
- (c) The safety of the community.

(6) An offender released by the board under RCW 9.95.420 shall be subject to the supervision of the department until the expiration of the maximum term of the sentence. The department shall monitor the offender's compliance with conditions of community custody imposed by the court, department, or board, and promptly report any violations to the board. Any violation of conditions of community custody established or modified by the board shall be subject to the provisions of RCW 9.95.425 through 9.95.440.

(7) If the department finds that an emergency exists requiring the immediate imposition of conditions of release in addition to those set by the board under RCW 9.95.420 and subsection (1) of this section in order to prevent the offender from committing a crime, the department may impose additional conditions. The department may not impose conditions that are contrary to those set by the board or the court and may not contravene or decrease court-imposed or board-imposed conditions. Conditions imposed under this subsection shall take effect immediately after notice to the offender by personal service, but shall not remain in effect longer than seven working days unless approved by the board under subsection (1) of this section within seven working days.

RCW 9.94A.713 is repealed effective August 1, 2009.

Community custody — Violations — Immunity from civil liability for placing offenders on electronic monitoring. (Effective August 1, 2009.)

(1) If an offender has not completed his or her maximum term of total confinement and is subject to a third violation hearing pursuant to RCW 9.94A.737 for any violation of community custody and is found to have committed the violation, the department shall return the offender to total confinement in a state correctional facility to serve up to the remaining portion of his or her sentence, unless it is determined that returning the offender to a state correctional facility would substantially interfere with the offender's ability to maintain necessary community supports or to participate in necessary treatment or programming and would substantially increase the offender's likelihood of reoffending.

(2) The department may work with the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs to establish and operate an electronic monitoring program for low-risk offenders who violate the terms of their community custody.

(3) Local governments, their subdivisions and employees, the department and its employees, and the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs and its employees are immune from civil liability for damages arising from incidents involving low-risk offenders who are placed on electronic monitoring unless it is shown that an employee acted with gross negligence or bad faith.

RCW 9.94A.715 (As amended by 2008 c 276)

Community custody for specified offenders — Conditions.

(1) When a court sentences a person to the custody of the department for a sex offense not sentenced under *RCW 9.94A.712, a violent offense, any crime against persons under RCW 9.94A.411(2), an offense involving the unlawful possession of a firearm under RCW 9.41.040, where the offender is a criminal street gang member or associate, or a felony offense under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW, committed on or after July 1, 2000, or when a court sentences a person to a term of confinement of one year or less for a violation of RCW 9A.44.130(((10))) (11)(a) committed on or after June 7, 2006, the court shall in addition to the other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to community custody for the community custody range established under RCW 9.94A.850 or up to the period of earned release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.728 (1) and (2), whichever is longer. The community custody shall begin: (a) Upon completion of the term of confinement; (b) at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.728 (1) and (2); or (c) with regard to offenders sentenced under RCW 9.94A.660, upon failure to complete or administrative termination from the special drug offender sentencing alternative program. Except as provided in RCW 9.94A.501, the department shall supervise any sentence of community custody imposed under this section.

(2)(a) Unless a condition is waived by the court, the conditions of community custody shall include those provided for in RCW 9.94A.700(4). The conditions may also include those provided for in RCW 9.94A.700(5). The court may also order the offender to participate in rehabilitative programs or otherwise perform affirmative conduct reasonably related to the circumstances of the offense, the offender's risk of reoffending, or the safety of the community, and the department shall enforce such conditions pursuant to subsection (6) of this section.

(b) As part of any sentence that includes a term of community custody imposed under this subsection, the court shall also require the offender to comply with any conditions imposed by the department under RCW 9.94A.720. The department shall assess the offender's risk of reoffense and may establish and modify additional conditions of the offender's community custody based upon the risk to community safety. In addition, the department may require the offender to participate in rehabilitative programs, or otherwise perform affirmative conduct, and to obey all laws. The department may impose electronic monitoring as a condition of community custody for an offender sentenced to a term of community custody under this section pursuant to a conviction for a sex offense. Within the resources made available by the department for this purpose, the department shall carry out any electronic monitoring imposed under this section using the most appropriate technology given the individual circumstances of the offender. As used in this section, "electronic monitoring" means the monitoring of an offender using an electronic offender tracking system including, but not limited to, a system using radio frequency or active or passive global positioning system technology.

(c) The department may not impose conditions that are contrary to those ordered by the court and may not contravene or decrease court imposed conditions. The department shall notify the offender in writing of any such conditions or modifications. In setting, modifying, and enforcing conditions of community custody, the department shall be deemed to be performing a quasi-judicial function.

(3) If an offender violates conditions imposed by the court or the department pursuant to this section during community custody, the department may transfer the offender to a more restrictive confinement status and impose other available sanctions as provided in RCW 9.94A.737 and 9.94A.740.

(4) Except for terms of community custody under RCW 9.94A.670, the department shall discharge the offender from community custody on a date determined by the department, which the department may modify, based on risk and performance of the offender, within the range or at the end of the period of earned release, whichever is later.

(5) At any time prior to the completion or termination of a sex offender's term of community custody, if the court finds that public safety would be enhanced, the court may impose and enforce an order extending any or all of the conditions imposed pursuant to this section for a period up to the maximum allowable sentence for the crime as it is classified in chapter 9A.20 RCW, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community custody. If a violation of a condition extended under this subsection occurs after the expiration of the offender's term of community custody, it shall be deemed a violation of the sentence for the purposes of RCW 9.94A.631 and may be punishable as contempt of court as provided for in RCW 7.21.040. If the court extends a condition beyond the expiration of the term of community custody, the department is not responsible for supervision of the offender's compliance with the condition.

(6) Within the funds available for community custody, the department shall determine conditions and duration of community custody on the basis of risk to community safety, and shall supervise offenders during community custody on the basis of risk to community safety and conditions imposed by the court. The secretary shall adopt rules to implement the provisions of this subsection.

(7) By the close of the next business day after receiving notice of a condition imposed or modified by the department, an offender may request an administrative review under rules adopted by the department. The condition shall remain in effect unless the reviewing officer finds that it is not reasonably related to any of the following: (a) The crime of conviction; (b) the offender's risk of reoffending; or (c) the safety of the community.

Comments

The 1997 Legislature also clarified that the Department of Corrections, in monitoring offenders' compliance with conditions of community placement, community supervision, community service, or payment of legal financial obligations, may require them to perform affirmative actions (such as submitting to drug testing or polygraph examination).

The 1999 Legislature, enacting the Offender Accountability Act, modified RCW 9.94A.120 to authorize the imposition of affirmative conditions, both by courts and by the Department of Corrections, on eligible offenders serving a period of community custody, for offenses committed on or after July 1, 2000. Offenders will be supervised according to their risk and will be subject to administrative sanctions by the Department of Corrections. Community custody is required for all sex offenses, all violent offenses, all crimes against persons (defined in RCW 9.94A.440) and all felony drug offenses (except DOSA sentences) committed on or after July 1, 2000, and community custody will replace "community placement" and "community supervision" for offenses committed on or after that date.

*In 2007, the Court of Appeals found that the trial court did not err in requiring the defendant, as a part of his community custody conditions to "submit to polygraph and plethysmograph testing upon the request of his therapist and/or Community Corrections Officer." The requirement that the defendant "not use or have access to the Internet unless approved by his sex offender therapist" was also a valid affirmative act under RCW 9.94A.715(2)(a). State v. Castro, 141 Wn. App. 485 (2007).*

*The Court found no error in requiring the defendant to participate in substance-abuse treatment and counseling and to refrain from possessing or using controlled-substance paraphernalia while on community custody, because those conditions were related to the defendant's crime. Additionally, the defendant could be required to notify his community-corrections officer when he was prescribed a controlled substance or legend drug. This affirmative conduct was also reasonably related to the circumstances of the offense, the defendant's risk of reoffending, or the safety of the community. State v. Motter, 139 Wn. App. 797 (2007).*

*In State v. Powell, 139 Wn. App. 808 (2007), the Court held that the record supported the imposition of drug treatment as a condition of community custody because the evidence at trial demonstrated the defendant consumed methamphetamine before committing the offense and both the State and defense asked that the condition be imposed.*

*The Court found that RCW 9.94A.535, authorizing exceptional sentences, also applies to exceptional conditions and terms of community custody. In re Smith 139 Wn. App. 600 (2007).*

*In 2008, the Court of Appeals held that petitioner should be given credit against his 18 to 36 months of community custody for the extra 24 months he was incarcerated beyond his standard range sentence. In re Knippling, 144 Wn. App. 639 (2008). The Court explained that RCW 9.94A.625(3) deals with tolling of the term of community custody after the term of community custody has started. It provides that the community custody term does not run during time in confinement for new crimes or for community custody violations. In contrast, RCW 9.94A.715(1) addresses the point in time at which the term of community custody begins and the statute is clear that the term of community custody begins when the offender completes his confinement time. The petitioner completed his term of confinement 24 months before he was actually released, at which time his community custody term commenced. *Id.

The Court also ruled that sentencing courts have the authority to impose a term of community custody upon persons found guilty of failure to register as a sex offender. State v. Castillo, 144 Wn. App. 584 (2008).

The 2008 Legislature required community custody for any offender convicted of Unlawful Possession of a Firearm, when it is also proven that the offender was a Criminal Street Gang Member or Associate at the time of the offense. The SGC is in the process of determining the community custody range for these offenders.

Effective August 1, 2009, RCW 9.94A.715 is repealed. It was amended in 2008 c 276 § 305 without cognizance of its repeal by 2008 c 231 § 57. For the rule of construction concerning sections amended and repealed in the same legislative session, see RCW 1.12.025.

Prior to August 1, 2009, conditions of community custody were primarily governed by RCW 9.94A.700, .715, and .720. After that date, conditions of community custody are primarily governed by RCW 9.94A.703, .704, .706, .708, .709, and .722.

Community custody — Violations — Arrest.

(Effective August 1, 2009.)

(1) The secretary may issue warrants for the arrest of any offender who violates a condition of community custody. The arrest warrants shall authorize any law enforcement or peace officer or community corrections officer of this state or any other state where such offender may be located, to arrest the offender and place him or her in total confinement pending disposition of the alleged violation.

(2) A community corrections officer, if he or she has reasonable cause to believe an offender has violated a condition of community custody, may suspend the person's community custody the determination of the secretary as to whether the violation has occurred. The community corrections officer shall report to the secretary all facts and circumstances and the reasons for the action of suspending community custody status.

(3) If an offender has been arrested for a new felony offense while under community custody the department shall hold the offender in total confinement until a hearing before the department as provided in this section or until the offender has been formally charged for the new felony offense, whichever is earlier. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as to permit the department to hold an offender past his or her maximum term of total confinement if the offender has not completed the maximum term of total confinement or to permit the department to hold an offender past the offender's term of community custody.

(4) A violation of a condition of community custody shall be deemed a violation of the sentence for purposes of RCW 9.94A.631. The authority granted to community corrections officers under this section shall be in addition to that set forth in RCW 9.94A.631.

Supervision of offenders. (Effective until August 1, 2009.)

(1)(a) Except as provided in RCW 9.94A.501, all offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community restitution, community placement, or community custody shall be under the supervision of the department and shall follow explicitly the instructions and conditions of the department. The department may require an offender to perform affirmative acts it deems appropriate to monitor compliance with the conditions of the sentence imposed. The department may only supervise the offender's compliance with payment of legal financial obligations during any period in which the department is authorized to supervise the offender in the community under RCW 9.94A.501.

(b) The instructions shall include, at a minimum, reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment, and paying the supervision fee assessment.

(c) For offenders sentenced to terms involving community custody for crimes committed on or after June 6, 1996, the department may include, in addition to the instructions in (b) of this subsection, any appropriate conditions of supervision, including but not limited to, prohibiting the offender from having contact with any other specified individuals or specific class of individuals.

(d) For offenders sentenced to terms of community custody for crimes committed on or after July 1, 2000, the department may impose conditions as specified in RCW 9.94A.715.

The conditions authorized under (c) of this subsection may be imposed by the department prior to or during an offender's community custody term. If a violation of conditions imposed by the court or the department pursuant to RCW 9.94A.710 occurs during community custody, it shall be deemed a violation of community placement for the purposes of RCW 9.94A.740 and shall authorize the department to transfer an offender to a more restrictive confinement status as provided in RCW 9.94A.737. At any time prior to the completion of an offender's term of community custody, the department may recommend to the court that any or all of the conditions imposed by the court or the department pursuant to RCW 9.94A.710 or 9.94A.715 be continued beyond the expiration of the offender's term of community custody as authorized in RCW 9.94A.715 (3) or (5).

The department may require offenders to pay for special services rendered on or after July 25, 1993, including electronic monitoring, day reporting, and telephone reporting, dependent upon the offender's ability to pay. The department may pay for these services for offenders who are not able to pay.

(2) No offender sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community restitution, community custody, or community placement under the supervision of the department may own, use, or possess firearms or ammunition. Offenders who own, use, or are found to be in actual or constructive possession of firearms or ammunition shall be subject to the violation process and sanctions under RCW 9.94A.634, 9.94A.737, and 9.94A.740. "Constructive possession" as used in this subsection means the power and intent to control the firearm or ammunition. "Firearm" as used in this subsection has the same definition as in RCW 9.41.010.

Offender work crews.

Participation in a work crew is conditioned upon the offender's acceptance into the program, abstinence from alcohol and controlled substances as demonstrated by urinalysis and breathalyzer monitoring, with the cost of monitoring to be paid by the offender, unless indigent; and upon compliance with the rules of the program, which rules require the offender to work to the best of his or her abilities and provide the program with accurate, verified residence information. Work crew may be imposed simultaneously with electronic home detention.

Where work crew is imposed as part of a sentence of nine months or more, the offender must serve a minimum of thirty days of total confinement before being eligible for work crew.

Work crew tasks shall be performed for a minimum of thirty-five hours per week. Only those offenders sentenced to a facility operated or utilized under contract by a county or the state, or sanctioned under RCW 9.94A.737, are eligible to participate on a work crew. Offenders sentenced for a sex offense are not eligible for the work crew program.

An offender who has successfully completed four weeks of work crew at thirty-five hours per week shall thereafter receive credit toward the work crew sentence for hours worked at approved, verified employment. Such employment credit may be earned for up to twenty-four hours actual employment per week provided, however, that every such offender shall continue active participation in work crew projects according to a schedule approved by a work crew supervisor until the work crew sentence has been served.

The hours served as part of a work crew sentence may include substance abuse counseling and/or job skills training.

The civic improvement tasks performed by offenders on work crew shall be unskilled labor for the benefit of the community as determined by the head of the county executive branch or his or her designee. Civic improvement tasks shall not be done on private property unless it is owned or operated by a nonprofit entity, except that, for emergency purposes only, work crews may perform snow removal on any private property. The civic improvement tasks shall have minimal negative impact on existing private industries or the labor force in the county where the service or labor is performed. The civic improvement tasks shall not affect employment opportunities for people with developmental disabilities contracted through sheltered workshops as defined in RCW 82.04.385. In case any dispute arises as to a civic improvement task having more than minimum negative impact on existing private industries or labor force in the county where their service or labor is performed, the matter shall be referred by an interested party, as defined in RCW 39.12.010\(4\), for arbitration to the director of the department of labor and industries of the state.

Whenever an offender receives credit against a work crew sentence for hours of approved, verified employment, the offender shall pay to the agency administering the program the monthly assessment of an amount not less than ten dollars per month nor more than fifty dollars per month. This assessment shall be considered payment of the costs of providing the work crew program to an offender. The court may exempt a person from the payment of all or any part of

(1) The offender has diligently attempted but has been unable to obtain employment that provides the offender sufficient income to make such payment.

(2) The offender is a student in a school, college, university, or a course of vocational or technical training designed to fit the student for gainful employment.

(3) The offender has an employment handicap, as determined by an examination acceptable to or ordered by the court.

(4) The offender is responsible for the support of dependents and the payment of the assessment constitutes an undue hardship.

(5) Other extenuating circumstances as determined by the court.

(iv) The department shall recalculate the earned release time and reschedule the expected release dates for each qualified offender under this subsection (1)(b).

(v) This subsection (1)(b) applies retroactively to eligible offenders serving terms of total confinement in a state correctional facility as of July 1, 2003.

Comments

The 1990 Legislature changed the maximum earned early release time to fifteen percent of the sentence for offenders convicted of Class A sex offenses and serious violent offenses. The Legislature also clarified that earned early release credits shall not be granted until earned.

Initiative 159 excluded the portion of any sentence attributable to a firearm or other deadly weapon enhancement (RCW 9.94A.310(3) and (4)) from reduction by earned early release time. This exclusion applies to sentences for crimes committed after July 23, 1995.

The 1996 Legislature provided for transfer to community custody in lieu of earned early release for persons convicted of vehicular homicide and vehicular assault.

The Court of Appeals in Personal Restraint of Mahrle, 88 Wn. App. 410 (1997), ruled that the fifteen percent cap on good time credit applies only to an offender convicted of both a Class A Serious Violent Offense and a Class A Sex Offense, committed on or after July 1, 1990, and that all other offenders may earn up to one-third earned early release time. The 1999 Legislature added punctuation to the provision in RCW 9.94A.150(1) limiting earned release time for certain offenses, clarifying that offenders convicted of serious violent offenses and offenders convicted of Class A sex offenses may receive a reduction in confinement time of no more than 15 percent of the sentence. This language change expressed the Legislature’s original intent, and although the Mahrle case was not overturned, it no longer applies to future cases.

The 1999 Legislature authorized the Secretary of Corrections to grant an “extraordinary medical placement” for any offender whose medical condition is serious enough to require costly treatment and who poses a low risk to the community because of physical incapacitation, and where cost savings will result to the state. The Department of Corrections must subject all offenders granted an extraordinary medical placement to electronic monitoring, unless it interferes with medical equipment or jeopardizes eligibility for medical care funding. Offenders under a sentence of death or of life without the possibility of release are not eligible for an extraordinary medical placement, and the Secretary of Corrections may revoke such a placement at any time. The Secretary of Corrections is also required to report annually to the Legislature on the use of the “extraordinary medical placement” option.

In conjunction with the creation of a pilot Community Transition Coordination Networks, and the requirement that the Washington State Institute for Public Policy to conduct an analysis of reentry and work release programs to identify evidence-based practices, the 2007 Legislature made numerous changes affecting offenders leaving confinement,. The Legislature added to the requirements for earning fifty-percent aggregate earned release time. In addition to prior requirements, offenders must also participate in specific programming or activities if those are made available by the Department of Corrections, and must not have committed a new felony after July 22, 2007, while under community supervision, community placement, or community custody.

The 2007 Legislature also provided that, if the Department denies transfer to community custody status in lieu of earned early release, the Department may transfer an offender to partial confinement in lieu of earned early release of up to three months. This then an addition to the portion of the offender's term of confinement that may otherwise be served in partial confinement.

In 2008, the Court of Appeals held that neither the current nor the former versions of RCW 9.94A.728 authorize DOC to categorically exempt from community custody offenders who meet the criteria of sexually violent predators, nor does the statute allow DOC to refuse to approve a release plan because “no community release address, absent one with a 24/7 prison-like monitoring and lock-down would be safe enough to protect the community.” Even if a forensic evaluation concludes an inmate meets the criteria of a sexually violent predator, “24/7 prison-like monitoring and lock-down” can only be accomplished by means of a civil commitment proceeding. Until then, DOC cannot categorically exempt a sex offender from consideration for transfer to community custody and must evaluate a proposed release plan on its merits. In re Mattson, 142 Wn. App. 130 (2008).

Legislative declaration — Earned release time not an entitlement.

The legislature declares that the changes to the maximum percentages of earned release time in chapter 379, Laws of 2003 do not create any expectation that the percentage of earned release time cannot be revised and offenders have no reason to conclude that the maximum percentage of earned release time is an entitlement or creates any liberty interest. The legislature retains full control over the right to revise the percentages of earned release time available to offenders at any time. This section applies to persons convicted on or after July 1, 2003.

(1) If an offender violates any condition or requirement of community custody, the department may transfer the offender to a more restrictive confinement status to serve up to the remaining portion of the sentence, less credit for any period actually spent in community custody or in detention awaiting disposition of an alleged violation and subject to the limitations of subsection (3) of this section.

(2) If an offender has not completed his or her maximum term of total confinement and is subject to a third violation hearing for any violation of community custody and is found to have committed the violation, the department shall return the offender to total confinement in a state correctional facility to serve up to the remaining portion of his or her sentence, unless it is determined that returning the offender to a state correctional facility would substantially interfere with the offender's ability to maintain necessary community supports or to participate in necessary treatment or programming and would substantially increase the offender's likelihood

(3)(a) For a sex offender sentenced to a term of community custody under RCW 9.94A.670 who violates any condition of community custody, the department may impose a sanction of up to sixty days' confinement in a local correctional facility for each violation. If the department imposes a sanction, the department shall submit within seventy-two hours a report to the court and the prosecuting attorney outlining the violation or violations and the sanctions imposed.

(b) For a sex offender sentenced to a term of community custody under RCW 9.94A.710 who violates any condition of community custody after having completed his or her maximum term of total confinement, including time served on community custody in lieu of earned release, the department may impose a sanction of up to sixty days in a local correctional facility for each violation.

(c) For an offender sentenced to a term of community custody under RCW 9.94A.505\(2\)\(b\), 9.94A.650, or 9.94A.715, or under RCW 9.94A.545, for a crime committed on or after July 1, 2000, who violates any condition of community custody after having completed his or her maximum term of total confinement, including time served on community custody in lieu of earned release, the department may impose a sanction of up to sixty days in total confinement for each violation. The department may impose sanctions such as work release, home detention with electronic monitoring, work crew, community restitution, inpatient treatment, daily reporting, curfew, educational or counseling sessions, supervision enhanced through electronic monitoring, or any other sanctions available in the community.

(d) For an offender sentenced to a term of community placement under RCW 9.94A.705 who violates any condition of community placement after having completed his or her maximum term of total confinement, including time served on community custody in lieu of earned release, the department may impose a sanction of up to sixty days in total confinement for each violation. The department may impose sanctions such as work release, home detention with electronic monitoring, work crew, community restitution, inpatient treatment, daily reporting, curfew, educational or counseling sessions, supervision enhanced through electronic monitoring, or any other sanctions available in the community.

(4) If an offender has been arrested for a new felony offense while under community supervision, community custody, or community placement, the department shall hold the offender in total confinement until a hearing before the department as provided in this section or until the offender has been formally charged for the new felony offense, whichever is earlier. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as to permit the department to hold an offender past his or her maximum term of total confinement if the offender has not completed the maximum term of total confinement or to permit the department to hold an offender past the offender's term of community supervision, community custody, or community placement.

(5) The department shall be financially responsible for any portion of the sanctions authorized by this section that are served in a local correctional facility as the result of action by the department.

(6) If an offender is accused of violating any condition or requirement of community custody,

(7) The hearing procedures required under subsection (6) of this section shall be developed by rule and include the following:

(a) Hearing officers shall report through a chain of command separate from that of community corrections officers;

(b) The department shall provide the offender with written notice of the violation, the evidence relied upon, and the reasons the particular sanction was imposed. The notice shall include a statement of the rights specified in this subsection, and the offender's right to file a personal restraint petition under court rules after the final decision of the department;

(c) The hearing shall be held unless waived by the offender, and shall be electronically recorded. For offenders not in total confinement, the hearing shall be held within fifteen working days, but not less than twenty-four hours, after notice of the violation. For offenders in total confinement, the hearing shall be held within five working days, but not less than twenty-four hours, after notice of the violation;

(e) The sanction shall take effect if affirmed by the hearing officer. Within seven days after the hearing officer's decision, the offender may appeal the decision to a panel of three reviewing officers designated by the secretary or by the secretary's designee. The sanction shall be reversed or modified if a majority of the panel finds that the sanction was not reasonably related to any of the following: (i) The crime of conviction; (ii) the violation committed; (iii) the offender's risk of reoffending; or (iv) the safety of the community.

(8) For purposes of this section, no finding of a violation of conditions may be based on unconfirmed or unconfirmable allegations.

(9) The department shall work with the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs to establish and operate an electronic monitoring program for low-risk offenders who violate the terms of their community custody. Between January 1, 2006, and December 31, 2006, the department shall endeavor to place at least one hundred low-risk community custody violators on the electronic monitoring program per day if there are at least that many low-risk offenders who qualify for the electronic monitoring program.

(10) Local governments, their subdivisions and employees, the department and its employees, and the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs and its employees shall be immune from civil liability for damages arising from incidents involving low-risk offenders who are placed on electronic monitoring unless it is shown that an employee acted with gross negligence or bad faith.

Comments

The 1996 Legislature authorized a 60-day jail sanction, imposed administratively by the Department of Corrections, for violation of a condition of community custody imposed as part of a sentence under the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative, and for violations of a condition of community custody by offenders who have completed their maximum terms of total confinement. The Department may, alternatively, refer SSOSA community custody violations to the court.

The 1999 Legislature, enacting the Offender Accountability Act, expanded the authority of the Department of Corrections to impose sanctions, including up to 60 days in confinement, on all offenders required to be on community custody for part of their sentence, for offenses committed on or after July 1, 2000. Offenders subject to sanctions for violations have the right to a hearing, which they may waive, before Department of Correction's hearing officers. Violation hearing officers and community corrections officers must report through separate chains of command. A violation finding cannot be based on "unconfirmed or unconfirmable allegations," and due process protections for offenders include notice, timely hearings, the right to testify or remain silent, the right to call and question witnesses and the right to present documentary evidence. A sanction takes effect if affirmed by a hearing officer, but the offender may appeal the hearing officer's decision to a panel of three reviewing officers designated by the Secretary of Corrections. The appeal panel is required to overturn sanctions that are not reasonably related to the crime of conviction; the violation committed; the offender's risk of reoffending or to the safety of the community.

The 2007 the Legislature made numerous changes that affect offenders leaving confinement, in conjunction with the creation of a pilot Community Transition Coordination Networks, and the requirement that the Washington State Institute for Public Policy conduct an analysis of reentry and work release programs to identify evidence-based practices. As a part of these changes, the Legislature specified requirements for offender release and sanctions upon violations of the terms of community custody. For a third violation, the Department shall return the offender to custody to complete the remaining portion of his or her sentence, unless it is determined that doing so would interfere with the offender's ability to maintain necessary community supports, or to participate in necessary treatment, and would substantially increase the potential for reoffense. If an offender has been arrested for a new felony offense, the Department shall return the offender to total confinement pending a hearing on the violation or until the offender has been charged for the new felony, whichever is earlier, so long as doing so will not hold the offender past his maximum term of confinement.

RCW 9.94A.740

Community placement, custody violators — Arrest, detention, financial responsibility.

(Effective until August 1, 2009.)

(1) The secretary may issue warrants for the arrest of any offender who violates a condition of community placement or community custody. The arrest warrants shall authorize any law enforcement or peace officer or community corrections officer of this state or any other state where such offender may be located, to arrest the offender and place him or her in total confinement pending disposition of the alleged violation. The department shall compensate the local jurisdiction at the office of financial management's adjudicated rate, in accordance with RCW 70.48.440. A community corrections officer, if he or she has reasonable cause to believe an offender in community placement or community custody has violated a condition of community placement or community custody, may suspend the person's community placement or community custody status and arrest or cause the arrest and detention in total confinement of the offender, pending the determination of the secretary as to whether the violation has occurred. The community corrections officer shall report to the secretary all facts and circumstances and the reasons for the action of suspending community placement or community custody status. A violation of a condition of community placement or community custody shall be deemed a violation of the sentence for purposes of RCW 9.94A.631. The authority granted to community corrections officers under this section shall be in addition to that set forth in RCW 9.94A.631.

(2) Inmates, as defined in RCW 72.09.015, who have been transferred to community custody and who are detained in a local correctional facility are the financial responsibility of the department of corrections, except as provided in subsection (3) of this section. The community custody inmate shall be removed from the local correctional facility, except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, not later than eight days, excluding weekends and holidays, following admittance to the local correctional facility and notification that the inmate is available for movement to a state correctional institution.

(3) The department may negotiate with local correctional authorities for an additional period of detention; however, sex offenders sanctioned for community custody violations under *RCW 9.94A.737(2) to a term of confinement shall remain in the local correctional facility for the complete term of the sanction. For confinement sanctions imposed under *RCW 9.94A.737(2)(a), the local correctional facility shall be financially responsible. For confinement sanctions imposed under *RCW 9.94A.737(2)(b), the department of corrections shall be financially responsible for that portion of the sanction served during the time in which the sex offender is on community custody in lieu of earned release, and the local correctional facility shall be financially responsible for that portion of the sanction served by the sex offender after the time in which the sex offender is on community custody in lieu of earned release. The department, in consultation with the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs and those counties in which the sheriff does not operate a correctional facility, shall establish a methodology for determining the department's local correctional facilities bed utilization rate, for each county in calendar year 1998, for offenders being held for violations of conditions of community custody, community placement, or community supervision. For confinement sanctions imposed under *RCW 9.94A.737(2) (c) or (d), the local correctional facility shall continue to be financially responsible to the extent of the calendar year 1998 bed utilization rate. If the department's use of bed space in local correctional facilities of any county for confinement sanctions imposed on offenders sentenced to a term of community custody under *RCW 9.94A.737(2) (c) or (d) exceeds the 1998 bed utilization rate for the county, the department shall compensate the county for the excess use at the per diem rate equal to the lowest rate charged by the county under its contract with a municipal government during the year in which the use occurs.

Comments

The 1996 Legislature clarified financial responsibility between local and state correctional authorities for sex offenders sanctioned for community custody violations.

The 1999 Legislature directed the Department of Corrections to devise methods, after consulting with the Washington Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs, for determining the 1998 bed utilization rate in local jails, and to compensate counties for the use of jail beds to confine offenders for violating conditions of community custody, if such use exceeds a county's 1998 bed utilization rate.

RCW 9.94A.745

Interstate compact for adult offender supervision.

The interstate compact for adult offender supervision is hereby entered into and enacted into law with all jurisdictions legally joining therein, in the form substantially as follows:

ARTICLE I

PURPOSE

(a) The compacting states to this interstate compact recognize that each state is responsible for the supervision of adult offenders in the community who are authorized pursuant to the bylaws and rules of this compact to travel across state lines both to and from each compacting state in such a manner as to track the location of offenders, transfer supervision authority in an orderly and efficient manner, and, when necessary, return offenders to the originating jurisdictions. The compacting states also recognize that congress, by enacting the crime control act, 4 U.S.C. Sec. 112 (1965), has authorized and encouraged compacts for cooperative efforts and mutual assistance in the prevention of crime.

(b) It is the purpose of this compact and the interstate commission created hereunder, through means of joint and cooperative action among the compacting states: To provide the framework for the promotion of public safety and protect the rights of victims through the control and regulation of the interstate movement of offenders in the community; to provide for the effective tracking, supervision, and rehabilitation of these offenders by the sending and receiving states; and to equitably distribute the costs, benefits and obligations of the compact among the compacting states.

(c) In addition, this compact will: Create an interstate commission which will establish uniform procedures to manage the movement between states of adults placed under community supervision and released to the community under the jurisdiction of courts, paroling authorities, corrections, or other criminal justice agencies which will promulgate rules to achieve the purpose of this compact; ensure an opportunity for input and timely notice to victims and to jurisdictions where defined offenders are authorized to travel or to relocate across state lines; establish a system of uniform data collection, access to information on active cases by authorized criminal justice officials, and regular reporting of compact activities to heads of state councils, state executive, judicial, and legislative branches and criminal justice administrators; monitor compliance with rules governing interstate movement of offenders and initiate interventions to address and correct noncompliance; and coordinate training and education regarding regulations of interstate movement of offenders for officials involved in such activity.

Restitution.

This section applies to offenses committed on or before July 1, 1985.

(1) If restitution is ordered, the court shall determine the amount of restitution due at the sentencing hearing or within one hundred eighty days. The court may continue the hearing beyond the one hundred eighty days for good cause. The court shall then set a minimum monthly payment that the offender is required to make towards the restitution that is ordered. The court should take into consideration the total amount of the restitution owed, the offender's present, past, and future ability to pay, as well as any assets that the offender may have.

(2) During the period of supervision, the community corrections officer may examine the offender to determine if there has been a change in circumstances that warrants an amendment of the monthly payment schedule. The community corrections officer may recommend a change to the schedule of payment and shall inform the court of the recommended change and the reasons for the change. The sentencing court may then reset the monthly minimum payments based on the report from the community corrections officer of the change in circumstances.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (6) of this section, restitution ordered by a court pursuant to a criminal conviction shall be based on easily ascertainable damages for injury to or loss of property, actual expenses incurred for treatment for injury to persons, and lost wages resulting from injury. Restitution shall not include reimbursement for damages for mental anguish, pain and suffering, or other intangible losses, but may include the costs of counseling reasonably related to the offense. The amount of restitution shall not exceed double the amount of the offender's gain or the victim's loss from the commission of the offense.

(4) For the purposes of this section, the offender shall remain under the court's jurisdiction for a term of ten years following the offender's release from total confinement or ten years subsequent to the entry of the judgment and sentence, whichever period is longer. Prior to the expiration of the initial ten-year period, the superior court may extend jurisdiction under the criminal judgment an additional ten years for payment of restitution. The portion of the sentence concerning restitution may be modified as to amount, terms and conditions during either the initial ten-year period or subsequent ten-year period if the criminal judgment is extended, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community supervision and regardless of the statutory maximum sentence for the crime. The court may not reduce the total amount of restitution ordered because the offender may lack the ability to pay the total amount. The offender's compliance with the restitution shall be supervised by the department only during any period which the department is authorized to supervise the offender in the community under

RCW 9.94A.728, 9.94A.501, or in which the offender is in confinement in a state correctional institution or a correctional facility pursuant to a transfer agreement with the department, and the department shall supervise the offender's compliance during any such period. The department is responsible for supervision of the offender only during confinement and authorized supervision and not during any subsequent period in which the offender remains under the court's jurisdiction. The county clerk is authorized to collect unpaid restitution at any time the offender remains under the jurisdiction of the court for purposes of his or her legal financial obligations.

(5) Restitution may be ordered whenever the offender is convicted of an offense which results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property or as provided in subsection (6) of this section. In addition, restitution may be ordered to pay for an injury, loss, or damage if the offender pleads guilty to a lesser offense or fewer offenses and agrees with the prosecutor's recommendation that the offender be required to pay restitution to a victim of an offense or offenses which are not prosecuted pursuant to a plea agreement.

(6) Restitution for the crime of rape of a child in the first, second, or third degree, in which the victim becomes pregnant, shall include: (a) All of the victim's medical expenses that are associated with the rape and resulting pregnancy; and (b) child support for any child born as a result of the rape if child support is ordered pursuant to a proceeding in superior court or administrative order for support for that child. The clerk must forward any restitution payments made on behalf of the victim's child to the Washington state child support registry under chapter 26.23 RCW. Identifying information about the victim and child shall not be included in the order. The offender shall receive a credit against any obligation owing under the administrative or superior court order for support of the victim's child. For the purposes of this subsection, the offender shall remain under the court's jurisdiction until the offender has satisfied support obligations under the superior court or administrative order but not longer than a maximum term of twenty-five years following the offender's release from total confinement or twenty-five years subsequent to the entry of the judgment and sentence, whichever period is longer. The court may not reduce the total amount of restitution ordered because the offender may lack the ability to pay the total amount. The department shall supervise the offender's compliance with the restitution ordered under this subsection.

(7) In addition to any sentence that may be imposed, an offender who has been found guilty of an offense involving fraud or other deceptive practice or an organization which has been found guilty of any such offense may be ordered by the sentencing court to give notice of the conviction to the class of persons or to the sector of the public affected by the conviction or financially interested in the subject matter of the offense by mail, by advertising in designated areas or through designated media, or by other appropriate means.

(8) This section does not limit civil remedies or defenses available to the victim or offender including support enforcement remedies for support ordered under subsection (6) of this section for a child born as a result of a rape of a child victim. The court shall identify in the judgment and sentence the victim or victims entitled to restitution and what amount is due each victim. The state or victim may enforce the court-ordered restitution in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action. Restitution collected through civil enforcement must be paid through the registry of the court and must be distributed proportionately according to each victim's loss when there is more than one victim.

Comments

The 1995 Legislature extended the time for determining the amount of restitution from 60 days to 180 days after the sentencing hearing, or longer for good cause. This extension is retroactive to cases where the defendant was sentenced within a year before the effective date (i.e., on or after July 23, 1994) and restitution was not set within 60 days after that sentencing, unless the defendant would be unfairly prejudiced by the delay. In cases meeting that definition, the court may set restitution within 180 days of the effective date, or later for good cause. The same legislation prohibited the court from reducing the amount of restitution ordered because the offender may not be able to pay the full amount, required the court to identify each victim entitled to restitution and the amount due each victim, authorized the state or any victim to collect restitution through civil enforcement, and required that restitution collected be distributed proportionately to multiple victims.

Ordinarily the court's jurisdiction to enforce restitution expires ten years after the entry of the judgment and sentence or the offender's release from total confinement, whichever is later. The 1997 Legislature authorized the court to extend jurisdiction an additional ten years for payment of restitution.

The 1997 Legislature also required restitution, in cases of rape of a child 1, 2, or 3 in which the victim becomes pregnant, to include medical expenses and child support for up to 25 years.

RCW 9.94A.753

Restitution — Application dates.

This section applies to offenses committed after July 1, 1985.

(1) When restitution is ordered, the court shall determine the amount of restitution due at the sentencing hearing or within one hundred eighty days except as provided in subsection (7) of this section. The court may continue the hearing beyond the one hundred eighty days for good cause. The court shall then set a minimum monthly payment that the offender is required to make towards the restitution that is ordered. The court should take into consideration the total amount of the restitution owed, the offender's present, past, and future ability to pay, as well as any assets that the offender may have.

(2) During the period of supervision, the community corrections officer may examine the offender to determine if there has been a change in circumstances that warrants an amendment of the monthly payment schedule. The community corrections officer may recommend a change to the schedule of payment and shall inform the court of the recommended change and the reasons for the change. The sentencing court may then reset the monthly minimum payments based on the report from the community corrections officer of the change in circumstances.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (6) of this section, restitution ordered by a court pursuant to a criminal conviction shall be based on easily ascertainable damages for injury to or loss of property, actual expenses incurred for treatment for injury to persons, and lost wages resulting from injury. Restitution shall not include reimbursement for damages for mental anguish, pain and suffering, or other intangible losses, but may include the costs of counseling reasonably related to the offense. The amount of restitution shall not exceed double the amount of the offender's gain or the victim's loss from the commission of the crime.

(4) For the purposes of this section, for an offense committed prior to July 1, 2000, the offender shall remain under the court's jurisdiction for a term of ten years following the offender's release from total confinement or ten years subsequent to the entry of the judgment and sentence, whichever period ends later. Prior to the expiration of the initial ten-year period, the superior court may extend jurisdiction under the criminal judgment an additional ten years for payment of restitution. For an offense committed on or after July 1, 2000, the offender shall remain under the court's jurisdiction until the obligation is completely satisfied, regardless of the statutory maximum for the crime. The portion of the sentence concerning restitution may be modified as to amount, terms, and conditions during any period of time the offender remains under the court's jurisdiction, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community supervision and regardless of the statutory maximum sentence for the crime. The court may not reduce the total amount of restitution ordered because the offender may lack the ability to pay the total amount. The offender's compliance with the restitution shall be supervised by the department only during any period which the department is authorized to supervise the offender in a state correctional institution or a correctional facility pursuant to a transfer agreement with the department, and the department shall supervise the offender's compliance during any such period. The department is responsible for supervision of the offender only during confinement and authorized supervision and not during any subsequent period in which the offender remains under the court's jurisdiction. The county clerk is authorized to collect unpaid restitution at any time the offender remains under the jurisdiction of the court for purposes of his or her legal financial obligations.

(5) Restitution shall be ordered whenever the offender is convicted of an offense which results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property or as provided in subsection (6) of this section unless extraordinary circumstances exist which make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment and the court sets forth such circumstances in the record. In addition, restitution shall be ordered to pay for an injury, loss, or damage if the offender pleads guilty to a lesser offense or fewer offenses and agrees with the prosecutor's recommendation that the offender be required to pay restitution to a victim of an offense or offenses which are not prosecuted pursuant to a plea agreement.

(6) Restitution for the crime of rape of a child in the first, second, or third degree, in which the victim becomes pregnant, shall include: (a) All of the victim's medical expenses that are associated with the rape and resulting pregnancy; and (b) child support for any child born as a result of the rape if child support is ordered pursuant to a civil superior court or administrative order for support for that child. The clerk must forward any restitution payments made on behalf of the victim's child to the Washington state child support registry under chapter 26.23 RCW. Identifying information about the victim and child shall not be included in the order. The offender shall receive a credit against any obligation owing under the administrative or superior court order for support of the victim's child. For the purposes of this subsection, the offender shall remain under the court's jurisdiction until the offender has satisfied support obligations under the superior court or administrative order for the period provided in RCW 4.16.020 or a maximum term of twenty-five years following the offender's release from total confinement or twenty-five years subsequent to the entry of the judgment and sentence, whichever period is longer. The court may not reduce the total amount of restitution ordered because the offender may lack the ability to pay the total amount. The department shall supervise the offender's compliance with the restitution ordered under this subsection.

(7) Regardless of the provisions of subsections (1) through (6) of this section, the court shall order restitution in all cases where the victim is entitled to benefits under the crime victims' compensation act, chapter 7.68 RCW. If the court does not order restitution and the victim of the crime has been determined to be entitled to benefits under the crime victims' compensation act, the department of labor and industries, as administrator of the crime victims' compensation program, may petition the court within one year of entry of the judgment and sentence for entry of a restitution order. Upon receipt of a petition from the department of labor and industries, the court shall hold a restitution hearing and shall enter a restitution order.

(8) In addition to any sentence that may be imposed, an offender who has been found guilty of an offense involving fraud or other deceptive practice or an organization which has been found guilty of any such offense may be ordered by the sentencing court to give notice of the conviction to the class of persons or to the sector of the public affected by the conviction or financially interested in the subject matter of the offense by mail, by advertising in designated areas or through designated media, or by other appropriate means.

(9) This section does not limit civil remedies or defenses available to the victim, survivors of the victim, or offender including support enforcement remedies for support ordered under subsection (6) of this section for a child born as a result of a rape of a child victim. The court shall identify in the judgment and sentence the victim or victims entitled to restitution and what amount is due each victim. The state or victim may enforce the court-ordered restitution in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action. Restitution collected through civil enforcement must be paid through the registry of the court and must be distributed proportionately according to each victim's loss when there is more than one victim.

Comments

The 1997 Legislature required the Department of Corrections to supervise compliance with payment of legal financial obligations for up to ten years after entry of the judgment and sentence or release from total confinement. The court was also authorized to extend the time for payment of legal financial obligations a subsequent ten years, but the Department is not responsible for supervision after the initial ten-year period.

In 2007, the Supreme Court ruled that it is not an abuse of discretion to include extraordinary investigative, administrative, and resurveying costs in the defendant's restitution calculation. State v. Tobin, 161 Wn.2d 517 (2007).

The Court of Appeals held that the trial court does not have authority to order restitution for conduct relating to uncharged crimes or an uncharged victim, unless the defendant expressly agrees to do so. State v. Osborne, 140 Wn. App. 38 (2007).

In 2008, the Court of Appeals ruled that the trial court may modify the amount of restitution, so long as the defendant is under the court's jurisdiction. State v. Prado, 144 Wn.2d 227 (2008).

RCW9.94A.760

Legal financial obligations.

(Effective until August 1, 2009.)

(1) Whenever a person is convicted in superior court, the court may order the payment of a legal financial obligation as part of the sentence. The court must on either the judgment and sentence or on a subsequent order to pay, designate the total amount of a legal financial obligation and segregate this amount among the separate assessments made for restitution, costs, fines, and other assessments required by law. On the same order, the court is also to set a sum that the offender is required to pay on a monthly basis towards satisfying the legal financial obligation. If the court fails to set the offender monthly payment amount, the department shall set the amount if the department has active supervision of the offender, otherwise the county clerk shall set the amount. Upon receipt of an offender's monthly payment, restitution shall be paid prior to any payments of other monetary obligations. After restitution is satisfied, the county clerk shall distribute the payment proportionally among all other fines, costs, and assessments imposed, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

(2) If the court determines that the offender, at the time of sentencing, has the means to pay for the cost of incarceration, the court may require the offender to pay for the cost of incarceration at a rate of fifty dollars per day of incarceration, if incarcerated in a prison, or the court may require the offender to pay the actual cost of incarceration per day of incarceration, if incarcerated in a county jail. In no case may the court require the offender to pay more than one hundred dollars per day for the cost of incarceration. Payment of other court-ordered financial obligations, including all legal financial obligations and costs of supervision shall take precedence over the payment of the cost of incarceration ordered by the court. All funds recovered from offenders for the cost of incarceration in the county jail shall be remitted to the county and the costs of incarceration in a prison shall be remitted to the department.

(3) The court may add to the judgment and sentence or subsequent order to pay a statement that a notice of payroll deduction is to be issued immediately. If the court chooses not to order the immediate issuance of a notice of payroll deduction at sentencing, the court shall add to the judgment and sentence or subsequent order to pay a statement that a notice of payroll deduction may be issued or other income-withholding action may be taken, without further notice to the an amount equal to or greater than the amount payable for one month is owed.

If a judgment and sentence or subsequent order to pay does not include the statement that a notice of payroll deduction may be issued or other income-withholding action may be taken if a monthly legal financial obligation payment is past due, the department or the county clerk may serve a notice on the offender stating such requirements and authorizations. Service shall be by personal service or any form of mail requiring a return receipt.

(4) Independent of the department or the county clerk, the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed shall have the authority to use any other remedies available to the party or entity to collect the legal financial obligation. These remedies include enforcement in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action by the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed. Restitution collected through civil enforcement must be paid through the registry of the court and must be distributed proportionately according to each victim's loss when there is more than one victim. The judgment and sentence shall identify the party or entity to whom restitution is owed so that the state, party, or entity may enforce the judgment. If restitution is ordered pursuant to RCW 9.94A.750(6) or 9.94A.753(6) to a victim of rape of a child or a victim's child born from the rape, the Washington state child support registry shall be identified as the party to whom payments must be made. Restitution obligations arising from the rape of a child in the first, second, or third degree that result in the pregnancy of the victim may be enforced for the time periods provided under RCW 9.94A.750(6) and 9.94A.753(6). All other legal financial obligations for an offense committed prior to July 1, 2000, may be enforced at any time during the ten-year period following the offender's release from total confinement or within ten years of entry of the judgment and sentence, whichever period ends later. Prior to the expiration of the initial ten-year period, the superior court may extend the criminal judgment an additional ten years for payment of legal financial obligations including crime victims' assessments. All other legal financial obligations for an offense committed on or after July 1, 2000, may be enforced at any time the offender remains under the court's jurisdiction. For an offense committed on or after July 1, 2000, the court shall retain jurisdiction over the offender, for purposes of the offender's compliance with payment of the legal financial obligations, until the obligation is completely satisfied, regardless of the statutory maximum for the crime. The department may only supervise the offender's compliance with payment of the legal financial obligations during any period in which the department is authorized to supervise the offender in the community under RCW 9.94A.728, 9.94A.501, or in which the offender is confined in a state correctional institution or a correctional facility pursuant to a transfer agreement with the department, and the department shall supervise the offender's compliance during any such period. The department is not responsible for supervision of the offender during any subsequent period of time the offender remains under the court's jurisdiction. The county clerk is authorized to collect unpaid legal financial obligations at any time the offender remains under the jurisdiction of the court for purposes of his or her legal financial obligations.

(5) In order to assist the court in setting a monthly sum that the offender must pay during the period of supervision, the offender is required to report to the department for purposes of preparing a recommendation to the court. When reporting, the offender is required, under oath, to respond truthfully and honestly to all questions concerning present, past, and future earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. The offender is further required to bring all documents requested by the department.

(6) After completing the investigation, the department shall make a report to the court on the amount of the monthly payment that the offender should be required to make towards a satisfied legal financial obligation.

(7)(a) During the period of supervision, the department may make a recommendation to the court that the offender's monthly payment schedule be modified so as to reflect a change in financial circumstances. If the department sets the monthly payment amount, the department may modify the monthly payment amount without the matter being returned to the court. During the period of supervision, the department may require the offender to report to the department for the purposes of reviewing the appropriateness of the collection schedule for the legal financial obligation. During this reporting, the offender is required under oath to respond truthfully and honestly to all questions concerning earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. The offender shall bring all documents requested by the department in order to prepare the collection schedule.

(b) Subsequent to any period of supervision, or if the department is not authorized to supervise the offender in the community, the county clerk may make a recommendation to the court that the offender's monthly payment schedule be modified so as to reflect a change in financial circumstances. If the county clerk sets the monthly payment amount, or if the department set the monthly payment amount and the department has subsequently turned the collection of the legal financial obligation over to the county clerk, the clerk may modify the monthly payment amount without the matter being returned to the court. During the period of repayment, the county clerk may require the offender to report to the clerk for the purpose of reviewing the appropriateness of the collection schedule for the legal financial obligation. During this reporting, the offender is required under oath to respond truthfully and honestly to all questions concerning earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. The offender shall bring all documents requested by the county clerk in order to prepare the collection schedule.

(8) After the judgment and sentence or payment order is entered, the department is authorized, for any period of supervision, to collect the legal financial obligation from the offender. Subsequent to any period of supervision or, if the department is not authorized to supervise the offender in the community, the county clerk is authorized to collect unpaid legal financial obligations from the offender. Any amount collected by the department shall be remitted daily to the county clerk for the purpose of disbursements. The department and the county clerks are authorized, but not required, to accept credit cards as payment for a legal financial obligation, and any costs incurred related to accepting credit card payments shall be the responsibility of the offender.

(9) The department or any obligee of the legal financial obligation may seek a mandatory wage assignment for the purposes of obtaining satisfaction for the legal financial obligation pursuant to RCW 9.94A.7701. Any party obtaining a wage assignment shall notify the county clerk. The county clerks shall notify the department, or the administrative office of the courts, whichever is providing the monthly billing for the offender.

(10) The requirement that the offender pay a monthly sum towards a legal financial obligation constitutes a condition or requirement of a sentence and the offender is subject to the penalties for noncompliance as provided in RCW 9.94A.634, 9.94A.737, or 9.94A.740.

(11)(a) Until January 1, 2004, the department shall mail individualized monthly billings to the address known by the department for each offender with an unsatisfied legal financial obligation.

(b) Beginning January 1, 2004, the administrative office of the courts shall mail individualized monthly billings to the address known by the office for each offender with an unsatisfied legal financial obligation.

(c) The billing shall direct payments, other than outstanding cost of supervision assessments under RCW 9.94A.780, parole assessments under RCW 72.04A.120, and cost of probation assessments under RCW 9.95.214, to the county clerk, and cost of supervision, parole, or probation assessments to the department.

(d) The county clerk shall provide the administrative office of the courts with notice of payments by such offenders no less frequently than weekly.

(e) The county clerks, the administrative office of the courts, and the department shall maintain agreements to implement this subsection.

(12) The department shall arrange for the collection of unpaid legal financial obligations during any period of supervision in the community through the county clerk. The department shall either collect unpaid legal financial obligations or arrange for collections through another entity if the clerk does not assume responsibility or is unable to continue to assume responsibility for collection pursuant to subsection (4) of this section. The costs for collection services shall be paid by the offender.

(13) The county clerk may access the records of the employment security department for the purposes of verifying employment or income, seeking any assignment of wages, or performing other duties necessary to the collection of an offender's legal financial obligations.

(14) Nothing in this chapter makes the department, the state, the counties, or any state or county employees, agents, or other persons acting on their behalf liable under any circumstances for the payment of these legal financial obligations or for the acts of any offender who is no longer, or was not, subject to supervision by the department for a term of community custody, community placement, or community supervision, and who remains under the jurisdiction of the court for payment of legal financial obligations.

Legal financial obligations. (Effective August 1, 2009.)

(1) Whenever a person is convicted in superior court, the court may order the payment of a legal financial obligation as part of the sentence. The court must on either the judgment and sentence or on a subsequent order to pay, designate the total amount of a legal financial obligation and segregate this amount among the separate assessments made for restitution, costs, fines, and other assessments required by law. On the same order, the court is also to set a sum that the offender is required to pay on a monthly basis towards satisfying the legal financial obligation. If the court fails to set the offender monthly payment amount, the department shall set the amount if the department has active supervision of the offender, otherwise the county clerk shall set the amount. Upon receipt of an offender's monthly payment, restitution shall be paid prior to any payments of other monetary obligations. After restitution is satisfied, the county clerk shall distribute the payment proportionally among all other fines, costs, and assessments imposed, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

(2) If the court determines that the offender, at the time of sentencing, has the means to pay for the cost of incarceration, the court may require the offender to pay for the cost of incarceration at a rate of fifty dollars per day of incarceration, if incarcerated in a prison, or the court may require the offender to pay the actual cost of incarceration per day of incarceration, if hundred dollars per day for the cost of incarceration. Payment of other court-ordered financial obligations, including all legal financial obligations and costs of supervision shall take precedence over the payment of the cost of incarceration ordered by the court. All funds recovered from offenders for the cost of incarceration in the county jail shall be remitted to the county and the costs of incarceration in a prison shall be remitted to the department.

(3) The court may add to the judgment and sentence or subsequent order to pay a statement that a notice of payroll deduction is to be issued immediately. If the court chooses not to order the immediate issuance of a notice of payroll deduction at sentencing, the court shall add to the judgment and sentence or subsequent order to pay a statement that a notice of payroll deduction may be issued or other income-withholding action may be taken, without further notice to the offender if a monthly court-ordered legal financial obligation payment is not paid when due, and an amount equal to or greater than the amount payable for one month is owed.

If a judgment and sentence or subsequent order to pay does not include the statement that a notice of payroll deduction may be issued or other income-withholding action may be taken if a monthly legal financial obligation payment is past due, the department or the county clerk may serve a notice on the offender stating such requirements and authorizations. Service shall be by personal service or any form of mail requiring a return receipt.

(4) Independent of the department or the county clerk, the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed shall have the authority to use any other remedies available to the party or entity to collect the legal financial obligation. These remedies include enforcement in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action by the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed. Restitution collected through civil enforcement must be paid through the registry of the court and must be distributed proportionately according to each victim's loss when there is more than one victim. The judgment and sentence shall identify the party or entity to whom restitution is owed so that the state, party, or entity may enforce the judgment. If restitution is ordered pursuant to RCW 9.94A.750\(6\) or 9.94A.753\(6\) to a victim of rape of a child or a victim's child born from the rape, the Washington state child support registry shall be identified as the party to whom payments must be made. Restitution obligations arising from the rape of a child in the first, second, or third degree that result in the pregnancy of the victim may be enforced for the time periods provided under RCW 9.94A.750\(6\) and 9.94A.753\(6\). All other legal financial obligations for an offense committed prior to July 1, 2000, may be enforced at any time during the ten-year period following the offender's release from total confinement or within ten years of entry of the judgment and sentence, whichever period ends later. Prior to the expiration of the initial ten-year period, the superior court may extend the criminal judgment an additional ten years for payment of legal financial obligations including crime victims' assessments. All other legal financial obligations for an offense committed on or after July 1, 2000, may be enforced at any time the offender remains under the court's jurisdiction. For an offense committed on or after July 1, 2000, the court shall retain jurisdiction over the offender, for purposes of the offender's compliance with payment of the legal financial obligations, until the obligation is completely satisfied, regardless of the statutory maximum for the crime. The department may only supervise the offender's compliance with payment of the legal financial obligations during any period in which the department is authorized to supervise the offender in the community under RCW 9.94A.728, 9.94A.501, or in which the offender is confined in a state correctional institution or a correctional facility pursuant to a transfer agreement with the department, and the department shall supervise the offender's compliance during any such period. The department is not responsible for supervision of the offender during any subsequent period of time the offender remains under the court's jurisdiction. The county clerk is authorized to collect unpaid legal financial obligations at any time the offender remains under the jurisdiction of the court for purposes of his or her legal financial obligations.

(5) In order to assist the court in setting a monthly sum that the offender must pay during the period of supervision, the offender is required to report to the department for purposes of preparing a recommendation to the court. When reporting, the offender is required, under oath, to respond truthfully and honestly to all questions concerning present, past, and future earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. The offender is further required to bring all documents requested by the department.

(6) After completing the investigation, the department shall make a report to the court on the amount of the monthly payment that the offender should be required to make towards a satisfied legal financial obligation.

(7)(a) During the period of supervision, the department may make a recommendation to the court that the offender's monthly payment schedule be modified so as to reflect a change in financial circumstances. If the department sets the monthly payment amount, the department may modify the monthly payment amount without the matter being returned to the court. During the period of supervision, the department may require the offender to report to the department for the purposes of reviewing the appropriateness of the collection schedule for the legal financial obligation. During this reporting, the offender is required under oath to respond truthfully and honestly to all questions concerning earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. The offender shall bring all documents requested by the department in order to prepare the collection schedule.

(b) Subsequent to any period of supervision, or if the department is not authorized to supervise the offender in the community, the county clerk may make a recommendation to the court that the offender's monthly payment schedule be modified so as to reflect a change in financial circumstances. If the county clerk sets the monthly payment amount, or if the department set the monthly payment amount and the department has subsequently turned the collection of the legal financial obligation over to the county clerk, the clerk may modify the monthly payment amount without the matter being returned to the court. During the period of repayment, the county clerk may require the offender to report to the clerk for the purpose of reviewing the appropriateness of the collection schedule for the legal financial obligation. During this reporting, the offender is required under oath to respond truthfully and honestly to all questions concerning earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. The offender shall bring all documents requested by the county clerk in order to prepare the collection schedule.

(8) After the judgment and sentence or payment order is entered, the department is authorized, for any period of supervision, to collect the legal financial obligation from the offender. Subsequent to any period of supervision or, if the department is not authorized to supervise the offender in the community, the county clerk is authorized to collect unpaid legal financial obligations from the offender. Any amount collected by the department shall be remitted daily to the county clerk for the purpose of disbursements. The department and the county clerks are authorized, but not required, to accept credit cards as payment for a legal financial obligation, and any costs incurred related to accepting credit card payments shall be the responsibility of the offender.

(9) The department or any obligee of the legal financial obligation may seek a mandatory wage assignment for the purposes of obtaining satisfaction for the legal financial obligation pursuant to RCW 9.94A.7701. Any party obtaining a wage assignment shall notify the county clerk. The county clerks shall notify the department, or the administrative office of the courts, whichever is providing the monthly billing for the offender.

(10) The requirement that the offender pay a monthly sum towards a legal financial obligation constitutes a condition or requirement of a sentence and the offender is subject to the penalties for noncompliance as provided in RCW 9.94B.040, 9.94A.737, or 9.94A.740.

(11)(a) Until January 1, 2004, the department shall mail individualized monthly billings to the address known by the department for each offender with an unsatisfied legal financial obligation.

(b) Beginning January 1, 2004, the administrative office of the courts shall mail individualized monthly billings to the address known by the office for each offender with an unsatisfied legal financial obligation.

(c) The billing shall direct payments, other than outstanding cost of supervision assessments under RCW 9.94A.780, parole assessments under RCW 72.04A.120, and cost of probation assessments under RCW 9.95.214, to the county clerk, and cost of supervision, parole, or probation assessments to the department.

(d) The county clerk shall provide the administrative office of the courts with notice of payments by such offenders no less frequently than weekly.

(e) The county clerks, the administrative office of the courts, and the department shall maintain agreements to implement this subsection.

(12) The department shall arrange for the collection of unpaid legal financial obligations during any period of supervision in the community through the county clerk. The department shall either collect unpaid legal financial obligations or arrange for collections through another entity if the clerk does not assume responsibility or is unable to continue to assume responsibility for collection pursuant to subsection (4) of this section. The costs for collection services shall be paid by the offender.

(13) The county clerk may access the records of the employment security department for the purposes of verifying employment or income, seeking any assignment of wages, or performing other duties necessary to the collection of an offender's legal financial obligations.

(14) Nothing in this chapter makes the department, the state, the counties, or any state or county employees, agents, or other persons acting on their behalf liable under any circumstances for the payment of these legal financial obligations or for the acts of any offender who is no longer, or was not, subject to supervision by the department for a term of community custody, and who remains under the jurisdiction of the court for payment of legal financial obligations.

Comments

The 1995 Legislature extended the time for determining the amount of restitution from 60 days to 180 days after the sentencing hearing, or longer for good cause. This extension is retroactive to cases where the defendant was sentenced within a year before the effective date (i.e., on or after July 23, 1994) and restitution was not set within 60 days after that sentencing, unless the defendant would be unfairly prejudiced by the delay. In cases meeting that definition, the court may set restitution within 180 days of the effective date, or later for good cause. The same legislation prohibited the court from reducing the amount of restitution ordered because the offender may not be able to pay the full amount, required the court to identify each victim entitled to restitution and the amount due each victim, authorized the state or any victim to collect restitution through civil enforcement, and required that restitution collected be distributed proportionately to multiple victims. This legislation was apparently in response to State v. Krall, 125 Wn. 2d 146 (1994).

The 1995 Legislature also authorized the Department of Labor and Industries, which administers the State Crime Victim Compensation Program, to petition the court to order restitution on behalf of a victim entitled to compensation by the program. The same legislation provided an administrative mechanism for the Department to recover from offenders the amounts paid to victims under the program.

Ordinarily the court's jurisdiction to enforce restitution expires ten years after the entry of the judgment and sentence or the offender's release from total confinement, whichever is later. The 1997 Legislature authorized the court to extend jurisdiction an additional ten years for payment of restitution.

The 1997 Legislature also required restitution, in cases of Rape of a child 1, 2, or 3 in which the victim becomes pregnant, to include medical expenses and child support for up to 25 years.

In 2007, the Supreme Court ruled that the State's felon disenfranchisement scheme, which only restored voting rights to felons who had satisfied all the terms of their sentences, including paying their legal financial obligations, did not classify based on wealth. Madison, et al. v. State, et al., 161 Wn.2d 85 (2007).

"Earnings," "disposable earnings," and "obligee" defined.

As used in this chapter, the term "earnings" means compensation paid or payable for personal services, whether denominated as wages, salary, commission, hours, or otherwise, and notwithstanding any other provision of law making such payments exempt from garnishment, attachment, or other process to satisfy court-ordered legal financial obligations, specifically includes periodic payments pursuant to pension or retirement programs, or insurance policies of any type. Earnings shall specifically include all gain derived from capital, from labor, or from both, not including profit gained through sale or conversion of capital assets. The term "disposable earnings" means that part of the earnings of any individual remaining after the deduction from those earnings of any amount required by law to be withheld. The term "obligee" means the department, party, or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed, or the department, party, or entity to whom the right to receive or collect support has been assigned.

Legal financial obligations — Notice of payroll deduction — Employer or entity rights and responsibilities.

(1) An employer or entity upon whom a notice of payroll deduction is served, shall make an answer to the department within twenty days after the date of service. The answer shall confirm compliance and institution of the payroll deduction or explain the circumstances if no payroll deduction is in effect. The answer shall also state whether the offender is employed by or receives earnings from the employer or entity, whether the employer or entity anticipates paying earnings, and the amount of earnings. If the offender is no longer employed, or receiving earnings from the employer or entity, the answer shall state the present employer or entity's name and address, if known.

(2) Service of a notice of payroll deduction upon an employer or entity requires an employer or entity to immediately make a mandatory payroll deduction from the offender/employee's unpaid disposable earnings. The employer or entity shall thereafter at each pay period deduct the amount stated in the notice divided by the number of pay periods per month. The employer or entity must remit the proper amounts to the appropriate clerk of the court on each date the offender/employee is due to be paid.

(3) The employer or entity may combine amounts withheld from the earnings of more than one employee in a single payment to the clerk of the court, listing separately the amount of the payment that is attributable to each individual employee.

(4) The employer or entity may deduct a processing fee from the remainder of the employee's earnings after withholding under the notice of payroll deduction, even if the remainder is exempt under RCW 9.94A.761. The processing fee may not exceed:

- (a) Ten dollars for the first disbursement made by the employer to the clerk of the court; and
- (b) One dollar for each subsequent disbursement made under the notice of payroll deduction.

(5) The notice of payroll deduction shall remain in effect until released by the department or the court enters an order terminating the notice.

(6) An employer shall be liable to the obligee for the amount of court-ordered legal financial obligation moneys that should have been withheld from the offender/employee's earnings, if the employer:

(a) Fails or refuses, after being served with a notice of payroll deduction, to deduct and promptly remit from unpaid earnings the amounts of money required in the notice; or

(b) Fails or refuses to submit an answer to the notice of payroll deduction after being served. In such cases, liability may be established in superior court. Awards in superior court shall include costs, interest under RCW 19.52.020 and 4.56.110, reasonable attorney fees, and staff costs as part of the award.

(7) No employer who complies with a notice of payroll deduction under this chapter may be liable to the employee for wrongful withholding.

(8) No employer may discipline or discharge an employee or refuse to hire a person by reason of an action authorized in this chapter. If an employer disciplines or discharges an employee or refuses to hire a person in violation of this section, the employee or person shall have a cause of action against the employer. The employer shall be liable for double the amount of lost wages and any other damages suffered as a result of the violation and for costs and reasonable attorney fees, and shall be subject to a civil penalty of not more than two thousand five hundred dollars for each violation. The employer may also be ordered to hire, rehire, or reinstate the aggrieved individual.

Motion to quash, modify, or terminate payroll deduction — Grounds for relief.

(1) The offender subject to a payroll deduction under this chapter, may file a motion in superior court to quash, modify, or terminate the payroll deduction. The court may grant relief if:

(a) It is demonstrated that the payroll deduction causes extreme hardship or substantial injustice; or

(b) In cases where the court did not immediately order the issuance of a notice of payroll deduction at sentencing, that a court-ordered legal financial obligation payment was not more than thirty days past due in an amount equal to or greater than the amount payable for one month.

(2) Satisfaction by the offender of all past-due payments subsequent to the issuance of the notice of payroll deduction is not grounds to quash, modify, or terminate the notice of payroll deduction. If a notice of payroll deduction has been in operation for twelve consecutive months and the offender's payment towards a court-ordered legal financial obligation is current, upon motion of the offender, the court may order the department to terminate the payroll deduction, unless the department can show good cause as to why the notice of payroll deduction should remain in effect.

Such order to withhold and deliver may be issued when a court-ordered legal financial obligation payment is past due:

(a) If an offender's judgment and sentence or a subsequent order to pay includes a statement that other income-withholding action under this chapter may be taken without further notice to the offender.

(2) The order to withhold and deliver shall:

(c) Be served by personal service or by any form of mail requiring a return receipt.

(3) The department shall also, on or before the date of service of the order to withhold and deliver, mail or cause to be mailed by any form of mail requiring a return receipt, a copy of the order to withhold and deliver to the offender at the offender's last known post office address, or, in the alternative, a copy of the order shall be personally served on the offender on or before the date of service of the order or within two days thereafter. The copy of the order shall be mailed or served together with an explanation of the right to petition for judicial review. If the copy is not mailed or served as this section provides, or if any irregularity appears with respect to the mailing or service, the superior court, in its discretion on motion of the offender promptly made and supported by affidavit showing that the offender has suffered substantial injury due to the failure to mail the copy, may set aside the order to withhold and deliver.

Sex offender treatment in correctional facility.

(Effective until August 1, 2009.)

(1) When an offender commits any felony sex offense on or after July 1, 1987, and on or before July 1, 1990, and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, request the department to evaluate whether the offender is amenable to treatment and the department may place the offender in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department.

Except for an offender who has been convicted of a violation of RCW 9A.44.040 or 9A.44.050, if the offender completes the treatment program before the expiration of his or her term of confinement, the department may request the court to convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and to place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(b) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;

(c) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;

(d) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of his or her community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his or her community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department.

Nothing in this subsection shall confer eligibility for such programs for offenders convicted and sentenced for a sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987.

(2) Offenders convicted and sentenced for a sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987, may, subject to available funds, request an evaluation by the department to determine whether they are amenable to treatment. If the offender is determined to be amenable to treatment, the offender may request placement in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department. Placement in such treatment program is subject to available funds.

Comments

The 1986 Legislature amended the provisions for inpatient treatment of sex offenders. The sex offender treatment program was transferred from the Department of Social and Health Services to the Department of Corrections. The 1987 Legislature clarified that the transfer of the treatment program applies to offenders whose crimes were committed after July 1, 1987. Offenders whose crimes were committed before that date were still to be sent to the programs at Eastern or Western State Hospitals, but all sex offenders were to be transferred to the Department of Corrections by 1993. A provision requiring that the treatment provider find the offender amenable to treatment went into effect in 1986.

The 1990 Legislature revised several aspects of the Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative. These include increasing the accountability of the treatment provider to the court, changing the maximum sentence allowed from six years to eight years, increasing the length of community supervision and treatment and directing that, after July 1991, examinations and treatment under SSOSA be conducted by certified sex offender treatment providers.

Legislative finding and intent — Commitment of felony sexual offenders after July 1, 1987.

(Effective until August 1, 2009.)

The legislature finds that the sexual offender treatment programs at western and eastern state hospitals, while not proven to be totally effective, may be of some benefit in positively affecting the behavior of certain sexual offenders. Given the significance of the problems of sexual assault and sexual abuse of children, it is therefore appropriate to review and revise these treatment efforts.

At the same time, concerns regarding the lack of adequate security at the existing programs must be satisfactorily addressed. In an effort to promote public safety, it is the intent of the legislature to transfer the responsibility for felony sexual offenders from the department of social and health services to the department of corrections.

Therefore, no person committing a felony sexual offense on or after July 1, 1987, may be committed under *RCW 9.94A.505(7)(b) to the department of social and health services at eastern state hospital or western state hospital. Any person committed to the department of social and health services under *RCW 9.94A.505(7)(b) for an offense committed before July 1, 1987, and still in the custody of the department of social and health services on June 30, 1993, shall be transferred to the custody of the department of corrections. Any person eligible for evaluation or treatment under *RCW 9.94A.505(7)(b) shall be committed to the department of corrections.

Effective August 1, 2009 RCW 9.94A.830 is repealed.

RCW 9.94A.833

Special allegation — Involving minor in felony offense — Procedures.

(1) In a prosecution of a criminal street gang-related felony offense, the prosecution may file a special allegation that the felony offense involved the compensation, threatening, or solicitation of a minor in order to involve that minor in the commission of the felony offense, as described under RCW 9.94A.533(10)(a).

(2) The state has the burden of proving a special allegation made under this section beyond a reasonable doubt. If a jury is had, the jury shall, if it finds the defendant guilty, also find a special verdict as to whether the criminal street gang-related felony offense involved the compensation, threatening, or solicitation of a minor in order to involve that minor in the commission of the felony offense. If no jury is had, the court shall make a finding of fact as to whether the criminal street gang-related felony offense involved the compensation, threatening, or solicitation of a minor in order to involve that minor in the commission of the felony offense.

Notes:

Severability -- Part headings, subheadings not law -- 2008 c 276: See notes following RCW 36.28A.200.

Comment

The 2008 Legislature gave the State two alternative methods to increase the sentence of a gang-related offender who compensates, threatens or solicits a minor to involve the minor in the commission of a felony: an enhancement and an aggravator. The enhancement is an alternative to the aggravator because, where the State gives notice that it will seek an exceptional sentence based on the aggravating factor, the enhancement is unavailable. RCW 9.94A.533(1)(c).

This enhancement is unique in that it increases the standard range sentence for the underlying crime. RCW 9.94A.533(10). When the State files a special allegation and proves that a felony offense involved the compensation, threatening, or solicitation of a minor in order to involve that minor in the commission of the felony offense, the standard range for that felony is determined by multiplying the grid range by 125%. RCW 9.94A.533(1)(a). The enhancement does not apply to any criminal street gang-related felony for which involving a minor in the commission of the felony is already an element of the offense. RCW 9.94A.533(1)(b).

Special allegation — Endangerment by eluding a police vehicle — Procedures.

(1) The prosecuting attorney may file a special allegation of endangerment by eluding in every criminal case involving a charge of attempting to elude a police vehicle under RCW 46.61.024, when sufficient admissible evidence exists, to show that one or more persons other than the defendant or the pursuing law enforcement officer were threatened with physical injury or harm by the actions of the person committing the crime of attempting to elude a police vehicle.

(2) In a criminal case in which there has been a special allegation, the state shall prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the accused committed the crime while endangering one or more persons other than the defendant or the pursuing law enforcement officer. The court shall make a finding of fact of whether or not one or more persons other than the defendant or the pursuing law enforcement officer were endangered at the time of the commission of the crime, or if a jury trial is had, the jury shall, if it finds the defendant guilty, also find a special verdict as to whether or not one or more persons other than the defendant or the pursuing law enforcement officer were endangered during the commission of the crime.

Comment

The 2008 Legislature added a twelve month and one day “Endangerment by Eluding” enhancement to the presumptive sentence for Attempting to Elude a Police Vehicle under RCW 46.61.021. RCW 9.94A.533(11) In order to obtain the enhancement, the State must file a special allegation and prove beyond a reasonable doubt that one or more persons other than the defendant or the pursuing law enforcement officer were threatened with physical injury or harm by the actions of the eluder.

Special allegation — Sexual motivation — Procedures.

(1) The prosecuting attorney shall file a special allegation of sexual motivation in every criminal case, felony, gross misdemeanor, or misdemeanor, other than sex offenses as defined in *RCW 9.94A.030(38) (a) or (c) when sufficient admissible evidence exists, which, when considered with the most plausible, reasonably foreseeable defense that could be raised under the evidence, would justify a finding of sexual motivation by a reasonable and objective fact finder.

(2) In a criminal case wherein there has been a special allegation the state shall prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the accused committed the crime with a sexual motivation. The court shall make a finding of fact of whether or not a sexual motivation was present at the time of the commission of the crime, or if a jury trial is had, the jury shall, if it finds the defendant guilty, also find a special verdict as to whether or not the defendant committed the crime with a sexual motivation. This finding shall not be applied to sex offenses as defined in *RCW 9.94A.030(38) (a) or (c).

(3) The prosecuting attorney shall not withdraw the special allegation of sexual motivation without approval of the court through an order of dismissal of the special allegation. The court shall not dismiss this special allegation unless it finds that such an order is necessary to correct an error in the initial charging decision or unless there are evidentiary problems which make proving the special allegation doubtful.

Special allegation — Offense was predatory — Procedures.

(1) In a prosecution for rape of a child in the first degree, rape of a child in the second degree, or child molestation in the first degree, the prosecuting attorney shall file a special allegation that the offense was predatory whenever sufficient admissible evidence exists, which, when considered with the most plausible, reasonably foreseeable defense that could be raised under the evidence, would justify a finding by a reasonable and objective fact finder that the offense was predatory, unless the prosecuting attorney determines, after consulting with a victim, that filing a special allegation under this section is likely to interfere with the ability to obtain a conviction.

(2) Once a special allegation has been made under this section, the state has the burden to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the offense was predatory. Special allegation — Victim was under fifteen years of age — Procedures.

(1) In a prosecution for rape in the first degree, rape in the second degree, indecent liberties by forcible compulsion, or kidnapping in the first degree with sexual motivation, the prosecuting attorney shall file a special allegation that the victim of the offense was under fifteen years of age at the time of the offense whenever sufficient admissible evidence exists, which, when considered with the most plausible, reasonably foreseeable defense that could be raised under the evidence, would justify a finding by a reasonable and objective fact finder that the victim was under fifteen years of age at the time of the offense, unless the prosecuting attorney determines, after consulting with a victim, that filing a special allegation under this section is likely to interfere with the ability to obtain a conviction.

Special allegation — Victim had diminished capacity — Procedures.

(1) In a prosecution for rape in the first degree, rape in the second degree with forcible compulsion, indecent liberties with forcible compulsion, or kidnapping in the first degree with sexual motivation, the prosecuting attorney shall file a special allegation that the victim of the offense was, at the time of the offense, developmentally disabled, mentally disordered, or a frail elder or vulnerable adult, whenever sufficient admissible evidence exists, which, when considered with the most plausible, reasonably foreseeable defense that could be raised under the evidence, would justify a finding by a reasonable and objective fact finder that the victim was, at vulnerable adult, unless the prosecuting attorney determines, after consulting with a victim, that filing a special allegation under this section is likely to interfere with the ability to obtain a conviction.

(2) Once a special allegation has been made under this section, the state has the burden to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the victim was, at the time of the offense, developmentally disabled, mentally disordered, or a frail elder or vulnerable adult. If a jury is had, the jury shall, if it finds the defendant guilty, also find a special verdict as to whether the victim was, at the time of the offense, developmentally disabled, mentally disordered, or a frail elder or vulnerable adult. Comments

The 1996 Legislature updated and expanded the Commission's responsibilities to reflect the fact that a determinate sentencing system had been in place for over a decade, and also that there was a need for independent review of juvenile disposition standards and related issues in the juvenile justice system.

The 1997 Legislature expanded the permissible sentence ranges for Murder 2 at Seriousness Level XIII, reducing the allowable minimum to 50% of the maximum, consistent with an amendment to the sentencing grid (RCW 9.94A.310) that increased the maximum in the standard range. However, the 1997 Legislature also included additional offenses at Level XIII without authorizing an expansion of the permissible range for those offenses. The 1999 Legislature subsequently remedied this inconsistency, amending the sentencing grid to place Murder 2 alone at Level XIV with its own "range width," returning Level XIII to its original standard ranges and adjusting the upper seriousness levels accordingly. See RCW 9.94A.310.

The 1999 Legislature, enacting the Offender Accountability Act, directed the Sentencing Guidelines Commission to formulate community custody ranges to be included in sentences for offenses committed on or after July 1, 2000. Through its rulemaking authority, the Commission adopted community custody ranges, which became effective July 1, 2000, and are published in WAC 437.20.010.

Sex offender policy board — Findings — Intent.

The legislature finds that in recent years professionals have recognized the value of developing a more coordinated and integrated response to sex offender management. The legislature further finds that a comprehensive response to issues that arise, such as integrating federal and state laws, or assessing whether system flaws contributed to an offense, can enhance the state's interest in protecting the community with an emphasis on public safety. While the legislature recognizes that sex offenses cannot be eliminated entirely, the interests of the public will be best served if Washington state experts and practitioners from across the continuum of the sex offender response system coordinate sex offender management planning and create a system to assess the performance of all components of the sex offender response systems statewide. The legislature intends to foster such coordination by creating a sex offender policy board.

Notes:

Intent -- 1999 c 323: "The pardoning power is vested in the governor under such regulations and restrictions as may be prescribed by law. To assist the governor in gathering the facts necessary to the wise exercise of this power, the legislature created the clemency and pardons board.

In recognition of the severe and detrimental impact of crime on victims, survivors of victims, and witnesses of crime, an intelligent recommendation on an application for clemency is dependent upon input from the victims and survivors of victims of crimes. It is the intent of the legislature to ensure that all victims and survivors of victims of crimes are afforded a meaningful role in the clemency process.

The impact of the crime on the community must also be assessed when passing upon an application for clemency. The prosecuting attorney who obtained the conviction and the law enforcement agency that conducted the investigation are uniquely situated to provide an accurate account of the offense and the impact felt by the community as a result of the offense. It is the intent of the legislature to ensure that the prosecuting attorney who obtained the conviction and the law enforcement agency that conducted the investigation are afforded a meaningful role in the clemency process." [1999 c 323 § 1.]

Effective date -- 1981 c 137: See RCW 9.94A.905.

Comments

The 1999 Legislature provided that the Clemency and Pardons Board may not recommend clemency until after a public hearing, and that the prosecutor in the county where the conviction was obtained must receive at least 30 days notice of such a hearing. The 30-day notice may be waived in cases where the Board must take timely action on a petition. As to victim's rights, reasonable efforts must be made to notify victims and witnesses of Board hearings, and victims and survivors of victims must be given adequate opportunities to present statements in person, by audio or videotape, in writing or through a representative at any hearing regarding an application for a pardon or commutation of a sentence. The 1999 Legislature also amended RCW 9.95.260 to provide the same notice and hearing requirements and victims' rights protections in connection with recommendations for clemency by the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board.

Abused victim — Resentencing for murder of abuser.

(1) The sentencing court or the court's successor shall consider recommendations from the indeterminate sentence review board advises the court of the following:

(a) The offender was convicted for a murder committed prior to July 23, 1989;

(b) RCW 9.94A.535(1)(h), if effective when the offender committed the crime, would have provided a basis for the offender to seek a mitigated sentence; and

(c) Upon review of the sentence, the indeterminate sentence review board believes that the sentencing court, when originally sentencing the offender for the murder, did not consider evidence that the victim subjected the offender or the offender's children to a continuing pattern of sexual or physical abuse and the murder was in response to that abuse.

(2) The court may resentence the offender in light of RCW 9.94A.535(1)(h) and impose an exceptional mitigating sentence pursuant to that provision. Prior to resentencing, the court shall consider any other recommendation and evidence concerning the issue of whether the offender committed the crime in response to abuse.

(3) The court shall render its decision regarding reducing the inmate's sentence no later than six months after receipt of the indeterminate sentence review board's recommendation to reduce the sentence imposed.

Definitions. (Effective August 1, 2009.)

In addition to the definitions set out in RCW 9.94A.030, the following definitions apply for purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Community placement" means that period during which the offender is subject to the conditions of community custody and/or postrelease supervision, which begins either upon completion of the term of confinement (postrelease supervision) or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned release. Community placement may consist of entirely community custody, entirely postrelease supervision, or a combination of the two.

(2) "Community supervision" means a period of time during which a convicted offender is subject to crime-related prohibitions and other sentence conditions imposed by a court pursuant to this chapter or RCW 16.52.200(6) or 46.61.524. Where the court finds that any offender has a chemical dependency that has contributed to his or her offense, the conditions of supervision may, subject to available resources, include treatment. For purposes of the interstate compact for out-of-state supervision of parolees and probationers, RCW 9.95.270, community supervision is the functional equivalent of probation and should be considered the same as probation by other states.

(3) "Postrelease supervision" is that portion of an offender's community placement that is not community custody.

RCW 9.94B.030

Postrelease supervision — Violations — Expenses.

(Effective August 1, 2009.)

If the offender violates any condition of postrelease supervision, a hearing may be conducted in the same manner as provided in *RCW 9.94A.634. Jurisdiction shall be with the court of the county in which the offender was sentenced. However, the court may order a change of venue to the offender's county of residence or where the violation occurred, for the purpose of holding a violation hearing.

After the hearing, the court may order the offender to be confined for up to sixty days per violation in the county jail. Reimbursement to a city or county for the care of offenders who are detained solely for violating a condition of postrelease supervision shall be under RCW 70.48.440. A county shall be reimbursed for indigent defense costs for offenders who are detained solely for violating a condition of postrelease supervision in accordance with regulations to be promulgated by the office of financial management. An offender may be held in jail at state expense pending the hearing, and any time served while awaiting the hearing shall be credited against confinement imposed for a violation. The court shall retain jurisdiction for the purpose of holding the violation hearing and imposing a sanction.

RCW 9.94B.040

Noncompliance with condition or requirement of sentence — Procedure — Penalty.

(Effective August 1, 2009.)

(1) If an offender violates any condition or requirement of a sentence, the court may modify its order of judgment and sentence and impose further punishment in accordance with this section.

(2) In cases where conditions from a second or later sentence of community supervision begin prior to the term of the second or later sentence, the court shall treat a violation of such conditions as a violation of the sentence of community supervision currently being served.

(3) If an offender fails to comply with any of the requirements or conditions of a sentence the following provisions apply:

(a)(i) Following the violation, if the offender and the department make a stipulated agreement, the department may impose sanctions such as work release, home detention with electronic monitoring, work crew, community restitution, inpatient treatment, daily reporting, curfew, educational or counseling sessions, supervision enhanced through electronic monitoring, jail time, or other sanctions available in the community.

(ii) Within seventy-two hours of signing the stipulated agreement, the department shall submit a report to the court and the prosecuting attorney outlining the violation or violations, and sanctions imposed. Within fifteen days of receipt of the report, if the court is not satisfied with the sanctions, the court may schedule a hearing and may modify the department's sanctions. If this occurs, the offender may withdraw from the stipulated agreement.

(iii) If the offender fails to comply with the sanction administratively imposed by the department, the court may take action regarding the original noncompliance. Offender failure to comply with the sanction administratively imposed by the department may be considered an additional violation.

(b) In the absence of a stipulated agreement, or where the court is not satisfied with the department's sanctions as provided in (a) of this subsection, the court, upon the motion of the state, or upon its own motion, shall require the offender to show cause why the offender should not be punished for the noncompliance. The court may issue a summons or a warrant of arrest for the offender's appearance;

(c) The state has the burden of showing noncompliance by a preponderance of the evidence. If the court finds that the violation has occurred, it may order the offender to be confined for a period not to exceed sixty days for each violation, and may (i) convert a term of partial confinement to total confinement, (ii) convert community restitution obligation to total or partial confinement, (iii) convert monetary obligations, except restitution and the crime victim penalty assessment, to community restitution hours at the rate of the state minimum wage as established in RCW 49.46.020 for each hour of community restitution, or (iv) order one or more of the penalties authorized in (a)(i) of this subsection. Any time served in confinement awaiting a hearing on noncompliance shall be credited against any confinement order by the court;

(d) If the court finds that the violation was not willful, the court may modify its previous order regarding payment of legal financial obligations and regarding community restitution obligations; and

(e) If the violation involves a failure to undergo or comply with mental status evaluation and/or outpatient mental health treatment, the community corrections officer shall consult with the treatment provider or proposed treatment provider. Enforcement of orders concerning outpatient mental health treatment must reflect the availability of treatment and must pursue the least restrictive means of promoting participation in treatment. If the offender's failure to receive care essential for health and safety presents a risk of serious physical harm or probable harmful consequences, the civil detention and commitment procedures of chapter 71.05 RCW shall be considered in preference to incarceration in a local or state correctional facility.

(4) The community corrections officer may obtain information from the offender's mental health treatment provider on the offender's status with respect to evaluation, application for services, registration for services, and compliance with the supervision plan, without the offender's consent, as described under RCW 71.05.630.

(5) An offender under community placement or community supervision who is civilly detained under chapter 71.05 RCW, and subsequently discharged or conditionally released to the community, shall be under the supervision of the department of corrections for the duration of his or her period of community placement or community supervision. During any period of inpatient mental health treatment that falls within the period of community placement or community supervision, the inpatient treatment provider and the supervising community corrections officer shall notify each other about the offender's discharge, release, and legal status, and shall share other relevant information.

(6) Nothing in this section prohibits the filing of escape charges if appropriate.

Community placement. (Effective August 1, 2009.)

When a court sentences an offender to a term of total confinement in the custody of the department for any of the offenses specified in this section, the court shall also sentence the offender to a term of community placement as provided in this section. Except as provided in RCW 9.94A.501, the department shall supervise any sentence of community placement imposed under this section.

(1) The court shall order a one-year term of community placement for the following:

(a) A sex offense or a serious violent offense committed after July 1, 1988, but before July 1, 1990; or

(b) An offense committed on or after July 1, 1988, but before July 25, 1999, that is:

(2) The court shall sentence the offender to a term of community placement of two years or up to the period of earned release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.728, whichever is longer, for:

(b) A serious violent offense other than a sex offense committed on or after July 1, 1990, but before July 1, 2000; or

(c) A vehicular homicide or vehicular assault committed on or after July 1, 1990, but before July 1, 2000.

(3) The community placement ordered under this section shall begin either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned release. When the court sentences an offender to the statutory maximum sentence then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of the community custody to which the offender may become eligible. Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence.

(4) Unless a condition is waived by the court, the terms of any community placement imposed under this section shall include the following conditions:

(a) The offender shall report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officer as directed;

(b) The offender shall work at department-approved education, employment, or community restitution, or any combination thereof;

(c) The offender shall not possess or consume controlled substances except pursuant to lawfully issued prescriptions;

- (a) The offender shall remain within, or outside of, a specified geographical boundary;
 - (b) The offender shall not have direct or indirect contact with the victim of the crime or a specified class of individuals;
 - (c) The offender shall participate in crime-related treatment or counseling services;
 - (d) The offender shall not consume alcohol; or
 - (e) The offender shall comply with any crime-related prohibitions.
- (6) An offender convicted of a felony sex offense against a minor victim after June 6, 1996, shall comply with any terms and conditions of community placement imposed by the department relating to contact between the sex offender and a minor victim or a child of similar age or circumstance as a previous victim.
- (7) Prior to or during community placement, upon recommendation of the department, the sentencing court may remove or modify any conditions of community placement so as not to be more restrictive.

WASHINGTON SUPREME COURT

State v. Flores, 186 P.3d 1038 (June 26, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted after a jury trial in the Okanogan County Superior Court of six counts of Unlawful Delivery of Controlled Substance, two counts of Involving a Minor in Unlawful Drug Transactions, and one count of Possession with Intent to Deliver. Defendant appealed. The Washington Court of Appeals affirmed. Review was granted.

ISSUES:

1. Whether the Legislature intended to penalize exposing children to unlawful drug transactions when it enacted RCW 69.50.401(f).
2. Whether an exceptional sentence based on the aggravating factor of a "major VUCSA" can withstand constitutional scrutiny, following Blakely v. Washington, 542 U.S. 296, 124 S. Ct. 2531, 159 L.Ed.2d 403 (2004).

HOLDING:

1. It did not. Had the Legislature intended RCW 69.50.401(f) to encompass the act of merely exposing a minor to unlawful drug activity, it could have chosen language similar to that in RCW 9.94A.605(2), making it unlawful to conduct such activity in the presence of a minor.
2. At the time the defendant was tried, the SRA required the judge, not the jury, to find the existence of this statutory aggravating factor, according to the preponderance of the evidence standard of proof. The court erred in imposing an exceptional sentence because the trial court, not the jury, made the factual determination that the offenses are "a major VUCSA."

State v. Davis, 184 P.3d 639 (May 22, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Spokane County Superior Court of Harassment, Unlawful Imprisonment, Third Degree Malicious Mischief, Fourth Degree Assault, and Violation of a Domestic Violence Protection Order. Defendant appealed. The Washington Court of Appeals affirmed and defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether trial courts have the authority to submit special interrogatories to juries at trial in deviation from legislatively prescribed exceptional sentence procedures during the period between the Supreme Court’s issuance of Blakely and the effective date of the 2005 amendment.

HOLDING:

1. No. Trial courts lacked authority to submit special interrogatories to juries at trial in deviation from legislatively prescribed exceptional sentence procedures, during the period between the U.S. Supreme Court’s issuance of Blakely and the effective date of the 2005 amendment.
2. At the time the defendant was tried, the SRA required the judge, not the jury, to find the existence of the statutory aggravating factor at issue, according to the preponderance of the evidence standard of proof. See Former RCW 9.94A.530(2) (2002); former RCW 9.94A.535(2) (2003); In re Hall, 163 Wn.2d 346, 352-354, 181 P.3d 799, 802-03 (2008).
3. Expressed no opinion on the applicability or constitutionality of the Laws of 2007, chapter 205.

State v. Neff, 163 Wn.2d 453, 181 P.3d 819 (April 24, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted, after a stipulated facts trial in the Pierce County Superior Court, of Unlawfully Manufacturing a Controlled Substance, with a firearm sentencing-enhancement. Defendant appealed. The Washington Court of Appeals affirmed. Review was granted by the Washington Supreme Court.

ISSUE: Whether sufficient evidence supported the firearm enhancement.

HOLDING: Sufficient evidence supported the defendant’s firearm enhancement. A court may add time to a sentence if a defendant was armed with a firearm while committing a crime. RCW 9.94A.533(3).

State v. Recuenco, 163 Wn.2d 428, 180 P.3d 1276 (April 17, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the King County Superior Court of Second Degree Assault, Interfering with Domestic Violence Reporting, and Third Degree Malicious Mischief. The jury also returned a true finding on a deadly weapon enhancement allegation, and the trial court imposed a sentence enhancement based on the defendant being armed with a firearm. The Washington Court of Appeals affirmed. The Washington Supreme Court reversed and remanded. The U.S. Supreme Court reversed and remanded.

ISSUE: Whether the failure to submit a sentencing factor to the jury is subject to harmless error analysis under Washington law.

HOLDING:

1. No. It can never be harmless to sentence someone for a crime not charged, not sought at trial, and not found by a jury. In this situation, harmless error analysis does not apply. Former RCW 9.94A.125 expressly directs that the jury be asked by special verdict whether a defendant was armed with a deadly weapon and includes firearms within the definition of “deadly weapon.”
2. The error in this case occurred when the trial judge imposed a sentence enhancement for something the State did not ask for and the jury did not find. The trial court simply exceeded its authority in imposing a sentence not authorized by the charges.

In re Hall, 163 Wn.2d 346, 181 P.3d 799 (April 3, 2008)

FACTS: Following the affirmance of his conviction for Assault in the First Degree and sentencing to 366 months, petitioner filed a personal restraint petition. The Washington Supreme Court granted the petition and remanded. The Prosecuting Attorney's office petitioned for writ of certiorari. On grant of petition for writ of certiorari, the U.S. Supreme Court vacated and remanded.

ISSUE: Whether the failure to submit a sentencing factor to the jury was a harmless error in this case.

HOLDING: No. The language of RCW 9.94A.535 explicitly directed the trial court to make the necessary factual findings to support an exceptional sentence and did not include any provision allowing a jury to make those determinations during trial, during a separate sentencing phase, or on remand.

In re Dallage, 162 Wn.2d 814, 177 P.3d 675 (January 17, 2008)

FACTS: After the offender was found guilty in a Department of Corrections' (DOC) hearing of two counts of violating conditions of community custody, the offender filed a personal restraint petition. The Washington Court of Appeals dismissed the petition. Review was granted by the Washington Supreme Court.

ISSUE: Whether the DOC's power to enforce the conditions of community custody is suspended while the offender is confined.

HOLDING: No. The DOC had statutory authority to sanction the petitioner for violating the terms of community custody while he was confined. The Legislature has explicitly and broadly given the DOC the power and responsibility to supervise offenders while on various types of community custody. RCW 9.94A.720. The SRA says nothing about the DOC's power and responsibility being tolled while offenders are confined and instead uses sweeping language.

State v. Brown, 162 Wn.2d 422, 173 P.3d 245 (Dec. 13, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Spokane County Superior Court of Intimidating a Witness and First Degree Burglary While Armed with a Deadly Weapon. Defendant appealed. The Washington Court of Appeals affirmed. Defendant appealed to the Washington Supreme Court.

ISSUE: Whether the Court of Appeals failed to correctly apply the "nexus test" to determine whether the defendant was armed for purposes of both his conviction for first degree burglary and the firearm sentence enhancement.

HOLDING: Yes. The sentencing enhancement applies to a broad array of felonies. RCW 9.94A.533(3). Requiring both that the weapon be readily available and easily accessible, as well as a nexus based on the facts of the case, limits the definition of being armed to those situations the statutes are aimed at controlling. The Supreme Court reversed the Court of Appeals and vacated the deadly weapon enhancement and first degree burglary conviction.

State v. Bergstrom, 162 Wn.2d 87, 169 P.3d 816 (Nov. 27, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted by a jury in the King County Superior Court of First Degree Unlawful Possession of a Firearm. Defendant was sentenced to 87 months in prison based on an offender score of eleven. Defendant appealed. The Washington Court of Appeals affirmed the conviction, but remanded for sentencing. Defendant submitted a petition for review.

ISSUE: Given these unique circumstances - where defense counsel acknowledged the offender score, defense counsel never retracted the acknowledgement, and the only objection was a pro se argument at a hearing to determine the eligibility for electronic home monitoring after repeated continuances - is it inequitable to deny the State an opportunity to prove the existence of the defendant's prior convictions at the resentencing hearing?

HOLDING: Yes. The State reasonably relied on the defendant's attorney's acknowledgment of the standard sentence range and offender score. Under the sentencing grid of the SRA, when the current crime a defendant is being sentenced for has a seriousness level of VII - like first degree unlawful possession of a firearm - the only offender score that produces a standard sentence range of 87 to 11 months is an offender score of 9 or higher. RCW 9.94A.510 tbl.1.

State v. Yates, 161 Wn.2d 714, 168 P.3d 359 (Sept. 27, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Pierce County Superior Court of two counts of Aggravated First Degree Murder and was sentenced to death. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Did the trial court err in ordering the defendant to serve the sentence imposed for the Pierce County murders concurrently with the sentence imposed for his Spokane County crimes?

HOLDING: No. The trial court did not err in requiring that the Pierce County sentence be served concurrently with the Spokane County sentence.

RATIONALE: “We reject Yates’s argument that RCW 9.94A.589(1)(b) mandates consecutive Spokane County and Pierce County sentences. We reach this conclusion because the SRA provisions on concurrent and consecutive sentences (RCW 9.94A.589) cannot be sensibly applied when a jury in a special sentencing proceeding under chapter 10.95 RCW returns a verdict for a death sentence. The oddity underlying this sentencing issue is that, here we have a defendant seeking a consecutive sentence, while the State argues for concurrent sentencing. Paradoxically, Yates seeks a more lenient punishment by invoking a provision intended to ensure a harsher sentence. Whereas RCW 9.94A.589(1)(b) requires those convicted of multiple ‘serious violent offenses’ to serve a harsher sentence (consecutive terms) on those counts, Yates relies on that provision to lessen the severity of his sentence, effectively commuting his death sentence to life. Similarly, the State seeks the harsher sentence of death by relying on a provision that was intended to make the more lenient sentence the default. RCW 9.94A.589(3) makes the less harsh sentence (concurrent terms) the standard and permits the harsher sentence (consecutive terms) only as an exception that the sentencing court must ‘expressly order[.]’ RCW 9.94A.589(3). In sum, both the defense and the State ignore that they are relying on provisions that were intended to have effects opposite to the ones they desire. Clearly, it is the uniqueness of the death penalty that skews the positions of the defense and the State have taken on this sentencing issue. Accordingly, we reject the application of the SRA provisions on concurrent and consecutive sentences to the imposition of the death penalty.” State v. Yates, 161 Wn.2d at 783-84.

State v. Posey, 161 Wn.2d 638, 167 P.3d 560 (Sept. 20 2007)

FACTS: A juvenile was convicted as an adult in the Yakima County Superior Court of two counts of Second Degree Rape-Domestic Violence, but was acquitted of First Degree Assault-Domestic Violence, the crime requiring the juvenile court to automatically decline jurisdiction. The juvenile appealed. The Washington Court of Appeals affirmed. The juvenile appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the adult court retained jurisdiction over the defendant's remaining charges under former RCW 13.04.030(1)(e)(v)(A) when the defendant was acquitted of first degree assault.

HOLDING: No. While the alleged charge of first degree assault properly placed the defendant in the jurisdiction of the adult court under the statute, once the defendant was acquitted of the enumerated charge, the matter should have been remanded to juvenile court for a decline hearing or sentencing because the legislative intent underlying the automatic decline provision is to impose more severe punishment on juveniles who have committed certain criminal offenses. The enumerated offenses referenced in former RCW 13.04.030 and defined in RCW 9.94A.030 are exceptions to the general rule that juvenile courts in Washington shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over all proceedings. The Supreme Court reversed the Court of Appeals' holding that the adult court had proper sentencing jurisdiction over the defendant after he was acquitted of first degree assault.

State v. Tobin, 161 Wn.2d 517, 166 P.3d 1167 (Sept. 13, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant pled guilty in the Pierce County Superior Court to Illegally Harvesting Large Amounts of Crab and Geoduck, for which he was ordered to pay restitution for, among other things, the State's extraordinary investigative and administrative costs and the cost of resurveying impacted geoduck tracts. The Washington Court of Appeals affirmed. Defendant petitioned for review.

ISSUE: Whether the investigative, administrative, and environmental costs included in the restitution award were sufficiently related to petitioner's crimes.

HOLDING: Yes. The trial court did not abuse its discretion when it included extraordinary investigative, administrative, and resurveying costs in the defendant's restitution calculation. The restitution was valid as being sufficiently related to the offenses.

RATIONALE: The plain language of the restitution statute allows the trial judge to order restitution ranging from zero to extraordinary circumstances, up to double the offender's gain or the victim's loss. RCW 9.94A.753(3); State v. Kinneman, 155 Wn.2d 272, 282, 119 P.3d 350 (2005). The amount of restitution shall be based on "easily ascertainable damages." RCW 9.94A.753 (3). "When interpreting Washington's restitution statutes, we recognize that they were intended to require the defendant to face the consequences of his or her criminal conduct. State v. Savison, 116 Wn.2d 917, 922, 809 P.2d 1374 (1991). We do not engage in overly technical construction that would permit the defendant to escape from just punishment. Id. The legislature intended "to grant broad powers of restitution" to the trial court. Id. at 920, 809 P.2d 1374." State v. Tobin, 161 Wn.2d at 524.

In re Mulholland, 161 Wn.2d 322, 166 P.3d 677 (Aug. 30, 2007)

FACTS: After defendant's convictions on six counts of First Degree Assault and one count of Drive-By Shooting were affirmed, he filed a personal restraint petition. The Washington Court of Appeals granted the petition. The State petitioned for review.

ISSUE: Does a sentencing court have discretion to impose concurrent sentences for separate serious violent offenses as an exceptional sentence?

HOLDING: Yes. The plain language of RCW 9.94A.589(1) and RCW 9.94A.535 support the Court of Appeals' determination that the trial court had the discretion to impose an exceptional sentence.

In re Leach, 161 Wn.2d 180, 163 P.3d 782 (August 2, 2007)

FACTS: Following the defendant's guilty plea to one count of Attempted Assault of a Child in the Second Degree, the trial court imposed as part of the defendant's sentence a community custody term of 9-18 months, based on the defendant's crime of conviction constituting a "crime against a person" under RCW 9.94A.411 and RCW 9.4A.715. The DOC ultimately filed a post-sentence petition under RCW 9.94A.585(7), and requested that the Washington Court of Appeals remove the erroneously imposed community custody term from the defendant's sentence, asserting that the defendant's crime of conviction was not included on the list of "crimes against persons" under RCW 9.94A.411. The Court of Appeals denied the DOC's petition, holding that attempted second degree assault of a child was a "crime against a person" under RCW 9.94A.411. The DOC filed a motion for discretionary review in the Washington Supreme Court, which the Court granted.

ISSUE: Does RCW 9.94A.411(2) constitute an exclusive list of "Crimes Against Persons" for purposes of community custody?

HOLDING: Yes. In a unanimous decision, the Washington Supreme Court held in granting the DOC's petition that the language of RCW 9.94A.411 listing "crimes against persons" was intended by the Legislature to be an exhaustive, exclusive list, and not an illustrative list. Further, that the list under RCW 9.94A.411 did not include the crime of attempted assault of a child in the second degree; and that because the defendant's crime was not included on the list of "crimes against persons," her community custody term had to be excised from her otherwise valid sentence.

Madison, et al. v. State, et al., 161 Wn.2d 85, 163 P.3d 757 (July 26, 2007)

FACTS: Respondents are convicted felons seeking reinstatement of their voting rights. Respondents challenged the constitutionality of Washington's disenfranchisement scheme because it denies the right to vote to convicted felons who have not completed all of the terms of their sentences, including full payment of their legal financial obligations (LFOs). Respondents argued that the scheme violated the Privileges and Immunities Clause of the Washington Constitution and the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution because it denies them the right to vote based on wealth. Following cross-motions for summary judgment, the trial court concluded that the scheme was unconstitutional as to felons who, due to their financial status, were unable to pay their LFOs immediately. The State sought direct review and requested that the Washington Supreme Court reverse the trial court's order and enforce Washington's Constitution and statutes as written. Respondents cross-appealed and asked the Washington Supreme Court to hold that all felons who have satisfied all the terms of their sentences except for full payment of their LFOs be allowed to vote, regardless of their financial status.

ISSUES:

- 1) Does the disenfranchisement scheme violate the Privileges and Immunities Clause of the state constitution?
- 2) Is Washington's disenfranchisement scheme subject to strict scrutiny?
- 3) Does the State's felon disenfranchisement scheme violate the equal protection clause of the United States Constitution?
- 4) Does the disenfranchisement scheme classify based on wealth?

HOLDING:

- 1) No. The State's felon disenfranchisement scheme, which only restored voting rights to felons who had satisfied all of the terms of their sentences, including fully paying their legal financial obligations, did not violate the Privileges and Immunities clause of the state constitution. The scheme granted the privilege of restoration of voting rights upon the same terms equally to all felons.
- 2) No. Strict scrutiny does not apply to convicted felons' equal protection claims challenging the State's felon disenfranchisement scheme, which only restored voting rights to felons who had satisfied all of the terms of their sentences, including fully paying their legal financial obligations. No fundamental right was at stake, and felons did not allege that they constituted a suspect class. A rational basis review, rather than intermediate scrutiny, applied to convicted felons' equal protection claim challenging State's felon disenfranchisement scheme. Plaintiffs failed to establish that felons' right to vote qualified as an important right under federal case law, and even though low-income felons may not have been accountable for their wealth status, they were responsible for their status as felons. Additionally, once convicted, an individual who has committed a felony remains a "felon," even after the individual receives a certificate of discharge – there is no such thing as an "ex-felon."
- 3) No. The State's felon disenfranchisement scheme, which only restored voting rights to felons who had satisfied all of the terms of their sentences, including fully paying their legal financial obligations, was rationally related to a legitimate state interest in having state laws followed and, thus, did not violate the Equal Protection clause of the United States Constitution.
- 4) No. The State's felon disenfranchisement scheme, which only restored voting rights to felons who had satisfied all of the terms of their sentences, including fully paying their legal financial obligations, did not classify based on wealth.

WASHINGTON COURT OF APPEALS

State v. Bryan, 185 P.3d 1230 (June 23, 2008)

FACTS: Following the defendant's conviction pursuant to a guilty plea and sentence on two counts of Residential Burglary and one count of Possession of a Controlled Substance, defendant moved to modify the sentences, asserting that two prior out-of-state convictions should not have been included in his offender score. The Snohomish County Superior Court removed two points from defendant's offender score, but added two points for subsequent in-state convictions, resulting in sentences that were the same length as the originally imposed sentences. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Does Washington's sentencing statute, RCW 9.94A.589, violate the defendant's right to equal protection under state and federal constitutions?

HOLDING: No. Under the rational basis test, the statute rests upon a legitimate state objective, and the sentencing scheme of RCW 9.94A.589 is rationally related to the Legislature's stated purposes.

State v. Brown, 184 P.3d 1284 (June 10, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Yakima County Superior Court of Vehicular Assault. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the trial court was required to impose sentence under the higher sentencing range given the finding that defendant was guilty of all three methods of committing vehicular assault.

HOLDING: Yes. The sentencing court must impose a penalty from the higher standard range because to do otherwise would disregard the jury's finding on the higher crime.

State v. O'Cain, 184 P.3d 1262 (May 27, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted after jury trial in the King County Superior Court of Second-Degree Rape. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the trial court erred in imposing a condition of community custody prohibiting the defendant from unapproved internet access because it is not crime related.

HOLDING: Under RCW 9.94A.700(5)(e), the prohibition on internet access without pre-approval must be crime-related in order to be valid. Because the prohibition in this case is not crime-related, the court concluded it must be stricken. This holding does not preclude control over internet access being imposed as part of sex offender treatment if recommended after a sexual deviancy evaluation.

In re Rivard, 183 P.3d 1115 (May 22, 2008)

FACTS: After the defendant served a sentence for Vehicular Homicide and paid court-imposed financial obligations, he petitioned for reinstatement of his right to possess a firearm. The Spokane County Superior Court granted the petition, and the State appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the defendant's right to possess a firearm was automatically restored when he was no longer under the supervision of the DOC.

HOLDING: Yes. The plain language of the relevant statutory provisions did not authorize the court to revoke the firearms right of a person convicted of vehicular homicide beyond the time that the offender was subject to DOC supervision. See former RCW 9.94A.120(13)(1993) and former RCW 9.41.040(1)(1992). The petitioner's firearms right was restored automatically after the DOC no longer supervised him.

In re Knippling, 183 P.3d 365 (May 20, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Spokane County Superior Court of Second Degree Assault and First Degree Animal Cruelty. His convictions were affirmed, but remand was ordered for resentencing. After being resentenced to concurrent standard range sentences, defendant filed a personal restraint petition, requesting that he receive credit against his term of community custody for the extra 24 months of confinement time he served before he was resentenced.

ISSUE: Whether the petitioner should be given credit against his 18 to 36 months of community custody for the extra 24 months he was incarcerated beyond his standard range sentence.

HOLDING: Yes. RCW 9.94A.625(3) deals with tolling of the term of community custody after the term of community custody has started. It provides that the community custody term does not run during time in confinement for new crimes or for community custody violations. In contrast, RCW 9.94A.715(1) addresses the point in time at which the term of community custody begins and the statute is clear that the term of community custody begins when the offender completes his confinement time. The petitioner completed his term of confinement 24 months before he was actually released, at which time his community custody term commenced. Following his release, the petitioner had only 12 months of his term of community custody to serve. Thus, the Court of Appeals granted the personal restraint petition.

State v. Stubbs, 184 P.3d 660 (May 20, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted following jury trial in the Pend Oreille County Superior Court of First Degree Assault While Armed with a Deadly Weapon and received an exceptional sentence of 480 months. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether RCW 9.94A.535(3)(y) gives excessive subjectivity to a jury's factual determinations, and thus violates due process vagueness prohibitions.

HOLDING: No. The statute is not vague because it appraises the individuals that inflicting serious bodily injury upon another would subject them to a higher sentence. Here, the term "substantially exceeds" is not vague because it denotes ascertainable standards for an exceptional sentence and is used in relationship to the definition for great bodily harm, which provided the jury with a standard for comparison. Therefore, there was no constitutional vagueness violation.

State v. Castillo, 183 P.3d 355 (May 15, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted following jury trial in the Yakima County Superior Court of Failing to Register as a Sex Offender and received a sentence that included a term of community custody. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Did the sentencing court have the statutory authority to sentence the defendant to a term of community custody?

HOLDING: Yes. The courts have authority to impose a term of community custody upon persons found guilty of failure to register as a sex offender. Subsection (2) of the community custody statute should read accordingly: "If the offender is guilty of failure to register under RCW 9A.44.130[(11)(a)], the court shall impose a term of community custody under RCW 9.94A.715." RCW 9.94A.545(2).

State v. Albright, 183 P.3d 1094 (May 13, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Cowlitz County Superior Court of Failing to Register as a Sex Offender and he appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the Legislature made an inadvertent numbering error when it enacted Substitute Senate Bill (SSB) 6519.

HOLDING: Yes. However, the court has the authority to remedy it under State v. Taylor, 97 Wn.2d 724, 730, 649 P.2d 633 (1982). To retain the definition of sex offense the Legislature intended, the court must correct the numbering error in RCW 9.94A.030(42)(a)(i) to read as follows: “A felony that is a violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW other than RCW 9A.44.130(12).” State v. Albright, 183 P.3d 1097.

State v. Bunker, 144 Wn. App. 407, 183 P.3d 1086 (May 5, 2008)

FACTS: Defendants were convicted by jury in the King County Superior Court of Violating Domestic Violence No-Contact Orders. Defendants appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the trial court abused its discretion when it sentenced the defendant because it erroneously believed that it did not have the authority to depart downward from the standard sentencing range on the basis of the mitigating factor that the victim was willingly present in the defendant’s truck tractor.

HOLDING: Yes. The trial court erroneously concluded that it did not have the discretion to consider this mitigating factor. “While no defendant is entitled to an exceptional sentence below the standard range, every defendant is entitled to ask the trial court to consider such a sentence and to have the alternative actually considered.” State v. Grayson, 154 Wn.2d 333, 342, 111 P.3d 1183 (2005). A trial court’s erroneous belief that it lacks the discretion to depart downward from the standard sentencing range is itself an abuse of discretion warranting remand. State v. Garcia-Martinez, 88 Wn.App 322, 329-30, 944 P.2d 1104 (1997).

State v. Prado, 144 Wn. App. 227, 181 P.3d 901 (April 29, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted after a jury trial in the Chelan County Superior Court of First-Degree Assault. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the trial court’s restitution order was void.

HOLDING: No. At the time of the restitution hearing, the defendant was still under the court’s jurisdiction. RCW 9.94A.753(4) permitted the trial court to modify the amount of restitution, regardless of the State’s motion for reconsideration.

State v. Failey, 144 Wn. App. 132, 181 P.3d 875 (April 22, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Pierce County Superior Court of First Degree Robbery and received a standard range sentence of 51 to 68 months imprisonment. The State appealed the sentence.

ISSUES:

1. Whether the trial court should have applied RCW 9.94A.035 to classify the defendant's 1974 robbery conviction as a class A felony under the SRA.
2. Was the defendant's 1974 conviction "washed out"?
3. Whether the trial court erred in ruling that the State took inconsistent positions on the defendant's criminal history with respect to whether his 1974 conviction had "washed out" and was, therefore, stopped from arguing that his 1974 conviction could be included in his offender score.
4. Whether the defendant's 1974 robbery conviction is a strike offense for persistent offender sentencing purposes under RCW 9.94A.030(33) because the charging information did not allege a specific "intent to steal."

HOLDING:

1. Yes, because the maximum imprisonment term for that 1974 conviction was 20 years or more. The trial court erred in ruling that RCW 9.94A.035 is ambiguous.
2. No. The defendant's 1974 conviction does not "wash" from his offender score and the trial court erred in failing to treat this conviction as a class A felony for offender score purposes.
3. Yes. Collateral estoppel does not preclude the State from asserting that the defendant's 1974 robbery conviction could be included in his offender score for purposes of sentencing for his 2006 first degree robbery conviction.
4. Yes. Applying RCW 9.94A.035, the defendant's 1974 robbery conviction is a class A felony, which is a strike offense for persistent offender sentencing purposes. RCW 9.94A.030(33). The Court of Appeals reversed the defendant's standard range sentence and remanded for resentencing as a persistent offender.

State v. Anderson, 144 Wn. App. 85, 180 P.3d 885 (April 17, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Stevens County Superior Court of Second Degree Assault While Armed with a Firearm, and he appealed.

ISSUE: Was the defendant entitled to specific statutory procedure before receiving a firearms enhancement to his sentence?

HOLDING: No. The enhancement statutes authorize the firearm enhancement. See State v. Truong V. Nguyen, 134 Wn.App. 863, 870-871, 142 P.3d 1117 (2006).

State v. Thompson, 143 Wn. App. 861, 181 P.3d 858 (April 8, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted by jury in the Pierce County Superior Court of First Degree Murder and First Degree Assault. Defendant appealed. The Washington Court of Appeals affirmed the murder conviction, but reversed and remanded the assault conviction. Defendant was reconvicted in the Pierce County Superior Court of First Degree Assault. Defendant filed a personal restraint petition contesting his sentence. The Court of Appeals granted the petition in part, denied the petition in part, and remanded for resentencing. The Superior Court, calculated defendant's offender score at three, sentenced him to 604 months, and ordered 24 months of community placement for both convictions. Defendant appealed.

ISSUES:

1. Did the resentencing court err in calculating the defendant's offender score?
2. Was his sentencing enhancement improper because the trial court did not instruct the jury to find a nexus between the defendant, the weapon, and the murder?

3. Do two years of community placement, in addition to the defendant's prison sentences, exceed the statutory maximum in violation of RCW 9.94A.505(5)?

HOLDING:

1. With the burden of proof on the defendant to establish the unconstitutionality of the pleas, his recourse is to pursue the usual channels provided for post-conviction relief and, if successful, request resentencing.
2. No. The record shows overwhelming evidence to find a connection between the crime, the defendant, and the gun. Accordingly, the Court of Appeals affirmed the imposition of the firearm enhancement.
3. No.

State v. Ashue, 188 P.3d 522 (March 25, 2008)

FACTS: Following violations of the terms of a pretrial diversion program, the defendant was convicted of Residential Burglary at stipulated bench trial in the Yakima County Superior Court.

ISSUE: Was the defendant precluded from entering a non-statutory diversion program after arraignment?

HOLDING: No. The diversion agreement here is most appropriately characterized as a pretrial diversion agreement. Because this diversion program is nonstatutory, there is no authority prohibiting a defendant from entering such a program after arraignment, as the defendant did here. The diversion program does not violate the SRA.

In re Albritton, 143 Wn. App. 584, 180 P.3d 790 (March 24, 2008)

FACTS: An inmate who had been terminated from the Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative (DOSA) program and reclassified to serve the balance of the unexpired term of his DOSA sentence in prison, filed a personal restraint petition challenging the calculation of his earned early release date by the DOC and the credit he was entitled to receive while serving the community custody portion of his DOSA sentence.

ISSUE: Whether the inmate was entitled to receive credit for the period of time when he was either absent from supervision or incarcerated on unrelated charges.

HOLDING: The inmate was entitled to credit for time spent in confinement for violating conditions of the DOSA Sentence. In 2005, the Legislature amended RCW 9.94A.660 to include a section that now expressly provides that "an offender sentenced under this section shall be subject to all rules relating to earned release time with respect to any period served in total confinement." RCW 9.94A.660(1). The Legislature defines "total confinement" as "confinement inside the physical boundaries of a facility or institution...for twenty-four hours a day." RCW 9.94A.030(42). The Court of Appeals granted the personal restraint petition in part and remanded to DOC to recalculate the petitioner's release date in accordance with this opinion.

State v. Berrier, 143 Wn. App. 547, 178 P.3d 1064 (March 18, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Cowlitz County Superior Court of Felony Harassment. Defendant appealed.

ISSUES:

1. Whether the state's failure to allege aggravating factors in the Information violated his due process right to notice.
2. Should former RCW 9.94A.537 be interpreted to require the State to allege aggravating factors in the information?
3. Were the aggravating factors found by the trial court legally or factually supported?

HOLDING:

1. No. The state's notice of intent to prove specified aggravating factors under former RCW 9.94A.535 provided reasonable notice of the alleged aggravating factors in accord with the defendant's due process rights.
2. No. So long as the defendant's substantial rights are not prejudiced, under former and current RCW 9.94A.537, the State may allege aggravating factors in its notice of intent to seek an exceptional sentence separate and apart from the information.
3. No. Despite the best intentions of the trial court and counsel, there was insufficient evidence to support the trial court's findings beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant's conduct manifested deliberate cruelty, an egregious lack of remorse, or retaliation against his probation officer for the performance of his duties. Thus, the Court of Appeals vacated the defendant's exceptional sentence and remanded for sentencing within the standard range.

State v. Carlson, 143 Wn. App. 507, 178 P.3d 371 (March 11, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted after a bench trial in the Pierce County Superior Court of First Degree Escape and Unlawful Possession of Cocaine. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the trial court erred as a matter of law when it found him ineligible for a DOSA sentence because he had received one previous DOSA sentence within the preceding ten years.

HOLDING: Yes. RCW 9.94A.660(1)(g) clearly provides that an offender is ineligible for a DOSA sentence only if he has had more than one previous DOSA sentence in the prior ten years. The trial court should have considered a possible DOSA sentence for the defendant's new convictions.

State v. Moultrie, 143 Wn. App. 387, 177 P.3d 776 (February 25, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted by jury in the King County Superior Court of Second Degree Rape. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the defendant's condition of sentence prohibiting contact with "vulnerable, ill or disabled adults" was unconstitutionally vague and overbroad.

HOLDING:

1. Remanded to trial court to define "vulnerable" and "disabled."
2. "Ill" should be stricken as vague.
3. An order prohibiting contact with "vulnerable" and "disabled" adults is reasonably related to the state's essential need to protect such adults and is not overbroad.

4. The order is not an unreasonable restraint on the defendant's constitutional rights because of its duration.

State v. Bobenhouse, 143 Wn. App. 315, 177 P.3d 209 (February 21, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in Asotin County Superior Court of multiple counts of Rape of a Child and Incest. Defendant appealed.

ISSUES:

1. Should convictions based on the same acts constitute the same criminal conduct for sentencing purposes?
2. Does his exceptional sentence violate the rule set out in Blakely because a jury did not find aggravating factors beyond a reasonable doubt?
3. Is the inclusion of the foster parents in the no-contact order improper when the restraint is not crime related?

HOLDING:

1. Because the defendant's current offender score was 20 for the child rape convictions and 17 for the incest convictions; thus, even assuming error, any error would be harmless. Regardless, the offenses do not constitute the same criminal conduct and must be counted separately in the offender score if any one of these factors is missing.
2. No. The trial court determined that aggravating factors supported an exceptional minimum sentence. And the resulting concurrent minimum sentences of 600 months on each rape count were less than the statutory maximum of life. The exceptional minimum sentences did not violate the rule in Blakely.
3. No. Restricting Mr. Bobenhouse's contact with the former foster parents was reasonably necessary to protect them and the public order.

State v. Elmore, 143 Wn. App. 185, 177 P.3d 172 (February 19, 2008)

FACTS: An inmate was convicted in a jury trial in the Skagit County Superior Court of First Degree Malicious Mischief. The inmate appealed.

ISSUE: Were the consecutive and concurrent sentences provision in the sentencing guidelines properly applied to the defendant?

HOLDING: No. The trial court should have sentenced counts I and III concurrent to one another as required by RCW 9.94.589(1)(a), but consecutive to the arson/assault sentence, as required by RCW 9.94A.589(2)(9a). Subsection (3) of RCW 9.94A.589 has no application.

State v. Eaton, 143 Wn. App. 155, 177 P.3d 157 (February 12, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Clark County Superior Court of Driving While Under the Influence (DUI) and Unlawful Possession of a Controlled Substance. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the sentence enhancement under RCW 9.94A.533(5)(c), a zone-enhancement, can stand if the defendant did not voluntarily introduce methamphetamine into the county jail.

HOLDING: No. When the Legislature enacted RCW 9.94A.533(5), it did not intend the unlikely, absurd, or strained consequence of punishing a defendant for his involuntary act. See Stannard, 109 Wn.2d at 36, 742 P.2d 1244. The sentence enhancement imposed under RCW 9.94A.533(5)(c) was vacated.

State v. Brooks, 142 Wn. App. 842, 176 P.3d 549 (January 29, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted by a jury in the Okanogan County Superior Court of Second Degree Assault with a Deadly Weapon. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the trial court exceeded its authority when it ordered a mental health evaluation and treatment as a condition of community custody.

HOLDING: Yes. To order a mental health evaluation and treatment under RCW 9.94A.505(9) and RCW 9.94A.700(5)(c), the trial court must find that reasonable grounds exist that the person is mentally ill and the condition most likely influenced the offense. See RCW 9.94A.505(9) and State v. Jones, 118 Wn. App. 199, 208-11, 76 P.3d 258 (2003). That did not occur here. The sentencing court did not have the authority to impose mental health evaluation and treatment. See Jones, 118 Wn. App. at 208-11; RCW 9.94A.505(9); and RCW 9.94A.700(5)(c).

State v. Crumble, 142 Wn. App. 798, 177 P.3d 129 (January 23, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Pierce County Superior Court of two counts of Attempted First-Degree Murder and related offenses. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the trial court erred in imposing consecutive sentences on his two attempted murder charges without following the calculation method prescribed by RCW 9.95A.589(1)(b).

HOLDING: Yes. RCW 9.94A.589(1)(b) provides that “all sentences imposed under (b) of this subsection shall be served consecutively to each other.” (Emphasis added.) The italicized language suggests that only those sentences calculated under RCW 9.94A.589(1)(b) should be imposed consecutively. Because the calculation method of .589(1)(b) does not apply to persistent offenders, the court applied the default rule that the court must impose concurrent sentences. The Court of Appeals vacated the defendant’s convictions for first-degree assault and remanded for the trial court to impose concurrent life sentences without parole.

State v. McNeal, 142 Wn. App. 777, 175 P.3d 1139 (January 23, 2008)

FACTS: Following affirmance of convictions, the defendant filed a personal restraint petition. The Court of Appeals vacated and remanded defendant’s exceptional sentence for his drug offense. On remand, the Lewis County Superior Court reimposed exceptional sentences for all three of the defendant’s offenses and ordered that sentences run consecutively. Defendant appealed.

ISSUES:

1. Whether the trial court properly imposed an exceptional sentence above the standard range for the defendant’s drug conviction, his second such offense, and exceptional consecutive sentences under RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a).
2. What is the relief entitled to the defendant on the second remand for resentencing?

HOLDING:

1. The trial court erred when it, rather than a jury, made the factual determinations required to impose the exceptional sentences.
2. The sentencing court may empanel a jury, under the current version of RCW 9.94A.537 to make the factual determinations required for imposing any exceptional sentences.

State v. Newlum, 142 Wn. App. 730, 176 P.3d 529 (January 22, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted on guilty plea in the Snohomish County Superior Court of multiple counts of Identity Theft, Forgery, and Unlawful Possession of Personal Identification and received an exceptional sentence. Defendant appealed, alleging that in sentencing him, the trial court's finding of an aggravating factor set forth in RCW 9.94A.535(2)(c) and premised the imposition of an exceptional sentence on the existence of this factor violated the jury trial guarantee of the Sixth Amendment as discussed in Blakely.

ISSUE: Whether the trial court unconstitutionally applied RCW 9.94A.535(2)(c) in violation of the Sixth Amendment when it imposed an exceptional sentence.

HOLDING: Because the judicial findings required for a sentencing court to impose an exceptional sentence under RCW 9.94A.535(2)(c) relate solely to criminal history, it is constitutionally permissible for a sentencing court to impose an exceptional sentence pursuant to RCW 9.94A.535(2)(c) as that statute is now written.

State v. Doney, 142 Wn. App. 450, 174 P.3d 1261 (January 8, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant pled guilty during a jury trial to First-Degree Murder, and the Spokane County Superior Court impaneled a new jury to determine aggravating circumstances that would affect sentencing. Defendant subsequently received an exceptional sentence of 420 months. He appealed.

ISSUE: Did the trial court have the authority to impanel a new jury to consider aggravating factors?

HOLDING: No, but as a matter of first impression, the error was harmless. The defendant entered his guilty plea before April 15, 2005, which means that the "Blakely-fix" statute would not apply to him for sentencing. Therefore, the trial court should not have impaneled a jury to decide the aggravating factors in this case. However, if the defendant's case is remanded, the Blakely-fix statute would apply and the defendant would be entitled to a jury determination of aggravating factors.

State v. Grenning, 142 Wn. App. 518, 174 P.3d 706 (January 8, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted by jury in the Pierce County Superior Court of 16 counts of First Degree Child Rape, 26 counts of Sexual Exploitation of a Minor, six counts of First Degree Child Molestation, one count of Second Degree Assault of a Child With Sexual Motivation, 20 counts of Possession of Depictions of Minors Engaged in Sexually Explicit Conduct With Sexual Motivation, and two counts of First Degree Attempted Child Rape. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the defendant's consecutive sentences imposed under former RCW 9.94A.589(1)(a), violated Blakely and Apprendi v. New Jersey, 530 U.S. 466, 120 S. Ct. 2348, 147 L. Ed. 2d 435 (2000).

HOLDING: No. The trial court made factual findings under RCW 9.94A.535(2) to support imposing the sentences consecutively. Additionally, the jury returned a special verdict finding that the defendant committed the second degree assault of a child with sexual motivation. A finding of sexual motivation for the offense is an aggravating factor that allows the court to impose an exceptional sentence. RCW 9.94A.535(3)(f). Therefore, the consecutive sentences the trial court imposed were proper.

In re Lofton, 142 Wn. App. 412, 174 P.3d 703 (January 7, 2008)

FACTS: After sentencing in the King County Superior Court following a guilty plea to Second Degree Escape, the petitioner filed a personal restraint petition.

ISSUE: Whether the trial court miscalculated the defendant's offender score for his escape convictions.

HOLDING: When interpreted in relation to sections of the same statute and other statutes in the SRA, RCW 9.94A.525(14) requires that every prior conviction be counted individually when calculating the offender score for Escape. Thus, the trial court did not err when calculating the petitioner's offender score.

State v. Vance, 142 Wn. App. 398, 174 P.3d 697 (January 7, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted after a jury trial in the Snohomish County Superior Court of three counts of Child Molestation in the First Degree, two counts of Child Molestation in the Second Degree, and three counts of Communication With a Minor for Immoral Purposes. The Court of Appeals reversed and remanded for resentencing. After the Snohomish County Superior Court resentenced the defendant, the Court of Appeals affirmed. The Supreme Court reversed and remanded. After being resentenced again in the Snohomish Superior Court, the defendant appealed.

ISSUES:

1. Whether the exceptional sentences violate the defendant's right to trial by jury as set forth in Blakely because the sentencing judge, rather than the jury, conducted the fact finding necessary to justify the imposition of exceptional sentences.
2. Whether recent amendments to the SRA allow the State to once again seek an exceptional sentence on remand.

HOLDING:

1. Yes. The defendant's sentencing judge erred by imposing exceptional sentences based on the judge's own factual determination.
2. The court cannot ignore the plain language of RCW 9.94A.535(3). The defendant's sentencing judge based the exceptional sentence on an aggravating circumstance not found in RCW 9.94A.535(3). Thus, the State's contention that the 2007 amendments provide it with the ability to seek an exceptional sentence on remand fails.

State v. Riley, 143 Wn. App. 41, 177 P.3d 115 (January 2, 2008)

FACTS: Defendant appealed an order of the Pierce County Superior Court denying her petition for an order instructing removal of records of her vacated and dismissed marijuana delivery conviction from public access.

ISSUE: Whether the trial court erred in denying the defendant's request for an order instructing the Washington State Patrol to remove the record of her conviction from public access.

HOLDING: The State conceded that RCW 10.97 did not apply to the record in question and that former RCW 9.94A.640 controlled instead. The Court of Appeals held that the defendant's vacated conviction record is not subject to RCW 10.97 as non-conviction data. The Court of Appeals reversed the trial court's denial of the defendant's motion to order the State Patrol to prevent public access to her conviction records and remanded for the trial court to enter an order instructing the State Patrol to remove the defendant's records of conviction from public access.

State v. Lopez, 142 Wn. App. 341, 174 P.3d 1261 (December 31, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the King County Superior Court of three counts of Second Degree Kidnapping-Domestic Violence and two counts of Second Degree Assault-Domestic Violence, one with deadly weapon. Defendant appealed.

ISSUES:

1. Whether the trial court abused its discretion by finding that count V, second degree assault with a deadly weapon, and count VI, second degree assault that recklessly inflicts substantial bodily harm, did not constitute the same criminal conduct.
2. Whether the trial court erred when it imposed as a condition of community custody that the defendant obtain a psychiatric evaluation and follow all treatment recommendations.

HOLDING:

1. No. The Court of Appeals found no abuse of discretion. The court noted that the mens rea requirements are different for assault with a deadly weapon and assaulting another thereby recklessly inflicting substantial bodily harm.
2. Yes. The record in the trial court did not satisfy the requirements of RCW 9.94A.505(9). Remanded to the trial court to strike the condition requiring the defendant to undergo psychiatric evaluation and treatment.

State v. Dillon, 142 Wn. App. 269, 174 P.3d 1201 (December 24, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant entered a guilty plea pursuant to North Carolina v. Alford, 400 U.S. 25, 91 S.Ct. 160, 27 L.Ed.2d 162 (1970) in the King County Superior Court to First Degree Rape, and as part of plea agreement, stipulated to an agreed recommendation for an exceptional sentence of 500 months. The trial court sentenced the defendant to 400 months. The U.S. Supreme Court decided Blakely shortly after the defendant was sentenced. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether defendant had a Blakely right to jury trial of facts justifying exceptional sentence.

HOLDING: No. Since the defendant made an agreed recommendation of an exceptional sentence as part of his plea, the sentencing court did not need to find any additional facts in order to impose the exceptional sentence, and thus there was no Blakely violation.

State v. Murawski, 142 Wn. App. 278, 173 P.3d 994 (December 24, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant pled guilty in the King County Superior Court to Theft in the First Degree. The State appealed the defendant's sentence.

ISSUES:

1. Whether the case should be dismissed because the State cannot appeal the trial court's imposition of a standard range sentence.
2. Whether the sentencing court had authority to empanel a jury to find aggravating circumstances under RCW 9.94A.537.

HOLDING:

1. Although the State's appeal sought a procedure that may result in an increased sentence for the defendant, it was not contesting the length of her sentence, but rather the sentencing court's decision not to apply RCW 9.94A.537. This is an issue of law and the State's appeal is not barred by RCW 9.94A.585(1) or RAP 2.2(b)(6).
2. Because the Court of Appeals concluded that remand would not violate double jeopardy, the Court of Appeals reversed the sentencing court's decision and remanded to empanel a jury to consider aggravating factors for sentencing accordance with RCW 9.94A.537.

In re Mattson, 142 Wn. App. 130, 172 P.3d 719 (December 17, 2007; reconsideration denied March 3, 2008)

FACTS: A sex offender filed a personal restraint petition challenging denial of his proposed release plan based on the DOC's policies that excluded offenders from community custody if a forensic psychological evaluation determined offenders met the statutory criteria for civil commitment as a sexually violent predators (SVP).

ISSUE: Can a community custody procedure categorically exclude offenders who meet the statutory criteria for being sexually violent predators?

HOLDING: No. Neither the current nor the former versions of RCW 9.94A.728 authorize DOC to categorically exempt offenders who meet the criteria of sexually violent predators, nor does the statute allow DOC to decide to refuse to approve a release plan because "no community release address, absent one with a 24/7 prison-like monitoring and lock-down would be safe enough to protect the community." Even if a forensic evaluation concludes an inmate meets the criteria of a sexually violent predator, "24/7 prison-like monitoring and lock-down" can only be accomplished within the constraints of due process by means of a civil commitment proceeding. Until then, DOC cannot categorically exempt a sex offender like the petitioner from consideration for transfer to community custody and must evaluate a proposed release plan on its merits.

State v. Smith, 142 Wn. App. 122, 173 P.3d 973 (December 10, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant pled guilty to Possession of Stolen Property in the First Degree, and was convicted of Possession of Cocaine and another count of Possession of Stolen Property in First Degree. The King County Superior Court imposed a sentence of 43 months for one count of possession of stolen property, and for the other counts imposed DOSA sentences to run 25 months concurrently with first sentence and required another 25 months in community custody consecutive to the first sentence. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the defendant's sentence was a hybrid sentence because the first half of his DOSA sentences ran concurrently with his non-DOSA sentence, but the community custody portions of his DOSA sentences ran consecutively to his non-DOSA sentence.

HOLDING: Yes. The defendant received a hybrid sentence, because the community custody portions of the defendant's DOSA were "tacked on" to the end of his non-DOSA sentence. See

State v. Grayson, 130 Wn.App. 782, 786, 125 P.3d 169 (2005). Thus, the Court of Appeals concluded that the defendant's sentence was part concurrent and part consecutive. The case was remanded for resentencing. "The legislature may want to change the statute to allow the type of sentence that Smith received." State v. Smith, 142 Wn. App. at 129.

State v. Stewart, 141 Wn. App. 791, 174 P.3d 111 (November 27, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Benton County Superior Court of Failure to Register as a Sex Offender. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the prosecution or the trial court abused its discretion over issues the defendant characterized as de minimis.

HOLDING: No. This matter is not de minimis. While the prosecutor or the trial court may decline to prosecute under certain circumstances, neither is required to do so. CrR 8.3(b); RCW 9.94A.411(1)(c). The defendant failed to show he falls within the circumstances necessary for discretionary dismissal. See CrR 8.3(b); RCW 9.94A.411(1).

State v. Castro, 141 Wn. App. 485, 170 P.3d 78 (October 30, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Benton County Superior Court of Second-Degree Child Molestation. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the trial court erred in ordering the defendant as part of his community custody conditions to "submit to polygraph and plethysmograph testing upon the request of his therapist and/or Community Corrections Officer," and to "not use or have access to the Internet unless approved by his sex offender therapist."

HOLDING: No. The court did not abuse its discretion. The defendant conceded the sentencing court properly imposed community custody under RCW 9.94A.715(1). As part of the defendant's sentence, he was ordered to participate in crime-related treatment. Under State v. Riles, 135 Wn.2d 326, 342-46, 957 P.2d 655 (1998), the trial court properly imposed polygraph and plethysmograph testing. The defendant's internet restriction was also a valid affirmative act under RCW 9.94A.715(2)(a).

State v. Partee, 141 Wn. App. 355, 170 P.3d 60 (October 23, 2007)

FACTS: The State filed a petition to revoke the defendant's Special Sex Offender Sentencing Alternative (SSOSA). The Lewis County Superior Court revoked the defendant's SSOSA based on his stipulated violations. Defendant appealed.

ISSUES:

1. When a person sentenced under SSOSA has violated sentencing conditions, for which the sentencing court will impose sanctions, is revocation of the SSOSA the court's only option or can it impose up to 60 days confinement per violation under RCW 9.94A.634(3)(c)?
2. Did the trial court erroneously revoke the defendant's SSOSA based on its mistaken belief that it lacked authority to revoke only a portion of his suspended SSOSA sentence and to impose consecutive 60-day terms of confinement for multiple violations under RCW 9.94A.634(3)(c) for probation violations, in lieu of revoking his SSOSA?

3. Did the sentencing court misconstrue its statutory discretion under RCW 9.94A.634(3)(c) when it found it lacked “the authority to ‘stack’ probation violation[s]” to give the defendant time in D.O.C. as recommended by defendant’s counsel and the defendant’s expert?

HOLDING:

1. SSOSA was not the only option available to the sentencing court; instead, confinement under the probation violation statute, RCW 9.94A.634(3)(c) was also an option.
2. Although the Court of Appeals disagreed with the defendant’s assertion that the sentencing court had authority to revoke only a portion of his suspended SSOSA sentence, it did agree that the sentencing court had authority to impose consecutive 60-day terms of confinement for multiple violations under RCW 9.94A.634(3)(c), in lieu of revoking his SSOSA.
3. To the extent that the sentencing court believed that it lacked authority to impose consecutive terms of confinement for SSOSA violations in lieu of revoking the defendant’s SSOSA, the Court of Appeals remanded for the trial court to reconsider its SSOSA revocation and to consider imposing consecutive terms of confinement under RCW 9.94A.634(3)(c) instead.

State v. McCormick, 141 Wn. App. 256, 169 P.3d 508 (October 22, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant appealed from an order of the Snohomish County Superior Court revoking his SSOSA and sentencing him to 123 months in prison.

ISSUE: Was the trial court required to find that the defendant’s violations were willful before it could revoke his suspended sentence?

HOLDING: No. The Court of Appeals followed the clear precedent of State v. Gropper, 76 Wn. App. 882, 888 P.2d 1211 (1995), and held that no finding of willfulness was required. RCW 9.94A.200(2)(c) does not require a court to consider willfulness before ordering incarceration for a violation of a condition that does not involve a financial obligation.

State v. Hibdon, 140 Wn. App. 534, 166 P.3d 826 (September 4, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted on guilty plea of Delivery of Marijuana. Defendant filed a motion for relief from judgment, attacking the legality of the sentence. The Walla Walla County Superior Court denied the motion and the defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether this case must be remanded to direct the trial court to reduce the term of confinement to 48 months so that the required 12-month term of community placement can be imposed and the entire sentence does not exceed the statutory maximum of 60 months.

HOLDING: No. The trial court and the parties were mistaken about the required period of community placement. The trial judge should be given the opportunity to resentence the defendant. While the trial court may resentence the defendant to a lesser term of confinement as he requests, it is not required to do so.

State v. Lewis, 141 Wn. App. 367, 166 P.3d 786 (August 28, 2007)

FACTS: After originally being found incompetent to stand trial, the defendant was convicted in the Pierce County Superior Court of Second Degree Murder. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Whether the defendant’s prior judgments were unconstitutionally invalid on their face because the guilty plea forms for these offenses did not refer to the eligibility for and potential future sentencing under the Persistent Offender Accountability Act (POAA).

HOLDING:

1. Future possible eligibility for POAA status is not a direct consequence of a guilty plea.
2. The three strikes rule of the SRA requires a trial court to sentence a defendant to life imprisonment without the possibility of parole. RCW 9.94A.570. When challenging a guilty plea to be used at a later sentencing, the defendant must not only show that the plea forms were deficient, but he must also show that the sentencing court deprived him of constitutional safeguards. State v. Gimarelli, 105 Wn. App. 370, 376, 20 P.3d 430, review denied, 144 Wn.2d 1014, 31 P.3d 1185 (2001). Because the defendant cannot show that his prior guilty pleas and judgments are facially invalid, his attempted challenge on direct appeal fails.

State v. Halsey, 140 Wn. App. 313, 165 P.3d 409 (August 23, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted pursuant to guilty plea in the Asotin County Superior Court of one count of First Degree Child Rape, an exceptional sentence of 720 months was imposed, and restitution was ordered. Defendant appealed.

ISSUES:

1. Whether the court erred by imposing an exceptional sentence that was based on facts that were neither charged nor found by a jury beyond a reasonable doubt.
2. Was the defendant’s exceptional sentence “clearly excessive”? RCW 9.93A.535(1)(g).

HOLDING:

1. The defendant was convicted in 2003. Under former RCW 9.94A.712 (2002) “an offender who is not a persistent offender shall be sentenced under this section if the offender...is convicted of...rape of a child in the first degree.” Under State v. Clarke, 156 Wn.2d 880, 134 P.3d 188 (2006), the sentencing court was entitled to make factual findings on the aggravating factors and imposition of the exceptional minimum sentence did not violate Blakely.
2. Given the factors the sentencing court considered, and respecting its discretion, the Court of Appeals concluded that the defendant’s 720 month sentence was not “clearly excessive.”

State v. Ramirez, 140 Wn. App. 278, 165 P.3d 161 (August 21, 2007)

FACTS: Following his conviction for First Degree Child Rape, the 16-year-old defendant’s 160-month sentence was suspended under SSOSA. The Clark County Superior Court revoked defendant’s SSOSA, denied his motion to withdraw his guilty plea, and sentenced him to 123 months confinement. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Did the trial court abuse its discretion by giving great weight to the victims’ mother’s opinion concerning whether the defendant’s SSOSA sentence should have been revoked, as required by RCW 9.94A.670(4).

HOLDING: No. While the defendant is correct that in sentencing a defendant to a treatment disposition the trial court must consider the victim’s opinion about whether the offender should receive the treatment disposition, he is not correct to the extent that he asserts this statutory requirement applies to SSOSA revocation procedures as well.

State v. Fleming, 140 Wn. App. 132, 170 P.3d 50 (August 14, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted in the Mason County Superior Court of Witness Tampering and he appealed. The defendant was incarcerated at the Washington Corrections Center (WCC) when he learned that a man he had been accused of assaulting was in jail as well. In a phone conversation with his grandmother, the defendant instructed her to bail the assaulted man out of jail and ask him to disappear until after the trial.

ISSUES:

1. Whether the trial court incorrectly determined the defendant’s offender score because it based its calculation on insufficient evidence of the defendant’s criminal history.
2. Whether the trial court miscalculated the defendant’s offender score by neglecting to determine on the record whether his prior convictions constituted the same criminal conduct under RCW 9.94A.525.

HOLDING:

1. No, as to both questions. In determining any sentence, the trial court may rely on no more information than is admitted by the plea agreement, or admitted, acknowledged, or proved in a trial or at the time of sentencing. RCW 9.94A.530(2).
2. Where the standard sentence range is the same regardless of a recalculation of the offender score, any calculation error is harmless. See State v. Argo, 81 Wn. App. 552, 569, 915 P.2d 1103 (1996). The trial court’s failure to specifically address same criminal conduct was harmless.

State v. Osborne, 140 Wn. App. 38, 163 P.3d 799 (August 7, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted pursuant to a plea agreement in the Spokane County Superior Court of First Degree Assault and Second Degree Assault, and was ordered to pay restitution to the victim. Defendant appealed the restitution order.

ISSUE: Whether the trial court had authority to order the defendant to pay restitution to the victim.

HOLDING: No. The trial court’s authority to order restitution is statutory. See State v. Davison, 116 Wn.2d 917, 919, 809 P.2d 1374 (1991) and State v. Lewis, 57 Wn. App. 921, 923 791 (1990). Here, the restitution order required payment for conduct relating to the uncharged crimes of kidnapping and robbery, all related to a particular victim. In this case, the trial court erred in ordering restitution to the victim because he was an “uncharged victim.” RCW 9.94A.753(5); State v. Dauenhauer, 103 Wn. App. 373, 378-80, 12 P.3d 661 (2000). The trial court may not require restitution beyond the crime charged unless the defendant expressly agrees to pay restitution for crimes he was not convicted of.

State v. Motter, 139 Wn. App. 797, 162 P.3d 1190 (July 24, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted of First-Degree Burglary premised on Assault. As part of his community custody conditions, the defendant was required to participate in substance abuse treatment and counseling, and was not allowed to possess or use controlled substance paraphernalia. Defendant filed an appeal and personal restraint petition, which were consolidated.

ISSUES: Were the community custody conditions imposed appropriate?

HOLDING:

- 1) A defendant may raise for the first time on appeal a challenge to conditions of community custody that (1) require him to undergo substance-abuse treatment, (2) prohibit him from possessing or using drug paraphernalia, and (3) require him to notify his community-corrections officer when he is prescribed a controlled substance or legend drug. See State v. Jones, 118 Wn. App. 199, 204, 76 P.3d 258 (2003).
- 2) An appellate court reviews a sentencing court's application of the community-custody provisions of the Sentencing Reform Act de novo. See State v. Pierson, 105 Wn. App. 160, 165, 18 P.3d 1154 (2001).
- 3) An appellate court reviews findings of fact that underlie the imposition of community custody for substantial evidence. See State v. Brockob, 159 Wn.2d. 311, 343, 150 P.3d 59 (2006).
- 4) A defendant's request does not give a sentencing court authority to impose a requested community custody condition.
- 5) The record supported the trial court's finding that substance abuse treatment and counseling was related to defendant's crime of first degree burglary premised on assault, so as to authorize such treatment and counseling as a condition of community custody. Defendant admitted that he used heroin on night of burglary of a doctor's office, defense counsel argued that almost all of defendant's legal problems revolved around his ongoing drug problems, and a burglary of a doctor's office was often motivated by a desire to steal drugs.
- 6) The condition of community custody prohibiting the defendant from possessing or using controlled substance paraphernalia was related to the defendant's crime of first degree burglary premised on assault and, thus, was authorized, given that it did not order affirmative conduct. Defendant admitted that he used heroin on night of burglary of a doctor's office, defense counsel argued that almost all of defendant's legal problems revolved around his ongoing drug problems, and a burglary of a doctor's office was often motivated by a desire to steal drugs.
- 7) A community custody condition may be void for vagueness if it fails to define specifically the activity that it prohibits. See State v. Riles, 86 Wn. App. 10, 17-18, 936 P.2d 11 (1997), aff'd, 135 Wn.2d 326, 957 P.2d 655 (1998).
- 8) Defendant's claim that condition of his community custody for first degree burglary premised on assault that prohibited him from possessing or using controlled substance paraphernalia could prohibit his possession of innocuous items, such as soda cans or kitchen utensils, was not ripe for review. Defendant had not been harmed by that potential for error, and because it was not reasonable to require a trial court to list every item that could be misused to ingest or process controlled substances, an appellate court could review the defendant's claim only in context of an allegedly harmful application of that community custody condition.

- 9) The condition of community custody for first degree burglary premised on assault that required defendant to notify his community corrections officer when he was prescribed a controlled substance or legend drug was authorized as affirmative conduct reasonably related to circumstances of offense, defendant's risk of reoffending, or safety of community. The condition prohibited defendant from obtaining multiple prescriptions to receive otherwise legal drugs in unlawful amounts, which related to the defendant's risk of reoffending and the community's safety, given the defendant's admission that his drug abuse led him to commit crimes, and condition protected defendant from punishment for lawful drug use.

State v. Powell, 139 Wn. App. 808, 162 P.3d 1180 (July 24, 2007)

FACTS: A jury found defendant guilty of Attempted First Degree Burglary While Armed with a Firearm. Defendant attempted to enter the victim's house (who was the mother of his son). She called the police and he was arrested. While being arrested, a gun fell from the defendant's shorts. He was sentenced to a standard range sentence and a 36 month firearm enhancement.

ISSUES: On appeal, the defendant challenged the community custody condition requiring him to undergo drug abuse treatment. Here, the Washington Court of Appeals reversed and remanded the case for a new trial based on the erroneous admission of the evidence that the defendant was under the influence of methamphetamine before and during the events that occurred at the victim's house. The Court of Appeals also held the following regarding the defendant's community custody condition of drug abuse treatment.

HOLDING:

- (1) Under the statute allowing a trial court to impose crime-related treatment or counseling services as conditions of community custody for violent crimes, RCW 9.94A.700(5)(c), drug treatment reasonably relates to the offender's risk of reoffending, and to the safety of the community, only if the evidence shows that drug use contributed to the offense.
- (2) An appellate court reviews for an abuse of discretion a trial court's decision to impose crime-related treatment or counseling services as conditions of community custody for violent crimes.
- (3) The record supported the trial court's imposition of drug treatment as a condition of his sentence for attempted first degree burglary while armed with a firearm, even though the trial court did not make an explicit finding that the defendant had a chemical dependency that contributed to offense. There was evidence presented at trial that the defendant had consumed methamphetamine before committing the offense, and, further, at sentencing, both the State and defense asked the trial court to impose substance abuse treatment as a condition of his sentence.

State v. Mendoza, 139 Wn. App. 693, 162 P.3d 439 (July 17, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted of Second Degree Robbery and Unlawful Imprisonment. At sentencing, the State provided a statement of the prosecuting attorney that included the State's recitation of the evidence at trial and a list of what the prosecutor believed was the defendant's criminal history. Defendant appealed.

ISSUE: Did the trial court err by using the prosecutor's statement alone to prove the defendant's criminal history?

HOLDING: Yes.

- 1) The State must prove the defendant's criminal history by a preponderance of the evidence for sentencing purposes. See State v. Ford, 137 Wn.2d 472, 479-480, 973 P.2d 452 (1999) (citing RCW 9.94A.110).
- 2) A list provided by the prosecutor of the defendant's prior convictions was insufficient to establish criminal history for sentencing purposes. The State must introduce evidence of some kind to support the alleged criminal history. The Court of Appeals held that the "best evidence of a prior conviction is a certified copy of the judgment." State v. Mendoza, 139 Wn.App. at 704.
- 3) Defendant's failure to object at sentencing hearing to the prosecuting attorney's statement containing a list of his alleged prior convictions did not waive the use of prior convictions for appeal.

State v. Fisher, 139 Wn. App. 578, 161 P.3d 1054 (July 9, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was convicted on a negotiated plea of guilty of two counts of Second Degree Identity Theft. Two previous bail jumping convictions were treated as the same criminal conduct for sentencing purposes (defendant was out of jail on bond when he failed to appear in June 2003. He also failed to appear in October 2003. A jury convicted him of two counts of bail jumping based on these failures to appear.) The State appealed on this as well as other grounds.

ISSUE: Did the trial court properly exercise its discretion when it concluded that convictions for two separate counts of bail jumping constituted the same criminal conduct?

HOLDING:

- 1) Defendant's two bail jumping convictions did not arise out of the same criminal conduct for sentencing purposes, where defendant's two failures to appear, although occurring in respect of same case and governed by same bond, occurred almost four months apart.
- 2) If two current offenses encompass the same criminal conduct, those current offenses will only count as one point in calculating the defendant's offender score for sentencing purposes. See State v. Haddock, 141 Wn.2d 103, 108, 3 P.3d 733 (2000).
- 3) "Same criminal conduct," as applied to treatment of current convictions for purposes of calculating a defendant's criminal history score for sentencing purposes, requires two or more crimes to involve: (1) the same criminal intent; (2) the same time and place; and (3) the same victim; if any one of these elements is missing, the offenses must be individually counted toward the offender score. See State v. Haddock, 141 Wn.2d at 108.
- 4) A sentencing court's determination of same criminal conduct, for purposes of determining whether offenses should be individually counted toward the offender score, will be reversed only for a clear abuse of discretion or misapplication of law. See Haddock, 141 Wn.2d at 110.
- 5) Neither the same cause number of a case nor the same bond are relevant considerations for purposes of the test for determining whether two convictions involve the "same criminal conduct" for sentencing purposes.

State v. Murawski, 139 Wn. App. 587, 161 P.3d 1048 (July 9, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant was charged with Theft in the First Degree prior to the announcement of the Blakely decision, and pled guilty after RCW 9.94A.537 went into effect. The trial court refused to empanel a jury under RCW 9.94A.537, believing it lacked authority to do so because the defendant committed her crime before the law was enacted. The State appealed.

ISSUE: Did the trial court have the authority to empanel a jury under RCW 9.94A.537, even though the crime was committed before the statute went into effect?

HOLDING:

1. The sentencing court had statutory authority to empanel a jury to find aggravating circumstances warranting an exceptional sentence following defendant's plea of guilty to first-degree theft, despite the fact that the defendant's offense was committed prior to effective date of statute calling for empanelment of juries under such circumstances, where defendant entered plea after statute's effective date and prior statutory exceptional sentencing scheme put defendant on fair notice of risk of receiving such sentence.
2. The State was not precluded from challenging the underlying legal conclusions by which the sentencing court determined it lacked authority to empanel a jury to find aggravating circumstances, even though the statute prohibits the State from appealing the standard range sentence.

In re Smith, 139 Wn. App. 600, 161 P.3d 483 (July 9, 2007)

FACTS: Defendant pled guilty to First Degree Rape of a Child. He was sentenced to six months jail time and 36 to 48 months community custody. DOC then filed a post-sentence petition, contending that the trial court did not have the authority to impose an exceptional term of community custody.

ISSUE: Is a trial court authorized to impose exceptional terms of community custody?

HOLDING: Yes, the statute authorizing exceptional sentences also applies to exceptional conditions and terms of community custody. See RCW 9.94A.535. The Court of Appeals relied on State v. Bernhard, 108 Wn.2d 527, 741 P.2d 1 (1987) overruled in part on other grounds, State v. Shove, 113 Wn.2d 83, 776 P.2d 132 (1989), State v. Guerin, 63 Wn. App. 117, 121, 816 P.2d 1249 (1991) and State v. Hudnall, 116 Wn. App. 190, 64 P.3d 687 (2003) in reaching its decision.

INTRODUCTION: SCORING FORMS

General Scoring Forms are provided at the beginning of this section and are followed by the Individual Offense Reference Sheets. The General Scoring Forms include scoring sheets intended to assist in the calculation of offender scores and sentence ranges for offenses imposed with either a deadly weapon enhancement or with a sexual motivation finding.

The Individual Offense Reference Sheets are arranged alphabetically. The individual sheets for controlled substances, imitation controlled substances and legend drug crimes are grouped together. Please note that the General Scoring Forms do not present sentencing options eligibility (e.g., work release, work ethic camp). Please refer to Section II of this manual for clarification of eligibility rules or conditions for each sentencing option.

Table 6A

The intent of HB 2719 was to reorganize community custody and community supervision statutes only without making policy changes. The SGC is making additional recommendations regarding “community custody” (new terminology adopted under HB 2719 - see Table # 6.) The 2009 Adult Sentencing Manual will contain new individual reference sheets as well as a description of policy changes.

II. DRUG GRID SENTENCE RANGE

Offender Score:	0 to 2	3 to 5	6 to 9+
Standard Range Level I	0 to 6 months	6+ to 18 months	12+ to 24 months

- If the court orders a deadly weapon enhancement, use the applicable enhancement sheets on pages III-8 or III-9 to calculate the enhanced sentence.
- Statutory maximum sentence is 60 months (5 years) (RCW 9A.20.021(1)).

III. SENTENCING OPTIONS FOR VIOLATIONS OF RCW CHAPTERS. 69.50, 69.55, 69.41- See page III-288

Although the Washington Sentencing Guidelines Commission does all that it can to assure the accuracy of its publications, the scoring sheets are intended to provide assistance in most cases but do not cover all permutations of the scoring rules. If you find any errors or omissions, we encourage you to report them to the Sentencing Guidelines Commission.

III. SENTENCING OPTIONS FOR DRUG OFFENSES (CHAPTERS. 69.50, 69.55, 69.41)

- A. If "First-time Offender" eligible: 0-90 days confinement and up to one year of community custody. If treatment is ordered, the period of community custody may include up to the period of treatment, but shall not exceed two years.
- B. If sentence is one year or less: one day of jail can be converted to one day of partial confinement or eight hours of community service (up to 240 hours) (RCW 9.94A.680).
- C. If a sentence is one year or less: community custody may be ordered for up to one year (See RCW 9.94A.545 for applicable situations).
- D. If Drug Offender Sentencing Alternative (DOSA) eligible: see DOSA Prison Treatment or Residential Treatment form for this alternative sentence (RCW 9.94A.660).
- E. If a sentence is one year or less: community custody may be ordered for up to one year (See RCW 9.94A.545 for applicable situations).
- F. Partial confinement may be served in home detention under certain conditions (RCW 9.94A.030).

SENTENCE RANGES FOR ANTICIPATORY DRUG OFFENSES

The appropriate sentence ranges for anticipatory offenses (attempts and conspiracies) involving violations of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (VUCSA) have been clarified through a series of court decisions and legislative actions. Table 5 presents the current status of statute and case law on appropriate sentence ranges for anticipatory violations of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act.

Table 7. Sentence Ranges for Anticipatory Drug Offenses

OFFENSE TYPE	SENTENCE RANGE	STATUTE
Attempt Possession, Delivery or Manufacture	Unranked (0 to 12)	RCW 69.50.407
Solicitation* Possession, Delivery or Manufacture	75% of Standard Range	RCW 9A.28.030
Conspiracy Possession, Delivery or Manufacture	Unranked (0 to 12)	RCW 69.50.407

RELEVANT STATUTES FOR VUCSA OFFENSES

RCW 69.50.101(f) “Deliver” or “delivery” means the actual or constructive transfer from one person to another of a controlled substance, whether or not there is an agency relationship.

RCW 69.50.407 Conspiracy. Any person who attempts or conspires to commit any offense defined in this chapter is punishable by imprisonment or fine or both which may not exceed the maximum punishment prescribed for the offense, the commission of which was the object of the attempt or conspiracy.
1971 ex.s. c 308 § [69.50.407.]

*RCW 9.94A.505 Sentences. (b) If a standard sentence range has not been established for the offender's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement; community restitution work; until July 1, 2000, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year and on and after July 1, 2000, a term of community custody not to exceed one year, subject to conditions and sanctions as authorized in RCW 9.94A.710(2) and (3); and/or other legal financial obligations. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds reasons justifying an exceptional sentence as provided in *RCW 9.94A.535.

RCW 9A.28.030 Criminal solicitation. (1) A person is guilty of criminal solicitation when, with intent to promote or facilitate the commission of a crime, he offers to give or gives money or other thing of value to another to engage in specific conduct which would constitute such crime or which would establish complicity of such other person in its commission or attempted commission had such crime been attempted or committed.

(2) Criminal solicitation shall be punished in the same manner as criminal attempt under RCW 9A.28.020.

*Solicitations drop one class from the underlying offense (e.g., a solicitation to commit a Class B felony is a Class C felony). Solicitations to commit Class C felonies are gross misdemeanors

- The Washington State Court of Appeals ruled that although solicitations to commit violations of 69.50 are not considered drug offenses as defined in 9.94A.030, they do score as a drug offense. See State v. Howell, 102 Wn. App. 288, 6 P.3d 1201 (2000).
- The Supreme Court clarified that solicitations to commit violations of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (RCW 69.50) are not “drug offenses” and are not subject to the community custody requirement for drug offenses, under RCW 9.94A.715. See In re Hopkins, 137 Wn.2d 897 (1999).

RCW 69.50.408 Second or subsequent offenses. (1) Any person convicted of a second or subsequent offense under this chapter may be imprisoned for a term up to twice the term otherwise authorized, fined an amount up to twice that otherwise authorized, or both.

(2) For purposes of this section, an offense is considered a second or subsequent offense, if, prior to his or her conviction of the offense, the offender has at any time been convicted under this chapter or under any statute of the United States or of any state relating to narcotic drugs, marihuana, depressant, stimulant, or hallucinogenic drugs.

(3) This section does not apply to offenses under RCW 69.50.4013.

RELEVANT STATUTES – NON VUCSA OFFENSES

RCW 9A.28.020 Criminal attempt. (1) A person is guilty of an attempt to commit crime if, with intent to commit a specific crime, he does any act which is a substantial step toward the commission of that crime.

(2) If the conduct in which a person engages otherwise constitutes an attempt to commit a crime, it is no defense to a prosecution of such attempt that the crime charged to have been attempted was, under the attendant circumstances, factually or legally impossible of commission.

(3) An attempt to commit a crime is a:

(a) Class A felony when the crime attempted is murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, or arson in the first degree, child molestation in the first degree, indecent liberties by forcible compulsion, rape in the first degree, rape in the second degree, rape of a child in the first degree, or rape of a child in the second degree.

(b) Class B felony when the crime attempted is a Class A felony other than an offense listed in (a) of this subsection;

(c) Class C felony when the crime attempted is a Class B felony,

(d) Gross misdemeanor when the crime attempted is a Class C felony,

(e) Misdemeanor when the crime attempted is a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor.

RCW 9A.28.030 Criminal solicitation. (1) A person is guilty of criminal solicitation when, with intent to promote or facilitate the commission of a crime, he offers to give or gives money or other thing of value to another to engage in specific conduct which would constitute such crime or which would establish complicity of such other person in its commission or attempted commission had such crime been attempted or committed.

(2) Criminal solicitation shall be punished in the same manner as criminal attempt under RCW 9A.28.020.

RCW 9A.28.040 Criminal conspiracy. (1) A person is guilty of criminal conspiracy when, with intent that conduct constituting a crime be performed, he agrees with one or more persons to engage in or cause the performance of such conduct, and any one of them takes a substantial step in pursuance of such agreement.

(2) It shall not be a defense to criminal conspiracy that the person or persons with whom the accused is alleged to have conspired:

- (a) Has not been prosecuted or convicted, or
- (b) Has been convicted of a different offense, or
- (c) Is not amenable to justice, or
- (d) Has been acquitted, or
- (e) Lacked the capacity to commit an offense.

(3) Criminal conspiracy is a:

(a) Class A felony when an object of the conspiratorial agreement is murder in the first degree,

(b) Class B felony when an object of the conspiratorial agreement is a Class A felony other than murder in the first degree,

(c) Class C felony when an object of the conspiratorial agreement is a Class B felony,

(d) Gross misdemeanor when an object of the conspiratorial agreement is a Class C felony,

(e) Misdemeanor when an object of the conspiratorial agreement is a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor.

RCW 9.94A.595 Anticipatory offenses. For persons convicted of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the presumptive sentence is determined by locating the sentencing grid sentence range defined by the appropriate offender score and the seriousness level of the crime, and multiplying the range by 75 percent.

In calculating an offender score, count each prior conviction as if the present conviction were for the completed offense. When these convictions are used as criminal history, score them the same as a completed crime.

Community custody ranges.

WAC 437-20-010

Offense Type	Community Custody Range
Sex Offenses (Not sentenced under RCW 9.94A.120(8))	36 to 48 months
Serious Violent Offenses	24 to 48 months
Violent Offenses	18 to 36 months
Crimes Against Persons (As defined in RCW 9.94A.440(2))	9 to 18 months
Offenses under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW (Not sentenced under RCW 9.94A.120(6))	9 to 12 months

The ranges specified in this section are not intended to affect or limit the authority to impose exceptional community custody ranges, either above or below the standard community custody range as authorized by RCW 9.94A.120\(2\) and pursuant to guidelines specified in RCW 9.94A.390. The community custody range for offenders with multiple convictions must be based on the offense that dictates the longest term of community custody. The community custody range for offenders convicted of an offense that falls into more than one of the five categories of offense types listed in this section must be based on the offense type that dictates the longest term of community custody.

Statutory Authority: RCW [9.94A.040\(6\) (rule-making authority under chapter 34.05 RCW). 00-11-052, § 437-20-010, filed 5/12/00, effective 7/1/00.]

* Refer to Table 7 in Section III of this manual for sentence ranges for persons convicted of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy to commit an offense in violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (RCW 69.50). For all other persons convicted of criminal attempt, solicitation, or any conspiracy under Chapter 9A.28 RCW, the standard range is 75 percent of the range for a completed offense.

Felonies defined in Title 9A and Title 9.

Felonies defined in Title 9A and Title 9 of the Revised Code of Washington (RCW) fall into one of three classes: Class A, Class B or Class C. The class of these felonies is either defined explicitly as part of the definition of the offense, or implicitly, based on the statutory maximum period of incarceration. A felony washout period (RCW 9.94A.525(2)), vacation of conviction record (RCW 9.94A.640(2)), status as a violent offense (Class A felonies are defined as violent-RCW 9.94A.030(54)) and statutory maximum period of incarceration are functions of offense class.

Felonies Defined in Title 9A RCW

Felonies defined by Title 9A RCW have an A, B or C class designation explicitly stated. These felonies carry the following maximum penalties (RCW 9A.20.021):

Class A	Life in prison, $50,000 fine
Class B	Ten years in prison, $20,000 fine
Class C	Five years in prison, $10,000 fine

Felonies Defined Outside Title 9A

Some felonies are defined outside Title 9A RCW without an explicit felony class. The 1996 Legislature¹ enacted RCW 9.94A.035, establishing the classes of such offenses for SRA purposes. The class is based on the maximum period of incarceration provided for the first conviction of violating the statute creating the offense:

Class A	20 years or more
Class B	Eight or more, less than 20 years
Class C	Less than eight years

Therefore, statutes increasing the maximum sentence for subsequent convictions do not affect the classification of the offense for SRA purposes, even though they increase the maximum sentence that may be imposed.

Felonies for which no maximum punishment is specifically prescribed are punished by confinement for not more than ten years and a fine not to exceed $20,000 or both, and are classified as Class B felonies (See RCW 9.92.010, as amended in 1996).

WASHINGTON STATE SENTENCING GUIDELINES COMMISSION

ADULT SENTENCING MANUAL

APRIL, 2010 ERRATA

Dear Criminal Justice Practitioners,

This errata sheet make corrections to the 2008 Adult Sentencing Manual. The Sentencing Guidelines Commission strives to make corrections as they are known.

On p. I-39, strike the second paragraph from the bottom of the page and replace it with the following:

If the Court then determines that a SSOSA is appropriate, the Court must:

- Impose a standard-range sentence or, if the defendant is otherwise eligible for “determinate-plus” sentencing under RCW 9.94A.712,³⁰ a “minimum term of sentence within the standard range.” RCW 9.94A.670(4). The Court must then suspend that sentence and impose a sentence that is up to 12 months or the maximum term within the standard range (whichever is less) or greater than 12 months and up to the maximum term within the standard range if an aggravating circumstance (See RCW 9.94A.535(3)) is present. The term of confinement shall not exceed the statutory maximum sentence for the offense. An offender who is serving this sentence may serve all or part of it in partial confinement and is not eligible for earned release during this confinement.

On p. III-53, remove the asterisk next to “Statutory maximum sentence is 120 months (10 years) (RCW 9A.20.021(1))” located at the bottom of the page.

On p. IV-51, remove the asterisk following the Crime of “Assault of a Child 2 with Sexual Motivation”

On p. IV-52 strike the entire NOTE listed on this page and replace it with the following:

NOTE: The following are also defined in RCW 9.94A.030 as sex offenses:

- any criminal attempt, criminal solicitation or criminal conspiracy to commit a sex offense;
- any felony with a finding of sexual motivation under RCW 9.94A.835 or 13.40.135;
- any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a sex offense under RCW 9.94A.030(a).

*Indicates that the offense, when committed with sexual motivation, converts the felony class from a Class B offense to a Class A offense.
